ZIPCD: 2000 US Census ZIP Code Tabulation Area (ZCTA)
Community: ZCTA community name and state.
Centroid: Coordinates used for search (NAD27).
Approx Census: 2000 census for this ZCTA (population count has no bearing in this report).
Addl Chan: Count of additional channels if LPFM switches to using LP10 charts.
For each table:

Avail: Count of channels available that do not require a second adjacent channel waiver.
2-Adj: Count of channels available that may or may not require a second adjacent channel waiver (subtract 2-Adj from Avail to determine number of additional channels).
Rv: Of channels available (with or without 2nd adj. waiver), count of channels in the reserved band (88.1~91.9 MHz)

Nearby FL: LPFM stations within 6 km of the search site.
Nearby FX: FM translators within 18 km of the search site.
Nearby TV: TV Channel 6 stations that triggered a short-spacing on one or more FM channels.

NOTES ABOUT THIS DATA

- Based on the FCC CDBS data as of end-of-business on June 23, 2017 of engineering records marked in CDBS as "current".
- Channel availability is based solely on distance separation of full-service FM, FM translator, LPFM, TV channel 6 and foreign stations.
- Channel availability is based on the single point searched only and may not reflect availability in other parts of the ZIP code.
- Even if there is an increase in channels if LPFM switches to the LP10 distance separation charts, it does not necessarily mean the channel is available due to inbound interference from a nearby full-service FM or FM translator station.
- Using the contour overlap rules we have proposed in respect to FM translators, LPFM stations or TV channel 6 stations, additional channels may become available.
- Especially for foothill locations, this list does not take into consideration any power reductions as a result of overlap between the LPFM interfering contour and the full-service FM protected service contour.
- Some channels may become unavailable due to the upcoming Auction 99 cross-service FM translator filing window.
