RE: Ex Parte Presentation, PR Docket No. 94-106

Dear Mr. Caton:

Please let this constitute notice, pursuant to Section 1.1206(a) of the Commissions Rules, on behalf of the Connecticut Office of Consumer Counsel, that on April 7, 1995 Commissioner Thomas Benedict of the Department of Public Utility Control (DPUC), Mark Kohler Assistant Attorney General of the State of Connecticut, representing the DPUC, Philip Rosario, Assistant Attorney General for the State of Connecticut, representing the people of Connecticut, Phyllis Trowbridge representing the OCC, statutorily designated representative of Connecticut public utility ratepayers, and Robert Kelly, Mark Hatten, Colin McWay, and Joseph Mazzerella representing Connecticut Telephone and Communications Systems, Inc. and Connecticut Mobilcom, Inc. met with Commissioner Andrew C. Barrett, to discuss the DPUC's Petition to retain regulatory authority and matters addressed in the parties' Comments and Reply Comments in the referenced matter. The DPUC distributed and discussed the attached documents at the meeting.

Two copies of this notice are submitted herewith pursuant to Section 1.1206(a)(1) of the commissions Rules.

Sec. 16-250b. Cellular mobile telephone service. Department jurisdiction over. Regulations. (a) The department of public utility control shall have jurisdiction over the provision of cellular mobile telephone service by cellular mobile telephone carriers licensed by the Federal Communications Commission to operate within the state.

(b) Not later than six months after July 3, 1985, the department shall adopt regulations in accordance with the provisions of chapter 54, establishing (1) conditions under which the department may forbear from regulating such carriers and (2) standards and procedures for the regulation, on an equal basis with regard to all carriers, of the rates and charges, services, accounting practices, safety and conduct of operations of such carriers if the department does not forbear from regulating such carriers. Such conditions, standards and procedures shall provide for the public convenience, necessity and welfare.

Re: Docket No. 94-03-27
DPUC Investigation Into the Connecticut Cellular Market and the Status of Competition

Dear Mr. Murphy:

Springwich Cellular Limited Partnership ("Springwich") files herein an original and twelve (12) copies of a Status Report which describes certain changes or enhancements to: (i) its wholesale prices; (ii) its operational strucuture; (iii) service activation procedures for resellers; and (iv) access to interstate interexchange carriers. Some of these changes have already been implemented or are in the process of being implemented.

Should there be any questions concerning this submission, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Very truly yours,

CERTIFICATION

An original and twelve (12) copies of the foregoing have been hand-delivered this November 9, 1994, to Robert J. Murphy, Executive Secretary, Department of Public Utility Control, One Central Park Plaza, New Britain, CT 06051; two (2) copies hand-delivered this November 9, 1994, to John F. Merchant, Office of Consumer Counsel, Suite 501, 136 Main Street, New Britain, CT 06051, and one copy sent by First Class U.S. Mail this November 9, 1994 to all other known parties and intervenors.

Kathleen A. Carrigan
Commissioner of the Superior Court

Status Report of Springwich Cellular Limited Partnership

Springwich Cellular Limited Partnership ("Springwich") wishes to inform the Department of Public Utility Control ("Department") that it has initiated, or is initiating, certain changes or enhancements to: (i) its wholesale prices; (ii) its operational structure; (iii) service activation procedures for resellers; and (iv) access to interstate interexchange carriers. Each of these initiatives is separately discussed below.

It is Springwich's hope that these initiatives will serve both to enhance Springwich's wholesale product and alleviate the concerns expressed by the Department in its Decision in Docket No. 94-03-27 issued on August 8, 1994. Springwich will be available to discuss these initiatives further as the Department may deem necessary.

A. Wholesale Pricing

Springwich has changed its rates for cellular numbers effective November 1, 1994. Springwich now charges a flat rate of $10.50 to all Resellers for each cellular number regardless of the volume of numbers purchased. The flat rate of $10.50 is the lowest rate currently charged by Springwich. The introduction of a flat rate for each cellular number instead of the previous tiered rates will eliminate the concerns stated by some Resellers about the effect on them of the prior tiered arrangement. It also serves as an important competitive response to the rates of Bell Atlantic Metromobile. Attached hereto are the revised tariff sheets that Springwich filed with the Department under separate cover on October 26, 1994.

B. Operational Structure

Springwich is reviewing its operational structure, along with relevant written material and guidelines, to ensure consistency with SNET Standards of Conduct and with the principle that Resellers' proprietary information must be treated with utmost confidentiality, and will take any actions that are appropriate as a result of this review.

In addition, operational functions that involve substantial contact with Resellers are staffed by personnel who have only wholesale responsibilities. Also, the person responsible for wholesale product planning and product pricing, is a dedicated wholesale person with no retail responsibilities. Similar separation occurs on the retail side. Retail product planning and pricing are being performed by an individual with no wholesale responsibilities. These individuals report to a Marketing Vice President. This operational structure will minimize concerns regarding the flow of sensitive information between the wholesale and retail units, and enable the individuals involved to focus clearly on their respective responsiblities.

C. Service Activation

After concluding a technical trial, Springwich offered to all the Resellers on September 15, 1994 the opportunity to access the cellular billing system directly for the purpose of activating, deactivating and processing changes for their customers. This offer included the provision of computer software to access the billing system, 800 number access, and system training. To date, five Resellers are either on-line or have initiated steps to have this remote access. Automatic service activation is a significant enhancement to the wholesale product, and will provide convenience for Resellers and their customers.

D. Interstate Service

Effective in December, 1994, Springwich will offer to its Resellers "selective access." Selective access will give Resellers the opportunity to choose among any of the three major interstate interexchange carriers, AT&T, MCI, and Sprint, or their traffic may default to Springwich for carriage by SNET America, Inc. In addition, selective access will allow Resellers to offer to end-user customers a choice among these four interstate interexchange carriers. While this is not full "equal access" as the term is generally used, selective access gives Resellers a significant degree of choice for interstate service, pending the outcome of the proceeding on this subject before the Federal Communications Commission. See In the Matter of Equal Access and Interconnection Obligations Pertaining to Commercial Radio Services, Notice of Proposed Rule Making and Notice of Inquiry, CC Docket No. 94-54, RM-8012 (July 1, 1994).

RE: Public Utilities Law Anthology

Date: April 10, 1995

This responds to your request to evaluate the above publication, for use by our office.

This is a semi-annual anthology which appears to cost about $160 per volume, or $320 per year. It reprints articles on current issues in public utility regulation, mostly from law reviews. This means that the articles are by law professors and, occasionally, law students or consultants.

I think it obvious that we should keep this volume and subscribe to the service in question. The fact that most of these authors are not on the front lines as we are (writing briefs, etc.) actually makes their work helpful to us -- for instance, because they can reflect in-depth on a wide range of issues which we face in the trenches. At least in electric, as we go forward into the task force and into battle with NU in many forums, I would find this series an excellent resource for the price.

For instance, in this particular issue, I see at least 3 articles that are "right on the money" for my concerns --- a) markets vs. central planning (p. 93 +), b) regulating electric holding companies by multi-state compact (p. 233 +), and FERC's jurisdiction to review utility mergers (p. 263 +). Even if these articles are not always directly translatable to immediate needs we have at OCC, the very fact that someone has done a lot of legal/economic/policy research on the issue in question can be a real time-saver for us.

RE: Public Utilities Law Anthology

Date: April 17, 1995

I believe that the Public Utilities Anthology would be a valuable addition to our library. Thus, I think we should keep this volume and subscribe to receive the two volumes published annually.

This volume appears to concentrate on issues concerning "traditional utilities." However, as the areas of telecommunications converge, this resource will likely become valuable to a larger group

The articles in this volume seem to be "on point" to issues of current concern in the public utility area, and the academic view presented in this book could, I believe, supplement and enrich our presentations concerning these subjects.

Dear Subscriber,

On behalf of our research editors and staff, we're delighted that you have become a Public Utilities Law Anthology subscriber. Enclosed is Volume XVII, Part 1 (January - June 1994) to start your collection.

The Public Utilities Law Anthology enjoys a long and special relationship with its readers. We guarantee that you will always enjoy speedy access to the latest, most important law review and journal articles in the field. We also guarantee that you will be the first to receive new Anthologies and that you'll pay the lowest price offered.

Our research staff and editors continue to work to make your Public Utilities Law Anthology even more useful. For example, in the next edition we'll introduce our new Editorial Advisory Board of noted scholars and practitioners in public utilities law. They will work "behind the scenes" to ensure that you receive the most important and relevant articles in the field.

Also, the next Anthology will include an annotated bibliography of all articles considered for publication in their entirety which, for one reason or another, could not be included. These additional public utilities references should prove to be a further time saver in your legal research and inquiry.

Again, many thanks for subscribing to the Public Utilities Law Anthology. Our editors always welcome hearing from you with ideas for improvements or with suggestions for future articles.

With all best wishes,

Dear Public Utilities Counsel/Regulator,

To be fully informed about the latest developments and trends in public utilities law and regulation, you should be reading the law review articles, monographs, treatises and other articles published in more than 900 law journals.

Why?

Because the ideas and insights they contain are often available nowhere else.

Because these articles, while not the law, are an absolute requirement to understanding the law and an excellent starting point for your legal research.

Because not reading these articles could result in a serious -- and expensive -- mistake.

But how? How can you even know which articles are worth reading ... let alone find the time to read them?

The Answer:
The Public Utilities Law Anthology

Here's a solution that works. In fact, it's guaranteed to work. Here's how:

Of the thousands of public utilities articles published each year, we both know that only a handful are really worth reading.

So, our highly professional editors and Editorial Advisory Board plow through them all, selecting only the articles that say something new and important. When an article meets our rigorous selection criteria, we include it. Not a review ... not a summary ... but the entire journal article including actual page numbers and full case citations.

And the articles selected for the Public Utilities Law Anthology cover every subject of concern to public utilities counsel and regulators.

6 Key Benefits You Receive

1. Provides coverage of more than 900 law review journals, monographs, treatises and other journals.

2. Includes overviews of the public utilities industry by noted authorities and leading practitioners.

3. Provides the legal thinking and opinions of the best legal minds.

4. Monitors emerging trends in public utilities law.

5. Saves you valuable research time and money. No need to consult other libraries, wade through stacks of references, or purchase expensive multi-volume works.

6. Requires only a fraction of the space of the original publications.

Special Introductory Offer
No-Risk Guarantee

Nothing I say can take the place of using the Public Utilities Law Anthology yourself. So why not try it? By subscribing within the next 30 days, you'll receive the latest Public Utilities Law Anthology at an introductory savings of up to $25.

> And, you risk nothing. If you're not 100% pleased with your Public Utilities Law Anthology, return it and we'll send you a full refund. Every penny. Fair enough?

There is nothing else like the Public Utilities Law Anthology. Nothing even remotely similar. It's the fastest, easiest, least expensive way to get to the heart of today's public utilities law and legal thinking.

Thousands of public utilities lawyers and regulators have already discovered this unique new way to stay totally informed in today's rapidly changing, increasingly regulated and highly competitive environment. Join them. Complete the enclosed introductory subscription order form and mail it today.
