Dear Ms. Kreisman,

I want you to stop this violence. There's killing, murder, and kidnapping on T.V. Please make its stop. Good people get killed and bad people don't, make it stop.

Sincerly,

Dear Ms. Kreisman,

I was watching Sister Act. I saw this guy put this gun up to this guy's head and kill him. Then this girl came in and she liked the guy who got killed.

Please make shooting stop on T.V. The movie would have been good without it.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Kreisman,

I don't like the stabbing, shooting, killing, swearing, and blood on T.V. A child or a teenager could see it on T.V. and then go out and do it. I wish you could stop as much of it as you can. A one year old baby could see it and grow up and remember it when he is a teenager and do it.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Kreisman,

My older sister watches violent movies all the time and she scares me. Many other people watch violent movies, and they go out and kill people. Please talk to the T.V. company about putting violent movies on T.V., too many people have been worshipping the devil, so they have been using knives, swaring, drugs and guns. Robbing, drinking, shooting, stabbing, killing, stealing, drive by shooting, shoplifting, tires, breaking glasses and kiddnapping are violent and not necessary.

Dear Ms. Kreisman,
I saw a movie last night.
It was call the Murdering of the Cheerleader MoM. It had almost twenty swear words in it. I did not want to watch it again. Some of the books have violence in them I don't want to read them ever.
My teacher said you can help, please do something to stop the violence on T.V. too.

Dear Mr. Kreisman,
I want you to stop all the violence on

T.V. would really like you to take all the swearing out of the movies.
I would redly like it if you will tell every lot of people ask them if they will stop shooting people and showing ton T.V.

Dear Mrs. Freiman,

I think that violence on TV programs and movies is terrible. Our class came up with a whole list of things that we talked about violence on TV and in movies. I don't think it is so bad in movies, because it is a parent's choice to let or not let their child see the movie. But sometimes, they put in little too much violence in movies. But on TV, I don't think there should be any violence at all, because a parent can't help it if a TV show comes on and it has violence in it. The only thing they can do is change the channel, or make their child leave the room. But as the child gets a little older, there is going to be a time when the child's parents aren't there when he or she is watching television, and they will end up turning something on that has violence in it. That is what I think about violence on TV programs and movies. Have you any help?

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Kreisman,

I think it is a good idea to stop the violence on television and in movies I could give children nightmares and fears of being in there house alone. It could also give them fears of being in the dark. Certain children don't think its fair because of violence they can't watch a show or movie. The swearing is bad on television and movies just as well. It could teach children to repeat what they hear. So I hope you have tottal excess on your goal.

Dear, Mrs. Kreisman

I think violence is bad for kids. You should take it off TV until kids go to bed like at 12:00 because so many kids are getting into alot of trouble. like the girl that was trying to play a game from Pets Cemetery it is a movie it is violent. How can you help us?

Dear Ms. Kreisman,

I think violance on tellavision should only be on movies or you should rate T.V. shows like rated R or X or you can have a speca theator for violent shows. Or a law, like a show legal for a certain ages.

Dear Ms. Kreisman,

violence in TV programs and movies are the things I like. I like them because they are exciteing. Some people like violence like me. If you take violence off the air thousands of people would be mad, it wouldn't be fair for people who like violence.
