MEDIA BUREAU ANNOUNCES EFFECTIVE DATE OF ELIMINATION OF MAIN STUDIO RULE

MB Docket No. 17-106

On October 24, 2017, the Federal Communications Commission (Commission) adopted an order eliminating its rule requiring each AM, FM, and television broadcast station to maintain a main studio located in or near its community of license.¹ The order also eliminated existing requirements associated with the main studio rule, including the requirement that the main studio have full-time management and staff present during normal business hours, and that it have program origination capability.² The order provided that the rule amendments would be “effective thirty (30) days after the date of publication in the Federal Register, except for the portions of sections 73.3526(c)(1) and 73.3527(c)(1) that contain new or modified information collection requirements, which shall become effective after the Commission publishes a notice in the Federal Register announcing OMB approval and the relevant effective date.”³ The Federal Register published a summary of the main studio order on December 8, 2017.⁴ On December 18, 2017 the Federal Register published a notice announcing OMB approval of the non-substantive change request submitted for the rules containing information collection requirements, which will share the same effective date as the other rule changes.⁵ Accordingly, all of the rules adopted in the main studio order will take effect on January 8, 2018.
