Paul	Barle	10282 boca Entrada Blvd	Boca Raton	33428	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jan	Salas	610 14th Ave	Santa Cruz	95062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Frantz	718 Wayside Road	Neptune	7753	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Klein	3501 Monterrey St.	CORPUS CHRISTI	78411	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. This remains a vexing problem primarily due to the communications industry's ability to curry favor with elected officials. The corrupting influence of money in our political system is undermining our democratic traditions and discouraging Americans from voting and/or running for office. This ominous development may well end our experiment in representative democracy unless we alter this decades-long trend. For the sake of the republic, we must amend the US Constitution to state that corporations are not people (and do not have constitutional rights)
Robb	Horstmeier	1019 Driftwood Trails	FLORISSANT	63031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Victoria	Martin	25042 South Angora Court	Chandler	85248	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Trisha	Butler	3177 Rabbit Creek Drive	Las Vegas	89120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sydney	Jones	2901 Eucld Ave. NE	Albuquerque	87106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Rittenhouse	4604 W. 157th St. Cleveland, Ohio	CLEVELAND	44135	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marie	Keung	225 Deer Meadow Ln	Rockville	20850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Miranda	Macdonald	377 Oldstone ct.	Simi Valley	93065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Daniel	Hogan	3340 Woodsview	Saint Charles	63303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carlos	Diaz	2164 Patton St.	San Juan	913	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Calixto	Anaya	10556 Moss Rose Way	Orlando	32832	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

kellen	britt	7503 e pleasant run	Scottsdale	85258	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne Zoe	Clark	Unit 133	Madison	53711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John W	Martin	8611 Chelsea Bridge Way	Lutherville Timonium	21093	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephen	Smith	4148 Green Valley Rd	Seven Valleys	17360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lydia	Klapan	4497 is rt 11	Pulaski	13142	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Loretta	Kilby	1150 N 65th St	Philadelphia	19151	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	March	1455 Maplewood St	Warren	44483	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Comparillo	1 Broander Pl	Keansburg	7734	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edward	Estrada	2915 N Meade	Chicago	60634	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rick	Engen	610 25th Ave So	Grand Forks	58201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JB	Marks	23481 Mashie Court	Tehachapi	93561	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathon	HAWLEY	1555 Country Lane	Bellingham	98225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Fowler	1020 22nd St.	Okeechobee	34974	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Guadalupe	Yanez	12484 Robert Dahl Dr.	EL PASO	79938	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Hussey	418 Tompkins Ave	Nyack	10960	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

NANCY	GRIPPON	1010 JODIE COURT	Pennsburg	18073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ML	Payton	4844 N 25 Rd	Arlington	22207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alfred	Lukasek	207 Court Street	Hobart	46342	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lisa	Langbein	23314 Allen Robert Drive	Plainfield	60544	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kristin	Goble	2824 Barbarell Way	Sacramento	95821	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
K.	Wichtowski	3628 Pheasant Lane	Endicott	13760	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

SOPHIE	SZABRAK	380 Buckboard	Wheeling	60090	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Reed Fisher	1134 Billetter Dr	Huron	44839	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Please stop this practice. The general population is being ripped off in so many ways. Help stoppart of it!
Rose	Daley	1132 Hamilton Bvld	Hagerstown	21742	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Brewer	1 Spring Creek Rd	Deadwood	57732	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shelton	Jenkins	New Bern. NC	New Bern	28562	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Andrews	5 grove st	South Hadley	1075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

M Margit	Winckler PhD	51 W 86th St	New York	10024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Murphy	989 Princeville Rd	Princeville	96722	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Stokes	4589 Birchwood	Jacksonville	32207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gail	Laub	14555 Parracombe Ln	Midlothian	23112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret Rose	Enyeart	3051 Avondale Dr.	Colorado Springs	80917	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Calvin	Vu	1643 Valley Crest Dr	San Jose	95131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

mark	mitchell	4522 n malden st	Chicago	60640	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jean	Burns	24 Digiulio Drive	North Providence	2911	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth Mary	Foster, SSND	31 N. Rolling Road, Apt. #2	Catonsville	21228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nelson	Wind	3319 Maris Way	Humble	77338	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Frantz	mary.c.frantz@kp.org	Burbank	91504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Brady	1104 E. 23rd St.	Huntsburg	44046	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Thomas	Tod Ave.	Warren	44485	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ruby	Pierce	6330 Sunset Dr.	Lake Ann	49650	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Juan	Nahon	6681 Hannah Cv	Pompano Beach	33064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deanna	Richardson	7048 W LIMA ST	Milwaukee	53223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
joe	wiggins	981 ruth avenue	Jacksonville Beach	32250	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Mastroni	837 Enclair St	Orlando	32828	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Brackney	3940 Park Blvd #410	San Diego	92103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roberto	von Ellenrieder	4039 Legend Creek Dr	San Antonio	78230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Georgia	Feasel	262 Dutchtown Road	Owego	13827	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Stover	107 Old Alfred Rd	Arundel	4046	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Riley	3712 Liggett Dr	Cleveland	44134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hannah	Decker	Houston, TX	Houston	77030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Larkin	3511 Cherry Circle	SCHNECKSVILLE	18078	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
thomas	Bain	541 Marquart Drive	Webster	14580	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Katz	733 s. van ness av., #4 san francisco, ca	San Francisco	94110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Henry	Bennett	4014 SE Grant Court	Portland	97214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marbella	Barrera	10 Emerald Lane	Old Bridge	8857	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maria	Gonzalez	6201 sw 35 st	Miami	33155	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Al	Sniff	2040 Watts Landing rd	Hampstead	28443	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Corey	Weaver	123 street st.	Leola	17540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beth	Thomson	615 NW 12th Terr	Boca Raton	33486	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

elizabeth	halloway	1820 capitol ave. sacramento CA	Sacramento	95811	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	Tate	311 East Fourth Street	Franklin	45005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julia	Gray	13878 Rooster Valley Rd	Spring Grove	55974	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Debora	Pscholka	1544 Bridgewater Way S	Mansfield	44906	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dexter	Bradbury	431 Maplewood Dr.	Vinton	24179	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rafael	Colon	74 Sturgis Rd.	Monticello	12701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Eccleston	192 Webster St	Marshfield	2050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dora	Martinez			93843	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
S	Smolen	Center St.	West Haven	6516	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Durham	4567 town lane	Indianapolis	46217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
phyllis	milliken	east 85 street	New York	10028	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chuck	Combs	1415 Murrayview Dr.	Columbia	29212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lewis	Lowden	207 S Main Street - North Star	Ithaca	48847	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JOLYNN	BERR	74401 HOVLEY LANE EAST #1414	Palm Desert	92260	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dorothy	Parker	5435 jacob dr	Grand Prairie	75052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

julie	lucas	49 Kellogg St	Battle Creek	49037	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Mulder	21641 Kilrush Drive	NORTHVILLE	48167	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Phyllis	Quintana	3133 Ashkirk Loop SE	Rio Rancho	87124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Francine	Shacter	4301 N. Camino del Obispo	Tucson	85718	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Totten	22212 Lockport Avenue	Port Charlotte	33952	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Mason	2621 PontiacStreet	Columbus	43211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

thomas	steele	4 cochise ct	O Fallon	63366	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Al	Gravitz	10 Shoreline Circle	Sacramento	95831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sonya	O'Banion	6430 Kentstone Drive	Indianapolis	46268	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kenneth	Bierman	2926 N Mountain Creek Way	TUCSON	85745	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Penny	Dever-Reynolds	7112 Pan American Fwy NE	Albuquerque	87109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Todd	6030 Woodglade Ave.	Citrus Heights	95621	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jaime	Gonzalez	601 n. 10th st. apt. 5	McAllen	78501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shawn	Boling	3265 Buena Vista Ave	Lemon Grove	91945	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lillie	Kocher	12 redwood road	SAN ANSELMO	94960	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

raynaldo	rodriguez	925 sw 5th st	Grand Prairie	75051	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elaine	Lefevre	4701 W Parkview Ln	Glendale	85310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Young	174 W Allegheny Ave	Philadelphia	19133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christina	Oosthoek	492 Ridgewood Rd	Bassett	24055	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sarah	Schultz	2696 Ridgecrest Ln	Ft Mitchell	41017	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Cook	2620 Ruidosa Ave.	Dallas	75228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Botticelli	17 Forest Glen Dr	Highland Park	8904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
a	Zuccaro	6347 Thorneycroft Drive	Utica	48316	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ramon Jaime	Conde Velez	154 Princess Ann Ave.	Viola	19979	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathryn	Garr	3339 Vista De La Cresta	ESCONDIDO	92029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	T	13573 Arbor	Omaha	68144	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alfred	Forte	872 West Gate	Valley Stream	11580	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Gonzalez	4210 Cresthill rd	Chester	23831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Moss	1823 223rd St.	Chicago Heights	60411	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Wong	161 Jackson	MADISON	53704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janet	Kennington	2258 Beverly Glen Place	LOS ANGELES	90077	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
AbuBakr	Salim	2812 Ferret Ct	Raleigh	27610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Meenan	Daniel	2 Rises Ct	Cockeysville	21030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kent	Weichmann	241 Crest	Ann Arbor	48103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ellen	Pierce	40 Harriet ln	Huntington	11743	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	McCall	4835 West Lawther Dr. Apt. 301, Dallas, TX	Dallas	75214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tommi	White	19680 Susquehanna Way	Caldwell	83605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Matheson	1405 Wright st	Santa Rosa	95404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Curtis	Miller	P.O. Box 40437, Albuquerque, NM	Albuquerque	87196	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kaaren	Behrle	2395 NW Fork Road	Stuart	34994	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Sulanke	6940 E State Rd 45	Bloomington	47408	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joyce	B	3030 W	High Point	27265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Boudreau	219 Hayden Ave	Syracuse	13204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kennita	Watson	835 San Pier Court	Sunnyvale	94085	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brendon	Syndennis	21502 Lake Forest Dr Apt#F	Lake Forest	92630	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Beverly	Frencher	18303 Carrington Drive	Hazel Crest	60429	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nadine	McCain	5504 Lindo Ter	North Charleston	29418	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Adra	Hooks	620 West Alabama	Houston	77006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carla	Clements	54 Convent Ct	San Rafael	94901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marlee	Rodrigue	425 Montgomery Street	Napa	94559	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harriet	Damesek	4 sandpoint circle	Ormond Beach	32174	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jennifer	Aberdeen	55 Waterman Ave	North Providence	2911	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Rome	3840 Yesteroaks Dr.	PENSACOLA	32504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Wiemers	919 N Tenth St	Marysville	66508	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

T.	Zeltmann	Whitewood ct	East Quogue	11942	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christy	Mendoza	1424 Reid St.	Clovis	88101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Guthrie	3930 S Paramount Rd, Bartonville IL	Peoria	61607	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dan	Mortenson	1180 Park Ave. # 2	KETCHIKAN	99901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Nikolay	306 N 3rd Ave,	Abbotsford	54405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Cesare	10621 Mt Vernon Street	Taylor	48180	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rosalie	Fisher	12506 Royal Road	El Cajon	92021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cassandra	Treppeda	9 N Hillside Avenue	Elmsford	10523	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andra	Straight	204 Sunrise Ct.	Palmetto	34221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Victor	Nahmias	7709 Lexington Club Blvd	Delray Beach	33446	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gregory	Price	14203 Pollin Street	Accokeek	20607	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debbie	Weeks	12 Birch Street	Clinton	1510	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Neidzwiecki	2525 west bay dr. e20	Largo	33770	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Justin	Wilson	1421 W. Dry Creek Road	Healdsburg	95448	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Guyna	Dehne	38615 121st Street	Westport	57481	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Josh	Snyder	212 SPRUCE DR	Fairborn	45324	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Cozine	17 Myrtle Avenue	Cedar Grove	7009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrea	Finn	730 Laura Street	La Habra	90631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

nadine	hudak	36110 westwood dr	North Ridgeville	44039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathryn	Svendsen	1196 SW Sturgeon Ct	Grants Pass	97527	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Blake	Jernigan	2000 Main St., Suite 206	Little Rock	72206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Olson	2521 Haven Rd	Virginia Beach	23452	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shawn	Nerozzi	274 Osprey Ln	Flagler Beach	32136	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Guyna	Dehne	38615 121st Street	Westport	57481	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lilian	Burch	7111 Woodmont Ave, Apt 504	Chevy Chase	20815	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Scheidl	106 Vicksburg Street	San Francisco	94114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathy	Mallory	525 E Sherman Ave.	Salt Lake City	84105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ed	Roach	r	Stanwood	98292	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fran	Mammarella	526 kings highway	Moorestown	8057	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bob	Yarger	9 Middleborough Ct.	Gansevoort	12831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathy	Bloch	5125 Peggy Lane	Carmichael	95608	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randy	Pape	4 Erdmann Lane	Wilton	6897	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Celeste	Burrows	5 Commodore Drive	Emeryville	94608	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Eduardo	Baez	2245 w diablo Dr las Vegas NV	Las Vegas	89118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dorothy	Elder	520 Idlewood CT	Mount Juliet	37122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Sutton	42 West Dr	Rumford	2916	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sidney	Goldstein	201 W Evergreen Ave, Apt 503	Philadelphia	19118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Larry	Scudder	112 E. Gordon St.	Bel Air	21014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Harris	4080 Yale Creek Road	Island Park	83429	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peggy	Green	1520 Skelton Court	Fremont	94536	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bonnie	Howard	9247 franklin st	Chatsworth	91311	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
E.	Kittell	510 N. Hayes	MOSCOW	83843	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Taroli	811 Gregorio Dr, Silver Spring MD	Silver Spring	20901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Saad	Siddiqui	7231 Jurassic Dr	Arlington	76002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patti	Smith	806 W. Wishkah	Aberdeen	98520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Slater	390 E. Rimini Court	Palatine	60067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Paltauf	3 Concord Ridge Road	Newtown	6470	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charlene	Grattan	3838 robeson creek dr	Charlotte	28270	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Renee	Sienkowski	7815 Janes Ave	Woodridge	60517	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	McKinstry	203 Bradley Ave	Meriden	6451	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Henry	St. Augustine FL	Saint Augustine	32084	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Eric	Koltun	18245 Fresh Lake Way	Boca Raton	33498	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Pederson	12772 U.S. Highway 18W, #1	Hot Springs	57747	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Quinten	Dronet	310 Marie Antoinette St	Lafayette	70506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brenda	Young	1580 Lakeside Rdg Dr	Sand Springs	74063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Nelson	2890 Prestonwood St	Las Vegas	89156	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dot	Smith	308 Riverdale Rd	Mocksville	27028	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gary	McKinstry	203 Bradley Ave	Meriden	6451	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Teena	Wildman	2150 Center Ave	FORT LEE	7024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jana	Dieter	3535 Linda Vista Dr.	San Marcos	92078	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bob	Cooper	5085F rhoads ave.	Santa Barbara	93111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maryann	Vintika	315 Cimarron	Lombard	60148	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Violette	Blumenthal	4125 Settlement Drive	Durham	27713	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ken	Andera	Algonac	Algonac	48001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Stahl	236 Red Oak Dr. E.	Sunnyvale	94086	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rae	Pearson	5527 36th Ave NE	Seattle	98105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Yackley	1930 N. Hoover St.	Los Angeles	90027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Fitzpatrick	PO Box 805	Rhinebeck	12572	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jane	Davis	8935 Nicollet Ave S. #103	Minneapolis	55420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	Giberson AND FAMILY	108 Heather Court	Santa Cruz	95065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bernard	Zucker	326 Cape Lookout Loop	Emerald Isle	28594	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cherita	Davis	1740 timber lane	Burlington	41005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kenneth	Baxter	18607 w cinnabar	Waddell	85355	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	McKinstry	203 Bradley Ave	Meriden	6451	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judson	Jones	1015 W 38th St		8660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Turner	118 E Short Ave	INDEPENDENCE	64050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Reinhardt	2601 Bellefontain #C-108 Houston, TX	Houston	77025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	Devaney	29 Conway Drive	Middletown	17057	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Wiegand	6 Maplewood Drive	Cos Cob,	6807	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeff	Sheets	360 McGaffigan Mill Rd	Boulder Creek	95006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	McKinstry	203 Bradley Ave	Meriden	6451	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

lynn	hale	001 babylon rd	Allegan	49010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
M.	Ansbro	510 N Knoxville Way	Vancouver	98664	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dewayne	Evans	2192 Cherryvalley Rd	Steelville	65565	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tim	Wong	161 Jackson	MADISON	53704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gil	Baker	1001 91 Street	Miami Beach	33154	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carrie	Saba	8040 Bedford Court	Westerville	43082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mikayla	Barker	300 Napoleon Rd. Apt. A7	Bowling Green	43402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terry	Lawrence	6523 - 144th Street		11111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	McKinstry	203 Bradley Ave	Meriden	6451	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cindy	McCaleb	155 Jacklyn Ct.	Bowling Green	42104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pal	Kokity	828 Reba Pl	Evanston	60202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary Ellen	Noel	56 Florence Avenue	Pittsburgh	15202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Furthermore, tv's manufactured today are digital and could easily handle the job of channel selection - eliminating the need for a 'box'. But as long as the cable companies require the box for every tv, the consumer will have to pay the ridiculously overpriced fees for monthly box rentals. We were told that the conversion to digital signals would not cost us more... They lied. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box!

Barbara	Best	233 El Solyo Heights Dr	Felton	95018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ben	man	19 Blackinton st	North Adams	1247	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	LaVogue	42839 Apples Way Drive	Leetonia	44431	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vicki	Sehorn	4505B 218th St SW	Mountlake Terrace	98043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kim	M	2038 west 10 st	Brooklyn	11223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Roland	302 SE 88th Ave. Portland, OR	Portland	97216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donald	Onsgard	PO Box 287	Northfield	55057	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michele	Jacklin	460 Tall Timbers Rd	Glastonbury	6033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lillian	Grieco	2801 Oakwood Dr	Harrisburg	17110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Horwitz	2169 Portola Lane	Westlake Village	91361	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Rowell	2329 Roanoke Ct.	Lake Mary	32746	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vicki	Flaherty	1 Wolfe Trace	New Albany	47150	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. My monthly price also changes every 6 months, and I must call and go through it all again, to find an offer in my price range, usually dropping channels to get the bill around $120 per month. I have no choice but to go with cable provider in my area, or Direct which my building won't allow. I have always believed cable companies are a rip off, and you are at there mercy.

James	Columbia	7712 Bruce Way	BAKERSFIELD	93306	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
M.	Ansbro	510 N Knoxville Way	Vancouver	98664	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Ferris	238 BROADMEADOW DR	East Bridgewater	2333	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Hadcroft	711 N. Falmouth Hwy	NORTH FALMOUTH	2556	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Those who do not learn from history are doomed to repeat it. I am a Veteran, Active Voter and TaxPayer. As a Veteran I put my life on the line for Democracy. This missive is Democracy in action. Please help stop the plutocratic take over and save American Democracy and the middle class. It is a sad fact that national socialist philosophy now informs and drives the republican party.
Desiree	Williams	1305 Baker Place E Apt 24	Frederick	21702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Laurence	Margolis	3916 Avondale St	Minnetonka	55345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Douglas	Street	709 Crescent Rd	Jackson	49203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Thornton	727Brookside Dr. Eugene, OR	Eugene	97405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Nicholoy	19 Fairview St. Portland, CT	Portland	6480	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Egan	8869 W Appleton Ave Unit 20	Milwaukee	53225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gustavo	Zardeneta	PO Box 181	Wayne	68787	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jana	Winch	6765 N Oxford Ave.	Chicago	60631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Cummings	10362 Charlotte Hwy	Portland	48875	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	Stroud	4394 Privet Dr	Kernersville	27284	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

TIMOTHY	HOLLEY	131 41st Cir E	Bradenton	34208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terry	McClellan	1005 W Longhorn Drive	Jackson	83001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marianne	Nelson	39 Douglas St.	Lambertville	8530	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

cindy	chatham	395 20th st	Lakeport	95453	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Six	21 W High St.	MIDDLETOWN	17057	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Loveless	109 Cold Springs	Hillsdale	49242	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Myrna	Laracuente	69 Hickory Way	Mount Arlington	7856	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Maeweather	335 Glenwood Avenue	Syracuse	13207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Selena	Martin	1885 Terry st apt 7	Longmont	80501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

charles	wilson	2012 Talloway Drive	Cary	27511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Snow	18340 station road, columbia station	Columbia Station	44028	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
anne	perkins	329 1/2 Sycamore Rd	SANTA MONICA	90402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Prior	71 Parker Rd.	Wellesley	2482	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Behling	315 S. Main St.	Perkasie	18944	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	Reagan	32 Dublin Drive	Ballston Spa	12020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janet	Deaver	9965 Aly May Drive	Austin	78748	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elliot	Ross	7041 Lyon St, Union Dale, PA	Union Dale	18470	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
janet	kregelstein	1724 pages place	Bountiful	84010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elizabeth	Maeweather	335 Glenwood Avenue	Syracuse	13207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
barbara singer	meis	magnolia blvd	Sherman Oaks	91403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Karp	1201 Queen Anne Road	Teaneck	7666	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Smith	8A Summerwood Drive	Hampton	3842	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cat	Thompson	830 Cokesbury Road	Fuquay Varina	27526	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ruth	Morgan	12550 Hwy 79	Mc Kenzie	38201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dorian	Atchison	3800 Van Buren St, Apt 310	Hollywood	33021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Weede	13210 County Road 261D	Nathrop	81236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Makkonen	853 hemlock drive	Verona	53593	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lee	Jurman	306 Webster St.	Auburndale	2466	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
owen	duff	164 millway	Barnstable	2630	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Brandt	5540 Nathan Ln N #3	Minneapolis	55442	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gloria	Rivera	2830 W. Orange Ave	Anaheim	92804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ellen	Kent	P. O. Box 3484	Winchester	22604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nicole	Lindroos	6731 29th Ave. S.	SEATTLE	98108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stan	Chadziutko	90 Milton Street Apt 1 R	BROOKLYN	11222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenneth	Overgaard	344 e. 65 st.	New York	10065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tracy	Kearnes	311 Kenady Cir	Colorado Springs	80910	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Marinaccio	43 Chapel Hill Dr.	Brentwood	11717	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
AnnLouise	Pugh	413 Pontius Cir	Las Vegas	89107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lin	Ko	78 North Road	Bedford	1730	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Plummer	5565 Mansions Bluffs	San Antonio	78251	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Mongillo	20 Stevens Street	East Haven	6512	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Nardell	1484 Meeker Drive	LONGMONT	80504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	O'Rourke	1822 State Route 69	CAMDEN	13316	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Johnnie	Battle	7151 Deerfoot Point Cir. Unit 3	Jacksonville	32256	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
joe	Cunningham	17 heritage farm drive	New Freedom	17349	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deb	Heffernan	29 lange Ave.	Savoy	61874	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Noyes	132 Mezera Rd	Schuylerville	12871	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roxanne	Seibert	3317 Ridgedale	Garland	75041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janel	McCan	1611 N 54th St.	Omaha	68104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tilda	Prosser	2888 Beaty Rd.	Gastonia	28056	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lee	Jurman	306 Webster St.	Auburndale	2466	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Debbie	Regan	1708 Silver Court	Trenton	8690	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Irene	Murphy	12 Perry St. #16	North Grafton	1536	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheriel	Jensen	13737 Quito	Saratoga	95070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michelle	Brinkman	7407 Brookhollow Dr	Austin	78752	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
kristen	smith	7230 clearfield st	Harrisburg	17111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
walter	bullard	17363westmore land rd.	Detroit	48219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lin	David	9 Thurber Blvd	Smithfield	2917	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rose	Neuben	3529 Piney Woods Place	Laurel	20724	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melinda	Threet	2203 Forest Acres Drive	Johnson City	37604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elizabeth	Perrone	72 Vidoni Drive	Mount Sinai	11766	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	West	37 Wolverton Rd	Pittstown	8867	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sally	Lowe	150 graceline	Waterloo	50701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Oelkers	537 Gutheil Place #2	Lyndhurst	7071	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lucinda	Murphy	3206 Batavia Ave	Baltimore	21214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ellen	Wood	3400 JEFFERSON ST.	Napa	94558	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Rowsey	9334 S Lafayette Ave	Chicago	60620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Blevins	7920 Hearthside Ave S, #109	Cottage Grove	55016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Nelson	234 N. Crown Hill Rd.	ORRVILLE	44667	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Howard	Kraus	Liberty St	El Cerrito	94530	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doug	Strand	9605 Cordoba Blvd. Sparks	Sparks	89441	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Niilo	Juntunen	12247 12th ave	Seattle	98168	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Helinski	3979 S 217th E Ave	Broken Arrow	74014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Coffin	47 Mark Street	Lewiston	4240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
mary	hass	1 king ct.	Hicksville	11801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Norman	1220 Woodland Ave NE Pt 1	Atlanta	30324	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Otto	Salm	3121 Darryl Dr.	Foristell	63348	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Angela	Smith	126 SW 148th St, Ste C100-422	Seattle	98166	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

andrzej	Ratajczak	3125 N BUFFALO DR	Las Vegas	89128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
a	vs	3200 4th	San Diego	92103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Redman	5252 NIke Dr	Hilliard	43026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

mary g	davis	1731 Ridgewood Rd	Fort Collins	80526	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katherine	Busby	410 Hinton Hill Rd	Orleans	5860	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Riordan	303 Westwood Ave	Long Branch	7740	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karl	Kernehan	38 high st apt 4	Alexandria Bay	13607	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Caldwell	4570 Van Nuys Blvd.	Sherman Oaks	91403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Robins	566 S 1800 E	Kaysville	84037	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jerry	Yarberry	18641 Boynton Street	Oregon City	97045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Wike	301 W New St Apt 22	ANNVILLE	17003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
CHRISTINA	SURRATT	8278 EASTSHORE DR	Union City	30291	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ron	Mc Cane	9143 Erie Circle	West Chester	45069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Remsen	103 Cobb Road	Camden	4843	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Samma	Freeman	9137 S Carpenter	Chicago	60620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carolyn	Massey	632 1/2 north 6th	Quincy	62301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
claudette	vaughn	419 Railhead loop	Ardmore	73401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Adleman	18 Sandburg Ct	Mahwah	7430	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Jernberg	1163 fairwood dr	Elgin	60123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Petra	Remsen	103 Cobb Road	Camden	4843	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Davis	300 sanhican drive	Trenton	8618	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

JEANNE	FRATTO	3823 SE CRYSTAL SPRINGS BLVD	Portland	97202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judith	Mackenzie	1235 Yale Pl. - # 607, Minneapolis, MN	Minneapolis	55403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Sauer	6201 Arbor Ave.	Cocoa	32927	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sherry	Thomas-Healy	349 Richardson Way	MILL VALLEY	94941	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gina Maria	Picone	2870 Pharr Court South NW #406	Atlanta	30305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mario	Moreno	3102 Rosholt Dr	Spring	77386	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vincent	D'Arata	450 W 42nd St.	New York	10036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tammie	Savini	4 Salins rd	Madison	3849	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wesley	Gomes	1108 R St Apt 322	Sacramento	95811	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rebecca	Galvan	13311 Sandown Ct., #230, LA Mirada, CA	La Mirada	90638	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kerry	Kelso	5148 S. Cheyenne Ave.	Sierra Vista	85650	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Best	243 East 32nd Street Apt.#517	Chicago	60616	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jill	Jester	510 Rainier St.	CEDAR HILL	75104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Schell	209 N. Thompson Dr. #3 MADISON,Wisconsin	Madison	53714	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
I-Ching	Lao	4225 Del Mar Ave	Los Angeles	90029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brooke	Franko	10610 E Keystone Rd	Tucson	85730	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gilbert	Mueller	126 Hazel St	Neenah	54956	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jackie	O'Donnell	6133 Maree Ct.	San Jose	95123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kelleen	Louchart	7427 F 41	Oscoda	48750	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beth	Nicol	2126 E Palmcroft	Tempe	85282	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beverly	Kontney	762 Inverrary Ln	DEERFIELD	60015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donald	DeLauder	116 Central Ave.	Hamilton	59840	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Colby	Sellers	9920 Holy Cross Lane	Breese	62230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Miller	510 Luther Circle	Billings	59102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tori	basford	1202 N Torino Ave	TUCSON	85712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Belmore	4 - 1880 Chandler Avenue, Victoria, BC Canada	Victoria	V8S 1N8	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynn	Bowser	Castillion Dr	Warren	44484	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

charles	Colerich	4011 Brighton Ave,	Oakland	94602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rick	Bunge	6957 S. Ridgewood Dr.	Lambertville	48144	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Frank	2704 Shed Road Apt 213 B	Bossier City	71111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	Finch	953 NE 81st Ave.	Portland	97213	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ellen	Krokosky	4901 Henry Hudson Pkwy W, Apt. 4A	Bronx	10471	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edward	Gardner	251 Monson Tnpk. Rd.	Ware	1082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Montesi	280 E. Pickering Dr.	Shelton	98584	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edgar	Pauk	1066 Union Street	Brooklyn	11225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rachel	Levine	1806 Kimbrough Road	Germantown	38138	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Seeley	4367 Old Colony Dr.	Flint	48507	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carolyn	Wilson	4581 e Karsten	Chandler	85249	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Quick	3186 Oak Bay Rd.	Port Hadlock	98339	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Theodore	Eyrick	2951 Marina Bay Dr., 130-244	League City	77573	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rosemary	Agneessens	472 Rockrimmon Circle	Prescott	86303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Hiltz	3010 Benvenue Ave.	Berkeley	94705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Craig	5628 W Mesa Ave	Fresno	93722	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenda	Hollis	P.O. Box	Fayetteville	72702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Sontag	6137 N Saint Louis	CHICAGO	60659	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	De Lara	3513 Delamar Ave NE	Albuquerque	87107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Allen	Lange	10049 bell rock road	Frisco	75035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Raul	Mejia	12358 Moorpark Street #10	Studio City	91604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gabriel	rosas	1467 don ave.	Santa Clara	95050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jean	Glassman	89 Newport St.	Arlington	2476	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Aulde	62 Maney Ave	Asheville	28804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edward	Stewart	3075 W Calle Levante	Tucson	85746	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rick	Holroyd	2379 salt flat rd	Stairtown	78648	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Elder	105 S. Idaho St.	CASCADE	83611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Craig	5628 W Mesa Ave	Fresno	93722	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lois	Scherloski	3830 Lakewood Pkwy E #2097	Phoenix	85048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Catherine	Vidal	3600 Harbor Blvd	Oxnard	93035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leslie	Plummer	PO Box 3458	Manassas	20108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ferne	Tauman	8825 155th Avenue Apt. 5A	Howard Beach	11414	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. glenn	f	9th street	Brooklyn	11215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dean	Griswold	8784 Mohawk Way	FAIR OAKS	95628	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
evans	gary	1009 baily road	Lansdowne	19050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Shea	37 Pinewood Lane	Red Hook	12571	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bonnie	Gorman	222 Rock Island Rd	QUINCY	2169	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Lewis	1220 NW Heather Dr	Corvallis	97330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jerry	sinclair	4782 w mill river court	Coeur D Alene	83814	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

DVM	James G. MacMillan	Bandera, TX	Bandera	78003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Barnard	850 Settlers Trace NW	Corydon	47112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eva	Vargas	3852 Beta St.	San Diego	92113	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Frank	Elder	105 S. Idaho St.	CASCADE	83611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	Crum	5045 Baltimore De	La Mesa	91942	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jaime	Blasingim	941 Willow	Toledo	43605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marie	Kearney	3782 N. Lost Chestnut Dr.	Tucson	85719	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lloyd	Affholter	41 McCoppin St.	SAN FRANCISCO	94103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephanie	stephan	15627 SW Feldspar Way	beaverton	97007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Norman	Hebron	1264 W Village Main Dr	Salt Lake City	84119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Veronica	Burden		Portland	97214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alan	Miller	497 East Afton Road	Bainbridge	13733	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Susswein	PO Box 352424	Palm Coast	32135	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dee	Hilbert	4936 S. 5th. St.	Emmaus	18049	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dick	Russo		Madison	53717	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ken	Pasek	1125 Glenn St.	Santa Rosa	95401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Coker	133 Vonachen Ct	East Peoria	61611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fritz	Hinterberger	1825 Copley Place	Delray Beach	33445	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Godles	406 West Main Rd	Little Compton	2837	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alison	Limtavemongkol	1672 Colby Ave.	Los Angeles	90025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathryn	Burzinski	PO Box 2042	MIDDLETOWN	10940	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deloris	Berger	1694 Camfield Lane	Mount Pleasant	29466	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michele	Lewis	150 w sunnyside st	Houston	77076	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Knox	Johnson	44 Lovers Ln	Hartland	5048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cornelius	McKown	460 Orlando Ave	State College	16803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Garcia-Mendoza	1601 Dell Ct.	San Jose	95118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kate	Amberger	8 Airway Circle apt 1c	Towson	21286	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	Knapp	173rd Place	Tinley Park	60477	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	McCoy	3980 64th street north # 7	Saint Petersburg	33709	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	DeHart	5200 Kings Hwy	Austin	78745	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marcus	Jones	728A east 223rd street	Bronx	10466	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debbie	Woods	4513 Fairway Drive	Rohnert Park	94928	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fjaere	Mooney	11500 Erwin St	NORTH HOLLYWOOD	91606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

C	P	Little Magothy Cir	Annapolis	21409	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephanie	Gostele	3136 Farnsworth Ave.	Los Angeles	90032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jimmy	Doty	461 Golf Blvd	Daytona Beach	32118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robin	McIntosh	24276 Chokecherry Lane	Golden	80401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Warren	Barnes	136 S Main St	Salt Lake City	84101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	McCoy	3980 64th street north # 7	Saint Petersburg	33709	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janet	Henderzahs	304 S. Oak St.	Clarksville	47129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gretchen	Gonzalez	10318 Ridgewater Ln	San Diego	92131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jason	Newton	4 Riverhurst Rd Apt 442	Billerica	1821	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. As a software engineer who works in the embedded space, I can assure you they are charging crippled devices for far more than they are worth and stifling innovation. The cumulative power and heat these devices take for their poor results is also very large and competition can reduce these as well as improve the tv viewing experience. All while lowering costs to all parties involved.
Thomas	Higgins	3058 143rd Ave.	Dorr	49323	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Stetler	13052 101st Ln NE	Kirkland	98034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Binzer	120 Buckhorn Ct Apt 3	Erlanger	41018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Ogg	2830 F St Apt A Sacramento, CA	Sacramento	95816	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carlene	bilder	2525 serenity pl	Evansville	47720	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leszek	Podsiadlo	4473 Dayton Street	Omaha	68107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sheila	DeMartino	14 Dublin Way	Bel Air	21014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margaret	Soderholtz	305 Costa Del Oro	Victoria	77904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Messmer	1052 20th Street	Okeechobee	34974	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Don	Beeson	691 long john rd	Rye	3870	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margaret	Hayes	152 El Toro Dr	Bristol	6010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	Darling	2955 Dyer Ave.	Sebastopol	95472	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gerri	Glass	210 5th St	Radford	24141	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Hagerman	131 e. north st.	Lansing	48906	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laurel	Wagner	12542 State Route 521	Sunbury	43074	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judy	graham	29919 Davis St	Magnolia	77355	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ronald	Davis	1510 COTTAGE LANE	TOWSON	21286	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Hafen	W2271 Town Center Rd.	JUDA	53550	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
carole	leib	373 ackert hook rd	Rhinebeck	12572	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michelle	Krupkin	4125 Inglewood Blvd. LA CA	Los Angeles	90066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carl	Hassell	2312 - A West Cornwallis Drive	Greensboro	27408	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Summer	Stevens	PO Box 46	UNIONTOWN	99179	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Adam	Salamon	2127 Warren St.	Evanston	60202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marissa	A	555 Enlightened Way	Ivins	84738	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Lucke	406 s. buffalo grove rd	Buffalo Grove	60089	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jack	Kincaid	17775 Mayflower Drive, castro Valley, CA	Castro Valley	94546	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Whiteheart	5138 Torrey Pine Ln	Durham	27713	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ishtiak	Murtaza	9150 1/2 Burnet Avenue	North Hills	91343	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

BARBARA	STEPHENS	12133 70TH AVE. N	Seminole	33772	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeffrey	Avery	575 Cannery road	NORTHUMBERLAND	17857	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frances	Goddard	15313 70th Trail N	Palm Beach Gardens	33418	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michelle	Marks	1848 Sapphire Point	Saint Paul	55122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Peace	3381 S. Fairfax St.	DENVER	80222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ellen	Phillips	2550 Dana St 3C	BERKELEY	94704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	Pitts	276 Berkeley Drive	Bolingbrook	60440	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	Glass	108-50 62 Drive	Forest Hills	11375	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marti	Ewy	609 W Sartell St	Sartell	56377	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

thelma	smith	219 slabtown circle	Gate City	24251	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kate	Brotherton	25885 Trabuco Rd. #136	Lake Forest	92630	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gene	Campbell	25412 Hillary Lane	Laguna Hills	92653	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

crystal	foster	112Heights Ave	Lexington	29072	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathy	Piltz	662 Behrens Rd	JIM THORPE	18229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LeRoy	Vigil	7327 Rockwood Rd SW	Albuquerque	87121	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karin	Kelly	17 Roxbury Court	Keene	3431	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Coulston	1603 City Lights	Santa Fe	87507	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roman	Mikaelian	11041 Oak Forest Parkway Drive	Saint Louis	63146	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tim	Milam	1010 Country Club Drive	Mission	78572	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nina	Rollow	1333SENehalem St	Elizabeth	7202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Pope	3427 McCormick blvd 111	Bullhead City	86429	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Theresa	Little	772-1 Sunset Court	University Park	60484	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DAVE	Crenshaw	PO Box 272 Ocean View Del	Ocean View	19970	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margot	Anderson	2550 Sycamore Lane	Davis	95616	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Catalina	Alvarez	3148 patritti ave Baldwin park ca.	Baldwin Park	91706	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clive	Riseam	Madison Pl		22260	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roland	Heath	3453 maryvale dr	Decatur	30032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Megan	Nelson	4949 Manor Dr	New Port Richey	34652	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Hayes	8600 root	North Ridgeville	44039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Stewart	2339 C.R. 740	Webster	33597	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lewis	Clymore	2821 Wood Meadow Cove	Snellville	30078	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Catherine	Raymond	8615 Fluttering Leaf Trail, Unit 208	Odenton	21113	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
E Myles	Davis	7 Plain Rd	Wendell	1379	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rebecca	Adams	500 Hickory Hills Trail	Stone Mountain	30083	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peggy	Sharpe	986 Bluebell Way	SAN LUIS OBISPO	93401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gloria	Moreno	1829 So. Valencia Street	Alhambra	91801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Priscilla	Taylor	5236 johns river road	Memphis	38116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hal	Phillips	11616 15th St. E. Edgewood, WA	Puyallup	98372	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Keisling	12 Walnut st	Rehoboth	2769	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Catherine	McConnell	2929 S 10th St	Philadelphia	19148	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randy	Schmidt	4129 Winterfield Run	Fort Wayne	46804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Levin	1330 SW 3rd Ave.	Portland	97201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Manske	38911 Albert Blvd	Clinton Township	48036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randy	Gardner	301 Tischler Ave SE	Faribault	55021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Blanchard	3115 Town Square Drive	ROLLING MEADOWS	60008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gary	Thaler	84 Bradstreet Ave	REVERE	2151	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Bradley	2801 FARMERS CREEK RD	Metamora	48455	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Wood	921 lassen lane	Mount Shasta	96067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Comfort	4425 S Jebel Lane Aurora CO	Aurora	80015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pat	Faith	Eton Ave	Dearborn Heights	48125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alvaro	Ruiz	585 south tustin street	Orange	92866	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Halton	829 Mill Creek Rd	Lancaster	75146	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Clark	2532 White Oak Drive	Houston	77009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Germaine	Moore	26600 Bernwood Road	Beachwood	44122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Earl	McDonald	10531 Arbor Blf	SAN ANTONIO	78240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dan	Loan	3697 E Fair Pl	Littleton	80121	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Barolsky	159 Scituate St	ARLINGTON	2476	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Larry	Prim	20 Joy Drive Apt 206	South Burlington	5403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Prioleau	18 London Way	Stafford	22554	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Ackerman	2633 Wood Ct	Beloit	53511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Camille	Gilliam	305 Powhatten St.	Marion	43302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dona	Wesley	2588 Howlett Hill Rd	Marcellus	13108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Alcala	1834 7th Avenue	Delano	93215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ann	Guerrero	3311 n hills dr	Hollywood	33021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	Tara	1440 Jose Ave	Santa Cruz	95062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joletta	McGraw	723 N Madison Ave	North Vernon	47265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathryn	Ryan-Dale	127 Fairway Circle	Norwalk	44857	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
mike	farrell	1016nw70th st seattle,wa	Seattle	98117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Calhoun	2915 Se Milw	Denver	80210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Kennedy	263 Alameda	Redwood City	94062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
s	cook	portland	PORTLAND	97236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Allen	Bradley	3220 N.Wilson Way#1	Stockton	95205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

linzi	eisemann	63 Ponderosa way	Durango	81301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Hebblethwaite	1456 Cty Rte 28	Pulaski	13142	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dave	Ardinger	Poinciana pl	Fort Lauderdale	33324	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	McGuire	20832 Hwy 71 S	Winslow	72959	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Corbin	4624 34th St. S	Arlington	22206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Anderson	1635 Mackinaw Way, P.O. BOX 174	Garden City	84028	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Reynold	94 Charles River Rd	Waltham	2453	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenn	Swanson	7527 51st Ave NE STE 45	Marysville	98270	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
E.	Fusco	629 Coventry Lane	Hartland	53029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diana	Schwab	2520 5th Street	Northport	35476	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Marsh	4727 Sierra Vista Ave.	Riverside	92505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Rose	43134 Ryegate St	Canton	48187	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anthony	Miller	101 Highland Avenue	Yonkers	10705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beverly	Castricone	3437 Darlington Road	HOLIDAY	34691	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Redd	100 Audubon Drive	Maumelle	72113	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Rosenthal	359 Cascade Drive	Fairfax	94930	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
mike	duggan	17531 port royale	Surprise	85388	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Heather	Jacoby	781 Cooke Drive Apt 3	Pittsburgh	15234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	Chase	475 Ridgeland Ave	Valparaiso	46385	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
alice	Clews	85 st judes dr.	LONGBOAT KEY	34228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kate	Brown	271 Woodward Dr	Buffalo	14224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Cetnar	1222 Gilbert Ave Wilm. DE	Wilmington	19808	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Lockard	3925 Reiniger Road	Hatboro	19040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sophia	Bicoy	3142 Bear Spsrings Drr.	San Antonio	78245	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Holly	Toothaker	13 Wayne Ave.	Gray	4039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathryn	Lambert	15779 sw 87th ave	Portland	97224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
bruce	rayl	5 LLOYD LANE	Orinda	94563	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Renate	Wolff	1211 Jacobs Dr Eugene OR	Eugene	97402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Knight	7878 Spencer Highway #403	Pasadena	77505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gloria	Sage	1217 Jamesville Avenue	Syracuse	13210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Remember when we hjad to rent our phones!

Stephen	Pocklington	1626 North Main Street	Salisbury	28144	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Gusby	24& Van Brunt St	Brooklyn	11231	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerrel ann	Lennon	504 West 22nd Street	Lumberton	28358	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gregory	Anderson	800 Gentleman Rd., #129; Balcones Hts TX	San Antonio	78201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Peglowski	Gowanda, NY	Gowanda	14070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joseph	Georgsen	4080 Paradise	Las Vegas	89169	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Raymundo	Ibarra	36 Cordova St.	SAN FRANCISCO	94112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Abel	3222 N. Dick Road	Spokane	99212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeanine	Krogmann	8107 S. 153rd ST	Omaha	68138	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kim	Burnett	106 Sonant Dr, Newark DE	Newark	19713	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Teresa	Graves	845 Wilson	El Cajon	92020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia	Link	945 Harmon	Birmingham	48009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Estella	Caradine	1707 Nona St	North Little Rock	72114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	budzinski	9324 west L avenue	KALAMAZOO	49009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Natalie	Mejia	3685 2nd Ave	Los Angeles	90018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Temple Sr	1162 Rosendale Dr	Beavercreek	45430	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Henneberry	1620 Armstrong Ct.	CONCORD	94521	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Queen	Rosenberg	651 McKnight Street, Apt.#233	Las Vegas	89101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ginger	Clayton	3199 Airport Loop Drive, E	Costa Mesa	92626	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Katakowski	1290 Liebeck Rd	Chelsea	48118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
mia	carr	preston rd	Dallas	75248	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carolyn	Gabriel	4685 Canterbury Road	North Olmsted	44070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	baber	19328 Hardy	Livonia	48152	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Pruna	1615 O Street #215	Sacramento	95814	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karolin	Mondesir	1021 E 59th St	Brooklyn	11234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Nathanson	882 east 185th street	Cleveland	44119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leslie	Harper	86 Brookfield Rd	Rochester	14610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

M Brent	Stradling	728 N. Timber Dr	Lehi	84043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Cobb	3880 Ellendale Road	Chagrin Falls	44022	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eugene	Eisenberg	208 Verona Way	Napa	94558	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

max	wolfthal	9314 fitzharding lane	Owings Mills	21117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Meghan	Behm	PO Box 2978	Kings Beach	96143	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nikolaos	Milonas	29 Fox Hill Street	Westwood	2090	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

J T	Keriotis	The Carriage House / 5931 Howe Street	Pittsburgh	15232	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
abner	samuel	4611 N Winnifred St	Tacoma	98407	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronnie	Kleber	1002 w par st	ORLANDO	32804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

M Brent	Stradling	728 N. Timber Dr	Lehi	84043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joshua	Heffron	8 East 83 st	New York	10028	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Connie	Bowers	205 Boone Road SE	Salem	97306	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janet	Bovenkerk	245 Somonauk St.	Park Forest	60466	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Celeste	Leone	3361 OSCEOLA ST APT 14	NORTH CHARLESTON	29405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wilhelmina	Prinssen	1193 cleburne ave	Atlanta	30307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Arlene	Blackston	1511 Thornberry RD	Wyncote	19095	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Douglas	Bryce	8665 Florin Rd Unit 45 Sacramento, CA	Sacramento	95828	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Gruen	7127 Chestnut St NW Apt 1	WASHINGTON	20012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

M Brent	Stradling	728 N. Timber Dr	Lehi	84043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Burnham	842 Montello st.	Brockton	2301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Kosiorek	Spfld	Springfield	1104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	Ivsan	9 Silverknoll Dr.	Rochester	14624	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deirdre	Lomon	PO Box 96	Yucca Valley	92286	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

paul	milton	2004 gillionville rd apt b	Albany	31707	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Mediacom went to full encryption in Albany GA thanks to the FCC allowing it, now no matter the service level you are required to rent a box an expense not advertised. additionally vcr's dvd recorders or other means of recording tv have now been rendered null, unless of course we pay an extra $20 a month to rent a DVR from mediacom. this is wrong! consumers have a right to time shift, and mandatory fees do not apply as ruled by courts long ago. the fcc needs to fix this. and need to give the CVAA some teeth as NONE of the boxes mediacom has complies with Leslie	Silton	1318 L. Ron Hubbard Way	Los Angeles	90027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Rydwels	3100 N Lake Shore Dr	Chicago	60657	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carmen	Druke	746 E 19th St	Houston	77008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronda	Cole	6512 Brawner St	Mc Lean	22101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Browne			19066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Quinn	1286 Discovery St #101	San Marcos	92078	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Clausen	1418 S Harding Ave	Mason City	50401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Terrence	Thompson	1409 Meadow Lane	Glenview	60025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Dye	843 County Highway 7	Otego	13825	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Klein	1521 Mendocino Drive #23	Concord	94521	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathleen	Curtis	107 Marin Valley Drive	Novato	94949	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gilbert	Goodwin	5389 Rochester Street	Riverside	92504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tondra	Bowers	Foxfire drive	Asheville	28803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Phyllis	D'Anna	1 Chestnut St	San Carlos	94070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Easter	4 Mary Paul Lane	Merrimack	3054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Guinan	PO Box 4251	Bend	97707	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nathan	Vogel	49 Alpine Terrace	San Francisco	94117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barry	Maloney	3220 E 24th Street	MINNEAPOLIS	55406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randall	Esperas	PO Box 4251	BEND	97707	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kristin	Rosenqvist	Robb Dr	Reno	89523	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Rosenthal	94-01 64th Rd.	Rego Park	11374	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
T.	Welch	po box 823	Beverly Hills	90213	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Daphne	Murray	104 Nottingham Dr	Chambersburg	17201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rose	Grelis	409 Granite Terrace	Springfield	19064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenda	Collins	7024 Kings Row Apt 3	Austin	78746	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Hires	18775 Moorepark Rd	Three Rivers	49093	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Douglas	Fuchsman	1215 Avenue M #5E	Brooklyn	11230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Martin	1827 21st St.	Santa Monica	90404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diann	Azevedo	4751 Stuart St,Rocklin, CA	Rocklin	95765	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carole	Lazor	35 Pocono Rd	Columbus	43235	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kristina	Parks	14257 virtue rd	Lenoir City	37772	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Officer	818 Lafayette	Saint Louis	63104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. There must also be protection against the cable cos. making small changes to make purchased boxes obsolete.
Peggy	Nance	1538 CR 7	Myrtle	38650	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenwood	Brown II	116 E Cornelia St.	Hicksville	43526	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

ALYCE M	Johnson	400 CENTRAL AVE	Albany	12206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gail	Outlaw	2107 Bedford Street Santa Rosa, CA	Santa Rosa	95404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
CAROLYN M	Walton	2127 S SOUTHWIND DRIVE	Gilbert	85295	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stan	Radler	78 Pine Hill Rd.	Southborough	1772	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katherine C.	Rykowski	66900 Ironwood Dr.apt 1808	Desert Hot Springs	92240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Megan	Rowe	3832 Old Coach Road	Raleigh	27616	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	MacAulay	938 Olney Dr.	SAN ANTONIO	78218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roscoe	Jackson	20 Silvercrest Cove	Jackson	38305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ms. SCJ	Hemmerich		Buford	30518	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Audrey	Taitt-Hall	289 Prospect Place	Brooklyn	11238	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clellen	Bryant	72 The Terrace	Katonah	10536	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Allan	Tetreault	14 Melrose St	ADAMS	1220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

IAN & JEF	CAMERON-HAWKINS	4032 19TH STREET	San Francisco	94114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joseph	Krelik	256 Lakewood Rd.	New Egypt	8533	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	Dephoure	31 Columbus St	Lexington	2421	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Megan	Faber	1285 S. Sherman St.	DENVER	80210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brenda	jordan	110 Morningside Dr #24	New York	10027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Finch	1231 NE ML King Blvd	Portland	97232	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cosme	Santana	15 St Andrews Pl	Yonkers	10705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Fox	2666 31st Street	Santa Monica	90405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Candace	McManus	780 First St., Merritt Island, FL	Merritt Island	32953	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Emma	Marbley	9144 Wilcrest Dr	Houston	77099	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Rice	1807 Kansas	Baytown	77520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nan	La Fond	ANDREW PL	Traverse City	49686	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Amanda	Holland	2459 Muller Pl.	Woodland	95776	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Apel	15-2737 Popaa St.	Pahoa	96778	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
terri	weber	623 sweetwater branch lane	Saint Johns	32259	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Gettys	11 Barshinger Ave	York	17403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Phebe	Fletcher	2440 Scout Rd	Oakland	94611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William W	Smith	139 Midland Ave.	Park Ridge	7656	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Irene	Tsakiris	27 Orchard Rd	West Long Branch	7764	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Justin	Flory	5050 akron	Denver	80238	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ryan	Tucker	5845 Doverwood Dr	Culver City	90230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Miller	423 Farnsworth Dr	Broomall	19008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Betty	Sides	608 Ave. A	Trevose	19053	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeremy	Taylor	736 San Pedro Street	FAIRFIELD	94533	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Zickefoose	214 Water St.	Fredericksburg	44627	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
sheila	telehany	22 indian pipe	Painted Post	14870	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ralph	Domras	217 4th st NE PO BX 28	Mayer	55360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

CARLA	BENSON	1261 Morton St	Camden	8104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
james	maloney	25 CHITTENDEN AVE APT 6B	New York	10033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Held	3804 Bunker Hill	MIDDLETON	53562	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steve	Varley	P.O.Box 160	Saint David,	85630	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jill	Harris	1905 TREYBURN Lane	High Point	27265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Victoria	Sebanz	642 Moulton Ave w15	Los Angeles	90031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

TOM	SIMPSON	POST OFFICE BOX 23106	Pleasant Hill	94523	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Belt	1739 Avenue F	Council Bluffs	51501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paulette	Jones	P O Box 371695	Decatur	30037	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Lynch	21 Progress Ave. Apt. A	Vernon Rockville	6066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Dean	619 S 6th	West Terre Haute	47885	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Roth	4502 Elmore Ave. Apt. 113	Davenport	52807	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cynthia	Moore	1981 Montana Ave	Sun Prairie	53590	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nicholas	Pazienza	2417 Thickett road	Castleton on Hudson	12033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Suzanne	Hylbom	316 Gittings Ave apt 5	Baltimore	21212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cecil	Gabriel	4032 SE Ozark Court	Hillsboro	97123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jacqueline	Edmondson	800 SWADLEY ROAD	Johnson City	37601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Vagnozzi	2144 Woodfield Rd	OKEMOS	48864	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marty	Hatcher	2123 Carlisle Way	High Point	27265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
K	Krupinski	6124 Buena Vista Terrace	LOS ANGELES	90042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fred	Pettersen	10146 Daisy ave	Palm Beach Gardens	33410	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gary	Hornfeld	6655 Davis Rd	Saginaw	48604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Keri	Branch	PO Box 123	Lockhart	78644	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Eckstein	2111 chestnut forest drive	Tampa	33618	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Lerner	1539 Frisco Peak Dr	Henderson	89014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brenda	Rodriguez	35 Whitson Street	Forest Hills	11375	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathy	Smith	9 Glen Meadow Drive	Mechanicville	12118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

mia	white	68 a baird avenue	Paulsboro	8066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DEBORAH	GREEN	2725 GARDEN DRIVE	Columbus	31903	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
PH	Hall	1195 Shady Ln NE	SALEM	97303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Ostrosky	354 Keystone Drive	NEW KENSINGTON	15068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Veronica	Allen	9009 W Mall Dr	Everett	98208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sarah	Shafer	7550 N 16th Street	Phoenix	85020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donna	Kellagher	1501 Barnaby St	Newark	19702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerry	Kilgore	6420 S Y LIGHTNING RANCH RD	HEREFORD	85615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Fiorentino	PO BOX 51051	Boston	2205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Trisha	Ham-Ying	1506 White Cedar Blvd.	Portsmouth	3801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Hughes	3621 N W 5th Ave	Fort Lauderdale	33309	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brenda	Rodriguez	35 Whitson Street	Forest Hills	11375	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joyce	Clifford	1927 Best Lane	EUGENE	97401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Church	448 Canyon Dr. #12	Oceanside	92054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
earl	carson	14 haven circle	Denison	75020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Allen	340 Orchard Ave.	Somerdale	8083	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeannette	Jennett	375 W. Highland Dr.	Camarillo	93010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenneth	Swain	850 N. Liberty St.	Galion	44833	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Schaeffer	4901 Dixson Drive	Erie	16509	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nathaniel	Angel	3797 Dehner Drive	Columbus	43227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Glass	7002 Loren Pl.	Yakima	98908	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edmund	Leahy	419 W. Erie Street, Apt 415	Spring Valley	61362	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Davant	502 Fall Street Kernersville, NC	Kernersville	27284	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Tompkins	Mass. Ave.	Cambridge	2140	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	McGeehan	568 West 31st	Holland	49423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lory	Garrett	noneya	PORT ANGELES	98363	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LU	ACOSTA	10790 sw 43rd lane	Miami	33165	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alice	Schroeder	145 SW Arbor	Pullman	99163	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brenda	Rodriguez	35 Whitson Street	Forest Hills	11375	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Bower	5938 E Rosebay St	Long Beach	90808	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Colleen	BLAND	3721 GREENTREE FARMS DR	Decatur	30034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Davant	502 Fall Street Kernersville, NC	Kernersville	27284	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marty	Robinson	1191 se liberty ave	Gresham	97080	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephanie	Joyner	406 Harwood rd	Catonsville	21228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rose	Bevington	274 Stubbs rd	Ellenboro	28040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
gerald	blumer	3024 celebrity ln.	Modesto	95350	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jose	Gomez Martinez	3116 Whitesand Drive	San Jose	95148	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	Kerwin	302 Tamarack Goldendale WA	Goldendale	98620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
vern	jamison	1628 nw sugarmaple ct	McMinnville	97128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Prater	518 W. Church St.	Mason	45040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Murphy	324 Woodbrook Run	NEWPORT NEWS	23606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julie	Riffle	P.O. Box 164	Wasco	60183	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Tate	2318 S. Walnut ave	Fresno	93706	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Davant	502 Fall Street Kernersville, NC	Kernersville	27284	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
carol	delzeith	26030 crocker lndg.	Columbia Station	44028	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sarah	Irvine	85 Greenwood Pl # 2	Buffalo	14213	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roland	Stocker	627 W Persimmon Ln	Spokane	99224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kimi	Corris	18 Alcott St	Ladera Ranch	92694	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bruce	Lester	516 Anita	Des Plaines	60016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Norman	Schwartz	2712 E Beverly rd	Milwaukee	53211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	Daniel	5 Loblolly Lane	Hilton Head Island	29926	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shelley	Stahlman	775 Tiger Creek Road	Roan Mountain	37687	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	O'Hara	994 State Road	Webster	14580	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gerald	Dtratman	4679 Warm Springs Glen Ellen Ca	Glen Ellen	95442	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Syreeta	Batiste	8710 Independence Ave Unit #104, Canoga Park, CA	Canoga Park	91304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Bradley	177 River Edge Way	Minneapolis	55432	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Akiba	Timoya	pobox 2842	Tucson	85702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Katherine	Parlove	56 Town Farm Rd	Gray	4039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Faust	401 S. 1st St. #503 Minneapolis, MN	Minneapolis	55401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Stalcup-Finch	4 coronet ct	Trenton	8619	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jonathan	Hege	11659 Stoneview Sq. 11C	Reston	20191	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Max	Waller	12904 Carl Place	Pacoima	91331	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Thanks for your time.
Evelyn	Peat	Oro Valley, Az	Tucson	85737	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melva	Ybarra-Garcia	1318 B Street, #211	Hayward	94541	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dale	Mayer	7818 Cameron Pl	FISHERS	46038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rebecca	Morales	711 Flemish ct.	Brentwood	94513	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Hilary	Hellums	3615 Eaton St.	Denver	80212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
madeleine	Wennerstrom	24 cram hill rd	Randolph	5060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia	Schmidt	347 Sunshine Ave.	Philomath	97370	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

charlotte	ballenger	1727 stillwater drive	Columbia	29212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alice	Naegele	815 8th Ct.	Palm Beach Gardens	33410	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Krueger	9240 S. 53rd Ct.	Oak Lawn	60453	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Curtis	Flowers	445 E 34th Street	Brooklyn	11203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	OLoughlin	1958 Alpland Ct	Sparks	89434	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. It's hard enough to make ends meet when all we ever do is make CEO's richer!
Clark	Drumm	3429 Rexford Circle	Ormond Beach	32174	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mindye	Fortgang	2154 Holland Way	Merrick	11566	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bea	Trenier	2300 S. Lewis St.	Anaheim	92802	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Neff	135 Water Street	Bath	14810	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lindee	Taha	P.O. Box 6	Woods Hole	2543	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Walsh	143 Copeland St	West Bridgewater	2379	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
douglas	Wahl	11 Sunset Dr	Medway	2053	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Daniel	Ratner	90 8th Ave.	Brooklyn	11215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lowell	Schaffert	376 Winding Meadow Way	Monument	80132	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Constantine	Bogios	2582 Oak Rd. #217	Walnut Creek	94597	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christopher	Young	17356 Stamwich St	Livonia	48152	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Black	PO Box 3607	Bozeman	59772	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Erickson	124 Ironwood Street	Lake Jackson	77566	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephen	Austin, M.D.	811 N. Gammon Road	Madison	53717	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Silver	600 Frank W Burr Blvd	Teaneck	7666	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Burton	936 Shive Lane lot 159 Bowling Green KY	Bowling Green	42103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Javier	Aguilar	123	Urbana	61802	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carole	Bergstraesser	1 Calvin Circle	Evanston	60201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shirley	Wallack	450 C Las Casitas Way	SANTA ROSA	95403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeffry	Hanus	PO Box 243	Glorieta	87535	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Raechelle	Raimondo	15 Country Lane	MENDHAM	7945	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Larry	Simpson	3507 Chipwood Drive	Anderson	29624	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Renee	Fertig	24 Bearing East rd	East Hampton	11937	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Amber	Wagner	craigwood drive	Saint Peters	63376	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lucia	Yasenchack	1858 Winterpark Dr	Cleveland	44134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Lai	5109 Clairemont Mesa Blvd	SAN DIEGO	92117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
NORMA	BURTON	936 Shive Lane,lot 159 Bowling Green Ky	Bowling Green	42103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Daigle	2912 Winding Lane	Antioch	94531	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Morgan	Waldroup	3937 Teton Drive	Redding	96001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
CAESAR	SIEDLECKI JR.	3399 FRANKLIN HILL RD.	Montrose	18801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Kercheski	2787 Cindercone Ct SE	Salem	97306	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Lyell	117 Town Garage Rd	Schuylerville	12871	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lawrence	West	95 Main st	Haydenville	1039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
john	mago	3972 marshall place	Gary	46408	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeri	Cenziper	47 Wellington Drive	Long Valley	7853	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kiman	Lucas	PO Box 11114	Bainbridge Island	98110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christine	Washington	2727 S Sterling Ave	Independence	64052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jacqueline	Wilson	5400 N Northwest HWY #209	Chicago	60630	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carolyn	Edgett	9781 SE Overlook Lane	Happy Valley	97086	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Colletti	126 C Amberly Dr	Englishtown	7726	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Frank	Santangelo	17 Struyk Ave	Haledon	7508	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joanne	Karaczun	Not necessary	Bethel Park	15102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
tina	baker	18935 siskiyou rd	Apple Valley	92307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ingrid	Thomas	103 Lewis Road	Naples	4055	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dawn Anglea	Street	1504 Ashland Avenue	Sheboygan	53081	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Schuck	6170 Samrick Ave. NE	Belmont	49306	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Don	Glickman	3717 R Ave Anacortes, WA	Anacortes	98221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Betty	Johnson	2705 20th St. S.F. CA	San Francisco	94110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mel	Paydar	1253 Barry avenue	Los Angeles	90025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kyrin	Fitzhugh	1416 D St	COOS BAY	97420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann S	Harris	1315 Denniston St.	Pittsburgh	15217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Fournier	34 Waldo Rd	Milton	2186	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Benjamin	Cropp	1703 Maple Ln	Lawrence	66044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rika	Ishibashi	2138 WEST 237TH ST	TORRANCE	90501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Heather	White	1508 Dover Ave.	Loveland	80538	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jacquelyn	McDonough	751 N. Jefferson St.	Mascoutah	62258	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Ely	2138 Green Hill Rd.	Sebastopol	95472	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	Stamps	3131 Memorial Court	Houston	77007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Hummel	57 Fenwood Drive	Old Saybrook	6475	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Warren	1705 Sheldon Road	Grand Haven	49417	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mick	Bolton	32 E. Utica St.	Oswego	13126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lorena	Barrientes	1333 Corte Lira	San Marcos	92069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
donald	walth	1885 magnolia	Minneapolis	55441	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Phillip	Alexander	6641 Wakefield Dr #605	Alexandria	22307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ms	Williams	227 Alberton Ln	Pearland	77584	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Krogbin	10021 Arbuckle Dr	Las Vegas	89134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Kiel	330 N Orange Grove Blvd	Pasadena	91103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Andrew	Smith	2316 Maple Street	Bessemer	35022	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lin	Leslie	3368 Kneeland	Howell	48843	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Godfrey	68294 US HIGHWAY 31	Lakeville	46536	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Golembiewski	1311 Walden Ave	Buffalo	14211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hery	Roman	P.O. Box 969	Toa Alta	954	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Hiltabrand	1825A Baker Lane	Peru	61354	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Feiss	3N821 IL. RT. 31	Saint Charles	60174	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jill	Berkowitz-Berliner	80 Grove Street	Mount Kisco	10549	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Vayda	4 Donna Marie Way	Southampton	1073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bill	Eccles	86 Versailles Court	Trenton	8619	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	Jarre	310 West Jackson Avenue	Magnolia	8049	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jacquelyn	Booth	81499 BIRTRUE ROAD	Bush	70431	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

bridget	doyle	4508 south mallard trail eagan	Saint Paul	55122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandie	Davis	5426 panama avenue	Richmond	94804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sarah	Walsh	20738 Kitsap St. NE	Indianola	98342	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Benjamin	Vendramin	51 Whitetail Road	Irvington	10533	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sheila	Platt	74 prospect St.	Norwell	2061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Breandan	mcnulty	2600 Garfield st.	Denver	80205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Julia	Lansberry	1822 W Camino Pradera	Yuma	85364	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard D.	MacKinnon	8484 Liman Way	Rohnert Park	94928	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bob	Burr	3359 Bellevue Pl	Bellingham	98226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

mary theresa	martini	15083 kingsford ave.	Adelanto	92301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pat	Strand	5505 W REBECCA ST	Sioux Falls	57106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martha	Washington	377 williams Ave	Sledge	38670	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

J	Eiser	621 Brocton	Long Beach	90803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Thomas	14137 235rd PL SE	Issaquah	98027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Angad	Singh	32 theo lane	TOWSON	21204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Laura	Malven	434 Snyder ave., Aromas, CA	Aromas	95004	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Gillig	2425 Fixler Rd.	Medina	44256	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Wright	13 Strouts Park	Exeter	3833	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Craig	Goldberg	11331 Porreca Point	San Diego	92126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
m	rosenzweig	signature drive	Brunswick	4011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dina	Herrington	170 Barrington Place, #110	ATHENS	30605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Meredith	Needham	815 Burg Street	GRANVILLE	43023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joanne	Macias	1330 Rand Road	Des Plaines	60016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eugene	Evans	641 Irving Way	Big Bear City	92314	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dwight	Flowers	7428 Gregory Circle	Kansas City	64133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Schulte	fraser	Fraser	80442	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DebbieZarr	Zarr	11075 Applegate Ln	Boynton Beach	33437	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Fura	7 San Antonio Pl	San Francisco	94133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Goodman	58 Edwards Street	New Haven	6511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Forrest	Foeks	4950 Carbon Hill Rd	East Palestine	44413	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anne	Fasano	35 SCHOONER SQ	Freehold	7728	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gale	Kilmer	113 Reeves Rd.,	Leicester	28748	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Herman	Kruse	20 Braddock Way	Asheville	28803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deb	Balbo	Main Street	Greensburg	15601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Allan	Gleason	Kingman	Kingman	86401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gloria	Aguirre	27817 Ferguson	Castaic	91384	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Catherine	Hoyt	myprayer2@att.net	Lincoln	95648	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elaine	McAuliffe	132 Elmont Road	Elmont	11003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeanine	Ford	1360 Julie Lane	Fallon	89406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Efrain	Pagan	2037 Grand Brook Cir apt 1021A	Orlando	32810	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Trisha	Thomas	60 Duelk avenue	Monroe	10950	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bob	Mutascio	2554 Lincoln Blvd, 1055	Venice	90291	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Curtis	Wadlington	34 Irving St #5	Worcester	1609	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christine	Vetukevic	3 vernon	Pine City	14871	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darcy	Carlson	2610 H street	Bellingham	98225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Efrain	Pagan	2037 Grand Brook Cir apt 1021A	Orlando	32810	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terry	Long	191 walters rdg w	Greenville	42345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Kearns	10824 Viking ave. Porter ranch, ca	Porter Ranch	91326	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Cook	9512 n mohawk	Portland	97203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lillian	Mack	1135 e vaughn st	Tempe	85283	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debbie	Sherman-Lee	125 Flagg Court	Christiansburg	24073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Timothy	Huskins	641 E Ridgewood St. Apt B	Orlando	32803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Gehri-Bergman	1321 196TH PL SW	Lynnwood	98036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dorothy	Pulley	5064 Mech. Tpke.	Mechanicsville	23111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gigi	Middlebrook	870 College Parkway	ROCKVILLE	20850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jack	schranz	11024 daniel	Mazon	60444	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darlene	Carpenter	205 Linden Ponds Way	Hingham	2043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leah	Helmer	446 Birchwood Rd	Medford	11763	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
GEORGE	VAN SICKLE	po box 5746	Eagle	81631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Stamm	416 N Division Ave apt1	Madison	57042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Guevara	P.O. Box 752	Arizona City	85123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Esther	Herrera	909 Blue Forest Dr	Schertz	78154	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Arthur	Lapite	211 E 18th Street	New York	10003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Hollie	Hollon	2816 Overlake	Orlando	32806	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Siraj	Mufti	7458 East Princeton Drive	TUCSON	85710	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
s	lewis	3101 legend rd	Arlington	76014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Maria Cristina	Ramirez	303 E 43rd St	New York	10017	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Zagula	161 Cynthia Ln	Middletown	6457	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Lombardi	24 Morehouse Ave	Milford	6460	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Betty J.	Letzig	266 Merrimon Ave., Asheville, NC 28801	Asheville	28801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
stephen	Bloch	6700 Independence Ave #329	Canoga Park	91303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fran	Wright	PO Box 1712	Belleville	48112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Earl	Bobbitt	1119 Jeanette Ave. Vinton, VA	Vinton	24179	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dorothy	Cardlin	3 Serene Lane	MORRISVILLE	19067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maria Cristina	Ramirez	303 E 43rd St	New York	10017	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vilmos	Vegso	106 West street Apt B 8 Rocky Hill, Ct.	Rocky Hill	6067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	CARMICHAEL	4425 NE BLUE JAY DR, Lee's Summit, MO	LEES SUMMIT	64064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Musial	1190 Torrey Road	Grosse Pointe	48236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steve	Lagacy	W greenleaf	Chicago	60626	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Halperen	2606 Wells Avenue, Raleigh, NC	Raleigh	27608	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
J.I.	Castellino	3271 Long Grove	Lake Zurich	60047	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diane	Tourigny	1221 SW 10th Ave. #704	Portland	97205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michele	Eisenberg	18520 Heritage Hills Drive	Olney	20832	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Schroer	36 Dwight St.	LACEYS SPRING	35754	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Don	Gay	1200 Crystal Dr	Arlington	22202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Arlene	TIlly	3921 Whispering Way Dr. SE #16	GRAND RAPIDS	49546	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nora	Connell	2211co rd 4405	Banks	36005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Woods	123 any street	Waterloo	13165	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
lynne	Andia	10790 Sunset ridge Circle	Boynton Beach	33473	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Harris	91 Marion Avenue	North Adams	1247	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dee	Steele	1070 Ruby Lane	Carson City	89706	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tonjaleya	Jones	2340 W. 20th Ave	Gary	46404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pam	Cutrone	4221 Timothy Drive	Merritt Island	32953	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joel	Pelletier	1295 Forest Ave, Apt 2, Portland, ME	Portland	4103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Pono	57 Woodlawn Dr., FL	Palm Coast	32164	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elana	Lewinbuk	750 n dearborn	Chicago	60654	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lyndon	Yarbrough	P O Box263	Comanche	76442	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
N.	D.	0 trees for junk mail	Demotte	46310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Evans	4512 Grove St	DENVER	80211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paula	Tanksley	1400 JOnive	Sebastopol	95472	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Wexler	320 Elm	Mansfield	76063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Lantto	907 2nd Ave S	Buffalo	55313	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Al	Liebeskind	6878 Happy Heart Ln	Columbia	21045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Lepple	Oakland Terrace	Maplewood	7040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Johnson	2050 N Swindon Ave	Simi Valley	93063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Maureen	Wahl	315 Waterside Rd	Northport	11768	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Kuttab	455 thrush Drive, Manheim, PA	Manheim	17545	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Lang	314 Lake Fotest Lane	Charlottesville	22901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

joann	murray	1 continental court	Spring Valley	10977	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kristine	Savage	101 Potic Mountain Road	Catskill	12414	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Orr	2094 Windsong Ct	Gurnee	60031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melissa	Nercessian	139 Wellsvilke # 4	New Milford	6776	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
M	Salazar	3955 University St	Eugene	97405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Daversa	17310 Kieth Harrow Blvd	HOUSTON	77084	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Do it because it is the right thing to do.

Joan	Barnett	1614 Meadowbrook Heights Road	Charlottesville	22901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
georgette	lombardi	2503 ruthwell rd	Wilmington	19810	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
john	mosley	304 Southland trail	Byron	31008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alan	Goodson	804 N. Occidental Blvd.	Los Angeles	90026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diana	Ramsay	23 South Oaks Circle	Asheville	28806	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Trama	7901 S. Lake Drive	Dublin	94568	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gail	Morrison-Hall	8470 Limekiln Pike, apt PH2	Wyncote	19095	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Trip	Tollison	1160 SUTTER LN	San Marcos	92069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Henry	VanDriest	1556 CO RO1575	Ashland	44805	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Evelyn	Doughty	1123 Rosewood Avenue	Columbus	43219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Troy	Shores	4151 commons drive west	Destin	32541	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bruce	Greene	2651 S GOLDCREST AVE	Ontario	91761	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

beverly	eby	1214 oyster cove dr.	Sarasota	34242	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Holman	1248 Rambling Road	Ypsilanti	48198	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Keim	2220 Georgian Dr.	Georgetown	78626	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathryn	DIMinico	180 Walnut Street	Montclair	7042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Powell	7324 Revere Dr NE	Cedar Rapids	52402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Trip	Tollison	1160 SUTTER LN	San Marcos	92069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Teresa	Foley	cowry road	Venice	34293	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
david	kaebisch	450 s lake st	Hustisford	53034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Fishell	51 Grove Ln	Shelburne	5482	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

A	Troy	214 Harvard Rd.	Watervliet	12189	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JEN	gitzel	N7847 Union St	Ripon	54971	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Woodrow	Leung	7621 N Longview DR	Milwaukee	53209	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pamela	Esser	5215 Wayfind Lane	Bloomfield Hills	48302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Gotz	1007 6th Ave SE	Austin	55912	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darrell	Ford	1884 Anton Way	UPLAND	91784	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ethan	Signer	195 Hudson Street	New York	10013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Parker	42 John St	Bloomfield	7003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Huffman	1550 Superior Ave.	Costa Mesa	92627	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michelle	Puddy	15 Amberglen Court	Beverly Hills	90210-1	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marlene	Tendler	105 Walnut Hill Road	Bethel	6801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Smith	2907 Shelter Island Dr.	San Diego	92106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	McLain	3753 E. Ave. I	Lancaster	93535	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Hall	2118 105th st east, Tacoma WA	Tacoma	98445	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Landen	8604 E Cliffside Dr	Anaheim	92808	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Denise	Frullo	55 Beech Street	Westwood	7675	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dayami	Solar	625 east 9 lane	Hialeah	33010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Maurer	7210 S. 13th Way	Phoenix	85042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

amy	dee	226 e 12th st.	New York	10003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maxime	Silver	7 Velina Drive	Albany	12203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Rabin	6659 Fairfax Rd	Chevy Chase	20815	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jacqueline	Leak	10060 Carissa Lane	SPRING VALLEY	91977	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ollie	Stocket	7308 Logan ave South, Richfield mn	Minneapolis	55423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
s	Arroyo	3725 Henry Hudson Parkway	Bronx	10463	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pedro	Nibot	1040 W 28Th St. Apt 1	Hialeah	33010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathy	Dickerman	800 Glenway Dr	Inglewood	90302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Harris	91 Marion Avenue	North Adams	1247	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Crawford	626 N. Dearborn St	Redlands	92374	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Monks	2105 W Meadowview Drive	Round Lake	60073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shawn	Patton	22 Buck Ln	Marcus Hook	19061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Georgia	Libbares	505 N. McClurg Court, #1403	CHICAGO	60611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ana	Posada	1200 SW 125th Avenue	Hollywood	33027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
stephen	akuginow	390 cherry drive	Pasadena	91105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Gross	20301 W Country Club Drive	Miami	33180	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeri	madsen	3227 Se 92 av.	PORTLAND	97266	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beth	Jones	1911 N. Rosemary Blvd.	Tucson	85716	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Timothy	Mullins	27 Riverside Drive	Dover	3820	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carl	Gartlein	524 dodge street	salida	81201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Scott	641 Maris Street	Philadelphia	19128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tracy	Backer	15511 Foghorn Lane	Saint Paul	55124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Kuether	PO Box 205	River Falls	54022	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bonnie	Hill	PO Box 485	South Sutton	3273	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Allison	Harvey	1858 W 82nd St	Chicago	60620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Wood	7104 Tulip Street	PHILADELPHIA	19135	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	Coverdell	1048 Randall st.	Eugene	97401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tina	Dickinson	2711 Flossmoor Road	Flossmoor	60422	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Peirce	143 Eagle Feather Way	Lyons	80540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Vela	757	Pasadena	91105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

victor	DE LA CERDA	4192 Middlefield Dr.	Tracy	95377	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randolph	Willoby	250 El Dorado Blvd., # 212 Webster TX 77598	Webster	77598	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Magesh	Jayapandian	5220 Terner Way Apt 314	SAN JOSE	95136	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Wilson	607 Sharon Dr.	Bay	72411	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maynard	Freemole	2002 SE Crystal Circle	Corvallis	97333	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shirley	Macdonald	2608 E Cortez St	West Covina	91791	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christine	Young	5828 Kantor Ct.	San Diego	92122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilyn	Abbott	12202 A Dundee Dr.	Austin	78759	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Benjamin	Allen	1754 Lang Dr.	CROFTON	21114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Philip	Spiro	1251 Marilyn Ct.	Mountain View	94040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Gitelman	218 Saunders Avenue	San Anselmo	94960	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Giovanni	Sanchez	6810 Ralston Place Dr.	Tampa	33614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Atkinson	12728 Greenwood Ave N. Seattle WA	Seattle	98133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Manuel	Ocasio	12 E. Bidwell Ave.	Jersey City	7305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
victor	DE LA CERDA	4192 Middlefield Dr.	Tracy	95377	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marge	Sullivan	5056 Westgrove	Dallas	75248	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Valmor	49 N. Parkwood	PASADENA	91107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gerald	Fisher	4663 Madison Street	DEARBORN HEIGHTS	48125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Green	17 Tibbits Street	Coldwater	49036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia	Backhaus	1741 125TH AVE SE	Bellevue	98005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clyde	Plunkett	1300 Silverstone Ave. Orlando, FL	Orlando	32806	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Roxanne	Betke	6507 N Hamilton Ave	Chicago	60645	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wesley	Harriss	391 N Main St.	Lexington	38351	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alejandro	Cimadoro	18 Craig Lane	Waltham	2451	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joshua	Pechulis	92 West Walnut St.	Kingston	18704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sheila	Sutton	760 Homestead Pl	Camano Island	98282	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	McCracken	347 S Walker St, Bloomington, IN	Bloomington	47403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Irv	Becker	2155 82 street	Brooklyn	11214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Kitson-Abraham	Fayetteville, GA	Fayetteville	30215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
victor	DE LA CERDAV	4192 Middlefield Dr.	Tracy	95377	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

C Gerald	Chetkowski	227 Skycrest Dr	Landenberg	19350	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doug	Landau	150 73 St S	SAINT PETERSBURG	33707	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Taylor	Pancoast	435 N. Searsport Rd	Belfast	4915	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Dennis	125 Cypress Lane	Leesburg	31763	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Sceusa	2043 Saltvale Road	WARSAW	14569	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary Ann	Hardziej	63 Wellesley Drive	PLEASANT RIDGE	48069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jake	Moore	1741 Azteca Drive, Fort Worth, TX	Fort Worth	76112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
K	Whitaker	5179 Darry lane	Dublin	43016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Connie	Lange	11317 S Cottage Grove Ave	Chicago	60628	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tim	McEldowney	7831 Sedan Ave.	Canoga Park	91304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katherine	Kasovic	5050 Som Center Road Apt 317-1	Willoughby	44094	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	Andril	53 w. Aspen way	Matawan	7747	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

victor	DE LA CERDA	4192 Middlefield Dr.	Tracy	95377	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Chaloupka	1067 S Hover St, E-14	LONGMONT	80501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
B	F.	1275 Sacramento st.	San Francisco	94108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jim	Cunningham	12540 Edgewater Dr	Lakewood	44107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Oliveira	1618 polk street	San Francisco	94109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	McFarlane	6 Newington Ave	Gansevoort	12831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Soo Yun	Kim	2007 W.3rd St.	Los Angeles	90057	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diana	Mikulka	27 1/2 Morton st	New York	10014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jaime	Narez	1571 sepulveda dr	Salinas	93906	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	McKillip	5 Farmhouse Road	Sicklerville	8081	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Esther	Fiegel	3600 Broadway	Great Bend	67530	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Denise	Bonk	2608 E Venango St	Philadelphia	19134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Megan	Knight	2645 Root River Parkway	MILWAUKEE	53227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Ludlow	6204 Haven Moor Circle	Salt Lake City	84121	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ralph	Tracy	1344 E. La Deney Dr	Ontario	91764	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edward	Becker	14112 78th Rd	Flushing	11367	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joseph	O'Brien	PO Box235235793	Honolulu	96823	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tracey	Katsouros	1322 Harwich Dr.	WALDORF	20601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Justin	Reed	558 W. Murray Blvd. #4S	Murray	84123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathy	Payne	1825 Arbor Creek Dr., #105	Carrollton	75010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenneth	Wilson	3059 Marilyn Way	Santa Barbara	93105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janet	Hoover	234 western dr.	Rio Rancho	87124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	S.	5703 Gwynn Oak Ave	Gwynn Oak	21207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	von Tobel	2038 139th Place S E	Bellevue	98005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anne	Gross	1392 Mitchell Road	MODESTO	95351	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Herd	445 S. Main Ave	Springfield	65806	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sonya	Grant	109 Middlebury Ave.	Akron	44305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gina	Raggette	5 EPPIRT STREET	East Orange	7018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Catherine	Trinidad	2 Plateau Ct, Hercules CA	Hercules	94547	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
bill	rizkallh	1306 damask ln	Sebastian	32958	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brenda	Faler	Denham Springs, LA	Denham Springs	70726	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Wenger	7 Edgewood Avenue N, West Orange, NJ	West Orange	7052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Emily	Pollom	820 High Point Ridge Road	Franklin	37069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Earl	Kim	775 Kinalau Place #908	Honolulu	96813	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Sumnicht	40 Vans Dr.	Hackettstown	7840	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dianna	Smith	18966 16 Mile Rd	Big Rapids	49307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Beverly	Pates	2624 E. Shady Glen Ct	Springfield	65804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lonnie	Davenport	606 w3rd st	Nooksack	98276	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Walters	1070 Ashland Ave	Saint Paul	55104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nadia	Haddad	1500 Monterey Pass Road	Monterey Park	91754	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeff	Carter	412 Delmar Place	Syracuse	13208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bob	Boglia	98 W Patricia Rd	Southampton	18966	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Drew	Martin	720 Lucerne Ave #1396	Lake Worth	33460	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roger	Shady	20 Vestal Avenue, Binghamton, NY	Binghamton	13903	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
VANESSA	DE LA TORRE	219 Lance Dr	Sitka	99835	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Monica	Pula	2326 Archway	Irvine	92618	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terri	Kellett	922 Westbrooke Way	Lester Prairie	55354	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Wilkes	3409 Sango Xing	Clarksville	37043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

KEVIN	CLARK	1490 E. SONORA AVE.	Tulare	93274	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mimi	Smith	23261 25th Ave S	SEATTLE	98198	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Ingersoll	1951 Algonquin trail	Williamsburg	23185	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Frank	Grochowski	48 Cedar Grove St	Dorchester	2124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dan	Meneilly	dmeneilly@satx.rr.com	San Antonio	78261	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Steckbauer	210 Cedar Street	Nekoosa	54457	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leslie	Shea	2451 Easy St, San Leandro, CA	San Leandro	94578	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	O'Toole	P.O. Box 5774	Rochester	55903	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brandon	Bundy	3405 Woodlawn Street	Hopewell	23860	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

carmine	plumley	PO BOX 690	Spencer	1562	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
RITA	GIORDANO	2 BRONXVILLE RD	Bronxville	10708	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenn	Garelik	Rosemary Lane	Falls Church	22042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Larry	Bader	7938 S. Alva Rd.	Harshaw	54529	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Burger	2606 ARBOR DR	Madison	53711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Ducatte	22ganong drive	Saranac	12981	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Julie	Williams	203 West Madison Ave	Fairfield	52556	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
rochelle	Radlinski	3126 Lakeshore rd	Manistee	49660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Alfano	121 S. Lincoln Ave.	Mundelein	60060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marie	Carney	136 North Fifth Street	New Hyde Park	11040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terri	DeRousse	171 North Wilson Road Apt #52	Columbus	43204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Carter	5908 Moose Ln	Charlotte	28269	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Monte	Rudy-Davis	411 w 11 st	Alexandria	46001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald A.	DeGray	7 Billings Rd	Somers	6071	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Couch	70 Creekwood Dr. Atp. A-4	Crossville	38555	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elaine	Halliday	221 Patricia Road	Madison	35758	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Victoria	Miller	819 W. 4th Street	San Pedro	90731	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Henry	Gutman	1229 Rose street	Berkeley	94702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Larry	Bader	7938 S. Alva Rd.	Harshaw	54529	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Poirier	19 Sometset Ave	Massena	13662	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Courtney	Christoffer	1510 s Bascom ave	Campbell	95008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

K.	Lindsey	7609 Schaaf Dr.	Henrico	23229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe	Ortega	5005 Texas st 301	San Diego	92108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Smielecki	3201 Alderwood Way	CHESTER	23831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christy	Heiden	13025 SE OrientDr. Unit # 8	Boring	97009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marc	Ziegenhagen	3821 1/2 Chicago Ave	Minneapolis	55407	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marie	von Rietberg	Scheelegatan 17	Brooklyn	11228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Daniel	Colaluca	4506 Euclid Blvd	Youngstown	44512	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katrina	Matthews	8401 Monitor Dr. NE	Albuquerque	87109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Passante	14 Forest Street; Alpine, NJ	Alpine	7620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bradley	Zidane	???		???	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Teresa	Peevey	11 Pizarro	Olmito	78575	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerald	Vinikoff	P.O. Box 288	MECHANICVILLE	12118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ruth	Brody	20 Glenwood Ave.	Demarest	7627	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	Dishong	127 W Ranson Ave	Blairsville	15717	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Suzanne	Kruger	rt.2, box 1008	HARPERS FERRY	25425	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

eric	mandelbaum	264 East Broadway, C2006	New York	10002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Samuel	Carter	PO Box51027	Oxnard	93031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julie	Wolf	320 bowen st	East Jordan	49727	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Eleanor	Tunny	15 Cedar Lane	Schenectady	12302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martin	Beech	474 Greenwood Road	Kennett Square	19348	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Brown	10755 winthrop	Pinckney	48169	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Peterson	45 Addington Road	Brookline	2445	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maureen	Lennon	Mlennon1@sbcglobal.net	Moss Beach	94038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Trent	Freeman	307 N Goddard	Mart	76664	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anne	Rice	1135 Makawao Ave. #189	MAKAWAO	96768	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia D	Frank	8504 Heron Lagoon Circle	Sarasota	34242	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edwin	Noepel	1752 Cedarwood Dr	Piscataway	8854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elaine	Lowry	7500 Riverside Drive	Punta Gorda	33982	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dan	Ward	10010 Glenside Place	Spring Valley	91977	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cathluyn	Morrison	37403 Lynn Dr, Pearl River, LA	Pearl River	70452	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jennifer	Waters	PO Box 23747	Tempe	85285	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jenni	Porter	Flat 1	Los Angeles	90001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Boudreaux	1000 Robley Dr Apt 437	Lafayette	70503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Wilfredo	Santiago	262 45th street apt. 1r	Brooklyn	11220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bess	Scher	10061 Riverside Drive	North Hollywood	91602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Calvin	Robinson	320 Meadville St	Edinboro	16412	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

harry	coman	41 NORMAN HILL ROAD	Woodstock	6281	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Loren	Avedon	po box 1684	Pahoa	96778	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cherlyn	Kelly	909 East 101st Street	Chicago	60628	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Tyburski	624 Turnberry Dr.	Saint Clair	48079	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dean	Schade	3 Birch Lane	Byfield	1922	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cossette	Kelly	11610 Hopson Meadow ln.	Richmond	77406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Wes	s	n70w13375 Brentwood drive	Menomonee Falls	53051	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	And	Wagon Wheel	Las Vegas	89119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doug	Lima	262 W 107th NY, NY	New York	10025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brenda	Beck	229 Biltmore Way	Stockbridge	30281	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randal	Mundy	5747 Old 60 Drive	Neosho	64850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rachel	Pickering	5227 W 139th St	Savage	55378	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Betbeze	5310 Marion Avenue	Chattanooga	37412	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clyde	Morton	alamo, CA	Alamo	94507	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Hostak	Boiling Springs Ave.	East Rutherford	7073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Victoria	Webb	po box 150130	Denver	80215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Atiba	Kimbrell	1865 St. Philip ct	CONCORD	94519	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Davis	2179 Swanson Rd.	JAMESTOWN	14701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chynna	Moore	6136 Somerside Place	Beverly Hills	90212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Rynasiewicz	329 Hopkins Rd	Baltimore	21212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gabriel	de la Iglesia	8930 W Flagler St Apt 108	Miami	33174	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ralph	Mann	511 Frank Cook Road	Cochran	31014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Koerner	PO Box 712	Miranda	95553	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Soeder	3612 Dell Rd	Louisville	40299	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peter	Wood	10 Mitchell Place	New York	10017	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brenda	Beck	229 Biltmore Way	Stockbridge	30281	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
al	miller	main st	Bellevue	44811	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Crowgey	Copper STone Circle, Chesapeake, VA	Chesapeake	23320	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laurel	Hall	1520 Gilboa Drive	Walnut Creek	94598	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenn	Catlett	163 e 122pl	Chicago	60628	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peggy	Burneka	1537 Norton Ave	Dayton	45420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pat	Heidkamp	3929 N. Claremont Ave	Chicago	60618	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	henlin	36 echo ave	New Rochelle	10801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Vieth	611 Memorial Dr SE	Cedar Rapids	52403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brenda	Smith	443 Commanchee street	Hartsville	29550	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eugene	Bersing	10 W. Exchange St., Apt. # 1311	Saint Paul	55102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Harold	Craw	4108 Haven Acres Lane	CHATTANOOGA	37406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeanette	Marinese	169 Iceland Drive	Huntington Station	11746	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gloria	Schipper	554 Rambleton Dr.	Vacaville	95688	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lyssa	Paull	10530 151st Ave SE	Renton	98059	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JK	Kibler	PO Box	Ghent	12075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lavonne	Miller	5602 SW Riverside Lane	Portland	97239	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janet	Dougherty	1065 Curtiss Avenue	Schertz	78154	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	DiCoio	350 E. Mission St. #123	San Jose	95112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jesse	Sinigaglio	263 Regional Drive	Penns Grove	8069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michelle	Stay	43 Vancouver Ln	Port Townsend	98368	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Hendricks	1316 Richmond Dr	OLNEY	76374	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Medeiros	6616 Madison st	Petersburg	23803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Viacrucis	3002 17th St. S Apt. 206	MOORHEAD	56560	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
BD	Bennett	8800 Hadley Street	Overland Park	66212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Holly	Crawford	820 dartmoor st n	Saint Petersburg	33701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christina	Cate	818 Hawthorne Rd.	Anna	75409	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sally	Small	802 N Layman Av	INDIANAPOLIS	46219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Grant	2657 Windmill Pkwy #194	Henderson	89074	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Phyl	Morello	984 Harrison fer	White Pine	37890	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. STOP PROTECTING CABLE COMPANY RIPOFFS!
Susan	Ross	34 Kennedy Blvd	Scranton	18504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynn	Cole	P.O. Box 185	Jacksonville	28541	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Schindler	132 NE 167 St	SEATTLE	98155	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rich	Melanson	369 New Bridge Rd	Acton	4001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sylvia	Hubert	2511 Thompson Loop NW	Albuquerque	87104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steve	Bernard	14155 SW Cherryhill Dr	Beaverton	97008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Ross	34 Kennedy Blvd	Scranton	18504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leslie	Bullo	6938 ALDEN DR	W BLOOMFIELD	48324	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stacy	Farrar	1973 Gordon Ct	Erie	80516	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Greg	Virgo	960 S Jason st	DENVER	80223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mb	Went	3000 n.o.b.	Myrtle Beach	29577	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Georgina	Puente	73 Alexander Avenue	Yonkers	10704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randee	Hughes	2924 Maple Creek Dr	Fort Worth	76177	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carolyn	Sorensen	236 Raritan Avenue	Staten Island	10305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

karen	guariglia	44 boardwalk lane	Lexington	29072	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Sickles	Sussex	Lewes	19958	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Howard	Cone rd	Manchester	5254	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diane	Sullivan	1231 SW Kalama	OAK HARBOR	98277	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Ellis	2055 Fountainview Dr	Navarre	32566	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
SONJA	Bryant	15102 old corn lane	Charlotte	28262	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

caela	knechtel	25314 wingfield lane	Spring	77373	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Bernard	14155 SW Cherryhill Dr	Beaverton	97008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Kaufman	77 East 12th Street	New York	10003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Catherine	McBride	657 AcaciaLane	Santa Rosa	95409	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katina	Gray	2001 NORTHWEST 187 TERRACE	Miami Gardens	33056	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Helen	Benson	Heritage Vlg	Southbury	6488	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Parker	POB 388953	CHICAGO	60638	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Parker	POB 388953	CHICAGO	60638	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jane	Cucchiara	4137 Wimbledon Drive	Harrisburg	17112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donna	Wilkinson	7224 W. 83rd St	Overland Park	66204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joseph	Preston	56 Old Pond Rd.	Rochester	14625	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kim	nero	1927 harbor bl	Costa Mesa	92627	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Fergusce	28 E. Garfield St.	Lancaster	14086	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Meg	Morgan	3010 Windsor Chase Dr	Matthews	28105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Parker	POB 388953	CHICAGO	60638	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Wheeler	Sylvan Beach	Sylvan Beach	13157	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marjorie	Gillet	410 Park Ridge Lane Apt Y	WINSTON SALEM	27104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Gagnon	124 Boutwell St., Manchester, NH	Manchester	3102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Parker	POB 388953	CHICAGO	60638	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Erma	Vasquez	2501 Salmon St.	Irving	75062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pilar	Barranco	calle Hortaleza, 68		28004	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nathanel	Davis Jr	801 Magnolia Avel Apt 305	Corona	92879	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kim	Fike	Mercer Rd., Franklin, Pa.	Franklin	16323	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vincent	Calia	593 N. Hay St.	Montebello	90640	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nora	Brooke	SW Corner Lincoln & 7TH upstairs #4	Carmel by the Sea	93921	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Montoya	6903 Manor Circle	Amarillo	79109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LynnMarie	Obiedzinski	286 Boulevard	Kenilworth	7033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	OMalia	4086 West 220th Street	Cleveland	44126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Haunton	1632 12th St. NE	Hickory	28601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeannie	Roberts	1004 yale rd	Madison	53705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Cowan	3415 NW Kensington Lane	Silverdale	98383	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Crowley	22 Pond Street	MARBLEHEAD	1945	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Russell	Novkov	602 Sawyer Terrace 308	MADISON	53705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Timothy	Ahern	518 3rd ave south apt 207	Saint Petersburg	33701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	Gross	2201 Mauna Loa Drive	Ceres	95307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Amy	Franz	1463 Popenoe Rd.	La Habra	90631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Virginia	Reed	2982 Franklin Oaks Dr	Herndon	20171	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marlene	Verdecchio	1742 kimball ave	Willow Grove	19090	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Palladino	1227 Taw Caw Dr		21948	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Daniel	Nocket	8200 Henry Ave, Apt D14	Philadelphia	19128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Kupersmith	60 Morrow Ave 4AN	Scarsdale	10583	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Timothy	Ahern	518 3rd ave south apt 207	Saint Petersburg	33701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Virginia	Reed	2982 Franklin Oaks Dr	Herndon	20171	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Miskie	3355 Americo Drive	West Palm Beach	33417	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Teresa	Martin	10900 McKinley Ave	Kansas City	64134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melissa	Magana	3415 Alma Ave	Lynwood	90262	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	DeSautell	330 Cordova St	Pasadena	91101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doug	Bent	325 Tucker mtn rd	Andover	3216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kiflin	Ayers	100 mill glen rd	Winchendon	1475	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carrie	Villela	3846 West 118 Street	Hawthorne	90250	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
AE	DeWitt	PO Box 13673 Atlanta, GA	Atlanta	30324	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jackie	Kilmurry	PO Box 103	Atkinson	68713	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nathan	Sweet	1303 Mulberry Trace	Berea	40403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carolyn	Hunter	128 Glessner Ave	Mansfield	44903	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tana	Feiner	309 w Washigton ave	Madison	53703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Franz	747 South Oakland	Villa Park	60181	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Cummings	14337 Southeast 4th Street	Bellevue	98007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	Iantuono	2357 hagen oaks drive	ALAMO	94507	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
justin	Solomon	5 fink ct wellsboro. pa	Wellsboro	16901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
justin	Solomon	5 fink ct wellsboro. pa	Wellsboro	16901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

z	w	x	Portland	97202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Russell	Novkov	602 Sawyer Terrace 308	MADISON	53705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Brandt	145 Gormley Dr.	Versailles	40383	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Betsey	Pratt	Dunster	Needham Heights	2494	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pamela	Sabbia	16050 n. Church st., lot#4	Surprise	85378	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Meldrum	15316 Wilbur Ct Apt42, Redford, MI	Redford	48239	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alice	Phillips	103 Hunters Ridge	Pickens	29671	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jack	Yeager	7392 corner rd	Mercersburg	17236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Beattie	3085 S Placita Margarita	Green Valley	85622	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Larry	Grisanti	276 Tremaine Ave	Buffalo	14217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kim	Mullins	105 Burningbush Drive	Newark	19711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Aurora	Green	190 Pine Tree Dr	Honey Brook	19344	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nick	Audette	37 Brandywine Dr	Belchertown	1007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Dedicatoria	30 Sawmill Creek Trail	Saginaw	48603	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Chapman	7 Grove St.	Bath	4530	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Martin	Becker	608 Midfield	MAUMEE	43537	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Dwyer	PO Box 570	El Verano	95433	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Toms	17800 E Bolger Rd	Independence	64055	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Maxa	6344 Gale Drive	Independence	44131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Goulette	19419 Wakenden	Redford	48240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Suzanne	Arnold	3535 N. VERDE RD., GOLDEN VALLEY, AZ.,	Golden Valley	86413	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Judith	Abel	4183 Wellman Road	McLouth	66054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Allissa	Johnson	6101 Prince Frederick Court	Leesburg	34748	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	Brown	105 N. Heric Dr.	Gwinn	49841	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Roanna	Burkhart	441 Fairview Dr	Madrid	50156	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Fraser	7744 Center Road	West Falls	14170	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
BARRETT	RAVENHURST	212 South 3rd Street	Lehighton	18235	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Eduardo	Llauger	15889 Preston Rd 1014	Dallas	75248	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jan	Rubin	717 s christopher columbus blvd	Philadelphia	19147	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Guerriero	898 w tamarisk	LOUISVILLE	80027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donna	Thompson	1347 W Madero Ave	Mesa	85202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Cardwell	1127 Cedar	Bonham	75418	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	MacFarlane	37 Deer Run Rd	Kingston	2364	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Rolf	1900 1st Ave S	Minneapolis	55403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kris	Muto	30236 Driftwood Ct., Unit 7902, Ocean View, DE	Ocean View	19970	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	ellsworth	13507 N. Tom Ryan's Way	Tucson	85755	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jason	Jaccoi	530 Fairview Ave.	Westwood	7675	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alice	Haskell	17 Tanner Rd, Greenville, PA	Greenville	16125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rita	Davenport	232 E.PeckSt.#C	Lake Elsinore	92530	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Winkelmayer	79 brandywine drive	BERLIN	21811	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Phillip	Wilson	P.O. Box 7434	RENO	89510	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ursula	Rodriguez	84-19 129th St	Kew Gardens	11415	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jane	Iglesias	408 West 57 Street	New York	10019	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Victor	Knapp	4091 Abbeygate Drive	Dayton	45430	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald W	Freeman Jr	12 Belmont Circle	Trenton	8618	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Andrew	Beiderman	720 SAINT JOHNS RD	Baltimore	21210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LOUISE	VILLELA	6735 JOG PALM DR.	Boynton Beach	33437	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Siri	Dyal	264 S. La Cienega Blvd #1106	Beverly Hills	90211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

YVONNE	MCCOMBE	28 Landing Lane	Calverton	11933	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Sandoval	56 Aspen	Aspen	81611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martin	Rugger	1612 SE 21st Ave	Portland	97214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Arlene	Baiza	24052 Skyland Dr.	Crestline	92325	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	Sanders	1849 s. Power rd. #2324	Mesa	85206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eileen	Zornick	3131 Englewood St	Philadelphia	19149	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vicki	Fidler	6714 Trevi CT	Oklahoma City	73116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Caitlin	Barlow	1936 N. Clark st	Chicago	60614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Douglas	Vasbinder	8465 chanel	Newport	48166	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

lisa	james	20320 N 98th St	Scottsdale	85255	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	McEntee	90 Ostend Rd	Island Park	11558	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Cross	1 Barrett	Royal Oak	48067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brenda	Daraiseh	10303 Briar Rose	SAN ANTONIO	78254	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Temika	Singletary	710 Hathcock Glen Drive	Oakboro	28129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fred	Galvez	Po box 54	Mount Hermon	95041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Geoff	Hoagland	1418 N Greenview Ave	Chicago	60642	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. When Comcast and Time Warner were first rolling out broadband internet over a decade ago, they were promising more technology options, more user control over content, more versatility, more choice, more reliability. Our communities endeavored to fund those network upgrades and discount fees in exchange for those promises and the providers have almost universally failed to deliver.
kimberly	berry	4 Asbury Ave	Round Lake	12151	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Johnathan	Obrien	65-52 Myrtle Ave	Ridgewood	11385	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brenda	Tenerelli	30 Roberts Rd.	Weaverville	28787	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judith	Tapper	1004 Rolandvue Rd	Towson	21204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mel	Choy	45-396 Kamehameha Highway	KANEOHE	96744	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Colin	Smith	249 Buttolph Dr, Apt.#201 MIddlebury, VT	Middlebury	5753	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Marano	2175 Hudson Terrace	Fort Lee	7024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Andy	Czart	277 Cobb Circle	Bolingbrook	60440	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jessica	Winfree	4186 N Sandcastle Place	Boise	83703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
June	Harrison	1350 Fleetwood Drive	Elgin	60123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Hattie	Henry	93 Burlington St.	Hartford	6112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Franchi	3421 n 825 e	Ogden	84414	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Pritchard	1084 S. Grove	Ypsilanti	48198	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robb	Devournai	621 Old County Road	Belmont	94002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Fieldsend	9 Kelwyn Drive	Somersworth	3878	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Roux	12 Lemont Ave	Lewiston	4240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

linda	kirby	1444 s chestnut	Green Bay	54304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Glisan	3238 Le Chateaux Dr	SAINT CHARLES	63301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Claudie	Rhodes	1340 E. 38th Street, Unit B	Tulsa	74105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kim	Marscher	8361 Woods Highway	Clinton	13323	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Morgan	2020 Beech Ave B-15	Nashville	37204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Oelhafen	2606 Jonquil Ln	Wausau	54401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Chase	1779 31st Avenue San Francisco, ca. 94122	San Francisco	94122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shylea	Badeaux	20 Old State Village	MATTOON	61938	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Crane	1610 Shasta St.	ANDERSON	96007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Beverly	Hoffman	7711 Sabra Drive	Pensacola	32514	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Griffiths	1008 Emery st	Longmont	80501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Faith	McNamara	1213 N.West St.	Wilmington	19801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

florence	nislow	8635 21 ave	Brooklyn	11214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	McKenzie	1820 Spring Meadow Ct.	Caledonia	49316	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gerhard and Sonja	Luetschwager	9763 County Rd A	Mount Horeb	53572	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joyce	Walsh	164 Peacock Road	Mohrsville	19541	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Desiree	Dietz	Vineland	North Hollywood	91606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Budde	1171 Discovery Way, Concord, CA	Concord	94521	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mandira	Feldvebel	1125 Forest Rd NW	Albuquerque	87114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Lawrence	111-76th rd 1k	Forest Hills	11375	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leo	Sandy	PO Box 44	Chesterfield	3443	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Roeder	501 S. State St., New Ulm, MN	New Ulm	56073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
KENNETH	TUNISON	309 mason st	Charlevoix	49720	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joyce	Ledell	2508 Copper Hill Dr	Indianapolis	46239	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

S.	Praus	6620 NE 6th Ave. #10	Portland	97211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lesley	Culhane	705 Anacapa Drive	Camarillo	93010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karl	Dunker	696 Pineloch Dr. Apt 1112	Webster	77598	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lewis	Sternberg	7635 SW 32nd Ave	Portland	97219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Oldham	21 Ormond Pl.	Shirley	11967	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerry	Chilson	49201 284th ave se	Enumclaw	98022	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

george	dixon	103 west 127 st.	New York	10027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Burch	27052 El Retiro	Mission Viejo	92692	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	DeLitta	208 Serpent Lane	Manahawkin	8050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donald	Silver	31 W. Los Reales rd	Tucson	85756	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doug	Landau	150 73 St S	Saint Petersburg	33707	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marolyn	Hazelswart	3041 rd 250A	Antwerp	45813	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Atkinson	NY	Nedrow	13120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Dickey	2327 Valley Cottage Ave.	Henderson	89052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Huhn	3649 Evergreen pkwy #1481	Evergreen	80439	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deanna	Knickerbocker	2421 Michele Jean Way	SANTA CLARA	95050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Bryant	1907 1st Street	Sandusky	44870	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
chuck	davis	120 N. Bellevue Ave.	Langhorne	19047	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

NANCY	O	wynwyd	Newark	19711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James-Henry	Holland	65 Jay Street, Geneva, NY	Geneva	14456	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rom	Garsh	1004 porter pl.	Sanger	76266	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alan	Berg	26 Anne Way	Brewster	2631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jean	Hodgins	620 Cindy Ln	Ballston Spa	12020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Selma	Milchen	319 Hewitt Drive	North Bennington	5257	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	O'Brien	33 E MAIN ST APT 3	CARNEGIE	15106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eddie	Matchett	PO Box 97	PINOLE	94564	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Nutter	Cliff St, Ithaca NY	Ithaca	14850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeffery	Stackle	12946 Lawrenceton Road	French Village	63036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sean	Hayes	733 Genesee Street	Rochester	14611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
WALTER	EMERICH	440 BICENTENNIAL CT APT 6	Kaukauna	54130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Antonio	Mesa	1200 51st. St.	North Bergen	7047	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edh	Stanley	5206 Sitton Way	Sacramento	95823	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeannie	Finlay-Kochanowski	229 Majestic Drive	TOLEDO	43608	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Collins	5399 Lime Ave.	Bunnell	32110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Emerich	440 BICENTENNIAL CT APT 6	Kaukauna	54130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Murry	701 King Farm Blvd	Rockville	20850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

George	Heupel	9443 Oak Hill Drive	ASHLAND	41102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Theresa	Gillibrand	973 Calle Pecos	Thousand Oaks	91360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Leonard	10051 Somerset Ave	Detroit	48224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alicia	Alexander	4935 San Pablo Dam Road #304	El Sobrante	94803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nicole	Leseigneur	887 Sonoma ave - apt 14 Santa Rosa CA	Santa Rosa	95404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Gioia	6F Millholland dr	Fishkill	12524	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diana	Praus	126 Menand Rd	ALBANY	12204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vicky	Kumiega	13513 78th ct	DYER	46311	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lester	Hemphill	50 Lacey Road, #B120	Manchester Township	8759	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

George	Johnson	2270 FLEETWOOD DRIVE	Cumming	30041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Bollman	9464 Wellington Cir.	WINDSOR	95492	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tracy	Strickland	6779 W. Caley Place	Littleton	80123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Irene	Bradley	4497 Bonnie Brae street apartment 2	Montclair	91763	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Noel	Carmack	14375 Sandoval Rd	Atascadero	93422	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pamela	Hannula	6326 Hereford Rd	Saline	48176	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diane	Rochefort	668 Brown Farm Rd.	LYNDONVILLE	5851	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathryn	Paone	1430 Kenilworth Ave	Berwyn	60402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charlotte	Chitwood	3236 Boeuf Luthern Rd	New Haven	63068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robin	Shook	13266 Sheridan	Montrose	48457	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Neville	Motashaw	1109 Castalia Dr.	Cary	27513	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Green	13205 McCarter Way	Grass Valley	95949	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Debra	Plishka	105 casterbridge lane	Baldwinsville	13027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephan	Armstrong	657 Fisher Dr	Watsontown	17777	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jody	LaBoa	6704 S 5420 W	West Jordan	84081	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kim	Losnegard	15826 16th ave s.w., burien, WA	Seattle	98166	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. My cable bill goes up every year like clock work. Quit GOUGING us!
Douglas	Adler	4736 Jamestown Dr	Colorado Springs	80918	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	Godman	1552 Santa Clara Ave.	Alameda	94501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ceacy	Henderson	107 Hillman Rd	Colrain	1340	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Pryor	1049 Blair Avenue	Scranton	18508	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Calhoon	429 Walden Avenue	Toledo	43605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Cannon	26 Sun Hollow Rd.	Howell	7731	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jessica	Crawford	4806 eastdale dr	Austin	78723	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Rahm	1301 E Broadway	Missoula	59802	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peter	Lobell	7317 Eden Brook Drive #706	Columbia	21046	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. We keep getting presented with less and less competition, less and less service, and higher and higher fees. The government is supposed to regulate companies and protect consumers. These days, the government seems to be protecting the companies and screwing "We, the people." This is NOT right!
Suzanne	Pedretti	649 St. George Road	South Thomaston	4858	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terry	S.C.	851 McCloud St	Santa Maria	93455	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dave	delson	7651 w, country club blvd	BOCA RATON	33487	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Fox	Houston TX	Houston	77061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deb	Gregg	aquacruisers@yahoo.com	Sandwich	2563	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Wilson	5190 Via Margarita	Yorba Linda	92886	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jenifer	Malone	5803 Sebring Drive	Indianapolis	46254	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	Breef	2407 Squire Dobbins Dr. Sugar Land TX	Sugar Land	77478	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Audrey	Mercaldo	235 Marengo	Forest Park	60130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jean	Hartje	Waukesha, WI	Waukesha	53188	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judith	Bluhm	10720 SE 290th St	Auburn	98092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Wedell	90n.maple street	Massapequa	11758	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Gagel	2226 Fairland Ave	Louisville	40218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anita	DeBias	7405 Abalone Dr	Port Richey	34668	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Laura	Wieland	2197 south uecker	Lewisville	75067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Crockett	PO Box 810	Florence	97439	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jill	Logan	428 Court St Apt 105	Middlebury	5753	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Dotzler	2534 Wellesley Avenue	Los Angeles	90064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christa	Wood	335 Green Pond Rd	Rockaway	7866	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marion	Franken	12697 Taylor Road	Plain City	43064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Johnson	1158 Tivoli	Simi Valley	93065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Newhouse	4434 North 7th Street	Lincoln	68521	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Erik	Mikkelsen	75 S. 200 W.	Logan	84321	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alan	Fiene	6580 Channel Rd NE	MINNEAPOLIS	55432	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randy	Pape	4 Erdmann Lane	Wilton	6897	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tina	Davis	217 E Adams Ave	Lebanon	37087	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shawnda	Jacobs	1607 Cherokee Trail	Plano	75023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Toby	Horowitz	119 Pembroke Street	Brooklyn	11235	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Myrene	Perkins	6223 Center Rd , Apt. D	Traverse City	49686	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Baker	25091 Grissom Rd , Laguna Hills CA	Laguna Hills	92653	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debbie	Smith	13236 Moondance NE	ALBUQUERQUE	87111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Norman	Jones	7040 Avenida Encinas #104-36	Carlsbad	92011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Trisha	Thomas	3334 Arundel on the Bay Road	Annapolis	21403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Wilverding	81 Applegate Avenue	Monroe Township	8831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sotirios	Mimilis	2604 Bunker Hill Dr	Stockton	95209	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David &Janice	Kucharzak	37652 Rio Lane	Zephyrhills	33541	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	McDermott	7800 Tayloe Drive, Lot 161	Manassas	20112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jill	Castroll	45 Winter St, #106. Quincy, MA	Quincy	2169	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jon	DeLong	998 Cabrillo Hwy N.	Half Moon Bay	94019	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Scacco	POB 225224	San Francisco	94122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hugo	Martinez-Serros	5350 Coney Weston Pl	Madison	53711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Angela	Perryman	3771 W SR 84	Fort Lauderdale	33312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Cebulski	1202 Commonwealth Avenue #212 Allston MA	Allston	2134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Gallagher	3308 Moravian Ct	Bethlehem	18020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marcus	Hansen	PO Box 248	Alstead	3602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jay	Hendry	13813 Hicks Road	Hudson	34669	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Since you're supposedly for "free markets"(which those of us with any intelligence know is Bullshit), you can be for nothing BUT a fair and even playing field to make available competition that will stimulate innovation, creativity and lower prices for the American people you purport so represent. Do something decent for once and vote for free and fair competition-and not JUST within the cable system, but FOR net neutrality also. Just do your jobs as they were meant to be done-PROPERLY!

Scott	Watkins	1341 S Foothill Drive	Denver	80228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Oren	Sachs	327 N Forest Ave	ROCKVILLE CENTRE	11570	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hitomi	K	404 Tree Summit Pkwy	Duluth	30096	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Curtis	Loesch	705 10th St SW	Huron	57350	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jessica	Lenz	4226 South Figueroa Street	Los Angeles	90037	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karyne	Deering	29546 Avondale st	Inkster	48141	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Florence	Markum	411 FOREST GLEN CIRCLE	Murfreesboro	37128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	McFarland	9339 e evans creek rd	ROGUE RIVER	97537	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sam	Eisenbach	13040 90th ave	MECOSTA	49332	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Loretta	Davolos	124 Dommerich Drive	MAITLAND	32751	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rahul	Iyer	400 Locust Lane East Hills NY	Roslyn Heights	11577	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Jorgenson-Collins	P.O. Box 138	Cordova	99574	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ron	Allen	4400 S Monaco St , Unit 111, Denver , Colorado , 80237	Denver	80237	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leigh	Camp	64 Centre Street Apt 1	Danvers	1923	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Craig	Yarges	701 La Canada Avenue	Oxnard	93033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

shirley	martindale	354 liverpool ave	Egg Harbor City	8215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Douglas	Nishimura	53 Pebbleview Drive	Rochester	14612	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	O'Hare	37-60 85th Street	JACKSON HEIGHTS	11372	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Frank	Marchant	Sheffield	Framingham	1701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cecilia	Dunbar Hernandez	1002 Gullett St.	Austin	78702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ronald	sebastianelli	130 palmer dr.	Jessup	18434	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Cox	918 C Ave	Virginia Beach	23451	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe	Moravec	1346 Kenilworth, Berwyn	Berwyn	60402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elna	Hughes	5 Ansmour Road	Seymour	6483	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandra	Donaldson	861 channing cir benicia ca	Benicia	94510	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James & Shelley & Elise	Poston	don't mail Estate Dr	Morgantown	26508	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Coggins	1800 Downey Street	Radford	24141	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Larry	Banghart	68958 Brady Road	Edwardsburg	49112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cecelia	McCarty	11956 Bernardo Plaza Dr., #209	San Diego	92128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Howard	Lardell	2006 Oxford st	Twinsburg	44087	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kimberly	Wright	2322 Rostock Ct	Indianapolis	46229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mervyn	Silverman	9 Crolona Hts	Crockett	94525	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christie	Gesler	3007 Gilmore Avenue	Pittsburgh	15235	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ruth	Selan	670 S. Monroe St.	San Jose	95128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nora	King	1701 Unicorn Drive	Virginia Beach	23454	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Jackson	41 Scheri Lane	Eatontown	7724	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pati	Whiteman	14182 E. Colorado Dr.	Aurora	80012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ian	Moses	23 Railroad Street, Clark Mills, NY	Clark Mills	13321	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judy	Shively	1475 Imperial Ave.	San Diego	92101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pat	Pfeiffer	107 oak rim cr	Los Gatos	95032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Latham	6754 Smith rd	Cleveland	44130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrea	Zajac	511 High	WILLIAMSTON	48895	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Colleen	Humphries	613 Hornbeam Rd	Edgewood	21040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lee	Stafford	15212 NE 16th Place	Bellevue	98007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wallace	Ewing	PO Box 903	Marvell	72366	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Eve	Himmelheber	104 Sycamore Ln	Buena Park	90621	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tabatha	Sieracki	11938 Herbert	Warren	48089	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pamela	Borzek	221 Cookstown New Egypt Rd #F5	Cookstown	8511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Suzanne	MacKenzie	60 Swamp Road	BREWSTER	2631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
darryl	peisner	10026 palms blvd. Apt. 9	Los Angeles	90034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
J	McConnell	4398 Entrada	Dayton	45431	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Bardelcik	334 vinings vintage circle	Mableton	30126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bickford	Cole	222 Fred Street	Mamou	70554	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Herbert	Rouson	8906 Palmer Street, Fort Washington, MD	Fort Washington	20744	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Hubert	Temba	3532 Bryant Avenue South, # 304	Minneapolis	55408	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elsie	Quintero	421 Bimini Cay Circle	Vero Beach	32966	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	McLarnan	243 Byram Road	Greenwich	6830	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Moby	Moby	P.O. Box 1739 Sugar Land	Sugar Land	77487	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pati	Whiteman	14182 E. Colorado Dr.	Aurora	80012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrea	Greufe	4001 Quebec St	Ames	50014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steve	McNeill	207 Blaine Ave	Nampa	83651	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	DePasquale	6 Old Acre Lane	Rochester	14618	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Biale	7711 Greenridge St SW	Olympia	98512	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Yvonne	Preston	3730 N Sayre Ave	Chicago	60634	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Harvey	230 St. Paul	Burlington	5401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kari	Lavalli	4 Pleasant Street	Blackstone	1504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

tracy	swafford	14818 Hillside Plaza	Omaha	68154	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sanjay	Sircar	105/20 Federal Highway		2602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Josie	Avalos	839 Logandale Lane	Houston	77032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Fogel	1484 Kentfield Ave	Redwood City	94061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Jarvis-Lefebvre	117 Francestown Tpke	Mont Vernon	3057	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maryann	Lobello	200 Corn Hill rd	Concord	3303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ian	Shaw	906 Douglas Ave	AURORA	60505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leanne	Hildebrand	2635 N. 4th St.	Columbus	43202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. THE BOXES PROVIDED BY THE CABLE COMPANIES (TIME WARNER AND WOW AT LEAST) ARE NOT EVEN GOOD EQUIPMENT. MY COMBINATION CABLE BOX/DVR DROPS SCHEDULED RECORDINGS, DELETES RECORDINGS MARKED "SAVE" AND HAS EXTREMELY LIMITED STORAGE CAPACITY. LET US PURCHASE OUR OWN CABLE DVR'S !!
Shannon	caruso	51 Tablazon rd	Tijeras	87059	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pete	Day	4546 N Shore Dr	Rhinelander	54501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
virginia	clute	303 groundsel pl	CLAYTON	27527	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
J A	Trosper	1843 W Springwater Drive	Orem	84058	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Bullock	4000 Rio Road #66	Carmel	93923	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Wilsey	2702 whitney ave	BALTIMORE	21215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Golfos	380 ardendale dr	Daly City	94014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jo	Ford	,620 ne 12 Ave @ 208	Hallandale	33009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Kankelfitz	R11245 River Road	Ringle	54471	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jack	Le Sueur	504 Watts Street	Durham	27701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Derrek	Newell	9715 SE Cora St	Portland	97266	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Davies	251 Levy Bay Road	Panacea	32346	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	faber	11 Edmund H. Nichols Rd.	North Attleboro	2760	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Harini	Shankar	13 Hansom Road	BASKING RIDGE	7920	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kitrina	Lisiewski	270 Federal Road	Monroe Township	8831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Angela	Henderson	140 Jq West Road	Sardis	38666	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carl	r	264 Lexington Drive	River Edge	7661	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pam	wilbourn	18221 11 mile road	ROSEVILLE	48066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melinda	Goodick	225 Acton Rd.	Chelmsford	1824	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Brown	9311 NW 39th Street	Fort Lauderdale	33351	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Audrey	Wyatt	8217 Via Carrillo	Rancho Cucamonga	91730	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeffrey	Syen	2542 Faunce St.	Philadelphia	19152	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gary	Nelson	15 willington Hill Rd	Storrs Mansfield	6268	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Daly	5605 Benton Heights Ave	Baltimore	21206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harry	Bailey	7 Idlewild Ave	Old Orchard Beach	4064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeffrey	Syen	2542 Faunce St.	Philadelphia	19152	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynne	Sorensen	100 Mountain View Dr. #204	Stoneham	2180	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Medina	541 s Stuart	Denver	80219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	Spielberger	153 the Knoll	Syosset	11791	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Livaudais	8518 parmer ct	Houston	77064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Don	Burns	250 Rolling Hills Rd.	Sedona	86336	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Laurie	Neagle	5850 S. Tableau Dr	Fort Mohave	86426	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jo	Ford	,620 ne 12 Ave @ 208	Hallandale	33009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
charles	strzesynski	2174 four meadows	Temperance	48182	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jonathan	Barlekamp	1503 W Front Street	Burlington	27215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Green	3310 N. Leisure Wrld Blvd., # 801	Silver Spring	20906	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer R.	Orellana	433 2nd St SW	Rio Rancho	87124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ian	Dogole	315 Durant Way	Mill Valley	94941	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alice	Travers	706 N Allyn Street	Carbondale	62901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elise	Crapser	1279 Gardenside Circle	North Port	34288	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Bryant	827 S 38th St	Louisville	40211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Stevenson	Lebanon, PA	Lebanon	17042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrea	Gruszecki	236 Benham Court	SAINT CHARLES	60174	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barry	Miller	3214 W Michelle Dr	PHOENIX	85053	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Dail	503 Mckenzie Drive	Montezuma	31063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
judy	morris	trombetta	Santa Rosa	95407	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dale	Hammons	3975 89th St E	Inver Grove Heights	55076	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Albert	Arias	195 Oak Ave	SOUTHOLD	11971	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Redenbaugh	11126 Rindle Rnch	San Antonio	78249	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Desiree	Roberts	22 Elliot Park	Dover	3820	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynelle	Troyke	103 Wallaby Way	Columbia	65202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Cerone	28 Whittemore Place	Port Chester	10573	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Debra	Black	3831 Ruby St, Unit 404	Schiller Park	60176	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
R	Patry	Millis, Ma	Millis	2054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Johnpiper	PIPER	POB 246	Paris	61944	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ed	Magdaleno	70abrazo dr	Camarillo	93012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gay	Salter	2100 nursery Rd k17	Clearwater	33764	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonel	Lancaster	1304 S Fann St	Anaheim	92804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lorraine	Aguilar	4 Westgate	Laguna Niguel	92677	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Hoornstra	1086 Bryant Way	Sunnyvale	94087	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	Baldassano Sr.	624 Bedford Lane	Manchester	8759	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

MARTIN	MARREN	SHADY OAKS-943 AVILA BEACH DR	San Luis Obispo	93405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richele	Duffy	1125 So. 4th Ave.	Arcadia	91006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Lipton	17818 Foreston Rd	Parkton	21120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Shereyk	13418 Choctaw Trail	Homer Glen	60491	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Virginia	Kurtz	320 12th Ave SW Mount Vernon,Iowa		5E+08	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sherry	Black	Albuqueruqe, NM	Los Lunas	87031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charlie	Hughes	9725 Phinney Ave N	Seattle	98103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Hoornstra	1086 Bryant Way	Sunnyvale	94087	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol Ann	Sherratt	8136 Waterside Trail, Fort Worth, TX	FORT WORTH	76137	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gerry	Stamper	3555 Quailridge Dr Clarkston WA	Clarkston	99403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Hoornstra	1086 Bryant Way	Sunnyvale	94087	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Spencer	18135 Burbank Blvd	Tarzana	91356	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jo	Bollen	51219 Avenida Herrera	La Quinta	92253	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Stark	14 Brookside Dr.	Plymouth	3264	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alex	Stephanovich	445Warren dr	San Francisco	94131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

yolanda	mitchell	8665 e. speedway apt 801	TUCSON	85710	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Miriam	Chapman	2502 so 84th st	Omaha	68124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
MP	Sitler	1527 Fielding STreet	Bronx	10469	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	Goodwin	588 E Mel Ave	Palm Springs	92262	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dan	Simonelli	5172 35th St	San Diego	92116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sara	Lockwood	po box 685	Salem	44460	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Florkowski	3925 Beech Ave	Baltimore	21211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Memory	Greene	1366 Royalwyn Drive	Macon	31220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christine	Pikala	4825 34th Ave. So.	Minneapolis	55417	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jon	Parker	4520 North Via Entrada	Tucson	85718	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laurie	Wolf	3050 paseo del descanso	Santa Barbara	93105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shannon	Ensign	1615 16th St. NW	Canton	44703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tim	Brady	3363 Phillips Berkley, MI	Berkley	48072	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	Davis	255 Bluff Trail	Gerrardstown	25420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Smith	6007 Bigham road	Waxhaw	28173	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joan	Leonard	526 Glencoe ST NE,Fridley,MN	Minneapolis	55432	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Six	3708 15th ave	Moline	61265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kirk	White	381 turk st	SAN FRANCISCO	94102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Becky	Kickliter	80 Smoke Rise Circle	Manchester	37355	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sue	Hoagland	414 Lickskillet Rd	Epworth	30541	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rebeccah	Eversall	860 E. Grangeville Blvd sp. 62	Hanford	93230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gina	lonstein	4112 Quentin Avenue S	Minneapolis	55416	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Tenzer	1643 Brookdale Drive	Martinsville	8836	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robyn	Morell	3300 N. McDonald St. #717	McKinney	75071	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Doyle	Stadt	905 N Duchesne Dr	Saint Charles	63301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	Anderson	237 Leonard St	Brooklyn	11211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Angel	Oropeza	8211 Lugary	Houston	77074	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michele	May	3 Robin Circle	Tolland	6084	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	Gary	6540 Anchor Loop	Bradenton	34212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stan	Brulenski	6364 brodie Dr. newcastle, CA.	Newcastle	95658	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Holly	Mckenzie+	6520 orchid hill Cir.	Las Vegas	89108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Rinehart	118 Carr Dr.	Glendale	91205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rosalind	Kenworthy	3270 DuBois Rd	Ithaca	14850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Wanda	Ruffin	3116 Fennegn Ct.	Woodbridge	22192	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Ratliff	2421 E Clark St	Warsaw	46580	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Douglas	13597 Heritage St.	Carleton	48117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

elena	medovoy	12225 san vicente bl.	Los Angeles	90049	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Massengill	131 Juniper Dr. Clayton, NC	Clayton	27520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vicki	LoSasso	1785 Chaska Place	Reno	89502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Devon	Gill	1604 Hartsdale Riad	Baltimore	21239	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marc	Rubin	77 Mark Twain Drive	Trenton	8690	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Takken	2122 Santa Clara Avenue	Alameda	94501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Justin	Swatsenbarg	5909 Old Ave	Newport News	23605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alice	Medeiros	584 Old Fall River Rd	North Dartmouth	2747	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Tkatch	80 Austin Dr., #183	Burlington	5401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Seth	Laursen	2133 S Mansfield Ave.	LOS ANGELES	90016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Colburn	2105 Friar Tuck Ln	Oxford	36203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martha	Dudrow	270 Baskervill Drive	Pawleys Island	29585	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

lynne	Jones	371 E 6240 S Murray, Utah	Salt Lake City	84107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Todd	Corbett	10185 Hubbard Creek Rd.	Umpqua	97486	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
CHRISTINA	BALLINGALL	1787 S. CROOKED LAKE DR.	KALAMAZOO	49009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Olivia	Breef	2407 Squire Dobbins	Sugar Land	77478	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
A	Ross	4728 27th Street	Kenosha	53144	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alberta	Johnson	W Picture Rocks Rd	Tucson	85743	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandra	Londa	189 Tulley Ct.	Wimberley	78676	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Oliver	Thompson	P.O.Box 216	Pemberton	8068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Andersen	725 Jody Lane	Hoffman Estates	60169	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Preston	Wilson	1331 E St	San Diego	92101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ben	Thompson	662 7th Street	Lake Oswego	97034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diana	JimÌ©nez	p.o.box 362294	San Juan	936	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Levin	3 Fairview Knoll N.E.	Iowa City	52240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
joyce	appel	800 east park ave	Vineland	8360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ralph	Williams	PO BOX 253	Thonotosassa	33592	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carolyn	DiCrisci	503 Live Oak Lane	Boynton Beach	33436	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barry	Jones	328 Lowland Dairy Road	Mount Holly	28120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maynard	King	3082 W 53Ave	Denver	80221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Arturo Sr.	Galano	1266 ortiz ct	Sunnyvale	94089	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
sally	wachtel	409 york st apt 215	Bellingham	98225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jo-Ellen	Whitley	8640 Jellison St.	Arvada	80005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Cordes	550 E Arbor Ave, Sunnyvale Ca 94085	Sunnyvale	94085	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gaye	Ruttura	16 Thornwood Way	EAST SETAUKET	11733	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Lundgren	711 W. Diversey Pkwy.	CHICAGO	60614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dennis	Drislane	325 Hamilton St Apt 308	Albany	12210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maynard	King	3082 W 53Ave	Denver	80221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Stroet	227 California St	Santa Cruz	95060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

mf	F	l	Long Beach	11561	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joseph	Russotti	204 Canterbury Tpk	Norwich	6360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Lundgren	711 W. Diversey Pkwy.	CHICAGO	60614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Laurie	Gates	38 Dusty Miller Lane	South Chatham	2659	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Calvert	x	Philadelphia	19145	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Sprensen	2072 bragg St	Brooklyn	11229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Brooks	2606 1/2 N High St	Columbus	43202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Townsley	Schwab	2590 CalifotniaPark Dr	Chico	95929	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Smith	PO BOX 901428	Palmdale	93590	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Reed	829 Clover Lane		15669	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maynard	King	3082 W 53Ave	Denver	80221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ed	Holley	3444 Woodpark dr.	Montgomery	36116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edwin	Selby	PO Box 258	Branchville	7826	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Betty	Hooven	108 Walton Street	LEMOYNE	17043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marta	Badon	59591 Badon rd	Slidell	70460	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephanie	Steinmetz	27447 Zuma Ct.	Wesley Chapel	33544	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Zach	Zki	PO BOX 14281	Albany	12212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Rolle	5344 s arabian	Sierra Vista	85650	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joe Nick	Villarreal	575 Blaze Ave	San Antonio	78218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lorraine	Allan	173 West Center St	Southington	6489	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Iliana	Giacona	11 Rockefeller Blvd.	Rensselaer	12144	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Siemon	6728 Gibraltar rd	Orlando	32822	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Pytel	1611 Peridot Ct.	Joliet	60431	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ernest	Carmouche	6702 deshotel st	Lake Charles	70607	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shelly	Humphrey	2102 Martin Ave	Dayton	45414	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	McEver	4704 TANAGER CROSSING	CHESAPEAKE	23321	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Kaser-Odor	278 Fryling Ave SW	CONCORD	28025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharron	Brunk	7625 Wiltshire Pk. Pl.	Apollo Beach	33572	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rajaraman	Jayakarishnan	1940 Mostyn Lane	Apex	27502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kwanza	Naeem	2023 Beecher Rd SW	Atlanta	30311	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Art	Hanson	1815 Briarwood Dr., Lansing, MI	Lansing	48917	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	McCoy	Assumption Hall	PHILADELPHIA	19118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kara	Soile	24 Rawhide Dr	West Henrietta	14586	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alexia	Jandourek	340 N. Olk St.	Hortonville	54944	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
tim	owens	5666 E. Hampton St. #229, Tucson, AZ 85712	Tucson	85712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Suzanne	Ortiz	51 A Plymouth Rd	Hammonton	8037	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Esther	Stulman	12 Glenmeadow Court	Dallas	75225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Anderson	300 Walnut Hills Drive	Zanesville	43701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martin	Gallagher	3159 saffer street	Cincinnati	45211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

cecil	sallee	15403 puritas ave apt1	Cleveland	44135	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
L. Jim	Anthis	608 Glenridge Dr.	Edmond	73013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenneth	Robertson	8315 NW Waukomis Drive	Kansas City	64151	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Davis	12305 Tempo Drive	Saint Louis	63146	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jesse	LeBreton	316 Wolcott Ave	Kingsford	49802	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Pierson	600 Ellingson Rd Apt K-12	Pacific	98047	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vicki	Pogatshnik	1406 burntwood	Grand Forks	58201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lonnie	McDowell	3764 Dublin Ave.	Los Angeles	90018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Russell	Huffman	634 Mapledale Rd.	White Sulphur Springs	24986	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nathan	Fowler	55026 brickhouse rd	Jamestown	65046	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ray	Hawryluk	484 long ave	Manasquan	8736	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fred	Beyer	1709 Hatherleigh Place	FAYETTEVILLE	28304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	Wolfe	25029 County Road 6	Elkhart	46514	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Denise	d'Entremont	711 Agua Way	Lady Lake	32159	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Gillaspy	9155 Wigwam Way	RENO	89506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lisa	Katz	7337 Woodthrush dr	Dallas	75230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	Edwards	3050 E. County Down Dr.	Chandler	85249	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bogdana	Shumska	126 bay 28th street	Brooklyn	11214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Graciela	Gerber	3 Johnsborough Cy	Reisterstown	21136	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Stemwedel	2839 S. Fairview st.	Santa Ana	92704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jan	Murphy	105 Andrea Rd	Cheltenham	19012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Thank you! Jan M

Marcellus	Bracey	400 N. Major Avenue	HENDERSON	89015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephanie	Gates	1410 14 Mile Rd NE	Sparta	49345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Rossmann	2351 River Park Circle	Orlando	32817	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephanie	Gates	1410 14 Mile Rd NE	Sparta	49345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Tadema-Wielandt	Point View Lane	Ellsworth	4605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Douglas	Weltz	26 laurel avenue	Summit	7901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dirk	Faegre	225 Ashville Rd	GOULDSBORO	4607	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
c	k	2603	DULUTH	30097	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Aida	Lopez	1220 E Avenue R3	Palmdale	93550	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kent	Gardner	111 Jay Pey Ln.	Elizabethton	37643	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Colangeli	167-04 Jewel Ave.	Fresh Meadows	11365	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	Gregory	Loma Verde Ave.	Palo Alto	94303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anthony	Colangeli	167-04 Jewel Ave.	Fresh Meadows	11365	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynda	Tadema-Wielandt	Point View Lane	Ellsworth	4605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gerald	Helgeson	2301 W Easy St	Rogers	72756	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Howard	Christoferse n	300 N Mineral Springs	Chesterton	46304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gloria	Krueger	1445 MacArthur Rd.	Madison	53714	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maria	Wilsey	1026 9th Street	Eureka	95501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cathy	Roseman	111 So 14th Ave Dr	Brighton	80601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darlene	Burton	234 opal canyon road	Duarte	91010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Baldry	1016 w 10th ave	Oshkosh	54902	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Virgil	Adgerson	920 Aries Rd W	Jacksonville	32216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Cender	PO Box 982	Koloa	96756	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dlyn	Parra	9251 e Calle cascada	Tucson	85715	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathryn	Caldarella	San Augustine Way	Scotts Valley	95066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Blust	715 Wilbur St61443	Kewanee	61443	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Francoise	Rothstein		Mill Valley	94941	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Heck	11044 Prospector Drive	Jacksonville	32218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maureen	Steffek	8125 Waterford Circle	Memphis	38125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sarah	Chace	405 S. Olde Oneida St.	Appleton	54911	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dale	Cundy	33 Hawksbill Way	Charlestown	2813	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JANICE	SLOAN	716 NE Galloway St	McMinnville	97128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dana	Burk	950 Crossbill St.	Corpus Christi	78418	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Keating-Secular	6361 99th St., Rego Park, NY	Rego Park	11374	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Louise	Amyot	Greenfield, MA	Greenfield	1301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Rodriguez	630 Orange Grove Avenue	South Pasadena	91030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Evans	5390 Cedar St.	Riverside	92509	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Leary	P.O. Box 59107	Philadelphia	19102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Trapani	45 cullman ave	Santa Rosa Beach	32459	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kurt	Bollers	6935 Burchell Ave	Arverne	11692	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Demand	702 Farnsworth	Bordentown	8505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Bezjian	12 Victoria St.	Dorchester	2125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Virginia	Sandifur	158 West 81st Street #54	New York	10024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendy	Shuman	335 Highland Ave	DOWNINGTOWN	19335	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	McGlone	1517 Sweetbriar Dr	Jamison	18929	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Zynia	Rionda	244 Visfa Dr	Kissimmee	34759	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia	Bauer	112 Snowden Drive	PITTSBURGH	15229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brandon	Hursh	123 not your business lane	Hortonville	54944	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dupe	Thomas	758 Carmel Ave #4 Sunnyvale CA	Sunnyvale	94085	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janine	Cornali	5312 Carriage Pine Drive	Raleigh	27616	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jimmy	Phi	po box 424992	SAN FRANCISCO	94142	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Theresa	Severson	102 sunset lane apt 10	WAUNAKEE	53597	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sab	Skenderi	Lincoln Ave	Wyckoff	7481	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sab	Skenderi	Lincoln Ave	Wyckoff	7481	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sab	Skenderi	Lincoln Ave	Wyckoff	7481	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Phoebe	Bergh	2533 Danhaven Ct.	Aurora	60502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ray	Wall	Smith Hill rd	Troy	12180	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edward	Warren	1704 NW 93rd. Circle	Vancouver	98665	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lori	Myers	1421 W Stover St	Freeport	61032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maria	Carrillo	3211 Birmingham Blvd	Orlando	32829	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alan	Shores	7 Gristmill lane	Newark	19711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harry	Truss sr	832 9th ave	Middletown	45044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Grates	1193 N. Woodburne Dr.	Chandler	85224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Lee	228 Woodford Road	OSWEGO	60543	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Dion	510 Carrington Lane #305	LOVELAND	45140	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Funicella	35 Hemlock Hill Rd., P. O. Box 217	Jackson	3846	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Regina	Corris	51 Kensington Court	Hackettstown	7840	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julie	Loprieno	263 Mulberry Lane	Elk Grove Village	60007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fredericka	Coleman	863 37th Ave	San Francisco	94121	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lesley	North	Ridge Trail	Chapel Hill	27516	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe	C	@^	Collegeville	19426	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Littlebird	Parks	Hwy 83	BIGFORK	59911	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lynn	Bossone	3306 Summertime Lane	Culver City	90230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Kemp	8886 Prancer Ave NW	North Canton	44720	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stuart	Heasman	705 Hunter Drive, Apt 1407, Pueblo, CO	Pueblo	81001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Bolden	980 Newton Street	Bellingham	98229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Woodliff	119 Boxwood Avenue	Cornelia	30531	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jacob	Dane	1030 Sanders Street	Auburn	36830	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Brockunier	14 Trolley St	Manor	15665	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Laskonis	1815 Vernon St.	Rockford	61103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	McFatridge	30 N Lumber Ave	MARIETTA	17547	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bob	Baxter	35 Brookside Circle	Elmira	14903	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Government needs to allow competition for cable and Internet providers. Our current limitations are eliminating options and driving up prices to outrageous levels. Please act now! Time Warner is horrible and greedy.
Kathryn	Cowles	99 HIghland Ave	Geneva	14456	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Traci	Green	106 Marcy Pl	Bronx	10452	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Darrell	Francis	7807 Allentown Road	FORT WASHINGTON	20744	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	McGlaughlin	3518 Lenox Road	Birmingham	35213	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LOUISE	SCARFONE	9140 Southmont Cove Apt 207	Fort Myers	33908	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cynthia	Penny	1189 Holly Hill Drive Apt. #1	Greenville	45331	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deb	Bear	6443 Nootka Lane	Anacortes	98221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Molly	Hauck	4004 Dresden St.	Kensington	20895	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

elizabeth	pirsch	1307 Duke Street	Alexandria	22314	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynne S	Brandon	17 Appleton St	Watertown	2472	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Briggs	.	Ferndale	95536	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

rev. louisa	dyer	28 longs chapel rd	WEAVERVILLE	28787	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Stessl	9745 SW 30 Ter	Ocala	34476	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Dengel	17 Peckham Rd	Poughkeepsie	12603	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Don	Stoddard	8214 N. 11th St.	Tampa	33604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maria	Connelly	668 Smith Neck Rd. South Dartmouth,MA	South Dartmouth	2748	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sol	Rubin	28 Haran Circle	Millburn	7041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jane	Halloran	3057 So. Higuera #27	San Luis Obispo	93401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Hamill	6605 Bluebird Dr.	Arlington	76001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Yolonda	Harper	17751 Panama City Beach	Panama City Beach	32413	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Moreland	Beans	4473 Clouse Hwy	Whiteside	37396	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jess	Jessen	3026 Mockingbird Ln # 160	Dallas	75205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pamela	Shade Murphy	1962 Variations Dr NE	Atlanta	30329	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elaine	Santangelo	2108 Burtonsville Drive	Henderson	89044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Toland	1002 Ethel St	Tuskegee Institute	36088	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edward	Pasto	24 Asbury Drive	Ithaca	14850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Curt	Roelofs	4426 Wisteria Ct	Warren	48092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lori	armstrong	315 capitol hts holland ny	HOLLAND	14080	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Korinne	Livelsberger	196 princess st	Hanover	17331	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Groves	10053 Wayne rd	LIVONIA	48150	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Hansen	9601 Mira Del Rio Drive	Sacramento	95827	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lee	Webber	125 7th St	Jupiter	33458	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carl	Maxwell	618 Glen Ave Romeoville Il	Romeoville	60446	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Murray	19 HURD RD	Brookline	2445	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dorothy	Bradley	479 Bimini Cay Circle	Vero Beach	32966	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mei	Mailou-Santos	823 Makaala Drive	Wailuku	96793	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peggy	Baxter	5365 County Road 36, Honeoye NY	Honeoye	14471	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bonnie	Nolan	27 Third Park	Bloomfield	14469	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Schweigert	114 simpson rd	ROCHESTER	14617	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Pruitt	1032 Randolph St	OAK PARK	60302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	Denti	1639 bayshore avenue	Bronx	10465	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jac	Silve	3029 Timberwood Dr	Saint Charles	63303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Gaertner	11 Apple Lane	Commack	11725	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pat	Annoni	7022 S 300 E	MIDVALE	84047	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

WAYNE	BOECK	21 N 2ND ST	Souderton	18964	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katherine	Dooley	8220 12th Way North, Apt. B	SAINT PETERSBURG	33702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pedro	Marin	PO Box 1872	Morovis	687	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dwight	Tjornhom	105 Arden St.	New York	10040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jean	McAllister	3840 Rimrock Rd.	BILLINGS	59102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andy	Tomsky	po box 683	san marcos	92079	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

sally	bossman	4803 W Paradise Drive	Glendale	85304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jac	Silve	3029 Timberwood Dr	Saint Charles	63303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Calvin	Wills, Jr.	9659 Springfield Woods Court	Glen Allen	23060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jaron	Kaplan-Parr	2810 108th Ave SE	Bellevue	98004	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Johnson	2377 Hoover Avenue	Hazel Park	48030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julie	Kathrens	9807 N Fotheringham St	Spokane	99208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

D. Steve	Yerian	19503 South Finley Road	Kennewick	99337	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
albert	allen	317 white pine dr	Bremerton	98310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Winius	1044 NW 90th Drive	Gainesville	32606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mariano	Marquez III	955 Bay Shore Blvd	San Francisco	94124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Samantha	BeuMaher	12790 Los Coches Court	Lakeside	92040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
WAYNE	BOECK	21 N 2ND ST	Souderton	18964	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	Wall	270 Earl Helen Dr	Coldwater	49036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rev	Meyer	308 108th Ave NE, Bellevue, WA	Bellevue	98004	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Smerdon	906 5th St.	Moosic	18507	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Allison	Chapin	4669 W Lake Rd	Geneva	14456	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sylvia	Le Goff	4405 Kerley Rd	Durham	27705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dawn	Cumings	4223 Niagara St	WAYNE	48184	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marilyn	Bartlett	1571 Annapolis Way	Grayson	30017	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Charlier	11275 Lozier	Warren	48089	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Faith	O'Neil	7813 Adams Way	Buena Park	90620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jonathan	Primack	1015 N Terry St.	Portland	97217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	M.Welling	239 Windsor drive	Rossford	43460	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	Cline	1363 Riverview Road	Rock Hill	29732	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sheryl	Welborn	10000 E Alameda Ave	Denver	80247	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William K.	Fox	6 Fullerton Rd.	EDGEWOOD	87015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fred	Lanning	15 thousand oaks drive	Taylorsville	28681	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Sones	5754 desoto dr	Santa Rosa	95409	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
mark	winieski	809 delaware st	Scranton	18509	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Adair	DeLamater	44 East Milan Street, Bath, ME	Bath	4530	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Frank	Shubert	11513 Smokethorn Dr. Riverview, Fl	Riverview	33579	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Angelika	Lovestar	2615 Garden Dr. N. #102	Lake Worth	33461	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jasmine	Reyes	A1 CALLE 2 Villas de Castro	Caguas	725	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vera	Brandt	311 Legacy Oaks Circle	Lynchburg	24501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dean	Clarke	8232 S. River Rd.	Waterville	43566	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fred	Lanning	15 thousand oaks drive	Taylorsville	28681	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jose	Delgado	427 Dartmouth Lb	Schaumburg	60193	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DIANNE	SANBORN	48 Circuit Ave	Newton Highlands	2461	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia	Eggert, PhD	37 Bliss Street	North Adams	1247	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. We cut off cable for good two years ago after we stopped accepting their shoddy service and their overcharging us by hundreds of dollars a month. Consumers should also be able to choose among cable companies, if they do not choose satellite service, as we did, with Directv.

Richard	Niemi	1200 127th lane NE	Minneapolis	55434	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Estrella	Esparza-Johnson	PO BOX 532	San Juan Bautista	95045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Layne	Ricketts	713 Lee Street	Blacksburg	24060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Stevens	238 SIERRA DR SE, APT B, ALBUQUERQUE, NM	Albuquerque	87108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fred	Lanning	15 thousand oaks drive	Taylorsville	28681	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Moe	Kazemi	2901 espana ct	Fairfax	22031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sylvia	Nibley	2915 S Filmore St	Salt Lake City	84106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
TERENCE	CAREY SR	5300 S ATLANTIC AVE APT 1502	New Smyrna Beach	32169	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeffrey	Price	76 E US hwy 6 lot 224	Valparaiso	46383	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lisa	Fernandez	5381 northchester ct	Atlanta	30338	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edith	Williuams	6735 Spring Haven St.	San Antonio	78249	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jaya	Fairchild	4118 Monterey Street	Los Angeles	90065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margo	Fittipaldo	1510 Grandin Avd.	Pittsburgh	15216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Catherine	Rose	356 5th Ave So	Park Falls	54552	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Johnson	1321 W VIRGINIA ST	Moses Lake	98837	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marie	Taylor	21 Cherry Ave	Aurora	13026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fran	Armato	13 Lexington Court	Coram	11727	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rose	Saulus	886 Baird Ave.	Santa Clara	95054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anna	Bobko	4133 Brittany LN	Sarasota	34233	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Wagner	2505 Yonna St.	KLAMATH FALLS	97601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	Boyle	54 Westminster Drive	Palm Coast	32164	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Craig	Stallone	70-07 Kissena Blvd	Flushing	11367	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diana	Barbella	3314 Briarwood Lane	Safety Harbor	34695	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LYNN	GREENE	408	Wichita	67207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Katherine	Gibson	1957 NW Florence Avenue #325	Gresham	97030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shannon	Kraus	7393 Grant Ranch Blvd.	Littleton	80123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jo	Davis	3809 Timber Ridge Rd.	Midlothian	23112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Randall	Johnson	5540 78th Ave NW Olympia WAia	Olympia	98502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Heidi	Williams	14418 E. Broadway Ave.	Spokane	99216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Logan	2 Nooksa Dr	Cherokee Village	72529	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nancy	Kanistanaux	1873 Birchwood Dr	Okemos	48864	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eugene	Adler	524 Desoto SE	Albuquerque	87123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ray	Sabatowski	1923 Vare st.	Pittsburgh	15205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

P	ROBINSON	814 GUILFORD COLLEGE RD	Greensboro	27409	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Reshelle	Rick	22000 Nordhoff St	Chatsworth	91311	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maurice	Lapierre	2127 N. Lincoln St.	Arlington	22207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Ridlon	POBox121	New Woodstock	13122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lee	Kowalski	29 Randolph St	Lancaster	14086	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Weaver	14631 Roeriver Ct	NOBLESVILLE	46060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Moore, Jr	6000 N NEVA	Chicago	60631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Mann	1166 San Simeon Drive	HANOVER PARK	60133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diana	Saxon	4098 Market St NE Apt 23, Salem OR	SALEM	97301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Teresa	Collins	hazelnut Dr	Jenkins	41537	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marge	Taniwaki	6100 East Severn Place	DENVER	80220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Rolleri	1991 Gresham Dr.	Alameda	94501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alyssa	Melton	903 Briarcliff Court	Arlington	76012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia	Velasco	1235 Birch Road	Upper Black Eddy	18972	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Georgiana	Gallagher	15510 Cedarwood Lane	Naples	34110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margaret	Johnson	1007 Ohio Street	Zanesville	43701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary Jean	Cunningham	3303 West Queen Lane	Philadelphia	19129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Troy	Glennon	2441-A NW 59TH St	Seattle	98107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jennifer	Brandon	174 Brody Ln	Lexington	27295	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	Tate	5406 Chiquita Blvd S	Cape Coral	33914	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clare	Cornell	East Falmouth	East Falmouth	2536	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marie KM	Melaragni	2 Diana Drive	Woburn	1801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Garner	286white sands	Beaumont	92223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Greg	Burnet	3608 Wenonah	Berwyn	60402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rod and Terri	Jones	3255 E 2120 Rd	HUGO	74743	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthea	Wray	12439 stafford springs dr	Houston	77077	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gretchen	Robinson	1 Wood Street	ATTLEBORO	2703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

George	Valenta	4380 PineRidge Court	Ann Arbor	48105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary Ann	Natran	36260 Lakeshore Blvd. #309	Eastlake	44095	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elton E.	Erp	2614 Gold Rush Ave.	Helena	59601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Claire	Pearson	12153 Sunset Cove	Buckner	62819	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Logan	Woodall	2515 Northeast Expressway	Atlanta	30345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Giusti	120 Hatchfield Drive	Brockton	2301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Davis	6674 Boyd Avenue, Eden Prairie	EDEN PRAIRIE	55346	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James B.	Wallace	310 Bar-H Drive	Athens	30605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Salsano	10 Grayson lane Manalapan N.J.	Englishtown	7726	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Staples	232 S Polk Ave	Louisville	80027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katonio	Butler	169 Msgr. Obrien Hwy	Cambridge	2141	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ry	Moran	535 South 200 East	Salt Lake City	84111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Wieland	206A Compton Circle	SAN RAMON	94583	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
merry	laporta	380 Salt Springs Rd	Fayetteville	13066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mason	Burton	RR1 Box 191	Queen City	63561	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Larry	Smith-Black	404 Mission Ridge Road	MURPHY	28906	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roger	Kegley	204 Yellow Brick Court	Abingdon	21009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Raven	Horsley	8577 Laurel Drive	Pinellas Park	33782	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lisa	Barrett	110 Walnut Street	Three Oaks	49128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beth	Dzwil	8106 Hull Dr.	Glenside	19038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debbie	McCarthy	188 Hare St	Phillips	4966	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bruce	Olsen	1001 Hammond St Apt 12	West Hollywood	90069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michen	Denney	Midway Dr.	San Diego	92110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	disch	2204 Lear ln	Austin	78745	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rosamond	Brenner	310 Linden Ave	WILMETTE	60091	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	L.	4405 Karrol SW Alb., NM	Albuquerque	87121	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Malinda	Jones	42 Bluestone Dr	Nashua	3060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diana	Hayes	126 Chittenden Rd	Rutland	5701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Hitchcock	425 Sugar Hill Road	Paris	75462	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Arthur	Watson	PO Box 300016	Arlington	76007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Goebel	702 west 500 north	Decatur	46733	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Higgins	542 Oxford Ave	Akron	44310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Sanguinetti	3353 Brittan Avenue #2	San Carlos	94070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

April	Luke	2400hwy99N	Eugene	97402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christina	Huggins	113 Ricardo Rd.	Mill Valley	94941	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
eileen	atkins	305 e.joppa rd. #1708	towson	21286	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jill	Hutchinson	671 10th. Ave.	San Francisco	94118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Du Boulay	123 Chestnut Ave	Staten Island	10305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Thomas	1005 Wildwood Ave	Columbia	29203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephen	Cornine	19 West 89th Street, Apt. #3F	New York	10024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julie	Hansen	PO Box 1952	Woodland	98674	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dolores	Lucena	105 Ehiku Loop H105	Kihei	96753	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Valdez	3010 E San Jose St	Laredo	78043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Berry	62 Cottage Ave	Winthrop	2152	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marcy	Riekkoff	4645 S. 23rd St. Apt. 5 Milwaukee, WI	Milwaukee	53221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Warren	700 Shady Meadow Ln.	Red Oak	75154	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Bettega	19 elmwood drive	Kankakee	60901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jose	Morales	Estancias Del Llano, 52 Calle Laurel Bla	Aibonito	705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melodie	Howard	6100 Ambleside dr	Columbus	43229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Boyle	1601 State Route 23 Apt 8	Butler	7405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Norma	Ceaser	222 W. Franklin	Womelsdorf	19567	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janet	Robinson	6391 Toulon Dr.	Boca Raton	33433	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Watson	2305 Liberty Church Road	Hickory	28601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leon	Holzman	416 Chick Cove Drive	Hardyville	23070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

johanna	Salsano	10 grayson lane manalapan	Englishtown	7726	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shaharazade	MORALES	4945 NW 6th st.	Pompano Beach	33063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joseph	Palmese	4 Foz Run Lane	New Hartford	6057	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lee	Miyamura	912 Evert Ct	Paso Robles	93446	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gabrielle	Donatelli	427 Dartmouth lane	Schaumburg	60193	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joel	Nobel	62 Haley Lane Cheektowaga, NY	Buffalo	14227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patrick	Keating	70-100 Mirage Cove Dr. unit 35	Rancho Mirage	92270	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clifton	Stillman	275 springside ave pittsfield mass	Pittsfield	1201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rafik	Eid	1320 Cynwyd Club Drive, Apt 7	Wilmington	19808	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margaret	Gooding	2217 N Cedar Ave	Rialto	92377	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Jenkins	813 N. Charles St	Baltimore	21201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	Stewart	214 South St	Carrollton	30117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Louis	Hukari	509 Prospect	Hood River	97031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Police	9045 Pomelo RD W	Fort Myers	33967	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Keele	27B N. San Marcos Rd.	Santa Barbara	93111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lisa	Ockerman	1025 Lakeway Dr #5	Russell Springs	42642	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Zellmer	4011 16th St NW	Washington	20011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Virginia	French	405 NE 4th St	FAIRFIELD	62837	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

DAVID	PARKER	6347 - 137th Ave NE	Redmond	98052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Bouler	7535 Salton Sea Way	Sacramento	95831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
john	fahrendorf	3796 drexel ct	Saint Paul	55123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Henry	Hodes	1655 Chestnut Street	San Francisco	94123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Metevier	418 Lakepark Trail	Oviedo	32765	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerome	Davis	2175 Hudson Terrace, Apt. 8L	Fort Lee	7024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edmond	Malin	223 Maujer St, #1A	BROOKLYN	11206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martha	Eberle	2525 Mcgregor Ln	Dripping Springs	78620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dan	Williams	5 Pearl St	Englewood	34223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Cady	3371 Rahn Blvd	Bellevue	68123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lauri	Kingsley	1213 W 17TH ST	Port Angeles	98363	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jon	Hall	253 Spring Oaks Ln.	Ruckersville	22968	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Maria	Palamarchuk	1300 Lombard st	Philadelphia	19147	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Audrey	MÌ_ller	6915 Park Av	West New York	7093	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matt	Rosa	7104 Tulip Street	PHILADELPHIA	19135	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jerome	Davis	2175 Hudson Terrace, Apt. 8L	Fort Lee	7024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Hoenes	5906 Laguna Cir N	South Padre Island	78597	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rosalind	Milliken	80-700 Ave. 38	INDIO	92203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christian	Kenney	13832 Londonderry Court	Woodbridge	22193	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Devin	Hathaway	2350 NW Rolling Green Dr. Apt. 94	Corvallis	97330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathie	Kingett	807 West Rd	La Habra	90631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alice	Bentley	333 N Troy	Royal Oak	48067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Lentz	4528 Tudor Ln.	Jackson	49201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kim	Ayers	1647 Pearl St.	Nashville	37203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Schogel	402 W Manheim St	Philadelphia	19144	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
D	R	8868 Ventura way	Naples	34109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Hays	2330 Eunice St	Berkeley	94708	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Spano	Hillside Avenue	EDGEWATER	21037	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
KATHARINE	CLARK	20103 108TH AVENUE NE	Bothell	98011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynne	Henrydinneen	21639 Howard Ave, Torrance, Ca	Torrance	90503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Whiffen	16202 Arrowhead Trail	Clermont	34711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret S.	Fedel	5652 Madison St	Dearborn Heights	48125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hans	Keller	1698 Mulholland Road	Cleveland	13042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Burstein	3886 sw Bimini circle s	Palm City	34990	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edward	Schneider	11764 Colman Rd.	Philadelphia	19154	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Wilhelm	6 Hawley Terrace	Yonkers	10701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Flora	Worth	PO Box 3208	Lihue	96766	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
MaryLou	Franck	2117 W 35th St	San Pedro	90732	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DAVID	PARKER	6347 - 137th Ave NE	Redmond	98052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carolene	Smith	61 canal ln	Brinnon	98320	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Denise	Jennings	27 Pine Hill Lane	Huntington Station	11746	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Smith	1 Glen Meadow Rd	Franklin	2038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

G Lynn	Huber	7017 N Wolcott Avenue 2E	Chicago	60626	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ivan	Russell	51 Robinhood Road	PITTSBURGH	15220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rosemary	Hewett	24 Birch Road	SOUTH HAMILTON	1982	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carolene	Smith	61 canal Ln.	Brinnon	98320	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joanne	Giovenco	825 Knottingham Drive #2A	Schaumburg	60193	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pierre	Delong	4202 CALLE REAL	Santa Barbara	93110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gisela	Vidal	2042 Seville street	Pompano Beach	33063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
joyce	S	3030 W	High Point	27265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
bettie	paradis	93 hadley rd.	Merrimac	1860	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ann	Kristal	7221 Glendyne Dr N	Jacksonville	32216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Eden	5802 Belgrade,Ave.Dallas,TX	Dallas	75227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dan	Nelson	618 Crescent Ave	DECORAH	52101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Hipp	609 Rosette Ct	Bellingham	98226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Willihnganz	819 Grove Street	Beaver Dam	53916	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Philip	Bolten	Palmer Ave.	Keansburg	7734	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joe	Pummill	110 41st St. # 708	Oakland	94611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Murray	7509 Beaver Ford Rd.	Tallahassee	32312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margarita	Perez	13859 Graber Ave, Sylmar	Sylmar	91342	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Lay	10400 Hamlin Drive	Chester	23831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jocelyn	Audet	336 Berry Farm Road	Staunton	24401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Smith	105 Harriet.Dr	San Antonio	78216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

dennis	kreiner	2307 arrow st	CARPENTERSVILLE	60110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DON	Milligan	3003 SO. 253 STREET, KENT, WA	Kent	98032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Rodriguez	413 C Cork Harbour Circle, Redwood City	Redwood City	94065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Hubert	Orr	293 Plunkett Dr	Horton	35980	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roy	Mauel	625 N Jackson Street # 5	Elkhorn	53121	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
A.	Kocis	3936 Wordsworth St.	Allentown	18104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ross	Wenzel	2430 s. state rd.	Davison	48423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Brown	104 Cezanne Ln, Folsom CA	Folsom	95630	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mekia	Thomas	PO Box 310761	Atlanta	31131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steven	Jones	723 Tramway Dr	Milpitas	95035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ashlee	Davis	1742 Champa Street, 2A	DENVER	80202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe	Woddail	6330 STERLING SHORES DR	Cumming	30041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elaine	Chow	1251 Marilyn Court, Mountqain View, CA	Mountain View	94040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Ziebarth	400 LaVista Drive	Winter Springs	32708	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maureen	O'Neal	9100 SW 80th Ave	Portland	97223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kirke	McVay	636 Hidden Valley Road	Shaftsbury	5262	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Werdin	4811 skokie circle	Rockford	61108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Howard	Goodrow	221 Stebbins St.	Belchertown	1007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donna	Hillman	505 West Lincoln Street	Mount Morris	61054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Fexis	47 Lakeview Dr.	NOTTINGHAM	3290	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vonda	Ioan	P.O. Box 546	Longmont	80502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Smith	105 Harriet.Dr	San Antonio	78216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lesley	Tyler	27082 Dolores	Capistrano Beach	92624	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Al	Penne	215 oaklawn ct	Pewaukee	53072	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Willis	Banks	10395 Chimney Rock Lane	Mill Creek	17060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. I live in a rural area, and my only choices are DirecTV or DishNetwork. Both have limited programming choices. Let consumers choose 'A LA CARTE' ! the public should not have to subsidize the billion $$ sports industry with huge cable fees!
Matt	Ezero	3056 Main St.	Peru	12972	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Tilley	107 Chautaugua	Arnold	21012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kelly	Frost	4030 Westphal	Trenton	48183	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Loranzie	Loudermilk	953 Elliott Rd. Pisgah, Al	Pisgah	35765	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linelle	Russ	2400 NW 80th St	Seattle	98117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joseph	Jordan	7104 Tulip Street	PHILADELPHIA	19135	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
L	Hanson	7g	Castle Rock	80104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Cupertino	6049 Mammoth Ave	Van Nuys	91401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gerrie	Garris-Thompson	322 E 29th St	Brooklyn	11226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Karasinski	57 Patten Rd	Tewksbury	1876	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ramesh	Laridjani	10717 Wilshire blvd	Los Angeles	90024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joe	Craft	1011 Appalachee Drive SE	Huntsville	35801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clare	Mancini	Mancini	Olympia	98501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Adam	Blumenthal	5346 16th Ave S	Seattle	98108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diane	Thomson	142 S Slope Loop #2	Banner Elk	28604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ardie	Davis	5206 W. 58th Street	Mission	66205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Markham	111 N Highland Ave	Princeton	42445	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

VICKY	`MAKITA	5701 Crestridge Road, Apt. 106	Rancho Palos Verdes	90275	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cecil	Payton	4011 Loch Raven Boulevard	Baltimore	21218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marsha	King	2525 SW Belle Ave	Topeka	66614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tim	Walsh	527 Bridge Street	Westbrook	4092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
brenna	gutell	6692 indianbroom ct	Oak Park	91377	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Loffredo	69 Camino Valle	Santa Fe	87508	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vanessa	Wilbat	5071 Canosa Avenue	San Diego	92117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Larry	Angel	5301 N Pinegrove Drive	Coeur D Alene	83815	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harry	Robbins	223 Shingle Mill Dr., Drums, PA	Drums	18222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

R Bruce	Elliott	2603 Andrea Lane	DALLAS	75228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Leshinski	508 country club drive	Cherry Hill	8003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynn	Miles	77 glenbrook rd	Morristown	7960	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	St. George	2217 Camellia Dr.	Wilmington	28403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynn	Jensen	6550 Hillcrest Drive	Milwaukee	53213	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Heather E.	Drees	2463 S. 42nd St. Apt. #104	GRAND FORKS	58201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

dolores	boland	25336 Timber Ridge	Flat Rock	48134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Virginia	Ciliotta	88 Blue Bird Trail	Fairfield	17320	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bruce	Sadowskas	472 Pennsylvania Avenue	READING	19606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Martha	Goss	4591 lockwood rd	Perry	44081	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pam	Kean	104 Riderwood Dr	Dalton	30721	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Oscar	Hammerberg	150 Ash St	Frankfort	60423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christine	Sappraicone	1861 Plum Court	Henderson	89014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carla	Kraus	1311 Virginia St	Berkeley	94702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Marsh	15450 FM 112, Thrall, TX	Thrall	76578	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brad	Salata	98 Linda Isle	Newport Beach	92660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Geri	Woods	HC4 Box 49527	Alturas	96101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deirdre	Suddeth	465 Aventura Ct	Glen Burnie	21061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Allow innovation and free choice!

Roberta	D'Andrea	71 Shippee Avenue	West Warwick	2893	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christine	Erikson	6139 Woodside Dr.	Rocklin	95677	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marge	Berkeyheiser	511 Greenwood Ave. Apt. 11 - N	Trenton	8609	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joan	Kiernan	839 - 41st Street	Des Moines	50312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Juanita	Dawson-Rhodes	210 Ridgefield Avenue	South Salem	10590	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clarice	Jacobson	16289 W Boulder Ct	HAYWARD	54843	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Moore	17 st. luke dr.	Saint Peters	63376	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ANN	Madison	308 Georgetown Rd	Canonsburg	15317	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nanci	Burtman	667 Galapago St	Denver	80204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donna	Steve	310 Florine Ln	New Castle	16101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gabriel	Vallecillo	1990 lexington ave	New York	10035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Arechavala	562 Shetland Ct	Sewell	8080	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeri	Loucks	321 utah st. s.e.	Albuquerque	87108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynn	Spees	280 28th Avenue Place, NE	Hickory	28601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martin	Regan	89 pond hill rd	Wallingford	6492	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brenda	Hammond	4739 Treybig Loop	FAYETTEVILLE	78940	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fred	Drake	12035 Insha Ct.	RESTON	20191	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bonnie	Rush-kanter	6827Parisian Way	Lake Worth	33467	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Don	Hon	3135 Arthur St. NE	Minneapolis	55418	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maria	Urena	1976 Poppyview Ave	Tulare	93274	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
KATHARINE	Lopez	3151 Mayfield Rd, APT.1124	Cleveland	44118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	hardy	6108 Francine Drive	SACRAMENTO	95824	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
cc	carlo	855 3d st	Santa Monica	90403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Miller	8247 S Old 27	Grayling	49738	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Geddis	1266 Galloway Circle	Pontiac	48340	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	Goodman	1460 E15th ST	Brooklyn	11230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Emily	Rothman	1112 San Pedro NE #270	Albuquerque	87110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christina	Campbell	506 Ellsworth	Villa Park	60181	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Gramer	7001 West Cambridge Ave., Phoenix AZ	Phoenix	85035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kazia	Macey	503 Broadway Street	Macon	63552	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dana	Hatchett	2502	Baltimore	21217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alfred	Calambro	1903 Barribee Lane	HENRICO	23229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Garitty	13088 Vista Knolls Nevada City, CA	NEVADA CITY	95959	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Harold	Claytor	1704 Cedarberry Ct	Winston Salem	27127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cliff	Aronson	98 Geery Avenue	Holbrook	11741	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Felizola	1823 Giles Ave. NW	Olympia	98502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Wyzenbeek	3408 W Laurel Ln	Phoenix	85029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cathy	Vandrovec	3310 18th St. S.	Fargo	58104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Heike	Brown	Tierra Lisboa	El Paso	79938	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lowell	Weber	3135 Rohrer Rd.	Wadsworth	44281	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brandon	Pollard	3240 Sage Canyon Cir	Fort Worth	76177	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wesley	Smart	15713 Blaine Ave.	Bellflower	90706	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vince	Mendieta	6005 Cherry Creek Dr.	Austin	78745	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Yvonne	McNeal	523 SW Titanium Ct	Lake City	32024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Grove	1719 Whitney Way	AUSTIN	78741	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rona	Robins	307 adair street	Decatur	30030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Cottongim	3000 Galloway Ridge - Apt. K305	Pittsboro	27312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Candice	Lowery	209 S 5th Ave	Mount Vernon	10550	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	Swiech	854 Plainwood Dr.	Houston	77079	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lee	Doolan	PO Box 174	Lawndale	90260	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. The current administration of the cable box is a clear violation of the First Amendment to our Constitution regarding free speech issues...
Angela	Sandmann	3813 Loy Lake Rd	Denison	75020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharn	Beck	5445 Lakewood Trails Ct	CLAYTON	46118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Williamson	2109 Ponty Pool Drive	Mount Juliet	37122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Na	Moore	4971 Olympia Cir.	Indianapolis	46228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gregory	Austin	901 Plumstead Road	CHARLOTTE	28216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynda	Rose	511 N. Maple Street	Murfreesboro	37130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Weinstein	2632 77TH STREET	Lubbock	79423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Heather	Potthoff	6511 S 150th St	Omaha	68137	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
eliza	dudl	238 Silver	Boca Raton	33432	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Catherine	Adams	7903 8th Ave S	SEATTLE	98108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Stanley		Champaign	61822	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robyn	Miles	119 30th St.	San Francisco	94110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Langenhahn	804 Old Ingomar Court	Pittsburgh	15237	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marjorie	Phillips	9512 Remington St	Jamaica	11435	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Liggins	1818 Newkirk Ave	Brooklyn	11226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
lisa	soni	6235 pine tree dr.	Lake Zurich	60047	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steve	Gamblin	2112 S. Montclair Ave	Bloomington	47401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carmen	Vito	128 Buck Ridge Dr.	Drums	18222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ingrid	Picazo	2705 Newport Rd.	Ann Arbor	48103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gwen	Marston	Box 155, Beaver Island MI	Beaver Island	49782	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Lee	General Delivery	Portland	97218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maxine	Harrison-Gallmon	132-07 Linden Boulevard	South Ozone Park	11420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peggy	Moran	431 East 73 St., #4RE, NY, NY	New York	10021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Carrodus	106 Breezewood Ct	Beaver Falls	15010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James and Shirley	Chapman	26405 103rd Ave SE	Kent	98030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jindy	Gelow	712 Queen Road	Saint Augustine	32086	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Kraft	2066 Oakley Ave.	Menlo Park	94025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenneth	Day	9 Filbert Ct.	Gaithersburg	20879	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steven	Sather	2905 NW 106th St.	Vancouver	98685	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JamesEric	McGee	8229	BUENA PARK	90621	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Mullen	380 Prospect Ave	Hackensack	7601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	White	1917 Virginia St. P.O. Box 1871	Idaho Springs	80452	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Al	Robles	11618 Gateshead	SAN ANTONIO	78251	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Vogel	468 Carrollton Drive	Frederick	21701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Helen	Sutherland	279 Waynesville Ave	Asheville	28806	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alisa	Dunn	1075 Fox Run Rd	Milford	45150	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Pettit	6119 Celestial Ave Albuquerque NM	Albuquerque	87114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Stanley		Champaign	61822	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. One Big Consumer Ripoff!
Mark	Loeb	1631 Oak Springs Pl	Lake Mary	32746	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jackie	Garwin	491 Valley St, unit 1	Orange	7050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Castagna	272 south street	Vernon Rockville	6066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tedi	Wright	2609 Craigs Store Rd	Afton	22920	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Morrow	125 herdmont drive	Fredericksburg	22406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lowell	Trocinski	3012 Lakota Place	La Crosse	54601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Bowman	90662 Lewis Rd	Warrenton	97146	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barb	Bates	26335 willow ave	MUNDELEIN	60060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gerald	Bascle	6859 Linda St	Houma	70364	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LM	LeBlanc	1133 Broadway	New York	10010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Corinne	Wunderli	8010 Hunters Meadow Circle	SANDY	84093	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Jordan	1809 Adams Street SE	Olympia	98501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrea	May	185 Downs ST	Kingston	12401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
annette	bailey	po box 274493		94201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Connors	2114 N 40th ave	Hollywood	33021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sonya	Almendral	512 Villa Ave.,Staten Island	Staten Island	10302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrea	May	185 Downs ST	Kingston	12401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Helen	Luce	2727 N. Wickham Rd.	Melbourne	32935	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
marchello	michaud	7835 Lotus ave	Morton Grove	60053	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
bruce	clark	38499 richardson gap rd. scio, or.	Scio	97374	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brett	Randolph	517 Thorsheim St	Kodiak	99615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Delaney	618 west norwegian street	Pottsville	17901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Georgianne	Brier	5017 W. 139th Place	Midlothian	60445	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sam	Bullock	4723 battle creek rd	Athens	18810	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rachel	Hart	4311 San Pedro Dr. NE Apt B110	Albuquerque	87109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tonya	Rose	2105 East 18th St	Muncie	47302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Arthur	St. Lawrence	25318 Tether Lane	Punta Gorda	33983	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Blanchette	704 Abbey Lane	Valley Cottage	10989	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Barone	1320 9th Street	Santa Monica	90401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Knight	906 Pioneer Drive	Silverton	97381	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marge	Heggison	4047 U.S. Route 5 N	Bradford	5033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lorrene	Dixson	879 Dan tibbs road	Huntsville	35806	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

cyrus	billey	1722A kent st	Roseville	95661	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	LeBedz	1589 Daybreak ridge	Kannapolis	28081	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carl	Levan	1608 Hargrove Drive	MC LEANSVILLE	27301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Veronica	McClure	1367 Val Drive	Marysville	95901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Erin	Marshall	5736 NE 29th Ave	Portland	97211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randolph	Hughes	PO box 36301	San Jose	95158	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karola	Bushman-Austin	5 Beattie Street	Greenville	29611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sherry	Opalka	1309 Howard Street	Kalamazoo	49008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John & Sheila	Giesler	17804 39 Pl W	Lynnwood	98037	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Alexander	750 W. Cleveland St., Apt. K	Fayetteville	72701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sayra	Boerner	24031 Hartland St	West Hills	91307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Zoltan	Sztankay	4810 Cloister Drive	Rockville	20852	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

MarianKitty	Dennis	20 Hanover Ct.	Santa Cruz	95062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Golden	4631 Rockwood Ct.	LINCOLN	68516	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeri	Gutner	2379 Rosemont Terrace	Furlong	18925	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Woolard	904F N MacMillan	Wilmington	28403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jesse	Easterbrooks	500 Jones Ave	Oakland	94603	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendy	Pollard	725 11th St NW	Grand Rapids	49504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ben	Emerzian	6080 N. Marks	Fresno	93711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Amy	McCormick	15-23 Kimberly dr	Merrimack	3054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Cobb	3429 Medina Ave.	Fort Worth	76133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Beatrice	Oliver	8302 CR 635	Bushnell	33513	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	Jerauld	1 Ely Park Boulevard Apt. 20-4	Binghamton	13905	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patti	Davies	8518 Canterbury Sq W	Indianapolis	46260	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gary and judy	ewald	63 second drive	Weedsport	13166	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rose	Grelis	409 Granite Terrace	Springfield	19064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marianne	Gasior	Pittsburgh	Pittsburgh	15221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lara	Sallee	1428 Lafayette St	Alameda	94501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gina	McCulloh	45 Swan Street	Sheridan	82801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sara	Lusch	9547 Avila	Saint Louis	63123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Levine	166 President	Brooklyn	11231	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marc Anthony	Seda	2801 Sampson Ave	Bronx	10465	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ron	Swingen	1788 NE 61st Place	Hillsboro	97124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melissa	Hubbard	8333 Miller Rd	Swartz Creek	48473	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kelly	celony	651 east 14th street	New York	10009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kyle	Kleckner	2410 Royal Ave.	BERKLEY	48072	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bill	Hart	La Crosse, WI	La Crosse	54603	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
MAX L	Scott Jr	6400 Seminole Dr	Ocala	34472	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	DeCurtis	29962 Halifax	Wickliffe	44092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. I personally am sick & tired of paying an upfront deposit fee then having to pay a monthly rental fee on top. When you ask for your deposit back, gee, guess what?? NON REFUNDABLE!! So WHY are you allowing to continue!? STOP THE MADNESS!!!!!

robert	waggoner	642 hall road	COLVILLE	99114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kelly	celony	651 east 14th street	New York	10009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Platt	1430 W. Lambert Rd. Unit # 403	La Habra	90631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Julie	Griffith	1020 Kehoe Dr	SAINT CHARLES	60174	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Stange	1308 W. 59th. St.	LA GRANGE	60525	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kristina	Lambert	PO Box 784 Dunlap TN	Dunlap	37327	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Abigail	Chastain	31431 Swede heaven rd	Arlington	98223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	M.	1035, Haight St.	San Francisco	94117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Hooper	4730 LAWNTARA ST	Harrisburg	17111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Enzinna	1516 Daphne Street, Broomfield, CO	Broomfield	80020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Jackson	14131 Bishop Bend Lane	HOUSTON	77047	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Kramer	28242 Yanez	Mission Viejo	92692	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kim	Moresi	203 GENUNG ST APT 602	Middletown	10940	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ellen	Grynspan	6658 JOG PALM DR	Boynton Beach	33437	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christie	Hatchion	PO BOX 526	GERMANTOWN	20875	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margaret	Reed	4436 Meandering Way 202 AG	Tallahassee	32308	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jay	Winter Nightwolf	9000 Nancy Lane	Fort Washington	20744	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	Boguske	11808 93 Ln NE	Kirkland	98034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sari	Hotchkiss	4366 Logrono Dr	San Diego	92115	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
brooke	martin	rt214	Lanesville	12450	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roshan	Tourani	233 Wayne St	Highland Park	8904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diane	Janda	5809 Avenue F	Austin	78752	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Ford	1922 Clairmont Terrace	Atlanta	30345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marion	Barnes	616 Valley St	MAPLEWOOD	7040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Debra	Pommer-Siegel	31560 Victoria pt rd	MALIBU	90265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Dettloff	1102 Seventh	Houghton	49931	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kimberly	Tegarden	85 Mill St	Newport	2840	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Rowan	8007 Left Fork Road	Loveland	80538	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Grant	68-1753 Puwalu St	Waikoloa	96738	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Gochfeld	133 Meadowbrook Drive	Princeton	8540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Geoffrey	Doman	13900 Cohasset Street, Van Nuys, CA	Van Nuys	91405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Noles	106 Bonner Court	Cary	27511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jenica	Faye	126 Suncrest Rd	TALENT	97540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Thompson	395 Sims Ave	SAINT PAUL	55130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher S	Lorant aka Slammer	1806 Windsor Dr,	Framingham	1701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
R G	Schneider	P O Box 172 Cranford, NJ	Cranford	7016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

cyndi	nolan	10027 sw 50th ave	Portland	97219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ryna	Rodman	Ledgewood wy	Peabody	1960	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nora	Ivers	2121	Laramie	82070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jane	Loehe	5584 Azalea Ct Wisconsin	Greendale	53129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roger	Jones	83 deerfield rd.	Boiceville	12412	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alison	Buist	1354 San Anselmo Ave	San Anselmo	94960	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tom	Gazik	Forest Ave	Cleveland	44129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Lammers	16551 Victory Blvd.	Van Nuys	91406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michele	Confer	4841 route 322	Brookville	15825	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Lyons	1952 Rancho Verde Circle W	Danville	94526	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Lynn	722 Ridgeside Drive	Golden	80401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Szanto	90 elm st	Tilton	3276	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charlotte	Hjellum	150 Mariner Green Ct.	Corte Madera	94925	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Baker	64 Clubhouse Drive	Carmel	10512	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Krompier	2492 N Main St	Walnut Creek	94596	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

michael	harding	8600 brodie ln	Austin	78745	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terry	Cline	1212 Nash St	Garland	75040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe	Contreras	1470 Alice st #301	OAKLAND	94612	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Petkovic	1936 E. Libra Drive	TEMPE	85283	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nye	Ffarrabas	PO Box 1135	Brattleboro	5302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alice	Baker	746 Bobtail Ct	Peru	46970	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gwendolyn	Williams	1439 Starling Ct	Hampton	30228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	Lieberman	3034 Yorkshire Re	Cleveland	44118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frances	Dale	500 NW 34 street	Fort Lauderdale	33309	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kristeen	Davis	2481 Coral Ave NE	SALEM	97305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carroll	Gunnigle	34 Union St, #9	Montclair	7042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ludwig	Krchma	P. O. Box 338	Miltonvale	67466	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alice	Pascale	5750 Collins Avenue, #8F, Miami Beach, FL	Miami Beach	33140	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	M	12 Laurie Lane	Zionsville	46077	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gina	Vilbrun	890 Rogers Ave.	Brooklyn	11226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Barnhart	75 Jessica Place	Toms Brook	22660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Theophilus	420 Nike Drive	Pittsburgh	15235	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Warren	P.O.Box 424	Byron	94514	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Debra	Francisco	16009 Eccles st	North Hills	91343	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sierra	Ansley	6850 NW Kaiser Rd	Portland	97229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Keisha	Evans	1419 Camellia Drive	PALO ALTO	94303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Simone	Sheffield	PO Box 256	Palm Springs	92263	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christine	Waters	15904 Meadow Lane	OVERLAND PARK	66224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carolyn	Treadway	1951 Circle Lane SE	Lacey	98503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shari	Stowell	1740 Marne Ave	Toledo	43613	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
barbara	sideman	26 crescent drive	Glencoe	60022	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
charles	Berry	317 N Chestnut St.	Derry	15627	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jack	Couch	4091 Weymouth Lane	SACRAMENTO	95823	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Garnica	611 Dellingham Drive Apt C	Indianapolis	46260	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Mercier	10306 W Gulf Hills Dr	Sun City	85351	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sergio	Baron-Pulecio	5151 E Guadalupe Rd. Unit 1011	Phoenix	85044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kelly	Martin	1750 Autumn Ave	Schaumburg	60193	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laurie	Evans	6027 Hansen St SE	Olympia	98513	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Usha	Honeyman	2645 SE Crystal Lk Dr	Corvallis	97333	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marc	Conrad	716 W Waveland	Chicago	60613	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynne	Bryan	128 Lokchapee Landing	Macon	31210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Suzanne	Kleimola	686 Freeway Rd. S.	Saint Paul	55118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
andrew	mueller	4002 tipton ln	Alexandria	22310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Philip	Floyd	14804 Tulip Drive	Tampa	33613	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kristine	Johnson	37771 Hwy. 24N	Buena Vista	81211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ralph	Lewis	Columbia Cross Roads	Columbia Cross Roads	16914	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janice	Hoeschler	31018 Old Mill Rd.	La Crescent	55947	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Timothy	Poland	210 Fifth Street	Radford	24141	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	McCradic	1402 Boardwalk Street	Arlington	76011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
thomas	Lane	1611 9th street	ANACORTES	98221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diane	Ivey	14075 Clear Water Lane	Fort Myers	33907	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Oehler	2605 Vineyard Blvd	ASHEVILLE	28805	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Castellano	1384 S 1500 E	Salt Lake City	84105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jean	Hall	2117 Claremont Ave NW	MASSILLON	44647	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Bergstresser	138 Princeton Arms So	Cranbury	8512	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Waldbart	7447 Conrad St	Wesley Chapel	33544	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Judy	Goldman	360 E Randolph St #3905	CHICAGO	60601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julia	Phillips	1109 e Wescott dr	Phoenix	85024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
yvette	reid	9725 w caron drive, peoria, az 85345	Peoria	85345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandra	Newhouse	1712 old forge road0	Charlottesville	22901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Sprouse	11501 braesview apt 1609	San Antonio	78213	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
J	Choute	5502 Valley Lark Ct	Kingwood	77345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ann	McBride	2807 Triway Ln	Houston	77043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeannette	Austin	7852 Maui Place	Diamondhead	39525	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Silverstone	26 Mahan Road	Old Bethpage	11804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	Ross	3439 Ainslie Street	Philadelphia	19129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ike	Wilder	723 anzac cir	Compton	90220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kelly	Braun	PO Box 109	Shelby	46377	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ryan	Citko	418 Langley St	San Diego	92102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
isidra	Veve	675 Brookstone Dr	Irving	75039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darylle	Brent	2003 Granada Drive	Pompano Beach	33066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

n	n	nw 8th	delray beach	33444	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrea	Carrino	4562 RFD	Lake Zurich	60047	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jake	McKinney	224 Riggs Dr	Clemson	29631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rico	DeHoyos	5514 BOWIE ST	Corpus Christi	78415	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Douglas	Perry	15609 Hawley Ct	El Cajon	92021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeanne	Schlatter	1049 Cambridge Rd	Coshocton	43812	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melody	Bell Bey	P.O.Box 398252	Dallas	75339	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darlene	Byrd	13800 Hunt Road	ALLENTON	48002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judy	ballou	3 tsienneto rd	Derry	3038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cheryl	Laura	6212 South Eberhart Ave	Chicago	60637	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lavonna	Lemons	2311 NE 35th	Topeka	66617	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darylle	Brent	2003 Granada Drive	Pompano Beach	33066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lance	Marietta	8445 SW Maverick Place	Beaverton	97008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Romana R.	Farrington Ph.D.	340 East 64th St.	New York	10065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judith	Beaty	4126 Schumacher rd	High Ridge	63049	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Oliver	Genn	3525 S. Derry		D	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Collin	Pointon		Snohomish	98290	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paulinr	Doucet	1616 pasadena glen rd, pasadena	Pasadena	91107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Hulme	15606 Park Ln	PLYMOUTH	48170	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
M	Bergs	206 N University Dr.	WAUKESHA	53188	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dave	Smith	3832 s Cupertino Dr	Gilbert	85297	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

D	Fisk	67 Bakers Pond Rd	South Dennis	2660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Nightingale	42w240 Oak Bluff Drive	Elgin	60124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maude	Jackson	p.o.box 310663	Atlanta	31131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steve	Sherman	1212 main	greenbelt	20771	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maria	Carbajal	15432 Hartsville St.	La Puente	91744	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenn	Thompson	28636 Brooks Road	GOLD BEACH	97444	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary ann	Landers	2437 st rt 209	Kingston	12401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cassondra	Roker	PO Box 777203	Henderson	89077	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bernd	Upnmoor	Quellenweg 23b	Washington	20535	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rodney	English	29898 Boileau	Novi	48377	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doretha	Washington	2730 PARK AVENUE	Saint Louis	63104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lara	Nunes	558 East Nine Mile Rd #9	Pensacola	32514	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steve	Baringer	5145 E Valencia Dr	ORANGE	92869	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenn	Thompson	28636 Brooks Road	GOLD BEACH	97444	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marcy	Cain	11409 Perch St	Hudson	34669	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Randy	Raspotnik	4266 Fox Hollow Circle	Casselberry	32707	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Golden	501 S. Spring St	Los Angeles	90013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Doyle	303 W. 11 St	New York	10014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Irene	Mah y Busch	6013 tipton way	Los Angeles	90042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ingeborg	glier	2228 Night Parrot Ave	North Las Vegas	89084	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Pinkerton	2729 29th ave s upper	Minneapolis	55406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cindy	Ross	210 North Oak Park Avenue	Oak Park	60302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Krista	Munster	313 7th Avenue NE	Minneapolis	55413	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Duane	Naught	520 N Edison St	Kennewick	99336	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nancy	Hoecker	Hoecker	Springfield	97478	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DEBBIE	SPECIAL	8 Bookville court	Holbrook	11741	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randal	Jeter	4235 S Dawson St	SEATTLE	98118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Imbrigiotta	2337 Pennington Road		8433	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ned	Durkovic	PO Box 541152	Flushing	11354	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Virgie	Smith	3625 Julcrest Rd	Yucca Valley	92284	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tony	mansfield	4309 north ball ave muncie indiana	Muncie	47304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ron	piretti	39 newbury street, revere,ma	Revere	2151	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anton	Kootte	140 SW Bountiful Ave.	Fort White	32038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Cunningham	9526 Marimont Lane	Dallas	75228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Smith	1122 7 Del Diablo St.	San Diego	92129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dr Jack & Marilyn	Belchinsky	1703 Whitehall Dr 1C	LONGMONT	80504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Orloff	630 NW River Rd	MARTINDALE	78655	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Tinker	PSC 80 Box 10401, APO, AP	APO	96367	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Betty	Piniotes	5705 Riverview Drive	Lisle	60532	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary Lou	Geiger	17 Buxton Lane	Peabody	1960	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martha C.	Akers	6 Baldwin Street	Pennington	8534	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.6
Allen	Leinwand	2086 Casa Mia Dr.	San Jose	95124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Schrader	160 Bear Den Cove	GALENA	65656	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Row	28 Victoria Square	FREDERICK	21702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elayne	Burlingham	6 taft woods row	South Hamilton	1982	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Antje	f	58 Old North Rd	Washington	6793	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gabrielle	Harradine	140 Valle Lindo St.	MALIBU	90265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Ehret	7258 Camino Las Ramblas	Camarillo	93012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sheila	Reed	8510 GREENWAY BLVD UNIT 303	Middleton	53562	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Maryott	7402 E CalleAgerrida	Tucson	85750	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Silvie	Kenova	Breckenridge, co, 80424	Breckenridge	80424	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gerry	Zeigler	6 east Colton	Williamstown	8094	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ROBERT	TUCKER	7793 COLLINS RIDGE BLVD E	Jacksonville	32244	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deloris	Furda	2095. Cumberland Rd	Breezewood	15533	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gille	Petersen	29 Pahaa Pl	Makawao	96768	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patty	Bonney	8625 SW Oleson Road	PORTLAND	97223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Monti	34970 Northview Circle	NORTH RIDGEVILLE	44039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Meaghan	Stuppy	3550 timbergen 104 dallas tx 75287	Dallas	75287	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Gardner	336 E Church St	Frederick	21701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bernie	Dahlen	504 Aspen Place	Evergreen	80439	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Judd	21 E 3rd St	EUREKA	63025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sabrina	Libertty	3601 SW Raymond St. Seattle, Wash.	SEATTLE	98126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Georgia	Priester	2828 Wales Rd.	Columbia	29223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jesse	Sims	Strafford, MO	Strafford	65757	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ian	Gerbode	4958 Yucatan Way	San Jose	95118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kakuyon	Solwazi	1284 S. Chambers Road	Aurora	80017	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bill	Jones	4800 W. Placita del Quetzal	TUCSON	85745	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lolita	Gallamore	12689 SE Boss Lane	Portland	97222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jay	Rozner	74 Ventnor D	Deerfield Beach	33442	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alan	Scop	13697 Badger Ave.	Sylmar	91342	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dee	Winters	22136 Westheimer Pkwy #504	Katy	77450	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Keith	Shaffer	2641 Del Ray Drive	MUSKEGON	49441	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Pacheco	48 Circuit Ave	Newton Highlands	2461	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brent	Rocks	1518 SW Upper Hall st	PORTLAND	97201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Greg	Strain	6825 hanna ave canoga park	Canoga Park	91303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leslie	Svoboda	5615 Renwood Dr	Cleveland	44129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
yukiko	sakura	1324 bates rd	Oakland	94610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Orozco	345 Arbor Avenue	West Chicago	60185	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Jolly	326 Brady Way	Panama City	32408	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alan	Johnson,PhD	1561 Ahihi St	Honolulu	96819	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Khalaf	5031 Palmera Drive	Oceanside	92056	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

mary	looper	17 east yates road north	Memphis	38120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Guadalupe	McDougald	Kenton Avenue	Chicago	60646	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eileen	Lohr	200 Sylvan Dr	New Kensington	15068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leona	Whichard	84402 Winslow	Chapel Hill	27517	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
marie	lucero	5900 plum creek dr.#417	Amarillo	79124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	Ahearn	490 Rantoul	Beverly	1915	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Haramoto	19816 Greenwood Place North	Seattle	98133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Amanda	Overstreet	808 Ofarrell Ave. SE	Olympia	98501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia	Wick	8838 Tidesebb Ct.	Columbia	21045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Catherine	Vidal	3600 Harbor Blvd	Oxnard	93035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Huddleston e	5222 18th Ave SW	Seattle	98106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Pollock	1200 Prescott drive	East Lansing	48823	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Walker	Uitert	11090 Susan Dr.	Sandy	84092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Betty	Cooke	3208 east Haskell st tulsa ok	Tulsa	74110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Orville	Warren	314 S. Oak St.	Lynn	47355	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jean-Michel	Brevelle	802 Williamsburg Court	Edgewood	21040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Albert	Loeb	2606 SUNSET AVE	BAKERSFIELD	93304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joihn	Morse	4330 Royal Glen dr	Comstock Park	49321	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patrick	Yu	1121 Clarke Ln	Alameda	94502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	Miller	Sugarloaf	Scotts Valley	95066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Warren	Pope	12 Mountain SIte Ln Ext	Asheville	28803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pablo	Narvaez	820 Manhattan ave. #2L Brooklyn, N.Y.	Brooklyn	11222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Derwin	Johnson	3456 Salem Cove Trail SE	Conyers	30013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Conrad	Ray	1716 Ashley Run Ct	Norcross	30092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeanette	Helms	2057 Best lane	Eugene	97401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alan	Linn	2115 DERBY ST	Hickory	28602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Strong	4816 Xerxes Avenue South	Minneapolis	55410	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tierra	Rucker	5844 Meadow View Lane	Flowery Branch	30542	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rebekah	Huetter	9524 Sandstone Rim Drive NW	Albuquerque	87114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Antonio	Goracio	2404	McHenry	60050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Velotas	Breeze Hill Road	Vista	92081	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ellen	Greist	204 Haverford St	Hamden	6517	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ed	Valeska	4712 basil lane	Cincinnati	45238	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Veronica	Jacobi	408 Hickory Circle	SANTA ROSA	95407	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	McGee	2018 Overlook Ct	Canonsburg	15317	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dale	Ground	2222 Ponce de Lon Cir #A	Vero Beach	32960	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Syzdek	29 Mason Avenue	Amsterdam	12010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Rogers	141-25 Northern Boulevard, Flushing, NY 11354	Flushing	11354	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Vaughn	6741Woodley Rd	Dundalk	21222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rebecca	Long	12450 SW Fischer Rd #279	Portland	97224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Angela	Schweig	7411 N. Nevada St.	Spokane	99208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	Ward	140 Bleecker st	Gloversville	12078	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Aaron	Smith	2458 fair oaks dr.	Jonesboro	30236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nadine	LaVonne	2031 NW 59th St #303	Seattle	98107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Irene	Reep	1722 NW 97th St	Seattle	98117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lisa	Spragia	115 N. Clifton	Park Ridge	60068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Butler	54 old wolcott rd.	Bristol	6010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Borghi	5379 Balsam St. #202 A	ARVADA	80002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeffrey	Solow	7914 Park Ave	Elkins Park	19027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joshua	Strom	10 Alpine Lane	CHAPPAQUA	10514	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Antonio	1031 HENRY DR	Alabaster	35007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elizabeth	Kasabian	12591 Audrey ln	Hammond	70401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenn	Fredenburg	9467 State Route 9	Chazy	12921	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susie	Rissler	544 Pittsburgh St Apt. 3	Springdale	15144	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peggy	Gaylord	432 Chenango St	Binghamton	13901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lolita	Brown	2927 - 16th Avenue South	Saint Petersburg	33712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joseph	Miera	8312 Visalia Way NE	Albuquerque	87122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joe	Parker	885 Tamlei Ave, Thousand Oaks, CA	Thousand Oaks	91362	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Russell	Jones	P. O. Box 1711	Pahoa	96778	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	McCrate	4960 salem Ave #1202	Dayton	45416	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Larry	Sydow	464 West 7th St.	ERIE	16502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Bodden	108 Grand Canyon Drive	MADISON	53705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeff	Roberts	531 Jasmine Way	Hollister	95023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lana	Parker	PO BOX 22784	San Diego	92192	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maureen	McKiernan	9 Claire Avenue	New Rochelle	10804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Hubbard	512 Galt Avenue	Rock Falls	61071	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cynthia	Lonas	4901 Topping Lane	Glen Allen	23060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alin	Boughousi	1155 Thompson Ave#7	Glendale	91201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Kincannon	8125 Oahu Drive	Fair Oaks	95628	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tommie	Williams	38715 33rd St E	Palmdale	93550	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gerald	Townsend	3503 River Way	San Antonio	78230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Beilin	PO Box 536	DEPOE BAY	97341	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Bobadilla	3125 Ash St. Antioch, Ca	Antioch	94509	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shane	Worth	6132 1st PL NE	Washington	20011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Grimm	1665 E Orange Grove Blvd	Pasadena	91104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Daniel	Demetzky	35363 Chaucer Ct.	North Ridgeville	44039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marcia	Wherry	4209 Deming Drive	Springfield	62703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Schultz	5054 west George	Chicago	60641	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joann	Reisenbigler	3571 Ruffin Rd 247	San Diego	92123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Ragsdale Sr.	115 Pascal Dr.	Mount Juliet	37122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Svoboda	20 Guth St	Dundee	60118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kim	coffin	30 Cumberland st	Brunswick	4011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
alan	blackman	4119 24th street	San Francisco	94114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Emerson	Box 237	HELENA	59624	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Ebersold	1054 N VISTA STREET #2	Los Angeles	90046	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elena	Rumiantseva	310 N 46th St.	Seattle	98103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ray	Bieak	3119 Terrave Cir	Whitehall	18052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jo	Starr	PO Box 23766	Flagstaff	86002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dave	Howe	8152 Washington St	DENVER	80229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fernando	Perez	3218 Sylvania Street	Portage	46368	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gregg	Gruwell	9135 Keys	Gleneden Beach	97388	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
luis	crespo	5863 Larchwood Ave.	Philadelphia	19143	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Trenton	Holliday	5921 Louis XIV St.	New Orleans	70124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cynthia-May	Gong	1 Carrie Lee Way	San Jose	95118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Felton	Davis	2727 Pittsburg Antioch Highway	Oakland	94609	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beverly	Morrison	100 East Ct.	Petaluma	94952	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandra	Rodgers	43000 NE Columbia Tie Rd., Amboy, WA	Amboy	98601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Espen	424 W Cherry Ln	Meridian	83642	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gomi	Bin	9474 willowbrook rd	Westminster	92683	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lana	Parker	PO BOX 22784	San Diego	92192	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Neva	Duncan Tabb	3055 Oak Creek Drive	Clearwater	33761	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Gilbert	19080 Indian Springs Circle	Lake Oswego	97035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Louise	Reardon	1843 Fritz Lane	Lancaster	17602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
daniel	jensen	13956 Sunset Lake Dr.	BURNSVILLE	55337	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jose	Cordova	4408 Fe Dr	Edinburg	78542	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Demetria	Gordon	126 Rogers Avenue	Wilmington	28403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
W	Herrera	82 Park Ave.	WALNUT CREEK	94595	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
C	P	Partridge	Trenton	8610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steve	Noah	606 Sater Ln	Edmonds	98020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joy	Wall	PO Box391182	Keauhou	96739	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Etsuyo	Choi	1714 Michaux Rd	Chapel Hill	27514	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jill	Lavallee	78 Harden Drive	Lagrangeville	12540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cathy	Deptula	433 Kensington Lake Circle	Brandon	33511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bruce	Paulsen	2419-220th st.	Cushing	54006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Erik	Hvoslef	PO Box 688	Salida	81201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Stith	6307 Francis Marion Dr	Houston	77091	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Barnes	4546 N Paulina St	Chicago	60640	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shawana	Sienko	2283 hwy 16 west	Clinton	72031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenneth	Stinnett	119 Belcher Rd	RANDLE	98377	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brigid	Vele	134 Lyman Rd	Patchogue	11772	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

JAMES	HAEHN	1151 Lawton Drive, Chico, CA	Chico	95973	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Derek	Ruell	3522 n hughes ave	Fresno	93705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jon	Hoag	2252 poplar Ave	Palo Alto	94303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Morrie	Cramer	443 greene av.	Brooklyn	11216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Matthews	1181 Jensen Drive	PITTSBURG	94565	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Holden	17113 E Mission Ave	Greenacres	99016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Judith	Carlson	12521 74th Ave N	Maple Grove	55369	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alma	Pantoja	2918 E Indian School Rd, Phoenix, AZ	Phoenix	85016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kate	Ague	491 Sherwood Way	Menlo Park	94025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Francis	Ganat	133 Franklin Street	Arlington	2474	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Howard	Block	1640 w. Partridge Ln.-unit7	Arlington Heights	60004	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Rees	400 S. Simms St.	Denver	80228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alta	Smith	709-920 Pine Street	Janesville	96114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Ivy	6731 Bass Highway	Saint Cloud	34771	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Ricewasser	142 N HELIOTROPE AVE	Monrovia	91016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathy	Seeba	4400 WHITLAND CT	Rocklin	95677	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Chinn	134 Douglas Fir Circle	Cloverdale	95425	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Pacia	120 Glen Iris Dr	Rochester	14623	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margie	Mulligan	1350 San Marcos Dr	Hemet	92543	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Virginia	Lee	3109 Lloyds Ave	Chalmette	70043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Rose	1 East Main St	Cambridge	12816	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Neubecker	7112 19 Mile Road	Barryton	49305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Bachmann	214 W. 139 St.	New York	10030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Francine	Atkins	708 Nickoles Lane	NORFOLK	23513	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jerry	Hansen	54770 Pumpkin Dr.	Ferryville	54628	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Francine	Atkins	708 Nickoles Lane	NORFOLK	23513	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Yasunao	Tone	268 E Broadway	New York	10002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margo	Gustafson	811 Federal Ct.	Virginia Beach	23462	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Larry	Leonard	14108 pelican st	Panama City Beach	32413	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
joan	plucker	123 E. Minnesota	Rapid City	57701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joyce	Hansen	54770 Pumpkin Dr.	Ferryville	54628	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Voice	2589 Kerria Dr	Howell	48855	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Szydlo	10 Henry Pl	Hicksville	11801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Saul	Thomas	5621 S. University Ave	CHICAGO	60637	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kelley	Streadbeck	PO Box 25132	Honolulu	96825	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	Thomas	Box 531	Glenns Ferry	83623	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Homero	Morales	1237 Shennandoah	New Braunfels	78130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terry Ann	Robinson	401 Johnson St	Mullins	29574	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vaughn	Roney	515 New York	El Paso	79902	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Angela	Ferraro	2423 Kingman drive wilm de	Wilmington	19810	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
matt	varni	2709 matera lane	San Diego	92108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Girard	Girardval@gmail.com	Ardsley	10502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Higgins	17 oakwood terrace	Brunswick	4011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. stop allowing us to be ripped off!
Joanne	Mack	347 Chippewa St	ESSINGTON	19029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alicia	Franklin	5111 Telegraph Ave. #198	Oakland	94609	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cynthia	Betts	6207 - 39th Ave.	KENOSHA	53142	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Liz	Schneider	754 s Boston ave	Hastings	68901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Annette	Pieniazek	2212 Dunlavy Apt 11	Houston	77006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Kennedy	5911 NW Pinewood	CORVALLIS	97330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melissa	Tomaszewski	159 Waterford Lane	Reading	19606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gaissert	Steve	225 Eaton Ave	TRENTON	8619	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jennifer	Mcmahon	2945 Pacific Ave	San Francisco	94115	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
gregory.a..	clewell	70 puffin glade	Bayville	8721	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sue	Canalr	511 Camelot Drive	Atlanta	30349	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dora	Villarreal	1570B Greg powers dr	El Paso	79936	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Diehl	RD7	Stroudsburg	18360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Neville	Chandler	12780 NW 83rd Court	Pompano Beach	33076	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kerry	Kreutzer	6075 S. Crosswinds Dr. Unit 9	Cudahy	53110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Lubker	10609 Hudson Circle	Austin	78726	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maureen	Pearce	7 Fontein Street, Grabouw.SA.		71600	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Howard	Perlman	38 Kensington Drive	Hopewell Junction	12533	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ron	Goldman	1908 Alford Ave	LOS ALTOS	94024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Campos	1170 bacchus drive	San Jose	95122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Marshall	3798 Grosvenor Rd.	Cleveland	44118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gabriel	Aguilar	234 1/4 41st place	Los Angeles	90037	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
j	dean	4017 North B st	Tampa	33609	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

m	stockwell	bldr	Boulder	80301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carlton	Mcquay	po box 39422	Chicago	60639	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Lopez	1410 Oak Ridge Drive	Memphis	38111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Curry	103 NW Lancer Lane	Pullman	99163	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marianne	Krieg	Ithaca, NY	Ithaca	14850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jack	Follett	320 Hillhouse Ave	MEDFORD	97504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Angela	Elder	627 Dogwood St	Lake Jackson	77566	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Victor	Monsura	10732 parliament avenue	Garden Grove	92840	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karl	Moore	1300 Hazelwood Avenue	AKRON	44305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nita	Ruiz	400 E. 1st. St. #41	Corvallis	59828	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lopamudra	Mohanty	1542,River Birch Ct	Saint Peters	63376	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ashlee	Johnson	Jonesboro ave	Simi Valley	93063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mildred	Kent	61 Prior Dr.	Rutland	5701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Stop ripping us off with the box ripoff. We are already being ripped off with the garbage we are fed if we can't afford to hand over $100 or $200 a month . Half of what we get on the few channels we get with "basic cable" are selling something we can't afford either and most of the rest are duplicate or triplicate programs that are no good anyway. Even the news programs are really poor quality and good reporters are leaving because they are not able to stomach the drivel they are forced to read to the people who have fallen asleep. We actually lea
Dosier	Hammond	87 Leigh Ave.	Princeton	8542	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leanne	Mar	764 Girard Street	San Francisco	94134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Levine	37 King St	New York	10014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Otto	Lewis	3480 Newberry ln	Douglasville	30135	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gary	Bond	584 Brooksboro Terrace	Nashville	37217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Florie	Rothenberg	3125 SW Raymond St.	Seattle	98126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JEAN	LLOYD	6945 LINCOLN OAKS DR.	Fair Oaks	95628	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Howard	Perlman	271 16th street	Beach Haven	8008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Parsons	370 West Pine St.	Platteville	53818	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sam	Majors	1604 N. Terrell St.	Midland	79701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	McGinley	1504 South 12th Street	Philadelphia	19147	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melody	White	4405 Swingle	Houston	77048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martha	Lankton	1275A Bear Mtn Dr	Boulder	80305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lori	Armstrong	125 E Sussex Ave	Missoula	59801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
CAROL	DOUGLAS	45895 CASS AVENUE	Utica	48317	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lawrence	Walters		6 Severna Park	21146	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Masaru	Oka	301 s yellowstone dr apt 115	Madison	53705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Teresa	Easley	230 E 130th St.	Los Angeles	90061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kristina	Brown	1211 Del Sol Way	Petaluma	94954	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dorothy	Sanchez	948 G Street	SALIDA	81201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Coghlan	247 Senator St	Brooklyn	11220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DANIEL	GARCIA`	220 FLOYD AVE APT D	Modesto	95350	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Greene	1323 leafwood drive #10	Novato	94947	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Wills	320 Fenwick Drive	Fairfield	45014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alice	Bailey	626 Sw. Sandbar Terr	Port Saint Lucie	34953	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Debbie	Mooneyham	195 Woodlee St	Spencer	38585	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Adam	Saavedra	111 Any Street	Rancho Cucamonga	91737	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Perron	3619 N Potsdam Ave	Sioux Falls	57104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Cox	12718 Spirit Bound Way	Charlotte	28273	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathy	Moseley	3576 W Lyndale	Chicago	60647	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathy	Moseley	3576 W Lyndale	Chicago	60647	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brien	Tenaglia	2800 Lyle St.	BELLINGHAM	98225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bruce	Nicholson	4101 S. Tigre del Mar Dr.	Gold Canyon	85118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sarahjeanne	Goldstein	8 Long Meadow Place	Centereach	11720	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Samantha	Jones	320 Cynwyd Rd	Bala Cynwyd	19004	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clifton	Ross	2116 10th Street	Berkeley	94710	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	Wirz	5333 Valparaiso Cir	Sacramento	95841	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Thiessen	2701 E Roycroft Ct	Spokane	99223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Everett	Hutchinson	1820 Heather Hill	Placerville	95667	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Montague	266 No. Plain Rd.,	Housatonic	1236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cynthia	Spurling	5124 Gibbons Dr. # 18	Carmichael	95608	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	May	426 Green Street	Big Rapids	49307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Emerald	Gao	1625 N Oakley Ave, Chicago	Chicago	60647	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Walther	1305 Spruce Ave.	Longmont	80501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Luther	Brooks	1355 Kalmia Rd. NW	Washington	20012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Chong	7811 Bently Ave	Garden Grove	92841	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

kathleen	culhane	804 marylyn ci	Petaluma	94954	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Inge	Wagner	335 S Berendo Street	Los Angeles	90020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Williams	2028 Barrington Pointe Drive	League City	77573	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shelley	Simon	12 Kingston Drive	Livingston	7039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Rolley	2158 vista del rio	Crockett	94525	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
mabel	randall	4331 sw 235 street	Hollywood	33023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

JOE	ALFORDQ	340 CREEKS JEWELL DRIVE	Ringgold	30736	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Manos	9332 Alto Dr.	La Mesa	91941	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Perona	box 426, cupertino	Cupertino	95015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carl	Peters	220 N Roosevelt Ave	Fullerton	92832	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	SETTERBERG	7115 CARVEL LANE	Houston	77074	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Perona	box 426, Tempe	Tempe	85282	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Julie	McKay Wilkinson	2540 Pickway Drive	Charlotte	28269	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Garr	Edgewood	Providence	84332	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tamara	Lucas	710 S HUNTER ST	Wichita	67207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Warren	Young	5133 Reids Pointe Road	Glen Allen	23060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilee	Ackelson	2740 Kinsey Ave	DES MOINES	50317	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Cunningham	6525 Westrock Dr, Oklahoma City	Oklahoma City	73132	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

DangerMan	Urbansuperhero	11684 Ventura Blvd.	Studio City	91604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
B.J.	Reese	615 E Reed Road	Greenville	38701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jessica	Stabler	14487 S Boulder Crest Dr.	Herriman	84096	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

George	Vincent	2234 Citron St. Apt. W	Honolulu	96826	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Garr	Edgewood	Providence	84332	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sheree	Poitier	6716 Via Canada	Rancho Palos Verdes	90275	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ross	Klutke	2921 Indigo Circle S	Fort Collins	80528	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
c	Barnes	517 Adamson	Owosso	48867	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rosalie	Dodd	1440 Randolph Ave #301	Saint Paul	55105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elzbieta	Kraszewski	304 trappers run drive	cary	27513	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rebecca	Bierbaum	3719 Horn Ave.	Alton	62002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kay R	Guy	769 Euclid Avenue	Glen Ellyn	60137	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kelly	Scoville	7489 Abington Way	Brooksville	34613	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judy	Hamilton	253 Sacramento St., 1000	San Francisco	94111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Justin	Boone	13224 Dewey Street	Los Angeles	90066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

R	Yeats	POB 76778	Los Angeles	90076	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Haywood	2146 NW Everett St. Portland OR	Portland	97210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Stop making wifi prices so expensive, too. A "bundled" TV package comes "free" because the wifi is $50.00 a month with or without it.Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Hooper	6853 Calle De Cortez Ct	NAVARRE	32566	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carolina	Varga	717 th st	Denver	80202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brenton	Barnes	9696 Monte Carlo Cir.	Huntington Beach	92646	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Wright	6403 Greenock Drive	Stone Mountain	30087	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Scott	Muir	681 Sun Valley Ct. Erie, PA	Erie	16509	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rebecca	Hunt	1575 W. Warmsprings Rd 2713	Henderson	89014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jacqueline	Trump	620 South 46th St	Boulder	80305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Ramirez	2408 Cheshire Drive	Bakersfield	93309	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
L	Freedman	3811 Alden way	Sarasota	34232	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	St Clair	4020 S College Ave	Fort Collins	80525	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barb	D	50 E Westlake Way	Allyn	98524	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vanessa	Garcia	9859 PASEO MONTRIL	San Diego	92129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Orette	Williams	po box 1361	Fontana	92334	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kenneth	Bullard	Charlotte, NC	Charlotte	28211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Arnold	Sewall Ave	Asbury Park	7712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nanciann	Rogers	4724 Washburn Ave.	Fort Worth	76107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jasmina	Bricic	2425 Carey Rd.	Kinston	28504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Phillips	123 Meredith Ave	Frankfort	40601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jennifer	maurizzio	6016 St Rt 97	Narrowsburg	12764	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Owen	Perlman	1300 Wolverhampton Lane	Ann Arbor	48105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roch	Polit		Sarasota	34231	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Adrian	2801 Denton Tap #1721	Lewisville	75067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

andrew	raymond	255 west liberty st	Geneva	44041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gail	McCredie	322 Hames Hollow	Aptos	95003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Cornish	5501 Connecticut Dr	Concord	94521	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rebecca	Haynes	935 N Stirrup High Dr W	Dewey	86327	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Okubo	157 Union Ave. Apt. A7	Campbell	95008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Yuri	Brodyansky	1101 Lincoln Blvd. # 2 B	Santa Monica	90403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Betty	Kline	43 Arrants Rd.	North East	21901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Denise	Dalton	319 East 91st Street	New York	10128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Savage	1615 185TH ST. CT. EAST	Spanaway	98387	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jessica	Denis	2061 park ave	East Meadow	11554	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Rice	471 Embry Lane	MARIETTA	30066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Jarvis	801 Morning Mist LN	Port Hueneme	93041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gary	Charles	long beach	Long Beach	90801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Loraine	Yow	1231 NE MLK BLVD	Portland	97232	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Walker	1254 Martinique Lane	San Mateo	94404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Phillips	1914 Sutphin Road	Sanford	27330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jill	Friedman	PO Box 427	Hanapepe	96716	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
K J	Kadziauskas	1321 Upland Drive	Houston	77043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Timothy	Curry	369 Maryann Ln	POMONA	91767	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Bard	19A Summer St.	EASTHAMPTON	1027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Yancey	Thompson	2200 Revere Cir.	Anchorage	99515	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

ML	Sage	3845 Elijah Court #631	San Diego	92130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Nakoneczny j	129 Shire Ln	Wernersville	19565	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Neal	White	1201 Laurel Summit Dr SE	Smyrna	30082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Todd	Templeton	8155 Foothill	Sunland	91040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Craig	Sharpe	851 Clark lane	Linden	48451	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donovan	Goble	638 Sydney Ave	Loves Park	61111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Terese	Babonas	W10560 Blue Bell Rd.	Deerbrook	54424	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bernie	Gonzales	1	Caruthers	93609	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Nicholas	45 Oak Hill Terrace	PENFIELD	14526	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Le Blanc	P O Box 22928	Houston	77227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pat	Mikesell	522 park	Grand Haven	49417	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Lemon	435 South 14th Street	San Jose	95112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

TERENCE	MCDONALD	336 SNOHOMISH DR	La Conner	98257	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
john	Swann	5626 N.Marwood Blvd	Upper Marlboro	20772	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
J	Hoss	4383 Ruston Ave.	Columbus	43230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joe	Futterer	122 Pueblo Ln	Topanga	90290	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doug	Brown	1409 ave c bayard, NE	Bayard	69334	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nolan	McSwain	2428 Prancer St.	New Orleans	70131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Andrew	Evans	14150 SW Wildhorse Way	Beaverton	97008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Guillermo	Tedesco	1757 NW 36 Court	Fort Lauderdale	33309	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	LeCates	13606 E. Bates Ave. #203	Aurora	80014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Traci	Ramos	1320 6th ave	SAN FRANCISCO	94122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Scarola	290 West 12th Street Apt 2D	New York	10014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Holly	Hewitt	117 Thorne st	Walla Walla	99362	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Frank	Immler	52 henry avenue	PRINCETON	8540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Neighoff	8903 Cuckold Point Road	Sparrows Point	21219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Hopkins	19698SE Cottonwood St, Milwaukie, OR	Portland	97267	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Maryann	Klaue	277 NE Conifer Blvd	Corvallis	97330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Georgia	Salmon	717 Trinity St	Eureka	95501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Neighoff	8903 Cuckold Point Road	Sparrows Point	21219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Georgette	Moses	160 Sweetoak Drive	Columbia	29223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rich	Warner	1108 inner drive	SCHENECTADY	12303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Amy	Outhouse	275/147 Owens Rd	Brockport	14420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

dorothea	amato	46 harris ave	Cranston	2920	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
S	Taylor	0	Evergreen	80439	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
wayne	epps	11911martin luther king jr. blvd.apt.1512	Houston	77048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandy	Lavengood	112 Calvert Rd	Rockville	20850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
wayne	epps	11911martin luther king jr. blvd.apt.1512	Houston	77048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
wayne	epps	11911martin luther king jr. blvd.apt.1512	Houston	77048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marilyn	Katz	PO box 69247	West Hollywood	90069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
wayne	epps	11911martin luther king jr. blvd.apt.1512	Houston	77048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deanna	Church	606 Flanders Ave.	Bowling Green	43402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Henderson	4 Raleigh Hill Court	Foristell	63348	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Wild	3214 Rush Ct., Milford, KS	Milford	66514	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
tobe	halton	1036 huckleberry ln. box 134	Whitethorn	95589	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Santagata	102 Hamilton St	New Haven	6511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Meier	4033 Cherry Street	Cincinnati	45223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roger & Georgia	Dykhuis	1221 E Madison Ave	Des Moines	50313	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Beringer	225 238th St SW	Bothell	98021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Norman	Emanuel	20 Hospital St Augusta ME	Augusta	4330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edward	Johnson	1375 Knight rd	Urbana	43078	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Coffelt	690 Dogwood Terrace	Soddy Daisy	37379	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lucille B	Chacon	5609 Silver Creek Valley Road	San Jose	95138	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shirlee	Tan	3001 23rd Ave W	Seattle	98199	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Odiela	Jackson	9204 Lansford st	Philadelphia	19114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Schouten	8108 Druid Hills Reserve Drive NE	Atlanta	30329	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linh	Nguyen	1 Collina Terrace, Thorndon, Wellington		6012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cliff	Bedore	7403 Radcliffe Dr	College Park	20740	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. We seem to be replaying the Breakup of the Bells way back when. The American people came out ahead in that case due to the innovation in phone systems and we surely will again. If it were me, I'd force the cable companies to provide the equivalent pf a "bare pair" connection that wold allow a user to connect to an endpoint of his choice much like a DSL line works now.
Mark	Grenard	12810 N. Cave Creek Rd.#105	Phoenix	85022	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Manuel	Fiadeiro	Fairfax	Fairfax	22030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas D.	Herzog	2 Woodway	South Salem	10590	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
louie	spencer	558 CR84	Mc Carley	38943	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Justina	Gruling	9408 Townline Rd.	Wausau	54403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Willis	14500 NE 29th Pl., #344	Bellevue	98007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendy	Rothman	212-73 16 Ave.	Bayside	11360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bud	Sievers	2670 Valmar Place,Reno,NV	Reno	89503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	McKinney	6 cottage st	Fairhaven	2719	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wesley	McCoullough	167Rohr St	Rochester	14605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Johnson	643 Webster Street Apt 5	San Francisco	94117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andy	Murphy	7311 Bucknell Dr.	AUSTIN	78723	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Samii	2405 15th Ave	SAN FRANCISCO	94116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Carpenter	10 Colonial Road	Monticello	12701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Mikulin	7891 Orange Ave. B	Fair Oaks	95628	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Isabel	Varela	5609 Glenwood Rd	Bethesda	20817	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Aimee	Rice	1166a 20th Ave	Honolulu	96816	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeff	Blanner	4425 Blink Horn rd.	Hurlock	21643	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bruce	Ross	3707 Landon Park Dr.	Katy	77449	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Will	Yeager	2505 W. 116th St	Hawthorne	90250	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Losie	3470c Moore Rd.	Kettle Falls	99141	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronnie	Kinney	5137 Princess St Dearborn Heights MI	DEARBORN HEIGHTS	48125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lois	Frankel	59 Main Blvd	Trenton	8618	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Gorman	121 E Bayfield St	Washburn	54891	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	ODonnell	2401 Snow Road Apt.207	Cleveland	44134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

evelyn	byrne crider	4833 myrlte oak dr	New Port Richey	34653	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
AK	Griffin	PO BOX 90022	Henderson	89009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lorraine	Barrie	15 kulanihakoi	KIHEI	96753	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	Lapetino	6441 Loomes Ave	DOWNERS GROVE	60516	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Johnathan	Randolph	4184 Big Ben Ct.	North Charleston	29418	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maureen	McCauley	816 W Woodlawn Ave Apt 6	San Antonio	78212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bruce	Helenihi	3400 Harvard Ave. S. E.	Albany	97322	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Lesinski	4750 E Union Hills Dr Apt 3061	Phoenix	85050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vidur	Muni	gandhinagar		382006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Will	Wroot	1428 adams ave9	Loveland	80538	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
S.	Calero	107 Longwood Dr.	Ormond Beach	32176	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Blum	52 Worcester Dr	Wayne	7470	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carolyn	Burton	3020 Country Square Drive	Carrollton	75006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Allan	Blum	52 Worcester Dr	Wayne	7470	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
karen	dahmer	4137 Trumbull	Detroit	48208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alice	McKaig	482 mckaig loop	Rising Fawn	30738	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
colette	duriez	13 rue de la republique	Spindale	28160	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jean	Cash	2031 Clearwater Trl	CARROLLTON	75010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sheila	Wentzel	11422 Birch Court	WASHINGTON	48094	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Gianelli	14024 24th Ave S	Seattle	98168	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Veronique	Dillon	98-642 Holopuni Street	Aiea	96701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carmen	CHIAPA	3419 Pony Express Dr.	Sacramento	95834	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	Robinson	7837 Eby Lane	Overland Park	66204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Taggart	1705 Valparaiso Ave	Menlo Park	94025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jennifer	Gilbert	4400 Elm Ave.	Lyons	60534	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Davis	6800 Arapaho rd-unit 2005	Dallas	75248	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynne	St. John	8301-78 Mission Gorge Road	SANTEE	92071	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chailley	Goss-Garner	5118 Willow St.	New Orleans	70115	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Pickett	1277 Old Bankhead Hwy	Cordova	35550	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Miguel	Gomez	14349 San Jose St.	MISSION HILLS	91345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shahla	Charm	21815 Ambar Dr		91464	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	Sennello	91A Rubicon Circle North	Zephyr Cove	89448	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Gies	420 E Clark Rd	YPSILANTI	48198	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Trefethen	165716847 no	Jefferson	97352	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Wood	3238 NW Quay Dr.	LINCOLN CITY	97367	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tia	Pearson	P.O.box 861697	Wahiawa	96786	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deidre	McLaughlin	401 Christopher Ave.	Gaithersburg	20879	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Aurora	MATA	639 N Osage St	AMARILLO	79107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Griffin	Flattery	11593 Chiquita Street	Studio City	91604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dennis	Young	355 Boeker Ave.	Shell Beach, Ca., 93449	93449	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ruthie	Selch	2130 Chestnut Circle	Erie	80516	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carolyn	Diehl	1700 MCHENRY AVE. STE. 65B-257	Modesto	95350	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

G David	Modica	450 Basin Street	Daytona Beach	32114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chuck	Pugh	4404 York St.	Wichita Falls	76309	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
G David	Modica	450 Basin Street	Daytona Beach	32114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

mary					American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We english	English	760 Norega	Pacifica	94044	urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
					American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We
Ken	McInnes	601 Kirby, Hemet,Ca	Hemet	92545	urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
					American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We Farhad	Firouzgar	2710 kelvin ave	Irvine	92614	urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gail	Caswell	839 Post St.	San Francisco	94109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	White	305 Rugby Road	Schenectady	12345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles W	Clark Jr	10 Forest Hills Dr	Nashua	3060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Doug	Hilborn	1000 Lake Village	Yellowstone National Park	82190	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Verdon	Santa Monica, CA	Santa Monica	90404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tracy	Lane	21 Reunion Rd	Port Chester	10573	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ken	ward	140 Bleecker st	GLOVERSVILLE	12078	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	English	760 Noriega	Pacifica	94044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin Sager	Whitney	651 Addison St	Berkeley	94710	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ted	Pratt	8624 Cabot st se	OLYMPIA	98501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Celine	Paganini	466 1/2 N Gardner Street	Los Angeles	90036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Bishop	1009 N Grace Ave	Kewanee	61443	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alan	Solomon	P.O. Box 2195	Palm Desert	92261	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kerry	John	855 Stafford Rd	Storrs Mansfield	6268	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Giuseppe	Fusco	Via Attilio Roccatani		3039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Hood	29000 Ridge Road	Mount Airy	21771	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Sherman	1923 Marin Dr	SANTA ROSA	95405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Richter	11982 Xeon St Nw	Minneapolis	55448	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lynn	Miller	6277 Brevard Circle	Magalia	95954	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lauren	Murdock	3940 Via Lucero Apt #16	Santa Barbara	93110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Robinson	31500 Grape Street	Lake Elsinore	92532	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Beckwith	2931 Ellis Street	Berkeley	94703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brandon	Whitehead	12151 Foxtail Lane South	Rogers	55374	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Chromey	29 Flike Rd.	Stillwater	12170	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

james	godwin	1511 fair oaks ln	Florence	29506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lydia	Mullen	554-14 Logan Place	Newport News	23601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Boyce	4787 80th St N	Saint Petersburg	33709	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Richards	34385 Union Lake	Clinton Township	48035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	ward	140 Bleecker st	GLOVERSVILLE	12078	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jacquelyn	Menefee	20 North Lake Dr.	Hamden	6517	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeffrey	Greene	3920 s. Roosevelt apt 207w	Key West	33040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nicholas	Rulli	1353 W. Temple St.	Los Angeles	90026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Salvatore	Stingo	22 Van Rose Drive	North Haven	6473	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Allison	Reeder	1255 Youngfield St.	Golden	80401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Raymond	Moody	2440 Date St. Apt 402	HONOLULU	96826	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dolynnthia	Davis	1234 Stanhope Ln # 264	Hayward	94545	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Phillip	Daniels	5413 15th Pl	Hyattsville	20782	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dolynnthia	Davis	1234 Stanhope Ln # 264	Hayward	94545	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Newell	1117 Fay	Redwood City	94061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lizzie	isaacs	E.44 St.	New York	10017	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Fox	P. O. Box 282	Tahoma	96142	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carole	Landrum	4800 S. Chicago Beach Drive, Apt. 2605-S	Chicago	60615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carolyn	Pendle	5406 46th Ct. NE	Olympia	98516	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ruth	Thomley	564 Chestnut St	San Carlos	94070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. P. S. And when you live in an apartment, cable is the only option due to landlords not wanting dish holes drilled into their buildings.
Linda	Schoppert	1612 G. St.	Napa	94559	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

doug	osgood	22 Baron Way	Rockford	61110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Schoppert	1612 G. St.	Napa	94559	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rhea	Barron	15 Panorama Drive Apt C	Vallejo	94589	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Bennigson	2339 Ramona Street	Palo Alto	94301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeff	Vessey	1541 N Prescott Street	Portland	97217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JAMES	PUCKETT	2055 MC GRAW AV APT2H	Bronx	10462	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Martha	Madison	4119 W. 173rd Place	Torrance	90504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cyndy	LaFont	456 Vista Del Mar Dr	APTOS	95003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Emmylou	Gutierrez	1301 Scott Ave	Clovis	93612	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lisa	Kunsch	35 Prospect Street	Attleboro	2703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Enzo	Falco	322 Marsh St	Belmont	2478	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ian	nimmo	2334 curtis st	Berkeley	94702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edward	Cox	1161 Oakdale Dr	Pottstown	19464	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charlotte	Preswood	631 Shawneehaw Ave.	Banner Elk	28604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janice	Feeley	37772 Los Arboles Dr	Fremont	94536	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leonard	Herzog	11006 Exposition Blvd., Los Angeles, CA	Los Angeles	90064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gregory	Warren	789 NW 45th St.	Miami	33127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judy	Lemke	957 Fairway	Ukiah	95482	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Victoria	Smith	845 Sutter st #303	San Francisco	94109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darice	Davis	510 W. 10th St.	Long Beach	90813	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Dail	18 Valley View Drive	ROCKAWAY	7866	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Lipsky	11340 W. Olympic Blvd.	Los Angeles	90064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenneth	Richardson	pleasent valley road	Bradford	3221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Grace	MARGARITA KIS	6245 Sandalwood N E	Canton	44721	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stefanie	Johnsn	658 Grove Street	Rahway	7065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Melton	213 Beck Ln.	Mayfield	42066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rick	Henry	320 Denver Ave	Grants Pass	97526	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	Hejtmancik	1108 54th st. Fennville, Mi.	Fennville	49408	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	McGaughey	381 NE Village Squire Av Unit 2 Gresham	Gresham	97030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	Boynton	Boynton	Carnation	98014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Oliver	Beals		Hudsonville	49426	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alexander	Moran	402 N Forest	Chanute	66720	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Hansen	Minde	Fredericksburg	50630	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Candy	Bowman	4361 Turnbridge Dr	SACRAMENTO	95823	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
maeilyn	king	3891 S. 27	Pine Knot	42635	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tyler	Owens	21720 Flint Road	Mankato	56001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jason	Bowman	1525 Cold Springs Rd SPC 52	Placerville	95667	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chandra	Perkins	16052 Hawthorne Ave. Fontana	Fontana	92335	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Gelineau	2034 Northampton St	Holyoke	1040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Amy	Deming	2718 SE 8th Street	Des Moines	50315	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rhonda	Andrews	4224 Rockyhill Rd Blackstone, Va	Blackstone	23824	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rozella	Decker	3910 Visby Lane	Las Vegas	89119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Terrence	Petrarca	1013 Jefferson Street	LATROBE	15650	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	LILLING	130 NOTTOWAY TRAIL	MAITLAND	32751	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Canary	1015W.Vantrees St.	Washington	47501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary Esther	Castano-Campos	605 S. Ohio Ave.	WESLACO	78596	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paola	Iocco	Via Bonomelli, 15	Montvale	24122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dawn	Munn	113 Bala Ave	Oreland	19075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

George	Quance	61 Longview. Dr.	Daly City	94015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Forester	5369 Briarfield Rd	Jackson	39211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dustin	Jevne	1810 49th St S Apt 303	Fargo	58103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Andrea	Ford	7725 sw 88th street	Miami	33156	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Howard	Young	280 Summer Street	Boston	2210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Victoria	Miller	15857 Moorpark Street	Encino	91436	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

anne	gustafson	601 e front	BLOOMINGTON	61701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	McGrath	694 Eastbrooke Ln, Rochester NY	Rochester	14618	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Schulenberg	300 Pecan Lane	Round Rock	78664	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Travis	Tharp	321 East Salem Court	Davison	48423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jan	Wilmot	5980 North Bay	Clarkston	48346	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tammy	Nogles	23 South 23rd Street Unit 4C	Philadelphia	19103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rose	Cherlin	2165 W Hoyt Ave	Saint Paul	55108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diana	Whatley	1710 Park Meadows Drive #2	Fort Myers	33907	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Oswald	425 NE 27th Dr	FORT LAUDERDALE	33334	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marcia	Kutz	3818 44th Ave. NE	Seattle	98105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Adolf	8407 18th Ave W Apt 7-204	EVERETT	98204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Phil	Snapp	2572 10th Road	Barnes	66933	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Larry	Nelson	1010 W Richway Dr	Albert Lea	56007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brenda	Highfill	2111 N Roosevelt	Springfield	65803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Artineh	Havan	125 Greenpoint Avenue	Brooklyn	11222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephen	Mahoney	39 Washington Park	Carver	2330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Curatolo	161 Sparrow Drive	Chicago Heights	60411	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Williams	215 E 26th Street	Covington	41014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lia	Spezzano	185 Julie Rd	Tyrone	30290	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Brissenden	89 Faxon Rd	Quincy	2171	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deeber	Berk	5046 Rte. 213	Olivebridge	12461	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mhamed	Sedrati	87 Fondation Hassan II	Cherry Plain	12040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Henry	Wayland, Mi.	Wayland	49348	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Connelly	43 Edgewater Pl.	Edgewater	7020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

a	a	ne 8th	Delray Beach	33483	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Abel	615 North Broadway	Nyack	10960	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
tina	taggart	3726 Union St	Levant	4456	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jason	Kozlowski	114. Top of the Rock Dr.	Morgantown	26508	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerry	Murray	Po Box 319, Norfolk,NY	Norfolk	13667	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Taylor	211 Cliff Ave	Winthrop	2152	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Len	Wassum	19 Hauser Ave	Trenton	8620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lennart	Blomqvist	Box 7418	Windber	15963	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerry	Murray	Po Box 319, Norfolk,NY	Norfolk	13667	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kirk	Cavender	345 Daytona Avenue	Daytona Beach	32117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pamward	ward	po box 195	LYNDEBOROUGH	3082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Broderick	104 Winding Brook Road	Newbury	3255	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christine	Smith	HC 32 Box 32321	Ely	89301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	Neaylon	124 Dublin St		2164	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Natalie	Hanson	1815 Briarwood Dr.	Lansing	48917	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elaine P	Fischer	530 12th Ave NE	Naples	34120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Trenk	Ebbighausen	11086 chaparral	SHAKOPEE	55379	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gale	Eichhorst	1328 4th ave	Mankato	56001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elizabeth	Bailey	North May Street	Southern Pines	28387	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Desjardins	1015 Bonita Drive	Altamonte Springs	32714	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Rossetti	39 Willie St	HAVERHILL	1832	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Maggie	Austin	27 Castellon DR	Hot Springs Village	71909	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
edward	goryl	935 n 9th st fl1	Reading	19604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Harlow	653 Weller Ave	Mansfield	44904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	foxworthy	3204 MIDDLEBURRY LN	Charleston	29414	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Clayton	14214 clarborne ct	Little Rock	72211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ryan	Taylor	49 Greenore Street	Chebeague Island	4017	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nick	Spens	2886 South 9th Street	Kalamazoo	49009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Devorah	Soodak	2620 E Somerset St	Philadelphia	19134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	F.Hills	400 larkspur Farm Road APT32	Torrington	6790	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steven	Kostis	261 W. 28th St. Apt. 2C	NEW YORK	10001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rachel	Bouchard	2032 Buckhaven Way	Augusta	30909	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	F.Hills	400 larkspur Farm Road APT32	Torrington	6790	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dee	Brown	14 Chipman Way	Kingston	2364	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Massimo	Fornaciari	Italy		156	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
SHIRLEY	DUFRANE	1385 MAIN STREET	Stratford	6615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nate	Castine	1427 Ridge rd	Champlain	12919	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
klef	de gregorio	via soderini 19	Ashburn	20146	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Morrison	po box 361 rio grande ohio	Rio Grande	45674	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elise	Varon	800 Deerfield Rd	Highland Park	60035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Tarallo	10331 N 1000 W	Demotte	46310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leo	Sullivan	123 MAIN ST ATL GA	Atlanta	30303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elise	Varon	800 Deerfield Rd	Highland Park	60035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Raul	Cintra Leite	49 finnigan ave	Saddle Brook	7663	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elise	Varon	800 Deerfield Rd	Highland Park	60035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ali	Judd	6421 Savanna Court	Saint Cloud	56303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Nolde	87 Delaware Ave.	Metuchen	8840	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sue	Bonomo	884 bay shore ave	west islip	11795	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bill	Koldys	36 Rockledge	Torrington	6790	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Bellamy	3710 Artesian Dr	Sumter	29150	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Zoltan	Croll	480 Spragues Falls Rd	Cherryfield	4622	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jo	Marion		Salem	3079	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	Scott	3 Cross Ave.	Salem	1970	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
duff	waldron	1031 Nuuanu Ave	Honolulu	96817	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melissa	Weeks	33 SignalHill2013	Bondville	5340	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julia	LeGath	56B No Lockey Woods Rd	Beacon	12508	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margit	Burmeister	3544 Chatham Way	Ann Arbor	48105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. I have lived in 3 other countries and US prices for cable TV and internet are 5-10 times what I pay elsewhere - there is a monopoly that harms consumers

Charles	Harris Jr	1817 29th st SE	Washington	20020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hugh	Wiegel	10 stag horn CT apt d	Cockeysville	21030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Brown	3012 Courtlandt Ave.	Kalamazoo	49004	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jerry	Moncus	122 Leisure Mountain Road	Asheville	28804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LAUREL	SHAFFER	2121 Michigan Avenue	Englewood	34224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Amy	Tidd	1357 Heritage Acres Blvd	Rockledge	32955	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

steve	zelman	6055 Jumilla Ave.	Woodland Hills	91367	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lea	RAy	3504 Rain Tree Ct.	Douglasville	30135	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chantal	Frenette	99 Wampum Street	South Weymouth	2190	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joanne	Bartlett	100 Crestview Dr	Portland	4103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alonzo	Hannaford	1571 Skylark Way	Kalamazoo	49009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pat	Moore	340 17th St NW	Willmar	56201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Kerzner	7 Arcadia Dr	Wallkill	12589	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
stephen	foley	8812 e amherst dr#b	Denver	80231	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barb	Jones	825 Covered Bridge	Grantham	3753	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janet	Dowell	366 Reeders Run Road	Stroudsburg	18360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret Lee	Henderson	521 F Josephine Street	New Orleans	70130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alan	Leach	PO Box 385	Tilton	3276	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peter	Simon	638 Corona St.	DENVER	80218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Silvay	4139 Rustic Rd.. Cleveland Ohio	Cleveland	44135	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diana	Castro	1712 214st. Street	Lomita	90717	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Larry	Debrew	2808 Marshall Avenue	Newport News	23607	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bonnie	Savageau		Derry	3038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Paul	21121 midway ave	Southfield	48075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bob	Bacewcz	10 North Wind Circe	Ledyard	6339	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kay	Clifford	1846 Mershon dr.	Ann Arbor	48103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Brown	591 E Central	Sutherlin	97479	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tom	Barnett	14 Hinckley Point Rd.	Dennysville	4628	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janine	Byrne	57 Sixth St	Cambridge	2141	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dorothy	Dunlap	4041 Murray Ave	Pittsburgh	15217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kate	Dushel	12 Chantilear Court	STEWARTSTOWN	17363	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Lefler	8701 bear creek drive	Austin	78737	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
MIKE	BAKER	4425LAKESHORE	Massillon	44646	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Torek	2035 Suffolk St, Ann Arbor, MI	Ann Arbor	48103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jackie	alford	7000 roswell rd n/e. #277	Atlanta	30328	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerry	Tobe	3115 Cardiff Ave.	Los Angeles	90034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rebecca	Augustin	803 N. Avenida Serenidad	Somerton	85350	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Burton	509 Harding St New Cumberland PA	New Cumberland	17070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DougSawatzky	Sawatzky	1208 11th St. SE	Willmar	56201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Keith	Schnip	315 Prospect St	Bellingham	98227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	Niedenfuer	1011 Cedar St	Alexandria	56308	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Micah	Miller	3216 churchill	Flint	48506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leslie	Herron-Huff	Inverness	INVERNESS	34452	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	Jaekel	Shadow Ridge	Roseville	95678	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Danielle	Johnson	106 N Fairview Ave	Mount Prospect	60056	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Jackson	52 Petty Rd. Cranbury, NJ	Cranbury	8512	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joanne	Bonsey	244 Lisbon Street #328	Lisbon	4250	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eileen	Evans	201 N. Scott Street	New Castle	16101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mike	Hedden	503 Kresson Road	Cherry Hill	8034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kelly	Corley	8702 Birmingham Dr	Austin	78748	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Allen	Gillin	512 Marshall Cir	GILBERTSVILLE	42044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Owsiany	1 Blaho Drive	Shelton	6484	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rina	Malerman	653 Pine Tree Rd	Jenkintown	19046	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Ardito	19 Leetes Island Rd	Branford	6405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Reba	Ferguson	6607 Aster Court	Denton	76208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pamela	Spaulding	2211 SW 49th Street	Oklahoma City	73119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Heck	96 orchard ave.	GREENVILLE	16125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Vreeland	1241 Coronel Ave	VALLEJO	94591	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerry	Osbrach	7221 NW 25th Lane	Gainesville	32606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	Seyfarth	62982 birch rd	Vandalia	49095	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melissa	Jones	44419 Pine Dr.	Sterling Heights	48313	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maureen	LaParo	1 Greene St	Jersey City	7302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darryl	Jackson	3977 Airport Highway apt 15	Toledo	43615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Debra	williams	20458 Tan Rd	Smithfield	23430	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barry	Greenhill	11309 Myrtle Lane	Reston	20191	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maureen	LaParo	1 Greene St	Jersey City	7302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Darryl	Jackson	3977 Airport Highway apt 15	Toledo	43615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Macek	3400 Snyder avenue	BROOKLYN	11203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	Herzog	11868 Clifton	Lakewood	44107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janet	Talbott	P o box 150	Hamersville	45130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
david	kapp	15 bonwood drive	Mashpee	2649	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cullen	Kappel	15101 Dixie Highway	Holly	48442	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Matt	Budinger	638 Nanticoke Ct	Abingdon	21009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Barry	POB	Cedar Knolls	7927	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Caplan	201 East 17th Street, Apt. 3D	New York	10003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Stewart	70 Fort Salonga Road	Northport	11768	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
antonina	licastri	127 East 31st. Street #1B	New York	10016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
john	sferazo	635 old country road, huntington n.y.	Huntington Station	11746	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Phelps		Winnetka	91306	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
mike	kohler	1686 249th ave	Galesburg	61401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Brooke	9069 Winona Ct Westmnster Co	Westminster	80031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rick	Morris	3408 Rebecca Jane Way	Alexandria	22310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
l	mend	25 smith st	Tampa	33615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
tina	smith	1133 meadow Lane #78	Concord	94520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Babatunde	Akinyemi	3 moncrieffe road	BANGOR	4401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shirley	Thompson	1700 Riverside Dr B419	Tulsa	74119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Bliss	37 Central St.	Brattleboro	5301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandra	Gompf	1709 Charleston Woods Court	Plant City	33566	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maggie	Ball	2 juniper lane	Exeter	3833	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
lino	de gregorio	via soderini 19	Ashburn	20146	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marion	Gura	123 Atlantic place north island park new york	Island Park	11558	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Burke	1332 NE 2nd Ave	Fort Lauderdale	33304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Keven	Beeken	2104 elm street	Sidney	69162	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alisa	Doyle	536 South first ave	Galloway	8205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carolyn	Kay	801 S Plymouth Ct #915	Chicago	60605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Timothy	Showalter	2312 Pioneer Ave	Pittsburgh	15226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Erwin	Kertz	27 Parnu Place	Van Nuys	91401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Westlund	25 Ryan road	Danvers	1923	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jolene	Robinson	343 Ash Grove Road	Cambridge	12816	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cynthia	Marine	6 Colonial Dr. Apt K	Millbury	1527	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Emil	Escarraman	5234 Plum Ave. Seffner, FL	Seffner	33584	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Bernal	6406 NE 36th Ave	Portland	97211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brian	Simon	182-30 wexford Terrace Apt. 2D	Jamaica	11432	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Klosek	6611 Rannoch Dr	Catonsville	21228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bob	Charles	6223 W. 63rd Street	Chicago	60638	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cheis	O'Day	43 fiske rd	Holliston	1746	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
sherri	Dietz	5876 200th St	Walcott	52773	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Hurley	6805 N E Mason St	Portland	97218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

MIKE	BAKER	4425LAKESHORE	Massillon	44646	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Simmen	631 Wellington Dr	Greensburg	15601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Greenwood	112 Climax Road	Avon	6001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

W. Allen	Wrede	36-11 28th Ave., Apt. #25	ASTORIA	11103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andre	Wilder	6301 N 10th St Apt 405	Philadelphia	19141	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nevada	Jimenez	505 30th Ave. W.	Bradenton	34205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Noble	2987 Kilkare Road	Sunol	94586	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Bean	11604 Stewart Lane, #202	SILVER SPRING	20904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
maureen	Reid	589 Newton Avenue	UNIONDALE	11553	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

B.A.	McClintock	Honolulu	Honolulu	96815	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Hurd	9455 Fens Hollow	Laurel	20723	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Davis	4356 41st Ave S, Mpls, MN	Minneapolis	55406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Hans	Heaney	1005 Rayney Lane	JERUSALEM	72080	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gail	Dato	21 periwinkle Drive	Barnegat	8005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	marcos	selden stage rd	SELDEN	11784	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michele	DiGiorgi	11033 Little St	Spring Hill	34608	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paige	Smith	54 Rope Ferry Rd Unit D78	Waterford	6385	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Immler	17324 Piney Point Rd	PINEY POINT	20674	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Claudette	McLennon	640 Ditmas Avenue #31	Brooklyn	11218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	Hiltner	23 Old Mill	Hightstown	8520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Tredent	5293 W 220th St	Cleveland	44126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kaaren	Zuniga	3630 Riverdale Square	Columbus	43232	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roslyn	Feigenbaum	6901 N.W.78 Court	Fort Lauderdale	33321	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Howard	Johnson	685 Fancy Dr	Seneca	29678	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jacob	Margason	4100 Central Pike Apt 1206	Hermitage	37076	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ray	Casci	40 Martha st.	Seymour	6483	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ROBERT	mandel	8138 crimson cir	Clay	13041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ray	Casci	40 Martha st.	Seymour	6483	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jack	Halley	1006 Oglethorpe Ln	Darien	31305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Lambert	221East St	Chicopee	1020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Overs	12798 SE 122nd Place	Ocklawaha	32179	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Boyd	105 Colora Court	Cary	27513	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Carlin	725 Greenwood Drive	Canal Fulton	44614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Hallick	240 8th Street	Brooklyn	11215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shelly	Grossman	18356 560th St	West Concord	55985	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donia	Prince	116 White Rock Dr #2	Montpelier	5602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. I hope this is just the beginning of loosening the hold that communications companies have over the lives of Americans, with opaque pricing policies, abrupt and regular rate hikes after their initial "deals", and the sense all too often that we are stuck, having to sign a deal with the devil, if we want to remain connected.

Jim	Wilson	2489 Trojan Drive	Green Bay	54304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Dwyer	455 Bedford Avenue	Mount Vernon	10553	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dave	Wiig	141 Benton Rd	Morris	6763	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Wildner	266 Ginger Ct	Traverse City	49696	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	McTeague	2200 Kings Hwy	Punta Gorda	33980	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sue	Greve	P.O. Box 471	Interlochen	49643	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Darryl	Coan	12173 SE 85th Ct	Belleview	34420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ursula	Buchnat	8841 Morse Street	Crown Point	46307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Suarez	1841 East 31 St	Brooklyn	11234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alan	Walworth	12036 weiman dr Pinckney ml	Pinckney	48169	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Norma	Colon	apt. 3C	New York	10021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michele	Berenwick	23 Quince Court	Lawrence Township	8648	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Wagner	1275 Peterson Court	Greenwood	46143	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Larry	Roberts	9138 brookfield ave	Brookfield	60513	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michele	Berenwick	23 Quince Court	Lawrence Township	8648	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Tregoning	396 S. Columbia Ave.	Oglesby	61348	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Victor	Persico	1828 Diamond Creek Ln	Aurora	60503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
TERRY	CRAIG	iron st	Easton	18042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ian	Ratti	4 Beechwood Dr.	CHALFONT	18914	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Didion	18 Hancock		49660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lauri	Lincoln	2336 113th St	Thurman	51654	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Todd	Lee	23 Gentlebreeze Lane	Asheville	28805	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nora	Ziegler	817 Brettingham Ct.	West Chester	19382	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Raymond	Gettins	218 Worthington Ave	CINCINNATI	45215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

JEAN	TERESKY	3517 VASSAR STREET	Punta Gorda	33980	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carr	Donald	320 Chesapeake Dr.	Great Falls	22066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Helen	Hyatt	14Swindale street	Asheville	28801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brenda	Bell	803 Coxswain Way Unit 207	Annapolis	21401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lora	Vannoord	899 CLELAND CT APT D	Palm Harbor	34684	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Leverett	824 Huck Finn trail	Dripping Springs	78620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Julian	Martinez	7616 Elm Street	Houston	77023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rachel	Rade	159 N Pershing Dr	Lancaster	43130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Assmus	133 JeffersonAve S	Brookings	57006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dianne	Herrick	6707 Saint John'spkwy.	Victor	14564	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Francine	Krempa	24 Dobson Rd	Edison	8817	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carolyn	Ward	Clearwater, FL	Clearwater	33763	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kendra	Roth	337 West 20th Street	New York	10011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Malkam	Wyman	405 Magnolia	Three Oaks	49128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Priscilla	Brown	435 E. Oakwood Blvd	Chicago	60653	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

jeffrey	nixon	2726 s. windsor ave	Independence	64052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Phillips	101 Fern Ct.	Winchester	22602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DIANA	MCNAIR	14979 HAWKSMOOR RUN CIRC	Orlando	32828	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

lois	erickson	zelkova rd	Williamsburg	23185	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
sandra	walch	628 19th street	Sparks	89431	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Neel	6 Russ St	Methuen	1844	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Julia	Kaiser	3140N 90th Street	Milwaukee	53222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ms. Waltraud	Bryson	Brandy	North Lewisburg	43060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Mickenbecker	1907 Broadmoor Dr.	CHAMPAIGN	61821	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	Convery	Tallahassee	Tallahassee	32309	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Landon	Petrie	10419 Saddlebred Trail	Woodstock	60098	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	Pfeiffer	1320 Destrier St	Ranson	25438	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	McClure	1127 Shipley	Muncie	47302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Dierberger	5385 Village Meadows	Sparks	89436	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Mathis	5814 Catoctin Vista Dr	Mount Airy	21771	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janice	Reed Messier	102 Revere St	Hull	2045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carl	Smith	125 Colony Dr	Jefferson City	37760	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Svensson	flygfaltsvagen 9		69137	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Harla	Partridge	4214 13th Ave NW,Rochester, MN	Rochester	55901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Catherine	Shaw	2720 NW 58 PL	Oklahoma City	73112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Chase	2558 Beacon Street	Saint Paul	55113	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cherlynn	Williams	1210 Stoneridge LN	Rocky Mount	27804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Eustis	1326 Northview Road	Baltimore	21218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paula	Kelly	9 Sunnyside Park	Saugus	1906	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Eric	Gusukuma	2710A Nakookoo St.	Honolulu	96826	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gerald	Schweitzer	244 Huckleberry CT.	Wexford	15090	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Wagner	169 Peterson Blvd	Woodbury	8096	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Neva	Allen	43 Union St.	Belfast	4915	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doris	Fischer	106 Checkerberry Rd.	Baden	15005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Sunderland	1145 W Monroe Apt A, Springfield, IL	Springfield	62704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steven	Schilling	3255 S University Dr. Apt. D	Fort Worth	76109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Cully	4 Patriot Ln	Westford	1886	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Damon	Hickey	301 Miller Lake Rd.	Wooster	44691	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carl	Hoynoski	21988 Cypress Drive 43G	Boca Raton	33433	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ted	Leisenring	2575 grubb mill rd	Berwyn	19312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bert	Zimmer	po box 229	Meadow Lands	15347	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brian	Sinykin	10100 39th Avenue N.	Minneapolis	55441	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Giovanni	Gagliardi	95 emerson st	Kingston	12401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pia	Vartabedian	161 Holland St.	Cranston	2920	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steven	Hernandez	216 W 20th ave	Wildwood	8260	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Loveland	2601 wilson	Claymont	19703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patience	Asgill	4227 Bristle Cone Way	Port Orange	32129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Snyder	2780 Primrose Ln N	York	17404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diann	Metzkow	130 Shore Drive	New Windsor	12553	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dean	Schramm	121 7TH LN	Key Largo	33037	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

D	Freedman	7449 Ben Hur St	Pittsburgh	15208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Dodge	11 Lupine Ct	YARMOUTH	4096	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ted	Chagaris	24 Ridge Rd	Santa Fe	87505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Teresa	Matheny	8482 Blazing Star Ct.	JACKSONVILLE	32210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kurt	Kimber	4811 35th Ave S	Minneapolis	55417	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
tara	murray	33 christine street	Worcester	1606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Greg	Terhune	1032 Mound St	CINCINNATI	45203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martin	Lombard	3500 Fontaine St.	Plano	75075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Scala	5 kenilworth rd	Mineola	11501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Darlene	Prescott	323 Providence Road	Athens	30606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Ciocan	1602 Thore Rd	Pinnacle	27043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Andres	4074 Council Crest Cir	Battle Creek	49014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Mansur	Plover, WI	Plover	54467	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Families struggling with bills need a lower priced option than a $70 per month TV bill. With digital TV most in my area (Stevens Point, WI) no longer can receive local channels via any antennae.
Michael	Semprebon	35 Cobblestone Rd.	Pittsburg	3592	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hank	Mathieu	9North Lane, Hadley, Ma.	Hadley	1035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Candice	Eye	2383 N Sunshine Path	Crystal River	34428	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lawrence	Mcbee	4704 Deer Valley	RICHARDSON	75082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	madden	850 Piedmont ave, Unit 2510	Atlanta	30308	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Glassner	9246 Menard Ave.	Morton Grove	60053	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jenirose	Friedkin	14 Harry Carter ln. Blue hill. Me	Blue Hill	4614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carl	Cloutier	431 Church Road	Colchester	5446	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dorothea	Vecchiotti	27 Forbush Rd	DUBLIN	3444	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Claudia	Binns	125 Melody Dr.	Attleboro	2703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Craig	Russell	1220 University Ave	San Jose	95126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anne	Wahl	304 art Bryan dr	Asheboro	27203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ron	onyett	941 pleasant run rd	Smyrna	37167	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vee	Johnson	6806 Greenhurst	Houston	77091	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

anne	kraul	1124 SW stephenson ct	Portland	97219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Magazine	5 brookcrest ct Rockville md	Potomac	20854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Billi	80 Jasmine	Buffalo	14224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Autumn	Salsberry	17302 6th AVE E	Spanaway	98387	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rick	Brock	2201 Rockbrock Dr.	Lewisville	75067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Davis	651 Quarry St. Apt 115	BRISTOL	24201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Eugene	Bradford	3770 Lake Forest Dr	Sterling Heights	48314	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Powe	7126 Rolling Bend Rd apt A	Windsor Mill	21244	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
C.	Kasey	9317 Guenevere Pl.	Mechanicsville	23116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Spencer	Dean	5089 West 73rd Avenue	WESTMINSTER	80030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Bell	5517 Hardwood Road	Knoxville	37918	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
harold	salkin	46 southlake drive	Palm Coast	32137	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Suzanna	Davis	1220 woodrow lane	medford	97504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Betty	Trayner	14511 Beauly Circle	Hudson	34667	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julia	Wilson	966 east 94 st., brooklyn	Brooklyn	11236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Tice	3023 Richfield Drive	Columbia	29201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Justin	Kay	32 16th ave NE	Minneapolis	55413	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Penn	Durr	7775 Harvard	Denver	80231	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deb	Williams	350 Main St.	Westbrook	4092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Suchomel	40	Morris Plains	7950	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
roger	wadell	204 ridgewood circle	Lake Ariel	18436	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Thomson	18 Gannett Road, Natick MA	Natick	1760	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vicki	Wilson	1550 Rory Lane #89	Simi Valley	93063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Harris	218 WHC Dr.	Simpsonville	29680	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tim	Walker	2884 Plaza Terrace Dr	Orlando	32803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rebecca	Morgan	10600 Reagans Run Dr	Clermont	34711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Portia	Armstrong	1356 Park Place	Brooklyn	11213	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

stan	delozier	1601 sunrise drive	Maryville	37803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
stacie	reichard	144 southfork drive	Woodstock	30189	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rob	Barnes	na	Junction City	96048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

lynn	learch	17285 tamara lane	Watsonville	95076	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Thoune	Stephenson, MI	Stephenson	49887	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Denise	Nolden	1st st sw	rice	56367	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

b	elder	17 story street	Brooklyn	11218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Knarr	1408 E. Market St	Indianapolis	46201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bernie	Quiros	8904 turner dr	Apex	27539	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Clifford	Sanford	18306 Charter Oaks Dr	Davison	48423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Thoune	Stephenson, MI	Stephenson	49887	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
CHERYL	MCDONALD	332 Wilson St	Rhinelander	54501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Andrew	Brought	45 Brought Farm Drive, Lewistown PA	Lewistown	17044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Strickland	3918 Belvoir Park Dr	Katy	77450	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Elloian	312 douglas av	Waukegan	60085	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Veronica	Mayer	1955 Midland Rd	Dundalk	21222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Habermann	34 Jefferson Street	New Hyde Park	11040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marc	bennett	695 old buffalo Grove Rd Wheeling, Illinois	Wheeling	60090	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alexander	Gaya	1550 Dana Avenue	PALO ALTO	94303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Schultz	3912 chestnut ridge loop	Columbus	43230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stuart	Schreiber	2306 Stirrup Dr	Round Rock	78681	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

walterbanze	banze	715moonstoner	Allison Park	15101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Roy	3075 Falcon Trail	COOKEVILLE	38506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Mansfield	5 Turkey Hill Rd., Newburyport, Mass.	Newburyport	1950	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gloria	Whitfield	1655 McGill Ave	Mobile	36604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Denniston	416 Bidwell Ave., Waukesha, Wisc.	Waukesha	53188	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rita	Bradley	500 Pilgrim Court	Johnson City	37601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gail	Stevens	324 Fallbrook Street	Cambria	93428	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
maurice	goodrich	170 braxton drive	Buchanan	24066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Ward	360 Furman St	Brooklyn	11201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Claudia	Ramirez	875 County Road 6610	Devine	78016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dora	Timblin	171 Womack Rd	Oldtown	83822	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
carl	forde	9501 sunrise lakes blvd	Fort Lauderdale	33322	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

a	mogavero	schenectady	Schenectady	12306	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Adrian	Maries	5813 Bartlett St.	Pittsburgh	15217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeffrey	Jessup	8994 Mahon Drive	Reno	89506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Webster	7 Johnson Lane	OXFORD	1540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Shoop	1900 Leisure Lane	Salt Lake City	84129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Schroeder	6230 Pockliington Road	Britton	49229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ken	Bacher	9220 W. 104th Pl.	Broomfield	80021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	LeMoine	13689 Libra Ct	Lone Tree	80124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gregory	Gutierrez	1481 Caminito Padova	Chula Vista	91915	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edward	Hickey	34 Longenecker Road	Lititz	17543	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Lenkiewicz	319 8th Ave	New Glarus	53574	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
scott	guthre	5126 merritt re	Ypsilanti	48197	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dee	Maffia	696 county route 1	Pine Island	10969	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edwin	Guzman	1970 E. Tremont Avenue	Bronx	10462	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	Campbell	8460 NW Mitchell Dr	Corvallis	97330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Maurine	Ripple	120 Church Road	Lititz	17543	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Sieber	1111	Bronx	10465	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edwin	Guzman	1970 E. Tremont Avenue	Bronx	10462	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

DIANNE	ANDERSON	469 Ridge Lane	Springfield	19064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jon	Marciniak	w9158 deer rd.	CASCADE	53011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alexander	Clayton	100 Lily Turf Cove	Georgetown	78626	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Veronica	Aguirre	4573 Carpinteria avenue	Carpinteria	93013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eyas	Hattab	350 w 11th	Carmel	46032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LuAnna	Peck	1658 N Charles St	Wichita	67203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

chris	safos	pob 748		34441	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
rodger	irey	182 claude spillers rd	Leesville	71446	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pam	Overton	3147 Monroe St	Dearborn	48124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Judith	Schneider	131 West 24 Street	New York	10011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
louise	malone	3001 Hilo ct.	Louisville	40220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Hoerr	17747 Alacran Ct	San Diego	92127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kristen	Humphrey	17 Thornhill Road	Lutherville Timonium	21093	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Grace	Wong	7804 Pembroke Rd.	HOLLYWOOD	33023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew-Wood	:Arnold	4623 Philco Drive	Austin	78745	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diane	Therrien	824 Little City Road	Higganum	6441	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Williams	42 Carters Bridge Rd	Plymouth	2360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Juan	Zamarripa	850 merwin st.	Los Angeles	90026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Debra	Ware	342 W00drow St	Fort Walton Beach	32547	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	Thompson	16700 W Salentine Dr	NEW BERLIN	53151	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lowell	Smith	4019 Dogberry Ln	Fairfax	22033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

a	c	33 S	Ringwood	7456	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stew	Day	4568		20000	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Feeger	3611 Lionheart Way	Salt Lake City	84119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mukund	Sharma	new delhi		110029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Thomas	4214 milo	Carrollton	44615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Walker	Woodland Dr.	Contoocook	3229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Trish	Kendall	69 Pelley	Gardner	1440	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Floyd	Tolar	52 Hillside Village	Ware	1082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheri	Gaspero	PO Box 296	Monee	60449	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. When did corporate monsters get the right to take away the rights of others called free enterprise?

Barbara	Williams	1710 CROSS POINT RD	McKinney	75070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brad	Dilleree	729 pine ave nw	Grand Rapids	49504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Juanita	Moses	12019 Bexley Court	Henrico	23233	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Trisha	Knaub	609 Otter Way	Oswego	60543	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kelli	Brannon	507 Haw Creek Mews Drive	Asheville	28805	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ron	Rutzinski	N64 W24375 Ivy Ave #10	SUSSEX	53089	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lena	Tuthill	2511 Luther Road 623	Punta Gorda	33983	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse choices.Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Jones	630 Smith Ellis Rd	Hilham	38568	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Norm	Wilkinson	8315 California Ave	Whittier	90605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Williams	1710 CROSS POINT RD	McKinney	75070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jon	Tardiff	PO Box 247	North Plains	97133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Simard	27 Circle Drive	Burlington	6013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Kobiela	1230 COBBS ST	Drexel Hill	19026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	McClendon	1006 Joseph	Ocean Springs	39564	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
p	m	Moline	Moline	61265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	Timm	10100 Emerald Dr.	Brooklyn	49230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eugene	Flannery	4223 Leeper Street	CINCINNATI	45223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
sheila	pryor	1837 e kensington ave	Salt Lake City	84108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

frederic	labarthe	10 allee de la touraque	New Haven	6520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LuAnna	Peck	1658 N Charles St	Wichita	67203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jody	Mckenzie	9037 SW Cedarwood Ln	PORTLAND	97225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

steven	morales	5382 shingle creek dr	Orlando	32821	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Johnny	Kaczmarek	8414 San Carlos dr	San Diego	92119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Estep	879 Fowler Rd	West Halifax	5358	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Juanita	Early	4946 National St.	Philadelphia	19135	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Corrigan	8085 Herder Road	Blossvale	13308	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Arline	Ostolaza	6559 Windham Avenue	Alexandria	22315	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leslie	Sutliff	9629 S BLAIR RD	ASHLEY	48806	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gayle	Ropp	1101 Arlington Ridge Rd., S.	Arlington	22202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dawn	Stanko	9828 Concord Rd	Dublin	43017	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. The programming has become more and more negative, full of violence, reality shows with no entertainment value, and old movies that have been played a million times. I love old movies but how many times can one watch Miss Congeniality. I pay for cable and yet I am subject to 20 minutes of ads per hour show. I end up falling asleep because I have seen the same ads hundreds of time. It must mean the cost of these ads must be so high because the run them to death. The network news is so sensored that they have given Donald Trump almost 2 Billion in free air time, and other candidates less than an hour. I am not sure why as a Taxpayer I should be subsidizing networks and cont
Lisa	Barbeau	15408 Clover Ridge Drive	Chesterfield	63017	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tracy	Bower	320 Winger Alley	Montoursville	17754	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Derek	Wszelaki	354 Cleveland	Hasbrouck Heights	7604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anton	Krycuk	5904 Otter Ridge Circle	SAINT PAUL	55110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Turner	258 Powder Spring Rd	Groton	5046	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Mizak	3030 Charles st	Trenton	48183	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilyn	Injeyan	17950 Gallineta street	Rowland Heights	91748	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeanne	Ayaz	703 N New Haven Ave	Tulsa	74115	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
dottie	pickering	26 swan drive	Nottingham	3290	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeffrey	Coleman	1612 3rd Street Cir E	Palmetto	34221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dave	Dombroski	519 Long Point	Chesapeake	23322	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jeaneine	granson	910 E. 6th St	Port Angeles	98362	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
MJ	Diehl	13 Parkwoood	Aliso Viejo	92656	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Calabrese	1601 Swan Rd. Apt 9	De Pere	54115	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Cunningham	405 Henredon Hill	Peachtree City	30269	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Francoise	Rothstein		Mill Valley	94941	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Darlene	Morris	58975 Carmelita Circle	Yucca Valley	92284	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kaydi	Farrar	213 South Wilson Street	Olney	62450	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Amy	Dombek	26 Westview Dr	East Hartford	6118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeanette	Briscoe	6012 Capri	Cincinnati	45224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dr Ray	Launier	xxx Arroyo Seco	Santa Cruz	95060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Carnicelli	50 Wykagyl Terrace	NEW ROCHELLE	10804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Yoshiko	Tsunehara	20232 Bancroft Circle	Huntington Beach	92646	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katherine	Pierce	320 Madison NE	Albuquerque	87108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alison	Rutz	40 West Crest Dr	Rochester	14606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mel	Lacayo	13700 sw 62 st	Miami	33183	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alice	Timmons	264 Davis st	Greenfield	1301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
chris	Paterson	PO Box 409	Taftsville	5073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Toland	10235 Floralita ave	Sunland	91040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margo	Aronoff	1017 Dakota St. SE	Albuquerque	87108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrea	Bonette	17 Ridge Road	Hopewell	8525	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Milly	Olifent	34sdfgyhj	Schenectady	12345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Arky	487 Tenth Street	Brooklyn	11215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roger	Gilbertson	2718 Wheatland Drive	Fargo	58103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kari	Davis	1203 Hayden Avenue	Altoona	54720	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Walton	2902 Bay Blvd. N.E.	Palm Bay	32905	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ivan	Marroquin	6214 St Rosalia Dr	Spring	77379	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shirley	Mitchell	8019 Splitrail Ct	Arlington	76002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Erin	Sanchez	5130 preferred place	Hilliard	43026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Faria	26 goulart ave bristol ri	Bristol	2809	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Noemi	Bancroft	517 Trinidad Blvd.	Williamstown	8094	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sylvia	Griggs	757 Tofflemire Drive	Lafayette	94549	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Benjamin	Shaw	2508 Butler National Dr	Pflugerville	78660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Priscilla	Labranche	Redden street	Dover	3820	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Freed	2552 Garfield Ave	Minneapolis	55405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Faria	26 goulart ave bristol ri	Bristol	2809	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Marion	3335 63rd Sq	Vero Beach	32966	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matt	Loper	38 Mark Drive	TIVERTON	2878	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Temple	945 Locust Ave	Charlottesville	22901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Emran	Ismail	3114 Richland Spring Ln	Sugar Land	77479	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ADRIAN	LATTERELL	1111 SHADY LN N	Keller	76248	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Letia	Gale	2853 SW 129th Ave	Hollywood	33027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jean	Erickson	123 7th st.	Mc Gregor	52157	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matt	Newman	6202 W 5th Pl	Denver	80226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martin	Deboer	13000 heiden cir	Lake Bluff	60044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

stanley	Perry	1030 Little Rock Rd.	Marion	36756	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Greiner	Neapolitan Way	Naples	34103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Liliya	Vansovich	1385 Oshtemo Ridge Trl.	Kalamazoo	49009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Yoshiko	Tsunehara	20232 Bancroft Circle	Huntington Beach	92646	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susana	Rizo	3623 Koskela dr	Sparks	89431	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jan	ebersole	26777 christy dr	New Baltimore	48051	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stan	Kaluzny	926 Cedargate	Waterford	48328	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Des Fosses	330 Indian Springs Road	Williamsburg	23185	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Mackler	214 Prospect St.	Blacksburg	24060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

ray	castellane	95 pristine place	Sewell	8080	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rena	Massey	4200 62nd Avenue North #243	Pinellas Park	33781	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ruth	Ann	438 West 37th Street 5B	New York	10018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edward	Goodling	224 Aspen Lane	LITITZ	17543	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dan	Picardi	535 Pajaro Street	SALINAS	93901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jan	van Heurck	PO Box 1215	Madison	6443	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rafael	Concepcion	1695 madison avenue apt 3g	New York	10029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
KEITH	STONE	79 FAIRVIEW STREET	Fitchburg	1420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patti	Gouker	10501 Rockcliff Ct. NW Albquerque NM	Albuquerque	87115	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shekinah	Filgo	13669 acon	Pine Bluffs	82082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
dagmar	heller	21 B Foxwood Dr	Morris Plains	7950	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jackie	Candela	5001 Michael Dr	Godfrey	62035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

michael	coffey	3737 east beck st. Inverness , FL	Inverness	34453	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Monte	Wayne	724 Dennison Ave.	Dayton	45417	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	Kraai	197 Robinson Drive	Tustin	92782	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

PATRICK	WYATT	2435 PLEASANT COLONY DR	Lewis Center	43035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janice	Reed	126 E Neosho	Granby	64844	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Pineiro	744 Broad Street	Augusta	30901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Andria	Chin	100 Beekman Street	New York	10038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
nona	watt	1305 kirkwood dr #101	Fort Collins	80525	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martha	Cook	209 Stewarts Lndg	Boiling Springs	29316	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Claude	McCALL	47 Yow Drive	SWANNANOA	28778	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Trainor	1410 westchester dr n	West Palm Beach	33417	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
HEATHER	KALLINGER	3204 S Sterling ave	Independence	64052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brian	Pickering	21409 SE 19th St	SAMMAMISH	98075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Jones	75 Merganser Dr	Milford	19963	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paula	Mannell	859 Gapter Road	Boulder	80303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Daniel T.	Songer	1483 Charter	Lincoln Park	48146	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
steven	kaplan	510 Center st	Barrington	8007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Botelho	10 Kane St	Fairhaven	2719	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Dibattista	1809 tano	Mount Prospect	60056	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Connie	Charlet	Jane Marie street	Zachary	70791	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Calloway	68 Dillingham Rd.	Asheville	28805	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Aneel	Maan	3192 Alpine Drive	Fremont	94555	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Cueva	4255 Wesley Terrace	Schiller Park	60176	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jane	Dooley	2416 Riverlawn	Wichita	67204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joshua	Rockley	1621 S 77TH ST	Milwaukee	53214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Whitson	645 90th Street ocean	Marathon	33050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marie	Quinn	1530 s.quivas	Denver	80223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sarah	P	12013 Apple Knoll Ct	Gaithersburg	20878	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Myles	Robertson	2024 Ted Hines Dr.	Tallahassee	32308	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sheila	Farmer	4059 Buttonwood Dr	Mount Joy	17552	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Douglas	Cole	3957 12th Avenue South	Minneapolis	55407	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Snell	886 Thomas Rd	Lexington	27295	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	balsai	350 E. Willow Grove Ave.	Philadelphia	19118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michelle	Thompson	708 26th ave s	North Myrtle Beach	29582	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carla	Rothman	18 Silverstone Circle	Savannah	31406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Virjeana	Brown	720 Northern Pacific Ave.	BELGRADE	59714	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nathan	Griffin	1418 Conlyn St	Philadelphia	19141	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Walmsley	30 Lawrence Street #1	Boston	2116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marie	Crow	119 Balmoral Way	Greenwood	46143	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Luther	PO Box 522	White Salmon	98672	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kim	Falcone	50 Tuckertown Road	Wakefield	2879	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jessica	Goldwater	901 Satellite View	Round Rock	78665	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diane	Linberg	190 Round Key Circle	Naples	34112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	McCaulley	530 Derry Lane	Blairsville	15717	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Chilcoat	PO BOX 1176, BIG BEAR LAKE, CA	Big Bear Lake	92315	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Carvalho	12 Ansel ave	Providence	2907	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
marie	clark	1445 coburn dr	Tarpon Springs	34689	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darrel	Gebert	820 Jade Drive	O'Fallon	62269	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sue	Nearing	5172 Hardy Rd.	Vassar	48768	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Nelson	29015 Taylor St	Saint Clair Shores	48081	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Brown		Albuquerque	87112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Feeser	1150 SCHUYLKILL MT. RD.	Schuylkill Haven	17972	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
suzy	katsuda	3639 latrobe st	LOS ANGELES	90031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Trevor	McCormick	8286 Lancaster Dr, #137	Rohnert Park	94928	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pat	Lucchesi	59 Lavender Lane	Eustis	32726	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rochelle	Chambless	24 Carriage Drive	Chelmsford	1824	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
MARTIN	WUENSCHER	3205BRISTOL HALL Dr	Bridgeton	63044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

dan	volpatti	2455 kings lane	Pittsburgh	15241	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Troy	Jostad	216 Elm St.	ONALASKA	54650	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jacqueline	Ferguson	478 E Altamonte Dr	Altamonte Springs	32701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cynthia	Ballard	1124 Ortman Rd	MARQUETTE	49855	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Johnson	2622 Old Welsh Road	Willow Grove	19090	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cee	Archambt	9903 santa monica bl 432	Beverly Hills	90212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Eduardo	Davis	3002 Moonstone circle	Houston	77018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis L	Green	Post office Box,671, Church Street Station	New York	10008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Gayer	131 E. Broad St.	Athens	30601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

A	K	no	Manteca	95337	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Thibodeau	920 Fresno st	ELGIN	97827	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marion	Exum	119 68th Place	CAPITOL HEIGHTS	20743	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chuck	Welch	11170 Burland Dr		800403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Cook	29 Bungalow Ave	SAN RAFAEL	94901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Mayerl	W63 N242 Fairfield St, Cedarburg,Wi	Cedarburg	53012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ian	Turner	955 43rd Ave., #112 sacramento ,ca	Sacramento	95831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
roger	browning	117 easy hollow		25591	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DANNY	SHELLEY	505 SW 139th AVE	Beaverton	97006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Boris	Pelakh	41 9th Terrace	Cocoa Beach	32931	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Cammareri	389 Rianna Woods Dr	Dale	78616	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Redic	361 Halsted St.	EAST ORANGE	7018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandra	Thorne	2 Mirick Lane	Wilbraham	1095	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
irma	polney	155 broad st/ apt.#44	Flemington	8822	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Stuart	4215 SE 30th ave	Portland	97202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

GLENN	JONES	BOX 331	Drayton	29333	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
wayne	kostamo	17116 maki rd. pelkie mi	Pelkie	49958	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ray	Sysko	120 kingston street	Boston	2111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

theron	mote	2405 desert sparrow	North Las Vegas	89084	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ellen	Cohen	82 Greenfield Ave.	ARDMORE	19003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Popovic	26765 village lanr	Olmsted Falls	44138	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ronald	DeGolier	3524 7th Ave. #338	Kenosha	53140	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeffrey	Smisek	1762 Oakdale Ave	Saint Paul	55118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Anderson	4570 Clinton Dr.	Clarkston	48346	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Hartman	1704 Nancy Beth Drive	Champaign	61822	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Auston	710 W BRYANT ST	Nixa	65714	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Perry	11915 Railroad Avenue	Cordova	21625	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Myrna	Wheatman	9455 SW 92 ST	Miami	33176	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stanley	Becker	370 West Broadway	Long Beach	11561	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Kamarainen	7417 S Lake Bluff 0.5 Dr	Gladstone	49837	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

alpheus	Jessup	279 Sylvan Way	REDWOOD CITY	94062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clarence	Hornung	8406 Siesta Way	Louisville	40219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Winderman	95 Ostend Rd	Island Park	11558	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Eliza	Karpook	19808 NW 262nd Ave	High Springs	32643	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
carolyn	wright	52 Crescent Road	Greenbelt	20770	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Flora	Vahdati	7356 Shoup Ave	West Hills	91307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Sikorski	107 Milta Lane	Kissimmee	34743	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
leonard	burke	409 gorwin dr	Hanson	2341	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Beaupre	1714 N. McCadden Place #3422	Los Angeles	90028	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marilyn	Treuil	16134 Batavia Avenue	Baton Rouge	70817	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margo	Hans	617 Adams St	Klamath Falls	97601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jay	Moody	Lancaster, Ma	Lancaster	1523	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Josì©	Laboy	why do you need to know	Ponce	716	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Taylor	46 Williamstowne Ct, Apt 12	Buffalo	14227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Delaney	70 Eden Road	Rockport	1966	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Harriet	Dresing	217 S 2ND Street	Wilmington	28401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Ovesen	691 Hyde park Ave Roslindale	Roslindale	2131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Tini	P.O.Box 148	Lakeville	55044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Daniel	Boyd	69442 Vista Montana Ct.	Cathedral City	92234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marianne	Shamma	3344 Inglewood bl	Los Angeles	90066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elaine	Ragsdale	3040 Mountain Lion Dr. Apt. 103	Loveland	80537	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jessica	Rathbun	2306 Belaire Dr	Lansing	48911	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Bottoms	601 Castalia St.	Bellevue	44811	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
thomas	potts	801 walavista ave Oakland ca	Oakland	94610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sue	Holland	1855 Lankcashire Ct	Rockledge	32955	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Polis	1	Fontana	92336	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Gogolin	614 W. Park Dr.	Kankakee	60901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Moss	2223 24TH ST.	SANTA MONICA	90405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Bachmann	1302 Greenacre Dr	Cambridge	43725	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mitch	Cohen	Berkeley, CA	BERKELEY	94709	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robin	Menken	1208 N Hilldale Ave	West Hollywood	90069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	Bontempo	5594 Aspen Ridge Circle	Delray Beach	33484	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	Maurice	1308 Northbluff Dr	Anchorage	99501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lynn	Hastings	1090 CALLE RUIZ	Thousand Oaks	91360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Watson	111 Springhill Dr.	Rio Vista	94571	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Warren	512 E Murray St	Rawlins	82301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lisa	Davis	4388 SE Weedman St	Portland	97222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
carol	yastrov	13081 palomar	Santa Ana	92705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terry	Walker	3139 WOLVERINE	Troy	48083	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lana	Garland	3312 Powers Ln	Durham	27712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ruth	belonsky	4585 w. 133 st	Hawthorne	90250	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
M J	Strimbu	5476 S Harper Ave	Chicago	60615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Marsh	5204 Collingswood Dr	Raleigh	27609	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leon	N.Zoghlin	1132 West Ave.Hilton NY	Hilton	14468	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Shields	2368 13th St.	Cuyahoga Falls	44223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Voyen	516 Scenic Dr	Santa Barbara	93103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Wilkison	16 N. Trumbull Circle	Saint Charles	63301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pat	Turney	4106 Amyx Ct	HAYWARD	94542	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Piszczek	2100 Doral Court	OXNARD	93036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Simmers	3737 RIDGEWAY DR	Boulder	80301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carmen	Vitanza	2521 Irvington Rd	Drexel Hill	19026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	Teeple	97 Shore Ave.	MANAHAWKIN	8050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sheila	Pearson	111 Price Ct., Darlington, SC	Darlington	29532	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alexandra	Neal	317 Bass Rd	Chattanooga	37421	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Frank	Ruiz	7 Oakmont Ave	Selden	11784	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jodi	Grenko	305 Jefferson St	Beaver Dam	53916	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Carter	5529 S. Village Dr.	Roanoke	24018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edward H.	Straub	200 East Avenue R 12103	Palmdale	93550	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bruce	Franklin	214 Magnolia Dr.	Hopkinsville	42240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Walz	1226 Redwood View Dr	Pomona	91766	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

monroe	copeland	734 w. aloe place	Chandler	85248	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Gary	119 W 131st St	New York	10027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Simon	Keochakian	76 Shays Street	Amherst	1002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephen	Preston	2000 New River Inlet Rd Unit3206	Sneads Ferry	28460	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katherine	Bronsdon	P.O. Box 3100	Pawtucket	2861	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sondra	Stevens	1160 State Route 1458	Flatwoods	41139	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Burry	P.O.Box 996	New Town	58763	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Gauntt	Leeland dr	Bensalem	19020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Morgan	Pevehouse	2904 Hilltop Ave	Muskogee	74403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carla	Adams	291 Prairie Creek Ct	Kechi	67067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Morgan	Mayer	2234 Old Trail	Avon	81620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christian	McCarty	10300 Des Moines Memorial Dr S Apt 308	Seattle	98168	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brandon	Diaz	7088 RPO Way	NEW BRUNSWICK	8901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rose	Thomas	N27w26446 Christian Ct W	Pewaukee	53072	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenn	Lambert	1535 Winding Trail	Springfield	45503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Juliana	Ley	2153 Riverside Dr.	Sault Sainte Marie	49783	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edward	Grastorf	1768 Palisades Drive	Pacific Palisades	90272	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bradley	Wright	15195 NW Channa Dr	Portland	97229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	Van Der Merwe	1585 S DENVER ST	Salt Lake City	84115	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Greif	2245 Ocean Parkway	Brooklyn	11223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Minter	79 East Dorsey Ln Poughkeeipse N.Y.	Poughkeepsie	12601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Whetzal	8108 S. Blucksberg Dr.	Sturgis	57785	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Greif	2245 Ocean Parkway	Brooklyn	11223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dan	Kemmerer	Main St	Thousand Oaks	91360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charlotte	Timme	4686 Goodnight Av	Pueblo	81005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sonja	Williamson	2889 Brooks Ridge Dr	SUN PRAIRIE	53590	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alexandra	Cutler-Fetkewicz	1815 Frankford Ave	Philadelphia	19125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Young	P O Box 1090	Red Bluff	96080	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frances M	Kuffel	2200 Great Northern Ave Apt M15	Missoula	59808	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Helen	Love	830 Blue Jay Lane	Mishawaka	46545	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joseph	F	1965 Allan Ave , A 104	Yorktown Heights	10598	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marni	Adams	3830 Ivy st.	East Chicago	46312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martina	Grosse	Hallesche Strasse 1		1127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

colleen	callea	8571 george	Center Line	48015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Connie	Maynard	5208 Pacific Opal Ave	Las Vegas	89131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marni	Ebersole	Congress st	Saratoga Springs	12866	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tammy	Downing	1230 E Wisconsin Ave	Little Chute	54140	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	White	1403 Ransco Rd	Richmond	23235	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Baffa	3526 Clinton Ave	Berwyn	60402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Arthur	Stern	675 Sonoma St	Richmond	94805	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Heather	Hendel	4510 Waha Pl	Haiku	96708	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dana	Delaney	2315 Albion St	Denver	80207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Detato	564 Evansville Rd	Brownington	5860	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ke	Owens	4209 S Vincennes Ave	Chicago	60653	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia	McCloud	5929 N 67 St	Milwaukee	53218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Bridges	606 Saint Sebastian Ct.	Abingdon	21009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. WE ARE BEING FORCED TO PAY HIGH PRICES JUST TO WATCH TV A LOT OF PEOPLE CANT AFFORD THE PRICES OBAMA PUSHED THIS THROUGH TELL HIM TO PA FOR IT donna	salogar	270 E. Marshall St.	Ferndale	48220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	Cappello	420 3 Mile Road	Racine	53402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Judy	Dombrowski	130 Dartmouth Street	Boston	2116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Louis	Ostrach	9303 Chanute Drive Bethesda	Bethesda	20814	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nina	Garfinkel	Woodmere	WOODMERE	11598	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elizabeth	Brunelle	934 Denver St	Salt Lake City	84111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shel	Grove	6613 31st Street, NW	WASHINGTON	20015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
R Dean	Barr	152 E Main St	Abingdon	24210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

brenda	mack	12705 El Camino Real	Atascadero	93422	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Selvage	241 S. 49th St. Apt 602	Philadelphia	19139	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nico	Scott	510 Dylan Drive	Cogan Station	17728	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peter	B	135 William St. 7B	New York	10038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nick	Metallo	1230 brandywibe	Toms River	8753	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jimmy	Childs	7040 SW Royal Oak Ct	Portland	97223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Garner	7380 N State Road 267	Brownsburg	46112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Wells	431 Main Street	Oneonta	13820	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joyce	Grangent	3120 Abbey Dr SW	Atlanta	30331	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

sonia	aguirre	po box 771002	Miami	33177	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Callahan	1409 fox st	Bozeman	59715	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Angela	Digmann	2420 W 26th St	Appleton	54914	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Rainey	1180 Desert Dawn Drive	Rio Rico	85648	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ruby	Fleet	1406 Pecan Creek Dr	Garland	75044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	McLaughlin	4319 N Highland Ave	Tacoma	98407	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Filling	39 Oceanview Ave., Half Moon Bay, CA	Half Moon Bay	94019	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Williams	37 Wyndham Landing	Danielson	6239	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendy	Stevens	7024 Hidden Creek Dr	Charlotte	28214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chrys	Puryear	6557 Medinah Lane	Alexandria	22312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Don	Stewart	215 Silk Drive	Reading	19611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Wilson	120 Emerald Forest St Unit 202	Las Vegas	89145	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Eric	Evensen	1515 Huntingon Lane #127	Rockledge	32955	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ginger	Arnold	701 E Hampden Ave, Ste 415	Englewood	80113	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gordon	Corkrum	2815 Boylston Ave E #204	Seattle	98102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sally	Wright	2500 Sawmill Rd Apt 1512	Santa Fe	87505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Beeman	16700 old national pike	Frostburg	21532	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matt	Meyer	2623 n. 36th st	Sheboygan	53083	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Monique	Kourdae	10517 Malaguena Ln NE	Albuquerque	87111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Ditkowsky	2725 Alsion Lane	Wilmette	60091	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kurt	Fillmore	617 Maria Drive	Petaluma	94954	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Mills	296 Toni St	Bourbonnais	60914	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roe	Croes	11102 Spear Oak Cv	Austin	78759	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Fratini	617 Sara Lane	Naperville	60565	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Blom	1120 BUDD AVE	Prosser	99350	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Sherrell	7620 Ash St	Grand Ronde	97347	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leslie	Elston	P.O. Box 485, 215 W. Washington St.	Wheatland	52777	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Evelyn	Verrill	1155 W Fawn Lane	PRESCOTT	86305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peggy	Binnion	1475 Bellus Road	Hinckley	44233	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bethany	Schulze	P.O. Box 8043	SANTA CRUZ	95061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ralph	Vazquez	10916 S. Avenue O	CHICAGO	60617	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
p	forbes	1009	Albuquerque	87123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darlene	jones	510 Primrose LN S E	Olympia	98501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

jude	ferraro	Longwood road	Kennett Square	19348	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Vignari	6911 nw 112th way	Pompano Beach	33076	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Lepera	105 Franklin St	WATERTOWN	2472	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

EJ	Frost	3248 US Rte 7	PITTSFORD	5763	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Ortega	419 s 8th ave	Brighton	80601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	Klugman	4437 Mission Ave	Oceanside	92057	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Freiband	16 Bettina Court	Hampton Bays	11946	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Dunn	20000 Dodd Ave	Rehoboth Beach	19971	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Micki	Allyn	39 Wall Street	Gouverneur	13642	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Brown	230 Cherry Street	Lodi	95240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephanie	Mullany	12272 declaration ave	Chester	23836	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ed	Boyd	Heather Hills	Oak Ridge	7438	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cheryl	Conway	12850 W Segovia Dr	Litchfield Park	85340	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peggy	Drake	175 Summit Drive	Battle Creek	49015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edwin	Jimenez	1916 Ave K	Brooklyn	11230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Elsner	1367 Round Lake Road	GREENWOOD	46143	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ed	Boyd	Heather Hills	Oak Ridge	7438	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edwin	Benson	14851 BLUFF RD	Summerdale	36580	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

S	Engel	5219 caversham	Houston	77096	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dora	Ayala Castro	4700 Clair Del Ave #609	Long Beach	90807	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wayne	Carrara	280 Summer Street	Boston	2210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lenore	Beck	1729 Blair Castle Circle	Ruskin	33570	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bruce	Amsel	1628 Roselawn Rd	CLEVELAND	44124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Craig	Courtney	21801 Burbank Blvd #73, Woodland Hills, CA	Woodland Hills	91367	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Mork	1013 Rhode Island Av N	Minneapolis	55427	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Victoria	McGrady	13646 Forest Rock Dr	San Antonio	78231	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Angela	Liberato	3142 Biber St.	East Lansing	48823	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Federica	Tappi	via colombo 50	New York	10129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paula	Allen	85 WATERFORD RD	Harrison	4040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
rich	oprisko	2171 broadway	Grand Junction	81507	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kim	Jordan	9018 Eagle Point Loop Rd SW	Lakewood	98498	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Sauritch	1000 Ray Costin Way Unit 111	Murrells Inlet	29576	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Phillip	Klein	1648 wexford lane	Shakopee	55379	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Martin	Schwartz	221 merry street	Madison	53704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deb	Klein	445 Shannon rd	Deerfield	60015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lori	Smith	2205 NW Cove Court	BLUE SPRINGS	64015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Timothy	Reese	1804 - 200 LN	OCEAN PARK	98640	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilyn	Marlow	17280 S, 92 E. Ave.	Bixby	74008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sheryl	Kula	32 Mechanic St.	Winchester	3470	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tom	Ryan	1101 Iroquois Avenue	Naperville	60563	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Cash	586 Opening Hill Rd	Madison	6443	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Brooks	805 E Parrish	Prairie du Chien	53821	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alicia	SalåÕå_zar	24343 Judson	San Antonio	78233	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Virginia	Hays	23 Hillandale Drive	Staunton	24401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sheri	Armendariz	660 Union St.	Encinitas	92024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dr Irene and Jonathan	Harper	3119 Traders Point Road	COUNCIL BLUFFS	51501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sissy	Orr	518 S. Massachusetts St.	Jackson	38301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Bart	169 Providence Hwy	Westwood	2090	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dan	Cush	206 Tenth St	Pittsburgh	15215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Harmon	425 S 156TH ST APT 101A	Seattle	98148	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynne	Sandy	105 Bradford Street, #2	Charleston	25301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. You MUST realize that most citizens, especially the poor and disabled, find cable and satellite services nearly impossible to afford. And there are always built-in tax increases and hidden costs.

susan	chmura	19001 schoolcraft street	Reseda	91335	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Isenberg	89 Queen Anne	Slingerlands	12159	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Coleen	Garrity	p o b 2047	San Juan Bautista	95045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Karr	19018 Jeanette St	Southfield	48075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paula	Welch	443 Genesee Street	Avon	14414	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Penelope	Navone	104 Gentle Breeze Way	Cloverdale	95425	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Caitlin	Brooks	9011 West Gull Lake Drive	RICHLAND	49083	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Macie	Schriner	402 N Jenison Ave	LANSING	48915	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendy	Jayko	10621 cottoneaster way	Parker	80134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marc	Lionetti	405 Battle Bend Blvd.	AUSTIN	78745	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
patricia	Goldweic	1600 Longvalley Rd	Glenview	60025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jamie	Jeter	921 Kingsley Drive	Machesney Park	61115	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Taylor	3 Etta Road	Billerica	1821	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Bye	2501 8 th St SW	Puyallup	98373	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ingrid	Wolf	3284 Devonwood Hills Dr NE	Grand Rapids	49525	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Magee	144 West King Street	Waynesboro	17268	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nina	Buchanan	50 Ironwood Ct Apt.D	Lafayette	47905	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Phillip	Couture	570 Crescent Lake Road	Waterford	48327	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

leonie	dobbins	919 n. easy str	Payson	85541	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Silva	5215 Silvertip Drive	San Antonio	78228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
barb	edwards	7595 NORTHSHORE DRIVE	Spicer	56288	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edwina	Caldwell	1772 Napa st	Seaside	93955	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kate	Bohn	7000-149th LN NW	Anoka	55303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sister Doris	Moore	38 Lefever Ln.	Little Rock	72227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jacqueline	Deacy	PO BOx 176	Southworth	98386	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jon	Boulton	8558 S. Lakeview Rd.	Traverse City	49684	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robby	dalling	731 Bossier St	Natchitoches	71457	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Haugland	99 Charlsie Drive	Denison	75020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patti	Wolfe	1819 Center St.	Lebanon	17042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
laura	dickey	8 cathy lane	WALDWICK	7463	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Bernardini	145 villa knoll	Sicklerville	8081	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Wharton	6708 Winterwood, Dallas TX	Dallas	75248	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dale	Koplin	111 Bayfield Ct	Lake Mills	53551	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Allison	Broesder	608 W. Redwood St	Marshall	56258	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pat	Geraghty	1304 Edgewood Dr	ALTOONA	54720	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	MacDonald	1809 Bear Mountain Rd.	Charlotte	28214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

christine	short	3207 May St	Pittsburgh	15234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thadra	Sheridan	2704 Aldrich Ave. S	MINNEAPOLIS	55408	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lauralee	Humphrey	205 Lynncrest Ct	Lutherville Timonium	21093	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Erline	Towner	49 Quarry Circle	Milford	3055	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Basil/Fried run	Lamp	2100 Lark Ct	Oviedo	32765	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynette	Smith	84th avenue	Zeeland	49464	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Wanda	Guinn	607 S Alexander Avenue	Duncanville	75137	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Mortweet	3111 College Ave	Berkeley	94705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Johson	370 Audubon	Riverside	60546	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kim	Mollin	14450 Kentfield pl	Poway	92064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jake	Jacobs	73-1165 Ahulani Street	Kailua-Kona	96740	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. YOU ARE ALL TOOLS OF THE CORPORATIONS. NO MORE MERGERS. PROTECT AND EXPAND NET NEUTRALITY.
Joan	Allen	617 16th Ave S	MYRTLE BEACH	29575	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stan	Smith	1190 High Chaparral Dr	Reno	89521	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leo	Flood	705 W Deer Street	Kountze	77625	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Santos	1625 Shadow Ln	Sparks	89434	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Politowski	247 Madrid St.	San Francisco	94112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Constance	Oliver	5432 tidewater dr. apt.n214	Norfolk	23509	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carrie	Crane	1113 S Oak Park Ave, 1S	Oak Park	60304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vincent	Rusch	1090 4th st,Schenectady	Schenectady	12303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rachel	Chapman	87-05 166th St.	Jamaica	11432	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Rogers	590 Ft. Washington Ave.	NEW YORK	10033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alyce	Taylor	4523 Elwill Dr., Hbg., PA	Harrisburg	17112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Marcoe	2120 Peach Ave NW	Olympia	98502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nina	Tatlock	1413 Beach Club	APOLLO BEACH	33572	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Julius	Edmondson	3609 BLAIR AVE	Randallstown	21133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wallace	Collins	727 E. Frank	Norman	73071	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tania	Maxfield	olympia, wa	Olympia	98502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robyn	Sperling	14874 SW 109th Ave.	Portland	97224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bruce	Atkinson	5805 N Forest Glen Avenue, Chicago, Illinois	Chicago	60646	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Erin	Stuart-Jennings	26 Edinburgh Street San Francisco CA	San Francisco	94112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janice	Dills		Spring Grove	17362	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pennee	Barresi	64 Buck Road	Lansing	14882	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lee	Karsan	2070 daniel bray hwy	Stockton	8559	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mitchell	weiner	6404 trajan dr, orangevale, ca	Orangevale	95662	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Weaver	703 E Maple St Johnson City, TN	Johnson City	37601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kyle	Lancette	526 Roland st	Chippewa Falls	54729	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Weed	PO Box 207	Ledgewood	7852	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Timothy	wood	bx 11222	Eugene	97440	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Douglas	Myers	2708 Mendonca Drive	Rancho Cordova	95670	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elizabeth	Chiodini	1458 Brookside Drive	High Ridge	63049	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Willie	Hargrove	2352 Buchanan St	Gary	46407	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
L	Williams	20337 Majestic St	Orlando	32833	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Consumers should not be held prisoner by the big cable companies

Benjamin	Luchini	1299 Arnold Palmer Court	Las Cruces	88011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
vivian	doyle	8995 Mockingbird dr.	Sanibel	33957	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Petrilla	4761 HAMER DR	Placentia	92870	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

peter	Grey	11 Prospect Street	Sherborn	1770	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charity	Lindsey	447 Newport News Ave	Hampton	23669	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Phyllis	Dobbs	205 E Court of Shorewood	Libertyville	60048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

RJ	TUCCILLO	ROUTE 219	New Hartford	6057	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brent	Cousins	7067 Hawthorn Avenue, Apt. 2	Los Angeles	90028	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Becky	Lippmann	3926 Somerset Dr NE	Albany	97322	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeff	Sickles	7 Holly Drive	Eatontown	7724	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lillian	Meek	5036 E 86th St	Cleveland	44125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marina	Martinez	1022 level creek rd	Buford	30518	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

KENNETH	CANFIELD JR	628 Stow Road	Boxborough	1719	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. I know I'm getting ripped off by Verizon but there is no viable alternative. Please allow competition.
M	Brown	751 Trail Dr	Prosper	75078	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Teresa	Ford	9391 St. Rt. 175 So.	Greenville	42345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christopher	Kirkman	49 Horseshoe Ridge Road	Sandy Hook	6482	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	McKinnon	8537 ZIRCON DR SW UNIT 71	Lakewood	98498	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Neil	Puckett	2212 Glen Vista Dr.	SPARKS	89434	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Martin	Slintak	4642 Mallards Landing	Highland	48357	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Forrest	O'Reilly	3702 228th Pl SW	Lynnwood	98036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clif	Potts	1937 W 169th St.	TOPANGA	90290	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ron	Wildt	21422 Hytrail Circle	LAKEVILLE	55044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judith	Foran	North Platte, Nebraska	North Platte	69101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Padma	C	707 Continental circle	Mountain View	94040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Matt	Chalfa	1185 Collier Rd. NW	Atlanta	30318	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Tuohy	33 maplewood blvd suffern ny	Suffern	10901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Theresa	Miller	242 Crocker Drive Apt A	Bel Air	21014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kris	Houser	3026 Delaney St	Orlando	32806	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martha	Barrett	10566 High Hollows Dr	DALLAS	75230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Crickett	Shinohara	87 W. Chestnut St., Apt.#3R, Brockton, Ma	Brockton	2301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janet	Kraiosky	9278 Woodworth Rd. Unit 402	North Lima	44452	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Hilpert	26 Twin Pines Road, Hilton Head Island, SC	Hilton Head Island	29928	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	Santulli	6902 Schroeder Road, #16	Madison	53711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Fran & Jerry	Dyller	32 Mulberry Lane	Mount Arlington	7856	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alvin	Lesieur	210 Woodbine Ave	Hanson	2341	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Butler	1520 Gough St. #505	SAN FRANCISCO	94109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dale	Marcks	745 BAYOU BLVD S	Saint Petersburg	33705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christine	Wasmund	1780 Piedmont Drive	Concord	94519	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Russell	Culp	North Park Blvd.	Cleveland	44106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

john	miller	298 bald hill road	BROOKTONDALE	14817	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tonya	Bundara	PO Box 3188	CATONSVILLE	21228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Philip	Shepard	606 Bainbridge Dr, East Lansing, MI	East Lansing	48823	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Benjamin	Downing	2430 Henry Rd, Sewickley, PA	Sewickley	15143	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
J	Bodsberg	32 Pullman Ave E	SAINT PAUL PARK	55071	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeffrey	mcgaffey	710 Daisy St	Escondido	92027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Schwaab	1411 Hillside Dr.	Fort Collins	80524	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen and Jeff	Hay	1019 Kuamauna St	Honolulu	96825	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tonya	Bundara	PO Box 3188	CATONSVILLE	21228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christina	Larson	1S530 Hawthorne Lane	Wheaton	60189	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bette	Burrows	3150 Power Inn Road	Sacramento	95826	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Lab	P.O. Box 34	Chimacum	98325	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Mansfield	199-12 17th Ave	Whitestone	11357	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lena	Underwood	California	RIO LINDA	95673	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tommy	Morgan	Box 292	PINE HILL	36769	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary Ann	Maher	9609 N. 27th St.	Phoenix	85028	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jan	Garber	304 E. MARSHALL ST.	WEST CHESTER	19380	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marianne	Cooper	632 N. Jovita Rd.	Lake Charles	70611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Allen	Simeon	Florence Place	Caldwell	7007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Upham	4715 Bonny Oaks Dr 226	Chattanooga	37416	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bryan	Bennett	4482 Twin Creek Drive	Kennesaw	30144	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sylwester	Kopec	4713 W 99th St	Oak Lawn	60453	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doris	Cofone	52 Warren Place	Middletown	7748	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jessica	Schenk	6320 SE 69th Ave	Portland	97206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Scott	Nepple	4000 Avenue A	Austin	78751	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alice	Weaver	2760 k	San Diego	92102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Weightman	1011 Blue Spruce Dr	Loveland	80538	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Irma	Rodriguez	12828 Pearson Drive	Frisco	75035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Danna	902 E Ohio	Clinton	64735	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julia	Naylor	4 Barony Pl Cir	Columbia	29229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kenneth	Morrow	16706 132nd Terr N	Jupiter	33478	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fred	Caplan	108 Berrian Road,New Rochelle,NY	New Rochelle	10804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Tucker	1627 Woolsey St.	BERKELEY	94703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Smith	91 W Stewart St	Washington	7882	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Theresa	Ghee	207 Ruth St.	Selma	36701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debora	Freire	46 Highland Drive	Garrison	10524	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kerry	Leonard	3130 pondview dr.	Ravenna	44266	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	Cox	1595 SE Conference Circle	Stuart	34997	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
dolores	dempsey	3673 Kite Street	San Diego	92103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rose	Quade	25749 cambridge ct	Roseville	48066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Smith	91 W Stewart St	Washington	7882	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christina	Blue	7738 Reenel Way	Sacramento	95832	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anniw	Bowie	6007 S 117th PL	Seattle	98178	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pepper	Trail	2011 Crestview Dr	Ashland	97520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Earl	139 Hillsboro Place	NASHVILLE	37215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pauline	Warren	110 W Calle Melendrez	Green Valley	85614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Lawrence	631 Claystone Dr.	Inman	29349	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandy	van Sant	27 Tocci Avenue	Monmouth Beach	7750	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ruth	Tolbert	1856 Harmony Woods Lane	Germantown	20874	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Emye	Benavage	418 ROOT ROAD	Lorain	44052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andre	Wilder	7139 Gillespie St	Philadelphia	19135	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathryn	Rose	2749 Lafayette St.	DENVER	80205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bridget	Wyatt	1706 se 37th ave	Portland	97214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	Bennett	1729 Penworth Drive	Columbus	43229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Kish	79 Kings Village	Budd Lake	7828	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jal	Parakh	3923cliffside drive	Bellingham	98225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carl	Beyer	2033 Venturi	Richland	99352	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Hebert	603 W. Union St.	Champaign	61820	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
enrique	montero	264 rebecca lane	Brownsville	78520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeffery	Santos	180 Plymouth St	New Bedford	2740	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeff	Deischer	1540 Billings Street	Aurora	80011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Cone	328 E. Southwest Pkwy	LEWISVILLE	75067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bridget	Wyatt	1706 se 37th ave	Portland	97214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Lange	27037 Shawnee Dr	Perrysburg	43551	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
SALLY	ROCKWELL	1551 NW 195TH ST	Seattle	98177	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nicole	Dannery	7375 guilford rd		44263	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donna	Pearson	248 Neponset Valley Pkwy	Hyde Park	2136	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Hine	1600 Brittain rd. Apt. 705	Akron	44310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Edwards	22024 Brooks Rd	Siloam Springs	72761	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Trudy	Denney	640 Miramar Ave.	SAN FRANCISCO	94112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kristin	Campbell	4515 gramercy Ave	Ogden	84403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Murphy	54 Berrywood Lane, Dresher, PA	Dresher	19025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Simon	Farias	NA	New Boston	3070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Johnathan	Maynor	140 Edinborough dr	Mebane	27302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cathy Jo	Menousek	6121 e 9th st n	Wichita	67208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jason	Shepherd	16838 Pleasant Beach Drive SE	Yelm	98597	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Herron	8067 BROOKSIDE DR	Cedar Hill	63016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
RL	White	SE Rhine St	Portland	97203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joseph	Lavezzo	601 E 20 St	New York	10010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Erika	Shea	424 Tregaron Rd	Bala Cynwyd	19004	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Eizik	3819 N. Paulina St.	Chicago	60613	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sheila	snively	p.o. box 89	Maugansville	21767	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kris	Unger	2907 Charing Cross Rd, apt 14	Falls Church	22042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leslie	Calambro	1903 Barribee Lane	Henrico	23229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Audrey	Houtz	14118 Jacobs Wy.	Oregon City	97045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenn	Munson	306 VT Rt 133	Pawlet	5761	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilyn	Francois	1449 W Pensacola	Chicago	60613	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. My cable bill has more than doubled in 5 years. This is ridiculous.

donald	Shaffer	4520 Jackson-King Road	Raleigh	27603	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
tim	price	po box 199 minneapolis mn	Minneapolis	55440	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Willis	Gravelle	PO box 4542	Basalt	81621	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

barbara	edmonds	3305 vintage street	Houston	77026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cyndy	Jackson	1507 Lampman Court	Cheyenne	82007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeff	Burns	2450 W Long Circle	LITTLETON	80120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Heidi	Shuler	16004 NE 85th St	Vancouver	98682	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
lesley	shiner	410 Casey Road	East Amherst	14051	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Teleia	McCabe	6932 Ohio Ave #3	Cincinnati	45236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elizabeth	Jonach	7 Franklin Ct	Bernardsville	7924	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Looez	1045 n Harper ave	Los Angeles	90046	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marina	Volfovich	740 Central st #H16	Leominster	1453	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vincent	Da Forno	383 Old Russell St.	Woburn	1801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jean	Cory	1425 La Salina St #A	Oceanside	92054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Farzaneh	Wheeler	2629 Elson Green Ave.	Virginia Beach	23456	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shoshana	Simon	36568 Oak Ridge Dr.	Yucaipa	92399	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pamela	Cramer	Canton, OH	CANTON	44711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Dawson	3150 Power Inn Road	Sacramento	95826	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Lamb	23830 N Lakesdie Drive, Lake Zurich, IL	Lake Zurich	60047	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Evans	8408 Falkirk dr	Stockton	95210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Albert	Angelo	570 Van Wagner Rd	Poughkeepsie	12603	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brien	Pike	7798 Kirby St	Valley Springs	95252	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Riegle	603 14th Ave	Menlo Park	94025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lindsey	McCarthy	36 Hitchingpost Drive	Torrington	6790	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Craig	Collins	3247 Anderson Drive	Winston Salem	27127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Twila	Liggett	7 Holly Dr	Eatontown	7724	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Monte	Gullo	2514 Fairfield Street	SACRAMENTO	95815	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Gontram	1205 E 4th St	Bethlehem	18015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
michael	nolting	478 fuller avenue	San Jose	95125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marjorie	Laboy-Vagell	744 Shenipsit Lake Road	Tolland	6084	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jill	Nichols	8060 Pedrick Road	Dixon	95620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Lubenkov	713 MASON DR	La Grange	60525	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Thomas	1887 Myrtlewood Ave.	Colton	92324	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Shurtleff	12108 Edgestone Rd. Dallas, TX	Dallas	75230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
angela	browne	10 Ely RD	Cortlandt Manor	10567	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tari	Gibbons	4519 A 19th Ave. SE	Lacey	98503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kenneth	Johnson	79385 Liga	La Quinta	92253	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Wolfe	2906 Nipomo Ave.	Long Beach	90815	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jay	Houlahan	6774 Lakeside Circle W.	Columbus	43085	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Van Fleet	PO Box 98	Burnt Ranch	95527	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
carol	millener	657 CR 204 durango, co	Durango	81301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Nelson	5 Sulky Ct Apt 201 Randallstown Md	Randallstown	21133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Terry	Sovil	150 Rainbow Drive #5078	Livingston	77399	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Boyd	Bezlaj	239 WILDWOOD ROAD Apt 1F	Hammond	46324	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mea	Cadwell	412 Chauncey St	EAU CLAIRE	54701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shirley	Steingrabe	P O Box 635 Wheatland	Wheatland	16161	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Smith	620 American Oaks Ave	Newbury Park	91320	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jack	Sparks	381 Half Moon Lane	Daly City	94015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melinda	Kelley	5383 Knight rd	Kingsley	49649	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ellen	Sragow	14 Washington Pl	New York	10003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bob	Check	19 Teresa Pl.	Bridgeport	6606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Grondahl	Lafayette, CO	Lafayette	80026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeri	Orlans	34828 Forest Estates Rd.	Evergreen	80439	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ruth	Parson	2283 Sommerset Drive	Brea	92821	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Frank	Steiner	12135 168th St. W	Lakeville	55044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Gemmill	2190 E.11th Ave Denver, CO	Denver	80206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joanie	Speidel		Clackamas	97015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Victoria	Smith	7356 N. Bouvier Street	Philadelphia	19126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carmen	DeCinque	744 Belmont Ave	Collingswood	8108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sally	Carmany	2072 Mobiland Drive	Melbourne	32935	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Reilly	16 Tannery Ln. N.	Weston	6883	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Mondel	212 Colts Neck Rd. Farmingdale NJ	Farmingdale	7727	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Jensen	5110 Caminito luisa	Camarillo	93012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Monique	Edwards	10861 N Sandra Rd	TUCSON	85742	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jorge	Torres	102 Nevermore Cir	North Wales	19454	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
perry	saffioti	2044 east 13 st. apt. 6E	Brooklyn	11229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Rodgers	8121 NE 141st Street	Kirkland	98034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beverly	Keffer	23811 NE 14th St.	Sammamish	98074	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Cessna	pobox 614	Vienna	44473	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Behnoosh	Armani	811 Mulberry Ave.	Brea	92821	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Wagner	1121 Santa Ana Drive	Santa Rosa	95404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Swanson	4302 N. Willoway Est. Ct.	Bloomfield Hills	48302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Andrew	Magallon	3201 Pine Rd. NE Apt. 247	Bremerton	98310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carla	Boudreau	868 Scott Circle	Decatur	30033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Weston	Smith	2226 44th Ave	San Francisco	94116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steven	Peterson	211 Sterry St	Pawtucket	2860	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Bamford	15 Leedsville St	Dorchester	2122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dorothy	Tartaglia	2423 Dennis Ave.	Silver Spring	20902	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shantell	Capone	main st	Glen	3838	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Poulette	58 Gailor Road	GANSEVOORT	12831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christine	Cade	12 Taylor st	Westby	54667	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Andrew	McClure	box 323	CENTER	81125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Maestas	7138 W. Sierra Vista Dr.	Glendale	85303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Imker	309 Elizabeth St SW	Isanti	55040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ernest	Crimes	2793 E. Anita Dr	Saginaw	48601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sonja	dohse	301 dolan	Mill Valley	94941	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tami	Spahr	17511 S. Potter Rd.	Oregon City	97045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ernest	Crimes	2793 E. Anita Dr	Saginaw	48601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathie Anne	McCorry	40 colby Rd	Plattsburgh	12901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Danby	16883 Weber Way	MEAD	80542	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Fox	71 Buck board Dr	Wheeling	60090	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lance	Badger	po box 2114	Brookings	97415	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	Proctor	206 West Chew	Saint Michaels	21663	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Pruitt	7484 Kickapoo TR. #23, Yuì¤ca Valley, CA.	Yucca Valley	92284	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Howard	Fraser	14030 Hilltop	Pine Grove	95665	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Wright	3916 N Fremont St, #3S	Chicago	60613	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dale	Maier	14826 Faraway Lane	Nevada City	95959	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Sonntag	844 Baywood drive	Newport Beach	92660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alice	Johnson	4920 Helaman Court	Sacramento	95841	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	O'Connor	575 Capital Lane	Gurnee	60031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jared	White	1915 Sherman St, Apt 10	Denver	80203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Britton	131 Luella Drive	Pleasant Hill	94523	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marcia	Grady	2523 Empire Forest Dr	Tucker	30084	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
daniel	melfe	56 fenmore drive	Wappingers Falls	12590	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
L Cam	Taylor	705 SE 32ND AVE	Portland	97214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melvin	Mould	912 Boulevard Rd. SE Olympia WA	Olympia	98501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rao	Yadavalli	arlington st.	Newton	2458	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Britton	131 Luella Drive	Pleasant Hill	94523	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Felge	Coates	109 Greenway Blvd.	Churchville	14428	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
john	cillag	122 strathmoor drive	Berkeley	94705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Wolfe	2707 Clare Ave #214	Bremerton	98310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Philip G	Stephan	535 Middle Road	North Clarendon	5759	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jill	Mossor	542 Division Street	Tarpon Springs	34689	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
stephani	potter	856 viento segundo dr.	Santa Fe	87501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Don	Graham	300 4th st.	Lake Oswego	97034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Bellizzi	8 dakin road wappingers falls ny	Wappingers Falls	12590	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Francine	Traniello	3808 Pheasant Lane	Middleboro	2346	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

kate	mahoney	27 sophie ln	East Falmouth	2536	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Garr	Novick	102 Highgate lane	Cherry Hill	8003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tina	Johnson	60 E 400 S Apt#4	Kanab	84741	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lynn	Peters	1405 Broad Run Rd	Landenberg	19350	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenneth	McIntyre	22142 Martella Ave, Boca Raton, Fl	Boca Raton	33433	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dave	Martin	POB 1059	Boonville	95415	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christopher	Seymour	9326 Croppers Isl rd.	Newark	21841	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bonita	DeJonge	344 English Rd	Rochester	14616	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Camille	Young-Martin	19 Yvonne St	Rochester	3867	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joann	Gayou	770 Plaza Amapola	Novato	94947	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pamela	Gerla	3414 Nassau St.	Everett	98201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	Shipman	4 N Rue Charles	San Antonio	78217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bill	Brooks	1400 S. Mississippi	Ada	74820	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lawrence	Fisher	4861 Sally court	Union City	94587	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Economidis	827 Carvel Drive	Dover	19901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gregory	Marshall	2701 Holy Cross Ln.	Garland	75044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Walter	Stowell	9917 Pallisers Terrace	Charlotte	28210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
McKinley	Harris	2384 Barrington Trace SW	Atlanta	30331	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

B	White	park st	Portland	4101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rosemarie	Santiesteban	545 West 111th Street	NEW YORK	10025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elaine	Linstedt	31858 Bella Vista	Farmington	48334	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jean	Esser	8 Clipper Circle	Sandwich	2563	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Stoller	5907 TARLETON DR	Oak Ridge	27310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bernadette	Murphy	32 Arborough Road	Roslindale	2131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Angela	Eisenberg	39 Walker Lane	Bloomfield	6002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Angela	Kelly	1817 Adams St SE	Olympia	98501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gloria	Reynolds	2514 Furmint Way	Rancho Cordova	95670	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patsy	Deerhake	391 Meadowlark Lane	Columbus	43214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Lutenegger	1845 Summit Pl NW #704	Washington	20009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	James	7120 Partridge Dr	Flushing	48433	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joe	Antal	100 Candlelight Dr. Apt. # 321 - Ebensburg, Pa.	Ebensburg	15931	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	Tyndall	156 Hager Lane	BOXBOROUGH	1719	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christina	Revolinski	2050 Coral Lane #3	Fairfield	52556	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melissa	Fredricks	2136 Bluebill Street	Green Bay	54311	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Carrano	PO Box	Wakefield	2880	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Delia	Garner	429 SW 3RD AVE	Homestead	33034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Adam	Stein	631 36th St., Downers Grove, IL	Downers Grove	60515	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Gallagher	91-893 Nohoihorewa Pl	Ewa Beach	96706	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dianne	Wells	10970 W Florida Ave	Denver	80232	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Lerner	44 Beeholm Road	Redding	6896	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Gillick	7 Sunnie Terrace	Caldwell	7006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Maloney	16 Birch Avenue	RIVERHEAD	11901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margot	Chuurch	6475 Eden Garden Dr. apt. 208	Loveland	80538	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ryan	Schenk	2140 SE 50th Ave.	PORTLAND	97215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michele	Vaillancourt	244 Stonebridge	Saint Paul	55105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Barlett	260 Pullman Sq	Butler	16001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rebecca	Rose	2850 Fairway Dr. #28, Las Cruces, NM	Las Cruces	88011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julie	Kostes	Lakeview ter		94841	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margie	Nicely	17912 W SAMMY WAY	Surprise	85374	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Cronin	P.O. Box 9544	Spokane	99209	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrice	Dawson	1905 Black Hawk Circle	Norristown	19403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Olson	3818 Pacific ave	MARINA DEL REY	90292	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Miriam	Keller	255 Segovia Place	Fremont	94539	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joseph	Babineaux	7303 Rising Brook Dr.	Cypress	77433	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

JW	Olson	340 S 4th Ave	Walla Walla	99362	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
M	Dier	Strongsville,Oh	Strongsville	44136	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marcia	Bickmore	1324 Clubview Ct.	Venice	34292	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Roy	Engelbretson	7840 Sea Rock Road	Las Vegas	89128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jocelyn	Berger-Barrera	515 avenue I	Brooklyn	11230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
lynn	snyder	6550 n.w. 6th court	POMPANO BEACH	33063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Morgan	Sirlin	900 bay drive	MIAMI BEACH	33141	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
chris	Worcester	PO Box 2511	Truckee	96160	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JULIO	VALENTIN	899 Tenth Ave	New York	10019	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Louise	Rangel	1400 Say rd	Santa Paula	93060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eugenia	Stevens	5516 north 92nd ave	Omaha	68134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christina	Florez-Barnes	347 E Allen St	CASTLE ROCK	80108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Frances	Wojyn	5252 Crystal Anne Dr.	West Palm Beach	33417	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Kratunis	573 Waterview Dr	Crossville	38555	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marlene	Savoie	10817 W Citrus Grove Way	Avondale	85392	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jessie	Scally	2519 First Ave.	Seattle	98121	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brandi	Montano	641 O'Farrell St.#501	San Francisco	94109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roxie	Oliver	1923 W Ayres Ave	Peoria	61604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Reynolds	70185 8th Street	Covington	70433	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
claudia	Honsberg	960 Division St	Bayport	11705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joseph	Torricelli	251 Essex Place	Wilmette	60091	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeff	Houtkooper	700 S. Raddant Batavia IL	Batavia	60510	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barrie	Stebbings		Stinson Beach	94970	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peggy	Smiley	P OnBox 30	Portland	47371	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeff	Houtkooper	700 S. Raddant	Batavia	60510	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	Schalesky	10016 Pleasure Creek Circle NE	Minneapolis	55434	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Cook	2408 W Barker Ave	Peoria	61604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Markham	111 N Highland Ave	PRINCETON	42445	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Barnett	5232 S Tanager Ave	Brookline	65619	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brad	Watson	2137 Emma long	AUSTIN	78723	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gayle	Hinrichs	4397 Crow Creek	Colorado Springs	80922	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kate	Spencer	1250 Old York Dr	Florissant	63033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Ager	2330 terwoxod	Huntingdon Valley	19006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Francine	Clough	5700 Copper Ave NE	Albuquerque	87108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Inger	Acking	851 Jones St.	Berkeley	94710	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
nancy	armstrong	198 Del Monte Blvd, B	Pacific Grove	93950	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ethan	Maas	905 15 st	Bellingham	98225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephanie	Randall	235 E Union	Somerset	15501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	McKnight	6555 Prairie St	Garden Prairie	61038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Rigg	1104 N.W. 7th St.	Fairfield	62837	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Seaver	161 e market st	Rhinebeck	12572	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jacquelyn	Hicks	1108 NW 196 Street	Edmond	73012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margo	Draine	133 Adams st	Waterloo	50703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Baca	El Sobrante	EL SOBRANTE	94803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
G Eve	Reckley	Everecklley@gci.net	Juneau	99801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Doak	118 Pine Street	Santa Fe	87501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Suzanne	Zelnik Geldys	8546 Lochdale	Dearborn Heights	48127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kelly	OBrien	2618 E Vista Dr	Phoenix	85032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Luisa	Rodriguez Connal	5250 S Hardy Drive	Tempe	85283	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janna	Minsk	272 Day Road	Ventura	93003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Puchniak	326 N. Washington	WILKES BARRE	18705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christopher	Silins	5991 Plantation Road	Fort Lauderdale	33317	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brenda	Stitt	3045 Moore	Inkster	48141	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Jackson	225 Central Park North	New York	10026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Samia	Bullock	10919 Indian Ledge Dr	Houston	77064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
allison	Dimailig	14035 Astoria St. #126	Sylmar	91342	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Stuckey	117 W. Rosa Drive	Green Valley	85614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Warren	Bagby	2803 Sydney Avenue	District Heights	20747	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Warren	Bagby	2803 Sydney Avenue	District Heights	20747	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
robert	joyet	12900 N 66th St	LONGMONT	80503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ginny	Kanter	1122 Park St.	Charlottesville	22901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
A	Martin	2308 Windy Drive	Garland	75044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jill	Seipel	606 228th St SW	Bothell	98021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Reed	Markee	3220 NW Arrowwood Ln	Jensen Beach	34957	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melody	Erdwein	327 Cedarbridge Road	MONROEVILLE	8343	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Hed	605 N Torrey Pines Dr	LAS VEGAS	89107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Matthew	Vandenberg	27091 Yale St	Hemet	92544	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. What really hurts, is that the STBs are utter crap. Either the hardware just gives out after just a few months (because it was built on the absolute cheap-as-can-be) or the most common affliction, the software is more problematic than setting the time on a VCR! My FiOS DVR is the slowest, buggiest thing this side of my first computer. And I have the joy of paying for it! Fuck you cable industry. Please go die in a fire.
Mary	Elizabeth	624 W Vine Street	Stockton	95203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	McCarthy	50 Gema	San Clemente	92672	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Samis	29600 Island View Dr., Apt 205	Rancho Palos Verdes	90275	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ron	Mitchell	5 mansfield grove rd	East Haven	6512	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Athan	Whitehead	2140 Beahm LAne Rileyville VA	Rileyville	22650	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Cruce	3749 Loveland Terrace, Atlanta, GA	Atlanta	30341	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mair	McNamara	421 W Oakwood	Barrington	60010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patric	Steele	1754 42nd ave, sf. ca.	San Francisco	94122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gerton	Westerop	8670 Cedar Hammock Cir	Naples	34112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pamela	Gray	129 S Hickory St	Mundelein	60060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Kelly	5511 N. Long Ave	Chicago	60630	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Haley	3202 Tigertail Drive	Los Alamitos	90720	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katherine	Bicicchi	42408 North Back Creek Way	Phoenix	85086	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carlos	Ramia	1110 Edgefield Ln	Newton	28658	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Morgan	Nesmith	834 Dekalb Avenue	Atlanta	30307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Sodos	7095 Catalpa Rd.	FREDERICK	21703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Wallace	1207 W Sandman Dr	Gilbert	85233	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Abbott	565 Clark ave	Bristol	6010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rick	Rodriguez	925 S.E. River Rd.	El Dorado	67042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Barthel	2383 Briar Oakes Blvd	Monticello	55362	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Personally, I was buying TV and Internet from our Community Fibernet provider, but due to cost increases, we decided to try cable again. Yuk! I have to rent their cable modem box (they plugged it into my Wifi modem box because I already had set up our wifi with a purchased system that allowed me to set up guest accounts and have multiple strength wifi), and we had to have additional coax cable strung for some rooms. Just being able to purchase our own cable box would be cheaper (my wifi router only cost $180 and even with the changes in technology, it s
Christina	Barnes	837 Armstrong Avenue	Hagerstown	21740	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

ROGER	PRESTON	268 EAST PULTENEY STREET	Corning	14830	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Kotengel	13921 Raie Ave	Hudson	34667	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Renee	De Camp	5909 Harlow Drive	Bremerton	98312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jim	De Camp	5909 Harlow Drive	Bremerton	98312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	Fenton	PO Box 2205	Ashburn	20146	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Cohen	20301 W Country Club Dr	Miami	33180	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christine	Lavin	6201 SSwallow Drive	Harrison	48625	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tony	Songini	1927 BRADY DR	Dalton	30720	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Racher	430 Johnson Ave	Cuyahoga Falls	44221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Merelyn	Dolins	10 Brookside Rd	Maplewood	7040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Noel	10 beach rd. southwick ma.	Southwick	1077	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Amy	Soloway	Sherman St	Brooklyn	11218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tim	Groeger	155 Arielle Ct, Apt A	Buffalo	14221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Heeb	1404 Spring Park Walk	Cincinnati	45215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Freeman	6404 SE 23rd., Apt. 527	Portland	97202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Lee-Meeder	11070 Chase Run Rd	Albany	45710	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Annelie	Rugg	7900 McLaren Ave	Canoga Park	91304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	L'Heureux	8 Bryden Road	SOUTHBOROUGH	1772	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Neering	13117 Osborne	Cedar Lake	46303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Candace	Brandenburg Fettig	18 S Gould St, Fond du Lac WI	Fond du Lac	54935	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Thayer	7437 Mackenzie Dr NE	RIO RANCHO	87144	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Crystal	Seidel	1626 9th St Apt. 105	Saint Paul	55110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Philip	Melcher	348 Greenwood	BIRMINGHAM	48009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wilhelmina	Tax	197 Bayside Ct	RICHMOND	94804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

marguerite	bryant	po box 1012	Fortuna	95540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ron	Michel	952 SW 7th Street	FORT LAUDERDALE	33315	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chizuko	Mitsumoto	165 Hunter Ave.	Tarrytown	10591	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alyce	Harper	84 High St, Penacook, NH 03303	Concord	3303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Corrigan	92-1283 Panana St #6	Kapolei	96707	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Crabtree	sink lake rd	HIGH POINT	27265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Orrin	Miller	Box 1365	MENDOCINO	95460	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerry	Hudgins	P.O. Box 1408	POINT REYES STATION	94956	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
david	wilsey	11 leto road	Albany	12203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Thomas	5900 Hathaway Lane	CHAPEL HILL	27514	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alfred	Palumbo	434 Auburn street	Cranston	2910	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Friend	100 Richards Ave	Norwalk	6854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alfred	Palumbo	434 Auburn street	Cranston	2910	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Honeycutt	27 E Gilbride Ave Apt.427		*4107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Don	Margeson	320 62nd Ave NE	Saint Petersburg	33702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Davian	Rawls	17 nevens st	PORTLAND	4103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Wagner	2523 Abaca Way	Fremont	94539	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frances	Forte-Gomolson	119 Reading Ave	Barrington	8007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karim	Hashwani	10731 Boca Pointe Drive	Orlando	32836	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Samson	418 Merion Rd	Blackwood	8012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christine	Oetjen	1426 WHISPERING PINES RD	Johnson City	37601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dillon	Wu	819 Washington St.	HOBOKEN	7030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	Sabatino	46 Jackson Ave	Eastchester	10709	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cornelius	Coughlin	22 Grasmere Rd Needham MA	Needham Heights	2494	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Tissot	455 W. 43rd St.	New York	10036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Faye	Kaufman	5378 Coppedge Avenue	Jacksonville	32277	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karim	Hashwani	10731 Boca Pointe Drive	Orlando	32836	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kay	Town	14422 Waterville	Houston	77015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Faye	Kaufman	5378 Coppedge Avenue	Jacksonville	32277	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald & Linda	West	231 Island Ave	Peaks Island	4108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sheila	Smith	400 Topeka Rd SW	Palm Bay	32908	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Geri	Durrenberger	11340 venice blvd	Los Angeles	90066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pauline	Weston	72 Lake St.	Hamden	6517	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

susan	nauser	2835 41st street Astoria NY	Astoria	11103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terry	Forrest	141 Lick Branch Road	Bristol	37620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Kampas	4900 Fountain Ave	Saint Louis	63113	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Moran	7400 N. Oketo Ave.	Chicago	60631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	Speranza	North Taylor Ave	Norwalk	6854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Nosaka	2216 Hoonanea Street	Honolulu	96822	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

gene and angie	Reuter	10911 Cherry St.	Kansas City	64131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deb	McGee	2604 S Knoll Dr	Macy	46951	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jewel	Clark	2931 SW 39th Avenue	Gainesville	32608	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marjorie	Walker	1221 Minor Ave., apt. 705	Seattle	98101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rena	Jackson	Albuquerque	ALBUQUERQUE	87110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rob	Leadaman	22W758 Armitage Avenue	Glen Ellyn	60137	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

louise	holter	525 N Berry Pine Rd	Rapid City	57702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Carlow	3571 Horton Ave.	Brooklyn	21225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marie	Busby	178 Cayuga St	Groton	13073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Don	Goldstein	210 CONGRESS ST APT 1F	Brooklyn	11201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lorraine	Lombard	P O Box 460421	Denver	80246	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	Corliss	506 Rio Verde	Suisun City	94585	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

kenneth	Davis	2 Park Circle #401	Sausalito	94965	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Gray	1042 verano ave	Sonoma	95476	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
janice	hughes	17216 highland	Hazel Crest	60429	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Luong	Nguyen	718 Northbrook Dr.	Baton Rouge	70820	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nicholas	Falletta	2639 N Howard Street	Baltimore	21218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
steve	moots	2901 Ladera dr	Farmington	87401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Fast	10808 Dickinson Rd	OZAWKIE	66070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gail	Wing	87 sherwood Ave	Derby	6418	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julie	Rimkus	3747 E Hampton St	Tucson	85716	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Annette	Hricko	555 Jones Street, San Francisci, CA	San Francisco	94102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Luciana	Belfiglio	5214 34th Ave W	Bradenton	34209	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dominic	Aulisio	1705 Summit Ave	Seattle	98122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sherry	Lawson-Weaver	1136 W NORTH ST	Galesburg	61401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Aycock	2663 24th Ave	San Francisco	94116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Claire	Cohen	5051 Foothills Dr.	LAKE OSWEGO	97034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandra	Stein	151 SW 95th Terrace, Unit 102	Hollywood	33025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jason	williams	3125 SE Division st. unit 304	Portland	97202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	Joyce	1759 Rippling Brook Drive	Mansfield	44904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donald	Murphy	16 Geneva st	ELIZABETHPORT	7206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Croce	1072 Michelangelo Drive	SUNNYVALE	94087	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Boldenow	544 SW 35th St.	Palm City	34990	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

lesley	bollinger	20 state street	Rockland	4841	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Goff	464-a natchez trace drive	Lexington	38351	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ARMANDO	RAMOS	130ANGELES RD	Debary	32713	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ruth	Mason	181 Edgewater Homes Rhinelander Wi 54501		E	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Sannes	729 Washington Avenue	Crookston	56716	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
tf	bernett	1	Studio City	91604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Craig	Bert	733 Canyon Drive	Castle Rock	80104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cassandra	Lista	4120 Whistler Ave. Santa Rosa	Santa Rosa	95407	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
S.	Ward	S. Euclid Avenue	Westfield	7090	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Millie	Madrid	2622 W. Manly Avenue	Santa Ana	92704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kim	White	3227 Hawks Ridge Point	Kissimmee	34741	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shelley	Peters	6720 NE Roselawn St.	Portland	97218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edith	Allen	83 Lincoln Ave	Albany	12206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Johnson	1224 Lake Margaret Drive, Orlando FL	Orlando	32806	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Maisonneuve	1956 East Orange Grove Blvd	Pasadena	91104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Bauer	2351 Wharton Lane	Roseville	95747	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Rutkauskas	101 Leonard Ave	Haverhill	1835	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marie	Dick	41 Burrstone Rd.	New York Mills	13417	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jenna	Engelstein	1415 S 12th St.	Philadelphia	19147	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Tucker	4813 Red River	Austin	78751	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lori	Bright	22 Independence Blvd., Asheville, NC 28805	Asheville	28805	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jim	Harnett	111 Violet Dr	Egg Harbor Township	8234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Erin	Majorowicz	305 E. 24th St. BALTIMORE,MD	Baltimore	21218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Silvana	Goodman	1072 Powers circle	Woodland	95776	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elizabeth	Cherubin	821 La Jolla Ave	Sun City Center	33573	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randall	Cowles	PO BOX 861	Franklin	13775	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Larry	Branson	483 East Alvarado	Pomona	91767	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Larry	Branson	483 East Alvarado	Pomona	91767	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
GwenEllyn	Nordquist	Lakewood	Denver	80228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rick	Fogg	6323 n charles	BALTIMORE	21212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

GwenEllyn	Nordquist	Lakewood	Denver	80228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nikisha	Ross	702 Cedar Hurst Road	Jackson	39206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
hans-joachim	bredderman n	letteallee 87	Munnsville	13409	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Amanda	Yoder	337 Velva Dr	Chesapeake	23325	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Wood	307 East 23rd Sve	Spokane	99203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Scala	324 Woodside Circle	Fairfield	6825	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Johannsen	2418 North Aldrich Ave	Minneapolis	55411	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Hercik	4664 Sawgrass	Brunswick	44212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kim	Saunders	3035 W Colona Street	Philadelphia	19132	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lori	Dennis	4134 Marshall Avenue, Eugene, Oregon	Eugene	97402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Howard	Karsh	5620 W Patrick Ln	LAS VEGAS	89118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roxann	Ross	2865 Wilson Street	Marlette	48453	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Hartung	5767 Mill Ridge Rd.	Granite Falls	28630	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Struyk	4804 Laurel Canyon Blvd.	Valley Village	91607	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Proctor	1320 Rockwook Ave.	Burlington	27215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Trudy	Regan	711 Ozier Drive	Batavia	60510	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brad	Miller	316 S Madison	ANTHONY	67003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandy	Dobner	645 Harrington	Mount Clemens	48043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	O'Leary II	1730 S. 61st	Milwaukee	53214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martha	Ransom	184 Parker Ave	Maplewood	7040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mollie	Montes	1805 Devine St #806	Columbia	29201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ralph	Foley	221 Stoners Glen Court	Hermitage	37076	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Lackey	2676 Cedar Crest Dr	Apopka	32712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Almendarez	608 Joyce st	Houston	77009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pepy	Ettinger	154 north dr. amherst ny	Buffalo	14226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ann	pierce	3401 16 th St. n.w.	Washington	20010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julia	Albrand	8 Old Coach Rd	Canton	2021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Timothy	Miller	1975 19th St.	Denver	80202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Murrell	1050 E. Sherri Drive	Gilbert	85296	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melvin	D.	1661 Pine Street #1145	SAN FRANCISCO	94109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandy	Allgeier	2413 W. Curlew Ave.	Nampa	83651	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	Krinke	339 Wilder St N	Saint Paul	55104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kim	Mason	8763 W. Cornell Av. # 7	Denver	80227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Looney	8696 Cliffridge Ave	La Jolla	92037	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cathy	Olshock	193 Drake Lane	Ledgewood	7852	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judith	Gries	486 route 169	Woodstock	6281	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Merrill	Boone	528 N. Oxford St	Arlington	22203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Gensley	1119 ne 43 st	Seattle	98105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
alex	bishaw	11 3307 hoolehua rd.	Volcano	96785	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Debbie	Watson	26 Penn Drive	Clementon	8021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Glennon	21482 Trowbridge Sq	Ashburn	20147	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ray	Hardwick, O.F.S.	21650 TEMESCAL CANYON RD SPC 68	Corona	92883	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kayte	Fulton	1921 Fairfax Street	Denver	80220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Yunker	422 S. Logsdon Pkwy. Radcliff KY	Radcliff	40160	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ellie	Vaughter	1631 Zenobia Street	Denver	80204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

A	Hayashi	4000 South Rose Avenue	Oxnard	93033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fran	Harkins	3700 Venango Ave.	HOMESTEAD	15120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Williams	1500 Council Dr	Sun City Center	33573	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Noble	3240 Pegasus Way	SACRAMENTO	95827	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Suzanna	Biro	31 Pierce Lane	New Paltz	12561	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeremy	Stewart	Bothell, WA	Bothell	98012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary-Frances	Ellis	10 West 62 Street	Hialeah	33012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edmund	Long	1036 Pulaski Hwy	Goshen	10924	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Heidi	Breen	368 SW Lacroix Ave	Port Saint Lucie	34953	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Daniel	Kavanaugh	2600 Tealwood Dr. #712	Oklahoma City	73120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alex	Patton	1029 Rutland Way	Columbus	43085	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Suzanne	McDole	606 Dorchester Ln	Mansfield	76063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sally	Beers	4237 Courtney Ave NE e	Albuquerque	87108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilyn	Pennington	8201 Briarwood Dr	Evansville	47715	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christie	Childs	420 Hodgson St	Eureka	95503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Amy	DeSantis	11514 Rochester Ave	Los Angeles	90025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Eastman	P.O. Box 162	ELK MOUNTAIN	82324	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Steiner	318 Primrose Dr	Louisville	40207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gregory	Buffaloe	8026 Jane Garth	Jessup	20794-9	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randy	Nilsson	p.o. box 698	MERCER	54547	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gregory	Sheets	1117 E Fairfield Dr	Pensacola	32503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Evelyn	Senesman	2902 Flag Marsh Road	Mount Airy	21771	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Earl	Labuga	2806 Harvest Hill Dr.	Friendswood	77546	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Trimm	7755 New Providence Dr.	Falls Church	22042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

JoAnne	Cohen	4452 Conrad Ave	San Diego	92117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
aida	Alape	100 Lakeview Ave	Piscataway	8854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
aida	Alape	100 Lakeview Ave	Piscataway	8854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ronald	Schlemmer	916 7th ST SW	Pine City	55063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
aida	Alape	100 Lakeview Ave	Piscataway	8854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
aida	Alape	100 Lakeview Ave	Piscataway	8854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

aida	Alape	100 Lakeview Ave	Piscataway	8854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Ford	16681 Navajo Road	Apple Valley	92307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
aida	Alape	100 Lakeview Ave	Piscataway	8854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Claudia	de la Rosa-Fuller	5107 Nicholson Dr	Baton Rouge	70820	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rev. Dr. Elias	Bouboutsis	910 West Avenue	Miami Beach	33139	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Fisher	6 Sunderland Rd	Denville	7834	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gilda	Ray	1275 W 27th Str	San Bernardino	92405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kelsey	Wotzka	616 10th Avenue SE	Minneapolis	55414	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jack	Hanke	8 Chase Street	Newburyport	1950	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marcia	Curry	2102 First Vw	Leander	78641	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gilda	Ray	1275 W 27th Str	San Bernardino	92405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenneth	Morrow	16706 132nd Terr N	Jupiter	33478	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Claudia	Cereja	Av Ariosto B de Mello, 65/101	Claremont	28610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eileen	McCorry	35 W. 81 Street	New York	10024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bonnie	Lewis	3118 Charles ST.	Omaha	68131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

kenneth	maxson	4095 Triwood lane	Bridgeport	48722	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joel	Tarantowicz	35 Stuyvesant St	Brentwood	11717	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alexandrah	Lane	2920 Chautauqua Ave	Norman	73072	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Kelly	1444 N Orleans street	Chicago	60610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julia	Adkins	359 S Jefferson St	Napa	94559	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Dicanio	3071 middletown road	Bronx	10461	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gregg	Gruwell	9135 Keys	Gleneden Beach	97388	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Foster	18 East 105th Street, #6	New York	10029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Scott	580 South	Kaysville	84037	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ken	Burritt	3 Woodridge Street	ALBANY	12203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
shana	boutte'	4125 Aurora Ave	Boulder	80303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Raymond	Santee	11103 W Hollywood St	Wichita	67215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sadra	Warren	206 Ranch Road	Winter Park	32792	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Waldorf	322 Pacheco	Santa Cruz	95062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Neil	Mitchell	2830 Club Drive	Gilroy	95020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peter	Mark	2109 Broadway #5-160	New York	10023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sheila	Sadowski	1805 NW 132rd Ave., a-32	Portland	97229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edmund	Lowney	14 Keyes Road	Westford	1886	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Danial	Taqui	4903 Black Stone Street	Baytown	77521	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary Claire	Krager	25224 fraley Lane	Georgetown	19947	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrica	Brooks	9th Street	Imperial Beach	91932	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jared	Menzies	11340 79A Avenue		V4C1T8	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Sutherland	810 Green Oak Ln	White Hall	71602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Matsushima	4920 Vistawood Way	Durham	27713	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sadra	Warren	206 Ranch Road	Winter Park	32792	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nicole	Adair	18268 Cattail Court	Eden Prairie	55346	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Branse	4970 E Sabal Palm Blvd	FORT LAUDERDALE	33319	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Headley	1714 e.stoll rd.	Lansing	48906	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
A	Stu	123 main	Palm Desert	92260	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jodi	Baker	PO Box 15893	San Diego	92175	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mara	Carman	1442A Walnut	Berkeley	94709	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Tennant	PO Box 109	Reader	26167	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
gretel	graf	8 benoit ave	Old Orchard Beach	4064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Moses	Thrasher	12-227 Oliana Dr.	Pahoa	96778	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dave	Ruud	Portland OR	Portland	97231	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilyn	McCormick	2 Cherokee Rd.	Vernon Hills	60061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lucille	Ormay	647 Hudson St. #3	New York	10014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hon. Gary M.	Komarowsky	15 Second Street Beacon Falls, CT.	Beacon Falls	6403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	Baker	Jefferson Pkwy	Lake Oswego	97035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Moore	213 S 5thSt.	Reading	19602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Campagna	2712 Wheaton Avenue	Saint Louis	63114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Zeedyk	220 Kettenring Dr.	DEFIANCE	43512	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ian	Kratter	2223 Wightman Street	Pittsburgh	15217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Zeedyk	220 Kettenring Dr.	DEFIANCE	43512	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Edelstein	108 Bowery, NY, NY	New York	10013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Grawe	128 East State, Quarryville, PA	Quarryville	17566	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Villarreal	5319 Gull Drive	Schererville	46375	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dan	OConnor	546 Diana Pl.	Arroyo Grande	93420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Van Sant	27 Tocci Avenue	Monmouth Beach	7750	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Oliver	2552a Glen Green Street	Los Angeles	90068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alisa	Quint	900 Lincoln Village Circle #900	Larkspur	94939	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Holgersen	221 Ratzer Road	Wayne	7470	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Wren	8430 Chancellorsville Ln	Houston	77083	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Bernstein	285 S Central Ave Apt K	HARTSDALE	10530	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Laura	Patrick	18201 Buena Vista Ave.	Yorba Linda	92886	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Renez	Crawford-Reid	5810 Key Avenue	Baltimore	21215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Granny	Ralls	3600 Cotter Court, Plano, ILcsralls1@yahoo.com	Plano	60545	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Harold	Mulherin	404 NW 46th Street	Vancouver	98663	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bonnie L	Graham	4323 SE 28th Ave	Portland	97202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dawn	Hendry	12 Mountain High Ct.	LITTLETON	80127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Cope	300 C Canterbury Lane	Medina	44256	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dana	Sklar	203 Covered Bridge Road	Cherry Hill	8034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa Veneri	Stewart	215 Kawaihae St #6	Honolulu	96825	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Wadell	1025 S Jellison ST	Denver	80226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wes	Chang	8206 Tuckerman Lane	Potomac	20854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jinn	Ngo	1965 Coleman St	Brooklyn	11234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Smith	1059 Warfield Ave	Oakland	94610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Stover	23935 OUTER DR APT E9	Melvindale	48122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tina	Beedle	6324 Blueberry Street	Milton	32570	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lee	Anderson	508 Maplewood Dr	Victoria	77901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lawrence	Osolkowski	561 Orchard Pl	North Tonawanda	14120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
madolyn	jenkins	400 Falkirk ct	FREDERICKSBURG	22406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. SICK OF THEIR FALSE AND DECEPTIVE ADVERTISING FOR SERVICE!!! THE $109.OO BUNDLE COSTS ME, ACTUALLY $163.67 WITHOUT ANY OF THE MOVIES CHANNELS(HBO, ETC)!!! LIES AND CHEATING IS ALL THEY SEEM TO KNOW!!!

Kenneth	Johnson	861 Sheline Drive	Havana	32333	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Marks	73 Jasper Ln.	Dayton	89403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martha	Trejo	10267 Colony Court	Houston	77041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gwen	Long	4031 n cypress dr	Pompano Beach	33069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fauzan	Plasticwala	9003 190th Street	Hollis	11423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janis	Bates	13157 chandler blvd.	Van Nuys	91401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Perez	2453 Damuth St.	Oakland	94602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marion	Kennel	22 pequannock ave	Pequannock	7440	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mason	Bonner-Santos	3734 Whitney Avenue	Sacramento	95821	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nancy	Biheller	614 E 29th st. Vanc. WA	Vancouver	98663	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
K	Moser	3815 Yellowstone Ct., El Dorado Hills CA		95752	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vincent	LaMarca	1779 W 7TH ST FL 2	Brooklyn	11223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Riccobene	165 Saddle Holl Rd		6003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerri	Barnard	2433 N. 11th Street	Terre Haute	47804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andre	Noisette	596 SW Lake Charles Cir	Port Saint Lucie	34986	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edward	Williams	205 N. Azalea Ct	Glen Mills	19342	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judy	Cribbins	18895 State Highway 49	Nevada City	95959	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Bellomy	348-F Pleasant Meadow Blvd	Stow	44224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Erica	Sohl	Thomas Rd	Ashland	1721	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Pintagro	8 Beverly Pl	JAMESTOWN	14701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Ostroski	3103 WILLIAMSBURG DR	State College	16801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Lane	258 west saugerties road	Saugerties	12477	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	Neja	3418 W Beach Ave	Chicago	60651	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Jebe	1004 1st Ave NE	Waverly	50677	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peter	Haaker	14096 Baker St	Westminster	92683	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	Ash	2303 E Newman Rd	Lake City	49651	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Yvonne	Orr	971 East 87 th St.	Brooklyn	11236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sue	Gill	439 Kennedy St	Juneau	99801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Griffith	676 Clarke Ave	MELBOURNE	32935	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Carrick	2627 Adams Mill Road NW	WASHINGTON	20009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Aimee	Philpott	202 van houten fields	West Nyack	10994	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
mike	basile	309 Rhodes Avenue	Egg Harbor Township	8234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Weber-Harris	Street	Sunnyvale	94087	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joseph	Bennett	39 Pequawket Trail Ext	Standish	4084	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vesta	Thompson	18473 S River Road	Three Rivers	49093	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Dancer	515 Cool Mist Dr.	Houston	77013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michelle	Kettel	3486 W.145	Cleveland	44111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Kruchell	2011 Delwood Ave	Durango	81301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charlotte	Edwards	9639 S Carousel Cir	Summerville	29485	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Beverly	Thomps	PO Box 104	CRAIGSVILLE	24430	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janelle	McCarthy	5404 Port Sailwood	Newark	94560	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marca	Bennett	1536 Woods Cir	Norman	73069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bernard	MacMillan	10815 Part North St, N W	Albuquerque	87114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Gross	242 Barefoot Beach Blvd	Bonita Springs	34134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Casey	Sauls	608 SE 6th Ct	Battle Ground	98604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Drevicky	14130 Southern Pines	Dallas	75234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sarah	Bennet	329 S Piedmont Hwy	Piedmont	29673	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bradley	Denis	French Creek ct.	Ellenton	34222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Drevicky	14130 Southern Pines	Dallas	75234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
paul	stragauskas	852 us highway 1 unit62	Edison	8817	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Maxwell	1417 Arden Pl.	Saint Paul	55112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carolyne	Lampe	po box 8150	Honolulu	96830	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Q	H	Higgins	Pacifica	94044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ron	Raz	PO Box 25,Ferndale,PA	Ferndale	18921	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Thomas	230 Lynx Court	FREMONT	94539	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edwin	Cottrell	5031	Ellenwood	30294	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darrielle	O'Neal	8872 Arbor Breeze Lane	Jacksonville	32222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Magdalene	Ford	18305 Prairie Wolf Glen	PARRISH	34219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lakshmi	Hackett	3251 E Maplewood Ct	Littleton	80121	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Les	Frie	357 fidler	Woodbine	8270	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

fred	Pierson	779 allen ave	Cheshire	6410	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melissa	Dorval	103 Burrage Avenue	Leominster	1453	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynette	Grabowski	11425 Orleans Ln	Port Richey	34668	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jane P. Webb	Webb		Patagonia	85624	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Greg	Sells	3300 Parker Ln. Apt. 258	Austin	78741	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
rhonda	grewe	22755 shader st.	Clinton Township	48036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jay	Hawekotte	107 Acorn Lane	Point Harbor	27964	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Kiernan	1571 Lariat Lane	OLIVEHURST	95961	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joseph	catania	1424 n Farris Fresno ca	Fresno	93728	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

JC	Honeycutt	510 S. Edenton Road St.	Hertford	27944	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Samuel	Nagelberg	20 Devonshire Ct.	Sicklerville	8081	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Enid	Rubin	262 Central Park West- 10B	New York	10024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alexis	Acevedo	3856 Bronx Blvd Apt 8L	Bronx	10467	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Keith N	Johnson	10307 Halton Ter	Lanham	20706	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edwin	Cottrell	5031	Ellenwood	30294	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cathy	Strum	4017 Rock Maple Lame NW # 101	Olympia	98502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Theresa	Shiels	PO BOX 2013	El Granada	94018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	McElroy	35 Kensington Way	Middletown	10940	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karin	Dolph	2441 swift ave	CLOVIS	93611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Constance	Camamis	412 Fawn Drive	San Anselmo	94960	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Dickow	1408 Bonnett Place	Bel Air	21015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Gelzhiser	203 Elsie Court	Manor	15665	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Emery	6089 Ropes Drive, Cinti, OH	Cincinnati	45244	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kimberly	Walker	1213 Radis Pl, Jacksonville, FL	JACKSONVILLE	32225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

PATRICIA	THOMPSON	11957 claude ct	Denver	80233	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ernest	Flippin	205BelmontRd	Madison	53714	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Desiree	Eibel	1409 Easthill St SE	North Canton	44720	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deyalo	Bennette	8336 SW 24th Ave	Portland	97219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nestor	Martinez	11226 Sooner Dr	Clermont	34711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Herbert	Rosenblum	66W 94th St	NEW YORK	10025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Stephens	5608 Harold Way	Sacramento	95822	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martha	Wardrop	13123 Lone Stallion Lane	Corona	92883	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Annie	George	903 43	PHILADELPHIA	19104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tom	McCarrier	3808 Lorraine St.	Stevens Point	54481	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barber	Waters	41 Lovejoy Road	Andover	1810	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
E	Ross	Randall	Aberdeen	98520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joe	Lamendola	27 fairlane dr.	Canton	13617	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rich	Yurman	ross street, oakland	Oakland	94618	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Beck Jr	740 N. Reservoir St.	Lancaster	17602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Henry	Copper	7656 price avenue	Baton Rouge	70811	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	White	16 Salisbury Drive Apt.7405	ASHEVILLE	28803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lori	Madrigal Vargas	3819 Horton Ln	Carmichael	95608	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kent	Brooks	15929 se celsiana ct	Damascus	97089	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Salerno	139 ADMIRAL WAY WARETOWN NJ	Waretown	8758	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe	Lamendola	27 fairlane dr.	Canton	13617	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jason	Gaylor	14 Peaceful Dr.	Roanoke Rapids	27870	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
B D	Kunkle	1784 W Northfield Blvd	Murfreesboro	37129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Schrier	1 Charles St	Waverly	14892	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

m	harris	12 beehive rd , accord ny	Accord	12404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
D	Bostaph	408 Pasadena Dr	Erie	16505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Camp	203 7th st	RICHMOND	94801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Roleru	Seattle	Seattle	98136	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rose	Watson	4119 W Dale Ave	Tampa	33609	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pamela	Criser	2802 Cimarron BLVD apt 135	Corpus Christi	78414	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

TOM	RAPP	1209 maxwell hill rd.	Beckley	25801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	Messina	4517 Benton St. NE	Cedar Rapids	52402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
TOM	RAPP	1209 maxwell hill rd.	Beckley	25801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Sikoryak	10 Stuyvesant Oval	New York	10009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jesse	Soto	433 s baldwin ave C	Arcadia	91007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Brown	66063 Cambridge Road N	Pinellas Park	33782	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Misti	Schneider	104 13th St.	Crystal City	63019	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fay	Bracken	770 109th Ave N	NAPLES	34108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bernadette	Hengstebeck	435 S Kenmore Ave #205	Los Angeles	90020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bernadette	Hengstebeck	435 S Kenmore Ave #205	Los Angeles	90020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Beard	6432 Stoney Point South	Norfolk	23502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beth	Jones	1911 N. Rosemary Blvd.	Tucson	85716	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bob	Boglia	98 W Patricia Rd, Holland,Pa	Southampton	18966	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Mahl	9259 Gladiolus Preserve Cir	FORT MYERS	33908	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Mcbeth	16245 NE 12th CT #G91	Bellevue	98008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jan	Stautz-Hamlin	1015 Woodruff Avenue	Clearwater	33756	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Garren	3955 Park Blvd.	San Diego	92103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Fanning	P.O. Box 684	Cornville	86325	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michelle	Buerger	Wisconsin	Middleton	53562	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Thank you.
Lisa	Geary	58 Neponset ave	Dorchester	2122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Justin	Chambers	6536 Starnes Rd.	Fort Worth	76148	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Smith	6248 Jasmine Ct	Commerce City	80022	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brenda	Hill	27006 Herring Rd	GREENWOOD	64034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jean-Francois	Lamarre	2179 av Desjardins		H1V 2H	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

j	n		New York	10025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Nettles	11216 SE 228th Pl	KENT	98031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Hupert	1920 E. Huron Rd.	Au Gres	48703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

t	Weste	177 Uhu St	Hilo	96720	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Fornia	12220 E Gibson Rd Apt 3	Everett	98204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	clapp	415 Masonic Ct	Vallejo	94591	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jessica	Rodrigues	195 Mill Cove Rd	Warwick	2889	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marisa	Vadell	6172 Periwinkle Way	Woodland Hills	91367	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Rackowski	249 Park St.	DORCHESTER CENTER	2124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brian	Hood	9899 Springborn Rd, Casco, MI	Casco	48064	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wayne	Mosteller	PO Box 1532 Silver City, NM	Silver City	88062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Suzanne	Baker	145 Henry St.	Brooklyn	11201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

denise	scott	240 Baker St Apt d	Benicia	94510	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stacie	McLean	1708 197th ave kps	Lakebay	98349	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	Wong	2101 W Warm Springs Rd, Henderson	Henderson	89014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Frankie	Dean	30 Robin Lane	Castlewood	24224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marianne	Strong	191 Orange Avenue	Ashland	97520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dede	Tudor	60 Lester Ave.	Nashville	37210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jacob	Jackson	van buren way	Buena Park	90620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Conner	4510 nw68th	Pompano Beach	33073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mel	Greenblatt	11369 Ohanu Circle	Boynton Beach	33437	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pamela	Sell-Snider	3939 Liberty Ave.	Sarasota	34231	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	Gardner	132 West Miller	Burleson	76028	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beth	McCartney	136 Portanimicut Eoad	South Orleans	2662	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

emma	perry	6 cedar street	Keyport	7735	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynn	Eddy	1414 Water Willow Drive	Midlothian	23114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Theresa	Owen	292 Yosemite Rd	San Rafael	94903	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

mary	bramer	407 3erd St lot 71	Benton City	99320	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shirley	Stanek	283 little pond rd	Center Sandwich	3227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nathan	McGinn	4900 centerfield ct, Crestwood ky	Crestwood	40014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	King	49 Knollwood Dr., Bethel, CT	Bethel	6801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brenda	Holbert	5404 Garden Lake Dr 2F	Greensboro	27410	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Lovejoy	12 S. Lincoln	Kennewick	99336	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV, unless we're given a price-break for channels we don't want! We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Candice	Brown	2/21 Armstrong Road. Bayswater		31530	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Regina	Jeffries	694 - 50th Avenue South	Saint Petersburg	33705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doby	Finn	431 Main St. W	Monmouth	97361	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marylou	Bonnette	9 Ludwell Lane	STAFFORD	22554	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marcia	Bushnell	2 Mitchell Grant Way	Bedford	1730	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
AClinton	Dickens	P. O. Box 812	Snow Hill	28580	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathryn	Brzuchalski	2233 Ottawa River Rd.	TOLEDO	43611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eva	Foerst	1015 Fox Trace Court	Port Orange	32127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joyce	Coe	632 Golden Lane	HASTINGS	49058	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gerri	Mesack	1295 Wahbee Rd	Indian River	49749	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rosalie	Ruggiero	willis	Napa	94558	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	McLouth	1631 francis ave	Muskegon	49442	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Don	Carter	51174 Northview	Plymouth	48170	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elisabeth	Ruppel	15023 Sabillasville Rd	Thurmont	21788	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Noel	Barrett	116 Morningside	Saint Louis	63122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rhodie	Hume	6045 Edgewood Terrace	Alexandria	22307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ralph	steinke	1271 W.8th st #2	San Pedro	90731	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joseph	Dennis	9450 Gilman Dr	La Jolla	92092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

susie	Jones	6324 Martinwest Dr	Millington	38053	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bonnie	Smith	15470 Morningside Dr	Guerneville	95446	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janice	Porter	2294 Gunsmith Sq.	Reston	20191	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Scott	Clark	114 Cutler Rd Greene NY	Greene	13778	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilyn	Flynn	2250 Little Peconic Bay Road	CUTCHOGUE	11935	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eileen	Graves	20 Jenkins Rd, New Paltz, NY	New Paltz	12561	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Suzann	McAlister	610 fellowship dr	Casselberry	32730	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Arntson	707 S Cloverdale ST	Seattle	98108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margrit&James	Jenkins	37 La Sierra Dr	Pomona	91766	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	Metzger	954 Perkins Rd.	Kents Store	23084	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frances	Greenlee	63215 O.B. Riley Rd.		97703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Viarengo	550 Wimbledon Gate North	Torrington	6790	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

john	dahl	bizdeal25@yopmail.com	Detroit	48219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tammy	Hackney	5 Lineage Lane	Elkview	25071	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Damien	Dorkins	4101 N.Hiatus rd APT 411	Fort Lauderdale	33351	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robin	Blackburn	1548 Twin Oaks Drive	King	27021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Angela	Clark	17941 E Princeton Pl	Aurora	80013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Emerson	12043 Lansdowne St .	Detroit	48224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vicki	Dixon	6231 Fairview Pl	Agoura Hills	91301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rev. Jim	Fripp	66 school st	Roxbury	2119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Sheeran	bateau bay	Berryville	22611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leah	Samuell	1324 Orbin Branham RD	Breeding	42715	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
F	Williams	815 asbury terrace	Philadelphia	19126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ungennette	Brantley	704 5th Street	West Point	39773	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jessi	Sweitzer	3930 Firestone Way	Willoughby	44094	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Kostamo	2829 Fernwood Ave.	Ann Arbor	48104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Breed	8700 N Holly Brook Ave	TUCSON	85742	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lawrence	Wong	686-16th Avenue	SAN FRANCISCO	94118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Passmore	865 Lebanite Dr	Lebanon	97355	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Neal	Marchuk	1360-1 Togashira, Minami-ku, Niigata-shi, Japan	Niigata-shi	950-147	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joyce	Black	3324 SW Burlingame Rd	Topeka	66611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darlene	Giblin	1866 N Bridgeview Dr	Lynden	98264	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roger	Gonzalez	1533 NW 2nd Ave, Apt 9	Miami	33136	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Les	Young	1009 Rose Ave.	Kouts	46347	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Geoff	Hamer	82 Karatzas Ave Apt 305 Manchester, NH	Manchester	3104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susanne	BROOK	100 Millbrook Road	Bedford	10506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shirley	Hubbard	8638 N 62, Brown Deer, WI	Milwaukee	53223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hylla	Fischer	3340 McCaw Ave	Santa Barbara	93105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alice	edova	17211 Quaker Lane, Sandy Spring	Sandy Spring	20860	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Beck	400 Decatur Ave	Peekskill	10566	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Butler	370 west union st.	East Bridgewater	2333	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doug	Kelley	9904 Renfrew Rd	Silver Spring	20901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kenneth	Lobaugh	223 Cooper	Santee	29142	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nathan	Coombes	2308 Garfield Ave Apt. 303	Minneapolis	55405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Milton	Carrigan	2250 King Ct. #7	SAN LUIS OBISPO	93401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bob	Austen	379 East st 9 Pittsfield, MA	Pittsfield	1201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Smith	409 7th St	New Cumberland	17070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wayne	Ames	595 Hicks Rd Apt 9A	Nashville	37221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Iavarone	379 East St	Pittsfield	1201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jimmy	Bright	4638crested butte rd	Augusta	30909	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Humphreys	511 Silver Creek Drive	Leander	78641	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Andrew	Melomet	1718 Cayuga Avenue	San Francisco	94112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
shawn	Mcsweeney	crestwood rd	Milford	6460	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Veronica	stein	2380 84th St	Brooklyn	11214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alan	Nishiguchi	3834 175th Ave Ne #406	Redmond	98052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terri	Glass	13811 Red River Ave	Baton Rouge	70818	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roger	Meyer	2116 Colonial Parkway Drive	Chattanooga	37421	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia A.	Mitchell	11741 Montview Blvd, #9	Aurora	80010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Aleph	Fool	1264 casper mt road casper Wy	Casper	82601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shirley	Finley	227 Oakdale St	Maryville	37801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diane	Poore	5456 Cricket Lane	Walland	37886	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Freese	14220 39 Ave N	Minneapolis	55447	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
trish	graf	2235 ashley crossing ln 2e	Charleston	29414	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jose	Galvez	8115 vanscoy ave	NORTH HOLLYWOOD	91605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Norman	Schoch	4949 Chapel Hill Lane	Sacramento	95842	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melody	Mayfield	614 w. park dr.	Kankakee	60901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joe	Becher	12303 SE 164th St	Renton	98058	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Brock	1420 parkside	MANSFIELD	76063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
gary	walsh	26 hughes lane	North Babylon	11703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Roger	Wolschlag	124 Indian Circle	East Peoria	61611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ashwin	Abraham	315 NE 3rd Ave Unit 907	Fort Lauderdale	33301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JOE	FRANK JR	6667 EAST SONIA STREET	Tacoma	98404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	McGuinness	2 Nappi Ct	Hazlet	7730	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Williams	31411 Artesian Dr.	Warren	48092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Souza	3775 Red Oak Way	REDWOOD CITY	94061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Benjamin	Valyou	96 Hunters Run Pl	Haverhill	1832	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tamra	McCoy	3711 N. Fruit Ave #K	Fresno	93705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Leister	1117 Hillwood Circle	ROUND LAKE	60073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Hope	Wessel	P.O. Box 261331	Denver	80226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Craig	Coulter	832 Via Casitas	Greenbrae	94904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Herman	26567wallace drive	Flat Rock	48134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Fiorot	710 Cattell Street	Easton	18042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stan	Pokinski	2349 Dorval Rd., Wilmington, DE	Wilmington	19810	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Kuchar	8433 Raylin Drive	Houston	77055	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ben	Battat	1244 Canyon Way	Wellington	33414	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stan	Pokinski	2349 Dorval Rd., Wilmington, DE	Wilmington	19810	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilyn	Jackson	7345 SE 32nd Ave	Portland	97202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brea	Bell	Bumper Circle	San Diego	92124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	McNulty	P.O. Box 792	Hudson	3051	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
kathleen	brune	4536 blossom ln	Milford	48380	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Longshaw	16W536Honeysuckle Rose Lane	Willowbrook	60527	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Evelhoch, II	17 Pamela Dr	Mechanicsburg	17050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beth	Clokey	2685 kOKIO LOOP	Aiea	96701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Royle	214 Fortions Dr., Limestone, TN	Limestone	37681	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenn	Grosz	1241 Alder Street	WEST BEND	53090	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	Orgera	2401 Gulf Blvd apt.205	South Padre Island	78597	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Matthew	Richmond	1037 Earls Rd.	GOOCHLAND	23063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Lovegren	6617 Vierna CT	Citrus Heights	95621	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ROSEMARY	CLEMONS	400 Talmage Mayo Road	Harrodsburg	40330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tad	Swierad	226 Leeham Avenue	Bridgewater	8807	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Irwin	Schneider	7005 Stanwood Dr	Columbia	65203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jorge	rolon	2265sw14thct	Fort Lauderdale	33312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Strauch	12380 York Street	Thornton	80241	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Craig	Jensen	1715 B Franklin street	Vancouver	98660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bhavani Lorraine	Nelson	211 Housatonic Street, Suite A1	Lenox	1240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Craig	Soule	11953 SW Horny Hollow Trail	Terrebonne	97760	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Oveta	Johnston	318 s. 17th street	Harrisburg	17104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
john	kimberling	13246 addison st	Sherman Oaks	91423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Les	Madden	N6465 Graves Lane	Shawano	54166	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
M	Joiner	560 hendrix Street	Brooklyn	11207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tracy	Robertson	3106 chadford pl	Las Vegas	89102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rich	Fennema	10005 S Prospect Ave	CHICAGO	60643	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Freese	14220 39th Ave N	Minneapolis	55447	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
GEORGE	and KRIS	402 EAST MONROE STREET	Mexico	65265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

joshua	Davis	4425 Nannie Helen Burroughs Ava Ne Apt 204	WASHINGTON	20019	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leah	Kane	4 Beacon Way	Jersey City	7304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charlie	Faulkner	12718 sussex St	Detroit	48227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kelly	Kumm	111 Trail Creek Road	Pocatello	83204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
GEORGE	and KRIS	402 EAST MONROE STREET	Mexico	65265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leslee	Shutes	5842 Grand Traverse Ln	PORTAGE	49024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Amber	Fisher-McKone	710 Warburton Ave.	Yonkers	10701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Warren	Wepman	493 Tilford W	Deerfield Beach	33442	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Robinson	lex rd	Harriman	10926	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jerry	Landers	7803 Woodcroft Dr	Austin	78749	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Stanley	28149 236TH PL SE	Maple Valley	98038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Levy-Armand	Vidal	PO BOX 95524	Seattle	98145	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anne	Hart	39-76 57th St. Apt.2D Woodside NY	Woodside	11377	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dianna	Dupont	2207 Lewis Trail	Grand Prairie	75052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Neufeld	50 Bank Street	Derby	6418	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edna	Lisbon	1981 Rosemont Court	Jonesboro	30236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marti	Witter	643 Old Topanga Cyn Rd	Topanga	90290	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Macomber	2941 Timber Wood Way	Herndon	20171	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edmundo	Moncayo	208 Hampstead Dr	Wylie	75098	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eva	Adams	52 Hoffert St.	Union	63084	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. And people should be able to choose and pay for those stations they actually watch instead of an entire bundle of staions!
riza	peralta	1534 Heather Hollow Circle, #11	Silver Spring	20904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sage	Silverstein	2568 Sheldon Village Lp #4	Eugene	97401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alan	Gross	PO Box 2127 222 Kit Carson Circle	Pocono Pines	18350	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carl	Riley	1267 Meigs Pl NE	WASHINGTON	20002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Amy	Anderson	30 Sycamore Street	KINGSTON	12401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kaye	Jandrey	1115 einberger Rd.	Reedsville	54230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lolette	Stanley	683 Springdale Circle	LAKE WORTH	33461	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pat	Matheny-White	3568A Simmons Mill Ct. SW, Tumwater, WA 98512	Olympia	98512	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gibson	Foley	178 Gaines Ave	Jamestown	42629	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronnie	Watkins	24 poplar st	MERRICK	11566	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Philip	Alvarado	50 Lynnway	LYNN	1902	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shiloh	Kayce	2409 Manderson st.	Omaha	68111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daily	Hooper	666 NOFB	Phoenix	85022	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Candace	Holcomb	446 Ventura Ave	Eugene	97405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Catherine	Spaulding	135 Tracy Lane	Shelburne	5482	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Browne	1012 hanover lane	PONTE VEDRA	32081	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sue	Vanderhoef	31 2nd st canisteo	Canisteo	14823	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Sanders	9 Deepwood Dr	Manchester	6040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Larsen	11714 Drayton Drive	Austin	78758	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Sperber	5814 oakview circle	MINNETONKA	55345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Carr	1344 E. Dayton St.	Madison	53703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Aldo	de Leonardis	3440 NE 192 St #2101	Miami	33180	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeanine	Dimmick	325 S. Towamencin Ave., Lansdale, PA	Lansdale	19446	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Tsh	1755 Grant Ave	BLAINE	98230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Juroff	325 W Keith Avenue	Waukegan	60085	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jonga	Ramos	2814 Vimy Ridge Drive	Joliet	60435	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susen	Mills	902 W Cooley Dr	Gilbert	85233	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Riki	Eastmond	3630 VISTA VIEW CIR	Santa Clara	84765	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Adalberto	Araiza	P.O. Box 496	Douglas	85608	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Ahart	841 LaGrange Street #1	West Roxbury	2132	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brett	Tharp	2202 Teakwood Drive	Austin	78757	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nikhil	Kamat	1109 Tijeras NE	Albuquerque	87106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
chris	Suarez	59 MARIE DR	Gretna	70053	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
STEPHANIE	TAUB	111 Golden Isles Dr Apt E9	Hallandale	33009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elaina	Valzania	post road Greenlannd	Greenland	3840	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
VIRGINIA	Von Hasseln	223 Hacienda Carmel	Carmel	93923	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jan	van Cort	900 W 190th St	New York	10040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lucas	Gonzalez	4234 N Bernard St	Chicago	60618	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Soni	Levy	2016 Euclid Street #3	Santa Monica	90405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hubert	Wallenfels	2326 N 56th St.	Seattle	98103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ellen	Collier	1094 6th St.	Green Bay	54304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brittany	Dubose	34 Broadman Pkwy	Jersey City	7305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bonnie	Blitzstein	1516 S. Beverly Drive	Los Angeles	90035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tara	Maginnis	749 Beechnut Ct San Rafael CA	San Rafael	94903	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Amy	Lokensgard	1973 Stanford Ave	Saint Paul	55105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alexander	Warren	575 Osgood St., Apt 3303	NORTH ANDOVER	1845	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Fary	PO Box 267	Marshallberg	28553	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Johnson	9306 east b st tacoma WA	Tacoma	98445	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Maybury	435 LANCASTER, MOSS BEACH	Moss Beach	94038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandra	Russell	925 SE Kamiaken	Pullman	99163	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Trudy	dittmar	61 Bucks Mill Rd., Colts Neck, NJ	Colts Neck	7722	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendy	Hinsberger	17542 rainier dr	SANTA ANA	92705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sheila	Budnick	530 Ocean Dr	juno Beach	33408	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Garrity	325 Glendover Rd.	Lexington	40503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Arthur	Noble	88570 trout pond	Bandon	97411	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Toby	Friedman	100 High Point Dr Apt#305	Hartsdale	10530	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Zachary	Clearwater	383 RT 163 Montville, CT	Montville	6353	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Giovannini	2202 Cedar Lane	Kirksville	63501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jonathan	Burrows	Rhoda avenue	Oakland	94602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kelly	Bishop	2309 McIlhenny St	Houston	77004	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jody	Conrad	530 NW Valley View	Grants Pass	97526	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anthony	Buda	225 Everett St.	Boston	2128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Raul	Amaya	5466 Lockwood Dr	Salt Lake City	84120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Garrett	63 Joan Avenue	Richmond	5477	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chanelle	Ford	1740 Portal DR NW	Washington	20012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judy	Pelton	1441 Lears Rd, Petoskey, MI	Petoskey	49770	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rochelle	Briscoe	861 Cherry St., Unit 24	Denver	80220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lisa	Bickham	2118 CHESHIRE COURT	Navarre	32566	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dr. Mha Atma S	Khalsa	1536 S Crest Dr Los Angeles, CA	Los Angeles	90035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randon	Wilkins	5727 Milmar Drive North	Jacksonville	32207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Justin	Lowe	704 elder circle	Austin	78733	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Haillie	W	600 Jimmy Ann DR	Daytona Beach	32114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harry	Foley	2555 Russell Springs Rd.	Columbia	42728	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Steckbeck	3446 Birkenhead Drive	Lexington	40503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Powers	384 N Raymond Rd	RAYMOND	4071	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wayne	Gray	rr2	Mills	16937	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

J.	Roach	Terrace Drive	New Castle	16102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Hopkins	22 Ida rd	Worcester	1604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marley	Swanson	PO Box 760	Ridgefield	98642	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dave	Hornstein	1039 N. Old Woodward, Unit 7, Birmingham, MI	BIRMINGHAM	48009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Becky	M	10437 184th Ave SW	Rochester	98579	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daviana	Rowe	22 Coral Pl	ENGLEWOOD	80111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lynda	Randall	6 S. Stillwood Circle	Savannah	31419	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tricia	Rizzi	108 Cleveland Avenue	Massapequa	11758	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dee	Anderson	4236 Traphill Rd	Hays	28635	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sally	Hartman	20 Surrey Run	Dover	3820	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leslie	Armstrong	9517 S Allen Dr	Oklahoma City	73139	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol A	Newton	3020 Griffith Park Blvd, Los Angeles, CA	Los Angeles	90027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

stacy	lee	112 Ballfield Rd.	Oakdale	37829	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jane	Lepisto	2144 Murieta Way	SACRAMENTO	95822	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynette	Young	1011 Regent Terrace	Saint Louis	63122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Sawyer	2854 Westwood Ln Apt 10 Carmichael CA	Carmichael	95608	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lavinia	Pall	3175 Cauby street Apt.303	San Diego	92110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Findlay	1 .	Flanders	7836	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kristin	Walden	1128 Amberton Ln	Newbury Park	91320	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leslie	F	Standish Dr	Mt Sinai	11766	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Lesko	1003 S. Atlantic Ave	New Smyrna Beach	32169	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeanne	Evans	1068 Ledgestone Dr.	Wadsworth	44281	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shirlee Ann	Christopher	1728 Abberton Way 1-D	High Point	27260	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Lebert	7401 Valley Forge	BRIGHTON	48116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alfred	Griffith	310 Fontainebleau Blvd Apt 204	MIAMI	33172	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Glover	1318 16th St So	GREAT FALLS	59405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Lakardis	953 wildwood Rd	Oradell	7649	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dennis	Janes	4331 Knollbluff	San Antonio	78247	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Faulkner	2810 Plymputh Rd. #1	Johnson City	37601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	D	No	Amesbury	1913	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sarah	Curry	8935 E. 49th Pl.	Denver	80238	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pamela	McNutt	612 Belmont Ave	Augusta	67010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
K	Pennington	Livermore	Livermore	94551	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michele	Riberdy	Pine Street	Norwalk	6854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Schiller	219 7th Street #3A	Jersey City	7302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debbie	Stadler	6516 Weckerly Dr	WHITEHOUSE	43571	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lela	Adams	3583 S Jasper Ave	Yuma	85365	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alex	Taylor	Colorado Springs, CO	Colorado Springs	80911	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Olszewski	116 Terhune Ave.	Jersey City	7305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joe	Kaiser	purplebush	Lancaster	93536	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe	Kaiser	purplebush	Lancaster	93536	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
dolores	dempsey	3673 Kite Street	San Diego	92103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Wolf	413 Halifax Bay Ct	Apollo Beach	33572	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Connie	Wittigg	19612 N. 36th Place	Phoenix	85050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	ODonnell	200 Ashuelot St	Winchester	3470	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leo	Wadley	4708 Flat Rock Road	Fort Worth	76132	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
nancy	lukens	6 Cote Dr	Dover	3820	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Orlinski	10511 W. Kingswood Circle	SUN CITY	85351	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Cecil	5432c rystal court	McKinney	75070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
james	elbaor	5507 winston ct	Dallas	75220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
amelia	albrecht	26334 106th Pl SE Apt M103	Kent	98030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Spyros	Braoudakis	110 Storrs Avenue	BRAINTREE	2184	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Adams	1775 Ellie Ct	Benicia	94510	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charlotte	Kelly	1817 New York Avenue	Flint	48506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Luis	Arreaza	17933 Timber View St, Tampa, FL	Tampa	33647	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stefanie	Johnson	658 Grove Street	Rahway	7065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michele	Ramirez	2540 W Mulberry St	Fort Collins	80521	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Arthur	Ames	193 Lake Ave	HILTON	14468	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathryn	Fredrick	365 E 87th Place	Chicago	60619	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tanya	McGrady	1121 14th Ave E	West Fargo	58078	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gaylan	Callahan	7189 Clum Rd	Harrod	45850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ray	Becker	1300 Payne Ave.	Saint Paul	55130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Mifsud	P.O.Box 65	Erie	80516	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Horner	1516 N Hampton	Springfield	65803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Inger	Brinck	389 Orange St	Oakland	94610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
gerard	ulrich	18 north terrace ave.	Maple Shade	8052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Acy	Wilson	915 Shelton Beach Rd	saraland	36571	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elisa	Stahl	19128 N. 95th Ave	Peoria	85382	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Acy	Wilson	915 Shelton Beach Rd	saraland	36571	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sylvie	Gaiguant	Maurice Moussillac	Miami	33190	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eileen	Duppstadt	9912 Robin Street	La Porte	77571	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	josephson	po box2000	Berkeley	94702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lewis	Wright	6051 Busness Center Ct. 8301	San Diego	92154	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Devine	2002 CAPITOLWAY S.E.	OLYMPIA	98501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Walter	Sedriks	325 Waverley St	Palo Alto	94301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gregory	Chandler	2506 Guenevere Ave SE	HUNTSVILLE	35803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Walter	Sedriks	325 Waverley St	Palo Alto	94301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JP	Guardino	467 Rabbit Rd.	Warren	5674	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thad	Hitchcock	2149 N 89th St	Seattle	98103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
phillip	schulze	8305 57 st nw	Gig Harbor	98335	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Arnold	Ruiz	6326 W. Watkins St.	PHOENIX	85043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

jonnel	covault	14114 SE Redwood Ave	PORTLAND	97267	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Yesenia	Santana	4875 hilo St	Fremont	94538	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Reg	Jones	Bennington, VT	Bennington	5201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Raymond	Roberts	138 Aberdeen Street	Eugene	97402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe	Salazar	610 Cherrywood Dr.	Santa Rosa	95407	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	Winfree	9 Kenilworth	Asheville	28805	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Denning	1320 N Martway Dr	Olathe	66061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gayle	Brennan	5530 Owensmouth Ave.	Woodland Hills	91367	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laurie	Piper	1209 1/2 Egypt St.	Houston	77009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Paulsen	37 chestnut hill	Trumbull	6611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Solomon	Steen	8 Burgess Rd.	Worcester	1609	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Georgette	Saydak	9433 Roxborough Park Court	Colorado Springs	80924	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

tom	verre	3 heritage hill dr	LAKEVILLE	2347	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	ellner	2565 so bascom ave #307	CAMPBELL	95008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	& Mary	Maplewood Farm	Smithburg	26436	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

George	Iona	1559 Cattle Ranch Pl	Henderson	89002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
d	s	123 main st	San Francisco	94105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lola	Reed	828 N.W. 16th	Oklahoma City	73160	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jacqueline	Johnny	102 Timber Hollow Ct	Chapel Hill	27514	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Denise	Jenkins	18570 Dettington Ct	Leesburg	20176	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roosevelt	Williams	1106 W Bell Road #1029	PHOENIX	85023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Denise	Jenkins	18570 Dettington Ct	Leesburg	20176	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kari Lorraine	Scott	4403 33rd St	San Diego	92116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Zukowsky	600 Raymond Ave Apt 2, Santa Monica, CA	Santa Monica	90405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

DONALD	HARRIS	3220 LANGDON RD	Pueblo	81001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kyle	C.	NH	Exeter	3833	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Wagner	4141 Hamilton Eaton Rd. Lot 48	Hamilton	45011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kelly	Hale	3910 n 11 st	Tacoma	98406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Luis	Almonte	1615 Palisade Avenue, Union City, NJ	Union City	7087	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Haley	60 Plaza Street East	Brooklyn	11238	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jan	Sloat	320 Hudson Ave	Hopatcong	7843	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dale	Sloat	320 Hudson Avenue	Hopatcong	7843	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Km	Sabin	7165 Camino Colegio	Rohnert Park	94928	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Miller	1223 Alicante	NEWPORT BEACH	92660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Noelia	hill	202925 Theseus terrace	Germantown	20876	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jessi	Greeson	718 Jefferson Ave.	Lakeland	33801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Saboo	Aghababayan	18 Breakneck Hill Rd	Southborough	1772	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bob	Ronkese	Port Washington	Port Washington	11050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edward	Reagan	389 Twin Lakes Road	SALISBURY	6068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bonnie	Faith-Smith	290A Washington Street	CAMBRIDGE	2139	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Silverman	2148 Old Glenview Road	WILMETTE	60091	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Powers	410 Alemeda Del Prado Apt A	Novato	94949	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tracey	Moulton	4100 Bridgewater Pkwy., Apt. 103	STOW	44224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	J	12739 Elm St.	Blue Island	60406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Sawtell	745 Kelsey Loop	Molalla	97038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Lundberg	69230 Nilda Drive	Cathedral City	92234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Lundberg	69230 Nilda Drive	Cathedral City	92234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	McGee	14008 Mohawk Rd	Apple Valley	92307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kelli	Santistevan	7435 Stonesfield Pl	SPRING	77389	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Crystal	Smith	PO Box 156	West Nyack	10994	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Kleshinski	209 North Drive	Jeannette	15644	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Annette	Shaw	2584 SE. Golden Ave.	Topeka	66605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gregory	Chandler	2506 Guenevere Ave SE	HUNTSVILLE	35803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Quance	61 Longview. Dr.	Daly City	94015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patrice L	Funke	22336 Benjamin Street	Saint Clair Shores	48081	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Glucroft	12587 NW 68th Drive	POMPANO BEACH	33076	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Franklyn	Butts	24100 Marshall St	Harvard	60033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Harold	Wakefield	6050 Nevada Avenue, Apt. 13	Woodland Hills	91367	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Martinez	1965 SUBTROPIC DR	La Habra	90631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Walczyk	32179 Knapp Ave	Warren	48093	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janice	Ward	5182 Mountain View Rd	Hays	28635	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gordon	Wooten	111 Shore Dr	JARVISBURG	27947	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Smith	14851 Jeffrey Rd space 124	Irvine	92618	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Chessell	2626 Gordon Ave. Minden, NV	Minden	89423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Allen	Larson	3408 Beauty Lake Rd SW	Pillager	56473	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Hoialmen	389 N Adele St	Elmhurst	60126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Allen	Eckman	21870 highview	Clinton Township	48036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tania	Cardoso	CRESCENT STREET	Brockton	2302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Denhardt	14 West Chardon Road	Winchester	1890	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rebecca	Skalsky	1990 SE 88th street	Runnells	50237	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Furman	573 SW Prado Avenue	Port Saint Lucie	34983	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Yvonne	Lingenfelter	2420 Beech Street	Harrisburg	17110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Dahn	12 Garden Glen	Saint Paul	55128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laurie	Williams	146 Wilkins Ave.	East Pittsburgh	15112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerry	Gallamore	830 so. 19th	Quincy	62301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donna	Cowin	109 Hemlock Rd	Roxbury	6783	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kari	Sievers	1306 Monticello Park Dr	Valparaiso	46383	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendy	Kobylarz-Chouvarda	255 Old 19-23 US Hwy	Candler	28715	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Angus	Macdonald	PO BOX 111	ELKWOOD	22718	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dawn	Taylor	288 Texas Hill Road	Huntington	5462	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vicki	Stilwell	2731 NW 17 th	Oklahoma City	73107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dario	Zorman	136 Garden St.	Poughkeepsie	12601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	O'Connor	Newark	Newark	19711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Chmielewski	18 Benfield Rd.	Weaverville	28787	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Darren	Skotnes	4 Harding Ave	DELMAR	12054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Erma and Lawrence	Watson	4644 Priscilla Avenue	Memphis	38128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe	Thompson	7421 Howling Coyote Ln	Fort Worth	76131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Murphy	6 Sonja Lane	Ballston Spa	12020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rocky	Acosta	767 richard rd	Waxahachie	75167	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Carrafa	Wisteria Way Garnet Valley	Garnet Valley	19060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Olga	Rose-Jones	11236-4303	Brooklyn	11236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maya	Lenox	1207 Mission St	Duncanville	75137	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maura	Kelley	22southpoint drive	Siasconset	2564	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Lazik	Brooklyn, NY	BROOKLYN	11201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Georgia	couch	3809 cr 1116	Greenville	75401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
harriet	yount	p o box 35	Nokomis	62075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

harriet	yount	p o box 35	Nokomis	62075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Schurtz	2437 Ryons St	Lincoln	68502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
charles	kennedy	804 mason	Mayfield	42066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Mastranardi	244 Alfred Street	South Portland	4106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frances	Beeler	1900acklen ave	Nashville	37212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Flora	Greig	2054 E. Lemon Creek	Berrien Springs	49103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah R	Evans	2704 Eagle Run Lane	Richmond	23236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Please, help us save and hold them accountable. Thank you, for reading our pleas. Kindest regards, Deborah R. Evans
Norman	Tauzin	118 Westward Ave.	Scott	70583	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kimberly	Sanner	274 Hilbish Ave Akron Oh	Akron	44312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rosalind	Johnson	Anderson Street	Hackensack	7601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia Ann	Sutton	402 Dobbs Street	Henderson	75652	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Meyer	PO box 151	Three Bridges	8887	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

April	Hamel	231 Chippewa Drive	Ottawa	45875	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	McCarty	1420 Ellis Hollow Rd	ITHACA	14850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Roberts	6610 Belvoir Ave.	Corpus Christi	78414	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

connie	moss	1013 willow lawn drive	Richmond	23226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Brown	609 E 6th St	West Liberty	52776	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
miriam	cohen	9706	Forest Hills	11375	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Judith	Bradshaw	487 12TH ST APT 1R	Brooklyn	11215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Johnson	404 E. 66th St	New York	10065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marshall	Winters	219 Quincy Road	Kirbyville	65679	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marshall	Winters	219 Quincy Road	Kirbyville	65679	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Claire	Lyons	1215 Main Street	Greenport	11944	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
david	tortorich	401 Metairie Road	Metairie	70005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Emmons	N2726 Paradise Rd.	Lodi	53555	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jan	Rubens	P.O. Box 416	PALO ALTO	94302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carla	Martinez	15 W. Main str. E 104 Norwalk CT	Layton	7851	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carla	Martinez	15 W. Main str. E 104 Norwalk CT	Layton	7851	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jo	Gilbert	5147 Argonne ct	SAN DIEGO	92117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Platt	PO Box	Southampton	11969	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patrick	Jordan	313 Varick St	Jersey City	7302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joshua	Reddinger	430 Koehler Dr.	Sharpsville	16150	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Micheal	Tollis	84116	Salt Lake City	84116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

mÌÊry	phillips	199 hillside rd	Saint Boniface	16675	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Luis	Abbud	16855 Mossford	San Antonio	78255	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
M	D	1313 Park blvd.	SAN DIEGO	92101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Trawka	1010 Cornell St	Pittsburgh	15212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Teri	Fittro	2455 Northwick Drive, Apt 206	Winston Salem	27103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harold	Parker	538 Jeffrey Pine Ct	O Fallon	62269	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

blanca	hawthorne	4911 droddy	Houston	77091	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dawn	Malone	19204 4th Ave S	Seattle	98148	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jill	Greenberg	698 W End Avenue, NY, NYk	New York	10025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Daniel	Geselowitz	7607 Geranium St.	Bethesda	20817	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ormand	Tegland	401 W Rainbow Blvd	BIG BEAR CITY	92314	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Sparrow	5915 85 ave	Hyattsville	20784	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Terry	Roy	1704 N Lisa Ln	Newcastle	73065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ROBERT PAULO	PRALL	300 W 23RD ST.	New York	10011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Schuster	1655 Deerfield Court	Cheshire	6410	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

janette	anderson	200 rios ct se	Palm Bay	32909	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Euclide	1226 S 19th St	Manitowoc	54220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harold	Fry	400 Topeka Rd Sw	Palm Bay	32908	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Liz	White	1402 N. 135th Pl	Seattle	98133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Bar	8027 San Bernardino Dr.	PORT RICHEY	34668	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jim	McCauley	1710 riverside dr	Williamsport	17702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Dotson	7251 South Shore	Chicago	60649	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Deibele	19714 Reichardt Road	Kiel	53042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nicole	McKenzie	1760 Grain Mill Rd	San Marcos	92078	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rodijah	Peters	299 Wilson St #A	Petaluma	94952	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Phillip	Erlewine	16899 15 Mile	Big Rapids	49307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Teresa	Krinsky	122 Troop Ct	Fortson	31808	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Meridith	Turkel	73-55 210 Street, Oakland Gardens, NY	Oakland Gardens	11364	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harold	R	11755 Huckleberry Trail, Macclenny, FL	Macclenny	32063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathryn	Holland	32561 Cloud Crest Court #7	Wildomar	92595	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sherry	Kiskunas	1322 Scott Avenue	Waterloo	50701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jill	Snively	116 Lisa's Ct	Mohnton	19540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
rick	Menendez	2175 Wilderness Trail	Barnhart	63012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

MIchele	Horne	PO BOX 46	Willard	28478	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Miller	73 Orlando St		28440	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Angela	Earl	1004 Carroll Ave	Saint Paul	55104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Pirich	19414 Beckworth Ave	Torrance	90503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tina	Rogers	PO Box 2486	Albertville	35950	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Ryan	1236 Lokoya Road	NAPA	94558	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Krystkiewicz	7923 elmhurst ave.	Rosedale	21237	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Krueger	10751 Alta Hill Mine Rd	Grass Valley	95945	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Krueger	10751 Alta Hill Mine Rd	Grass Valley	95945	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

MARCIA	PHILLIPS	608 WEST FOREST DRIVE	Payson	85541	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Abercauph	37 Briaroot Lane	Levittown	19054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynn	Fischer	1885 Park Avenue	Washington	15301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sally	Magaziner	2160 swedesford road	Malvern	19355	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
GEORGE	VIRSACK	217 WALLACE AVE	East Pittsburgh	15112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brent	Crandall	27525 Barkley	Livonia	48154	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Russick	1240 SE 3rd Court Apt 10	DEERFIELD BEACH	33441	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kyle	Cohenour	1010 26TH ST N	Saint Petersburg	33713	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Rowland	5502 N.Arroyo Grande	Tucson	85718	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Clarisa	Williams	12000 Bradfield Aven	Lynwood	90262	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Casey	McKeever	155 Lander Dr	Conway	29526	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	Pitts	1800 S Pantano Rd #1059	Tucson	85710	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

TJ	Feneran	900 E Marion Ave	Punta Gorda	33950	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roger	Newell	474 9 st	Brooklyn	11215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Helen	Babcock	95 S Pacific Ave	Ventura	93001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Julie	Edgar	534 North Cir	Bethlehem	18018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julie	Edgar	534 North Cir	Bethlehem	18018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Liz	Lundquist	4884 21st Avenue South	Fargo	58103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jessie	Vasquez	1 Florence Ct. APT3	Lawrence	1841	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Dys	4453 Harlem Avenue	Berwyn	60402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kellie	Powell	21 Phinn Avenue	Binghamton	13903	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brit	k	8	Orlando	32828	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gloria	Stevenson	29 Slater Street	Bloomington	12411	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Russ	Ziegler	22 west 61st street	Downers Grove	60516	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dusty	Branson	24218 Pllantation Drive, NE	Atlanta	30324	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	Carson	309 S. Maple St.	Ellensburg	98926	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Brown	PO Box 3198 ApplegateOr.	Jacksonville	97530	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cara	Yendrzeski	36 Wheatstone cir	Fairport	14450	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ira	Landgarten	Hoboken, NJ	Hoboken	7030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	McKinley	4189 S 95 E	Bringhurst	46913	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Merrill	10101 Bushveld Ln	Raleigh	27613	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fox	STATLER	993 HUNTER CEMETERY TRAIL	Salem	72576	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dale	Pautzke	3941 E. Van Norman Av	Cudahy	53110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Meridith	Fratis	1866 W Acacia Bluffs Dr	Green Valley	85622	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marcia	Huey	10817 Moller Dr NW	GIG HARBOR	98332	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Borekci	16 Mercer St.	NEW YORK	10013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Heesch	1826 Rowland Dr	Odessa	33556	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marla	Oconnell	1506 Meadowbrook Circle	New Paltz	12561	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ilene	Cox	109 E Arlingtin Blvd, suite a	Greenville	27858	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pierce	Callahan	601 Roslyn Ave	Glenside	19038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marian	Pickett	527 Ingleside Dr.	Baton Rouge	70806	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rachel	Hess	126 Main St. Luckey, OH	Luckey	43443	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marvin	Reese	4302 Heath Ct	Powder Springs	30127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cee	Archambault	8803 santa monica 432	Beverly Hills	90212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fatma	ÌÐncÌ_	Bremerstr.61	Tampa	33613	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Brey	131 West 85	NY	10024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vicki	Farrar	P.O. Box 140375	Garden City	83714	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ben	Lariviere	65 middle street	Boston	2127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dawn	Sharif-Coon	1368 HOUSTON DR	Swartz Creek	48473	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rosa	Lopwez	305 N.Polk St.,	Dallas	75208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JUDITH	BROOK	58338 W CLEAR LAKE RD	Three Rivers	49093	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diane	Lippelt	413 E. Muhammad Ali Blvd #625A	Louisville	40202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ralph	Kirkland	1553 Todd LN SW	Lilburn	30047	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Lozon	1506 Raspberry Lane	Flint	48507	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rosemary	Sejas	5510 Swift Current Ct	Burke	22015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sarah	Ragalyi	28466 Eldorado	Southfield	48076	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Becker	311 bay drive	MASSAPEQUA	11758	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edward	Little	P.O.Box 224	East Haddam	6423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
NANCY	STUCKEY	900 E Marion Ave Unit 1406	Punta Gorda	33950	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leonard	Flier	3628 E BECKER RD	Collins	14034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jim	Jankwietz	291 Lyons Dr	Clemmons	27012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Tabor	143 Chambersburg St	Gettysburg	17325	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jean	Preston	3151 Albany Post Road	Buchanan	10511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brenda	Irizarry	3215 Bainbridge Ave.	Bronx	10467	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Rizzuto	115 Mark Twain Dr apt7	New Orleans	70123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Gingg	Sebastopol, Ca	Sebastopol	95472	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janiece	Staton	817 SW 171st Avenue	Beaverton	97006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Hernandez	6254 Whitsett Ave	North Hollywood	91606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. No competition for the cable companies means that innovation is stifled.Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Hickey	6595 N gold leaf pt	Dunnellon	34433	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

kip	golden	1659 Zamia ave	boulder	80304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Coz	416 Clifton Place	Nashville	37215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ruth	Thieme	324 E. Concorda Dr Tempe az	Tempe	85282	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Frank	Cobarrubias	2559 E. Glen Canyon RD.	Green Valley	85614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Colleen	Bergh	3050 S Bristol St, #9H	Santa Ana	92704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilyn	Kopp	369 Island Ave	Woodmere	11598	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marta	Dawes	413 Kountze Memorial Drive	Bellevue	68005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Freed	6120 Heather Dr	Clinton	98236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harvey	Havir	6108 Tracy Ave	Minneapolis	55436	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

elizabeth	bean	2202 Lower LN.	Wilmington	19810	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Nott	755 Oak Glen	Irvine	92618	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gregory	Johnson	7023 Turtle Rock Court	Charlotte	28277	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Geoff	Black	800 Avalon Street SE	Palm Bay	32909	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wayne	Klein	4908 Fairmont Court	Fairfield	94534	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	Ward	2613 Monte Cresta Drive	Belmont	94002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tim	Coyle	1711 B Burton	Austin	78741	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Morgan	Mdw ln	Chinchilla	18410	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Adam	Dean	1531 S Rambling Way	Frederick	21701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Fausey	224 East Hillsdale St., Lansing, Michigan	Lansing	48933	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charla	Wright	4239 Kestrel Dr	Broomfield	80023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tina	McBride	45 Turning Mill Rd.	Lexington	2420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rickie	White	245 E. Sherman St.	Macon	62544	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	Carroll	511 Pinecrest Lane	Wilmette	60091	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Carroll	219 E. Rio Grande st	Garland	75041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Greg	Malone	1000 W.Brookes AVE	San Diego	92103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Emanuela	Bedendo	Piazzale Gorini 20		20133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenyatta	McKie	5300 Sw 5th St	Fort Lauderdale	33317	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lewis	Wright	6051 Busness Center Ct. 8301	San Diego	92154	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Adam	Swaim	2455 Northwick. Dr	Winston Salem	27103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Devine	15 Cook St	Washington Depot	6794	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brandon	Hall	89 23rd Ave	MILTON	98354	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nate	Frey	525 W Deming Pl, Chicago, IL	Chicago	60614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lauren	Mendez	5018 Millpond Dr SE	Auburn	98092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steve	Milosic	220 Radley Drive	Pain	44077	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Himmelberger	575 Godfrey Street	Rehrersburg	19550	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Faith	Moore	9328 Fair Oaks Blvd	Fair Oaks	95628	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

DrJoseph	Rothstein	132 Combs Ave	Woodmere	11598	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eli	Hegeman	100 riverside dr.	New York	10024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mauro	Sist	35500 Grayfield Dr, Sterling Heights, MI	Sterling Heights	48312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carla	Womack	2010 Hickory Ridge Road	Pomona	62975	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Diana	5152 Willamette Place	Boise	83716	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julia	Allen	431 S.W. Drumwood Ave.	McMinnville	97128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ron	Barbosa	500 Dove Rd.	Grapevine	76051	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
BREGEET	KENNEDY	6703 TAREE LOOP	Killeen	76549	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Maloney	346 53rd Circle	Vero Beach	32968	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sylvia	Musah	29 Bentley Ave APT#506	Jersey City	7304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robet	Stover	2103 Tremont Street H207	Philadelphia	19115	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rafael	Martinez	3290 Magnolia Petal Ct	Clermont	34711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Kennett	5651 Prospect Drive	Missoula	59808	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
margo	macleod	Stow Cir	Spicewood	78669	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
randy	pala	14900 avery ranch blvd	Austin	78717	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Farrel	650 aster st	Escondido	92027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randy	Green	11161 Arlington ave	Riverside	92505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Belinda	Kender	49 Colin Kelly Drive	Dayton	45431	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

DEBORAH	SANTORO	7615 Cedar Hurst Ct	Lake Worth	33467	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DEBORAH	SANTORO	7615 Cedar Hurst Ct	Lake Worth	33467	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
cv	w	10092	Honolulu	96816	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

DEBORAH	SANTORO	7615 Cedar Hurst Ct	Lake Worth	33467	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DEBORAH	SANTORO	7615 Cedar Hurst Ct	Lake Worth	33467	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clivonne	Corbett	944 Irongate Lane	ROSEBURG	97471	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Adam	Almond-Kraft	3539 W Sunnyside Ave Apt 2	Chicago	60625	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
james	conner	1811 Arabian ct.	Indianapolis	46228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
donald	mcnally	5880 9th road north	Arlington	22205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

paula	barrack	106 E. 5th St.	Rolla	65401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matt	Brewer	3100 Washington St	Commerce	75428	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Jackson	131 H Northbend Drive	Charlotte	28262	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kelli	Williams	7318 Landau Dr	Minneapolis	55438	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Simpkin	101 Old Bridge St.,Pelham, NH	Pelham	3076	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dana	Carpentier	147 Ruthven St	Dorchester	2121	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Douglas	Rosenthal	3004 Portofino Isle, M1	Pompano Beach	33066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lilian	Macedo	Rua Paulo Klabin, 62 casa 1		22790	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Al	Lane	6919 Boscanni Dr	Boynton Beach	33437	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cynthia	Wick	8838 Tidesebb Ct.	Columbia	21045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	May	1406 Bellefonte Rd. Flatwoods, KY 41139	Flatwoods	41139	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janice	Innocenti	25 Foster Drive	Beverly	1915	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vicky	Matsui	541 19th Ave	SEATTLE	98122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Deruyter	13315 12thplace west #12	Everett	98204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Monica	Robinson	12 Ferguson st	Canton	28716	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stacey	Coufal	Nightingale Ct	Modesto	95356	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shinann	Earnshaw	627 NW Saginaw Ave		97703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jason	davis	898 Wynnehurst St	Pensacola	32503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alejandro	Hernandez	1669 Benton Way	Upland	91784	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tiny	LeClair	156 Ridgemont Rd.	Chehalis	98532	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
L.C.C.	Davis	2525 St. Christopher Ave., #828	League City	77573	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Victoria	Wickham	6010 S 91st St	Lincoln	68526	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Razvan	Munteanu	Str Castanilor nr 45		2500	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frances	Joswick	PO Box 486	Quilcene	98376	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Priscilla	Rocco	3309 California St., Costa Mesa	Costa Mesa	92626	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Griffith	2141 McArthur Ave	Colorado Springs	80909	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
carolyn	smith	5871 sherry place	Ferndale	98248	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marc	Woersching	P.O. Box 4471	Valley Village	91617	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bernadette	Pawela	271 Eagle Mtn road	Granville	38564	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tony	O'Connor	155 granny smith road Linden, Virginia	Linden	22642	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Char	Mandile	17491 SE 34th LN	Ocklawaha	32179	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Schenkel	4 Alicia Lane	middletown	6457	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Char	Mandile	17491 SE 34th LN	Ocklawaha	32179	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Langan	13051 Greenwood Road	Huntingdon	16652	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
June	Ng	178 Hunnewell St.	Needham Heights	2494	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Wells	Frisco, CO	Frisco	80443	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

jan	amann	930 nw 73rd terr	Ocala	34482	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ava	Arnett	25 Housatonic Avenue	Stratford	6615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Robert	5721 Alegria NW	Albuquerque	87114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Penelope	Carlson	2000 Augustine Drive, Titusville, FL	Titusville	32796	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Virginia	Holliday	1750 20th Avenue	Vero Beach	32960	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	O'Connor	155 Granny Smith Road	Linden	22642	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donald	Gilreath	19551 E Levy ST	WILLISTON	32696	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Shaughnessy	2005 Aberdeen St.	Butte	59701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Rossi	2135 Bellefield Drive	ERIE	16509	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dari	Best	10570 Kumquat St NW Apt 1	Minneapolis	55448	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Shrieves	24328 Dover Ln	Hayward	94541	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nick	Papoutsis	K. Palama 17	Mont Alto	17237	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul Francis	Fleege	1559 Edmund Ave.	Saint Paul	55104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Pruyn	19 NW Lakeview Blvd.	Lees Summit	64063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Crooker	7928 Woodsbluff Run	Fogelsville	18051	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mel	Shay	11359 sr 85	Kittanning	16201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sarah	Livermore	2 Short Road	West Hartford	6107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Alston	8507 vernon ave	Lubbock	79423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Coby	R	5 Beecher Street	Pawtucket	2860	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Emmylou	Reynolds	5 Beecher Street	Pawtucket	2860	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Coby	R	5 Beecher Street	Pawtucket	2860	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alan	Reynolds	5 Beecher Street	Pawtucket	2860	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Rankin	1 Sileby Lane	Bella Vista	72714	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Schenkel	1150 South Main Street	Middletown	6457	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paula	Frighetti	7133 E. 28th St.	Tucson	85710	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Boyd	154 trinity acres road.	Willow Creek	95573	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edward	White	5908 Nevada Ave NW	Washington	20015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandra	Barros	250 Nemo Ct.	Saint Helena	94574	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Deberardine	Bedminster, NJ	Bedminster	7921	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Hayden	194 Sequoia Dr	Pasadena	91105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elizabeth	Barrett	306 Mill Creek	Pompton Plains	7444	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Suzanne	Clark	704 Cass St, Portage	Portage	53901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leigh	Rochelle-Woodley	11 Callingham	Pittsford	14534	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dianne	Miller	1440 Puterbaugh	SAN DIEGO	92103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
beth	borchers	2670 Parklawn Dr Apt 7	Dayton	45440	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	La Salle	211 E. 6th street	Duluth	55805	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karina	Conkrite	2638 Parma Rd	Philadelphia	19131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Rosenberg	13027 Tivoli Park Row #2	San Diego	92128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joleen	Rocque-Frank	2834 Don Quixote	Santa Fe	87505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Trina	Aurin	19 Massier Lane	FOOTHILL RANCH	92610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	lindstrom	4541 s pine ave	MILWAUKEE	53207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Chapman	12 Stuyvesant Oval	New York	10009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

garry	powell	4831 Spanish Heights	Colorado Springs	80906	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ghislaine	Rimanelli	6726 spring creek	Plymouth	48170	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
susan	dickerson	6012 woodland lane	Clinton	20735	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pamela	Granados	12450 lakewood blvd #216	DOWNEY	90242	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilyn S.	Hendricks	3136 Washington Ridge Way Apt. 2103	Knoxville	37917	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kim	Leahey	323 Woodbine Dr	Keyport	7735	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shane	Yellin	4517 cove dr.	Carlsbad	92008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tracey	Malfa	11 Chestnut St	Gloucester	1930	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kristy	Thornton	118 Jean Brillant		H8Y2S7	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christine	Erdner	1012 Farm Lane	Ambler	19002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kat	Archer	17722 Burnside Ave	Hagerstown	21740	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Liberty	Brigner	2386 1/2 Indianola Ave.	COLUMBUS	43202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Geahlen	POBox 224	MARINE	62061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Griffith	4216 Hillsdale Dr.	New Port Richey	34652	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carolyn	Stark	4020 Garfield Ave S	Minneapolis	55409	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Douglas	Kinney	525 Crawford Road, Otego, NY	Otego	13825	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janice	Gloe	3100 Guido St	Oakland	94602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Therese	Moncelle	5123 Wild Strawberry Path	Loves Park	61111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Miller	7441 Oakcrest Ln	Clarksville	21029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse choices.Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Schenkel	1150 South Main Street	Middletown	6457	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Seppi	3281 Darbyshire Drive	Hilliard	43026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Denise	Bunger	1965 camargo drive	San Jose	95132	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Nix	2430 hwy 82 so.	Jefferson	30549	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jane	Herschlag	47 Saddle Rock Road	DANBURY	6811	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Andrew	Kapalko	6605 Mansour Ln	Port Orange	32128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
mimi	aarens	314 bedford st	Lexington	2420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Al	Mozena	928 Loch Lomond Drive	Fort Wayne	46808	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Zoelle	1903 17th St sw	Akron	44314	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gaith	Alhayek	551 Center Pl	Teaneck	7666	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Doyle	13 W. Orndorff Dr.	BRUNSWICK	21716	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kimberly	Phillips	16 Atlantic Ave	Bar Harbor	4609	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Corey	Parker	1912 kingsley	Schaumburg	60194	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Jaehnig	2250 Sunrise Dr	Belvidere	61008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Randolph	Scott	6225 York Rd	Baltimore	21212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karina	Oleynikov	7015 de Celis pl	VAN NUYS	91406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Holle	8625 Rosewood Ln	Indianapolis	46240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Sehlhorst	9159 farrington dr	Santee	92071	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenneth	Shankman	2218 DONNA LN	Pottstown	19464	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	McKenna	24 Cherry Lane	Ridgefield	6877	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tarrie	Coselman	1028 Juneau Rd.	Ypsilanti	48198	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilyn	Kirsch	61 West 62nd Street, 8E	New York	10023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Angela	Aiken	3801 S 10th St, Tacoma, WA	Tacoma	98405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Teresa	Yi	5746 n kenmore	Chicago	60660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
c.	Kelley	n/a	Kent	98032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LYRIA	Freeman	POBox 301973		803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diana	McCoy	5642 16th Street	Zephyrhills	33542	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cydney	Lesniak	1701 S Yellow Brick Rd	Chino Valley	86323	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Hetherington	Dennis, MA	South Dennis	2660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Betty	McEachin-Johnson	151 East 26 Street	New York	10010	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeff	Seiler	Tomball, TX	Tomball	77375	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Scanzillo	69 Barry Lane	South Dennis	2660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Sherman	336 E 7th	Perrysburg	43551	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Arnaud	Forestier	PO Box 3246	Laguna Hills	92654	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kosta	Bounos	4658 Gibsonia Rd	Allison Park	15101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ileana	Burnett	5724 Boynton crescent	Boynton Beach	33437	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Christianson	2614 S Bay Dr S	Fargo	58103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Byerly	2033 Eldridge Ave. E.	SAINT PAUL	55109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	McCarty	700 N Colorado Blvd	Denver	80206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deanna	Larimer	10722 Jordan Ct	Parker	80134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Montalì±a	Pulido	Laurel, 9		28005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bob&Paulette	Michel	26982 S. Stracks Church Rd.	Wright City	63390	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Kahigian	8 Country Hill Lane	Haverhill	1832	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Reichard	2104 18th Avenue SE	Olympia	98501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathleen	Cridge	10250 Rex Reservoir Rd	Rough and Ready	95975	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephanie	Kaplan	9218 Balcones Club Drive	Austin	78750	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Heather	Riley	1836 Hillcrest Dr.	Hermosa Beach	90254	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kerri	Gavin	3022 Shasta way	Santa Rosa	95403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendy	Scherer	4837 Briarwood Ln.	Manlius	13104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia	Ballinger	3919 S Argonne Way	AURORA	80013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Geoffrey	Havens	36 Babcock Hill Rd Ext	Coventry	6238	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LAURIE	DEWITT	12 Central Ave	Schenectady	12304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sue	Kelley	2100 S. Swope Dr.	Independence	64057	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patrick	Kelley	4247 Kenwood Ave Kansas City MO	Kansas City	64110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Valerie	Cooper		Compton	90220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julian	Goldberg	44 West 88th Street	NEW YORK	10024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deirdra	Baldwin	#17 Camino de Caballo	Ranchos de Taos	87557	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Smith	P.O. Box 323, Jarales, NM	Jarales	87023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Rogers	1261 Weber St	Alameda	94501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Zellner	6429 El Caminito de Guadalupe NW Los Ranchos ,NM	ALBUQUERQUE	87107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Justin	Kinney	425 Sierra Street	El Segundo	90245	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Heidi	Keitz	926 Dunlop	Forest Park	60130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jo	Lane	2020 La France	south Pasadena	91030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kim	McConnell	134 Morning Glory Lane Whiting NJ	Manchester Township	8759	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alicia	Harkins	Avenue	Baltimore	21214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lynda	Creech	142 Oaks Ave	Wauconda	60084	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Danielle	Lippincott	1512 Ford Ct.	Rochester	48306	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rob	Roberts	1908 Forest Drive	ANNAPOLIS	21401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rob	Roberts	1908 Forest Drive	ANNAPOLIS	21401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	J. Lesco	71 Brigham St	New Bedford	2740	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Berington	Van Campen	5700 Whitsett Ave., Valley Village, CA	Valley Village	91607	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Perry	Wyatt	1206 Shell St.	Fenton	48430	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terry	Black	2511 W. Ft. Macon Rd. Atlantic Beach, NC	Atlantic Beach	28512	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marguerite	Benoit	50 Sunrise Hill Rd	NORWALK	6851	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bert	newsom	337 walnut circle	Bolingbrook	60440	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leanna	Ahern	1524 Chapman Ln	LONGMONT	80501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kim	King	13997 Wetherburn Street	Waldorf	20601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Fehr	50 Ashford Lane	Sharpsburg	30277	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tamara	Trent	212 S 27th St	Temple	76504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rafael	Albarran	4924 141st Street	Midlothian	60445	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jennifer	Boes	1106 w 29th st	Vancouver	98660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Lancki	8800 Lynnhaven Rd	Cleveland	44130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Also, I am disgusted by cable companies forcing consumers to rent equipment in order to use their services. Cable boxes are just one of many items. DVRs and cable cards are distributed on a rental basis only. We should be able to use generic, standardized equipment that can be purchased by customers at a reasonable price. This is just another example of how big cable companies gouge the public.

Diana	Dale-Hargraves	1121 Summit Way	Sauk Rapids	56379	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Cable companies have held us hostage for too many years! We are at the end of our rope and would pretty much like to just end their services entirely. Wonder what they would think about that? $$$ talks!
Justin	Dold	649 N 75th Cir	Kansas City	66112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DAVID	LAMBERT	1540 Em Ray Drive	Eugene	97405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Arturo	Andujo	11633 Josephine st Thornton co	Denver	80233	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sara	Boissonnault	35 Baker St	Bristol	3222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gerri	Moore	211 E Providence Ct	Absecon	8205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ogden	Tuttle	119 Scott Ave	Castleton on Hudson	12033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathryn	Watkins	10756 Middleboro Dr	Damascus	20872	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
P	Hickey	456 Worthington Road	Millersville	21108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carolina	Rojas Ramirez	9310 Milroy Pl	Bethesda	20814	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Flesher	22439 State Route 335	Waverly	45690	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Virginia	Wilson	8370 Dusty Ln	Mechanicsville	23116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Morey	211 S State College Bl #346	Anaheim	92806	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia	Osika	104 Scarborough Vill. Dr.	Dayton	45458	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Lopez	3456 Los Olivos Avenue	Twentynine Palms	92277	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brian	Fink	1806 Green St.	Philadelphia	19130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rob	Christensen	519 7th	Coon Rapids	50058	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edward	Wright	217 N. Opothleohola St.	Wetumpka	36092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Terry	Travis	91-999 La'aulu St.	EWA BEACH	96706	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Hafling	Jim Hafling	Bradenton	34205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Grossman	115 Ferrere Lane	Boyers	16020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gregg	Hanna	518 S Elm St. McPherson, KS	McPherson	67460	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nicholas	Kreiser	8 Ogden Street Floor 2	Carnegie	15106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Benincasa	297 Spring St Apt 6	Red Bank	7701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Oacar	Mena	75 W. 238 Street	Bronx	10463	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Athas	12 New Preston Hill Rd.	New Preston Marble Dale	6777	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jan	norman	37 maryland ave	Rockville	20850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Geoffrey	Loneragan	198 Cincinnati Ave	Xenia	45385	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Coral	Shaffer	1024 NE 68TH ST	Seattle	98115	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elaine	Kaemingk	8529 Bender Rd	Lynden	98264	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jorge	De Cecco	705 North State Street # 268	Ukiah	95482	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Greg	Ehlert	950 Seamist Place Apt 102	Ventura	93003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Brose	5903 E 137th St	Grandview	64030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Indeed, what is the point in having a "cable-ready" set, when everything is encrypted, and plug-in cableCARDs don't work beyond the most basic functions? If I want PPV or on-demand programming, they're useless for those.Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

JUDY	BARRETT	208 PINE TREE COURT	Pottstown	19464	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	George	37 Loring St	Auburn	1501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mariana	Camacho	1213 3rd st	Palmetto	34221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Louis	Antonelli	2267 misthaven lane	Gambrills	21054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Jackson	266 Aurora Ave	Atlanta	30314	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Gallo	107 Maple Ave	Old Saybrook	6475	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	McCallum	3521 Edgewood Drive	Ann Arbor	48104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tyler	Rick	1440 University St Apt C	Walla Walla	99362	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann L	Turkovich	963 trout lane	Shelbyville	40065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Odette	Bardina	571-53rd St.	West New York	7093	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Melino	7112 Rutland Street, Phila., PA	Philadelphia	19149	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harriette	Frank	3603 Westover Road	Durham	27707	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Martin	Watts	15 Moira Crescent	North Attleboro	2760	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Wintermeier	17225 Somerset Rd	Von Ormy	78073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leigh	Bass	1178 Beverly Dr	LEMOORE	93245	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Wintermeier	17225 Somerset Rd	Von Ormy	78073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Matulina	8130 A1A	Saint Augustine	32080	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bryan	Ferris	8500 148th Ave NE	Redmond	98052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chalette	Dominic	1801 E Palm Valley Blvd, #1627	Round Rock	78664	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Razia	Hashwani	10731 Boca Pointe Drive	Orlando	32836	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
P J	Hunter	P O Box 8855	Santa Fe	87504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Erik	Walla	3351 Kingsbury Ave	Richland Hills	76118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Holly	Wells	1814 S Calumet Parkway	Chicago	60616	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Brustman	2013 Devita Ct, Walnut Creek, CA	Walnut Creek	94595	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Delenia	Hayes	718 E 6th St	Claremore	74017	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sherry	Fox	PO Box 193	Elfrida	85610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vince	Schatz	37 Maple Valley St	Sandusky	48471	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alan	Pachter	PO Box 17052	Saint Paul	55117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nina	Nava	28 1/2 Cedar st	Bakersfield	93304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nina	Nava	28 1/2 Cedar st	Bakersfield	93304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris Ellen	Montgomery	176 Park St	San Francisco	94110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Wilkenfeld	1410 Whitney Ave., F-1	HAMDEN	6517	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
D	Miller	22 singer	Santa Fe	87506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Curtis	Lanning	116 South Cayuga St, Ithaca, NY	Ithaca	14850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Stevenson	1610 SW Martin St	Corvallis	97333	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wm.	Cackette	517-10st N.W.		96325	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeffrey	Reed	405 W Alameda Ave H	Burbank	91506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tower	Snow	177 Ridge Drive	Napa	94558	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dorisa	Hamm	2817 Lillian Rd	Ann Arbor	48104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donald	Bombard	1516 N. Hampton Ave	Springfield	65803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gladys	Roseman	2013 Sable Lane NE	Olympia	98506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tina	ILVONEN	131 ne 54th st	Seattle	98105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kim	Ortiz	1650 Bayview Ave	Blaine	98230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marie Ann	Meyr-Carolan	69-24 Juniper Valley Road	Middle Village	11379	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jon	Kiesling	819 greeley ave	Saint Louis	63119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alexander	Henrich	Burgwedeltwiete 17		22457	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joline	Barth	7339 Greenway Drive	Jacksonville	32244	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Courtney	Rioux	2316 W Sunnyside	Chicago	60625	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cynthia	Romberger	310 W Nopal Pl	CHANDLER	85225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Litt	13100 SE River Rd	Portland	97222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Purvis	3938 E Grant Rd #203	Tucson	85712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Laura	Helfman	297 Sunset Vista	COALMONT	37313	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenn	Christopher	42457 Parkhurst	Plymouth	48170	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Wasiowicz	110 Park Terrace	Collingswood	8108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bryan	Houston	888 7th street	San Francisco	94107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Allie	McNeal	1054 Bonita Circle	Jonesboro	30238	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
GARY	BOATNER	11565 Riverside Dr. 7	North Hollywood	91602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Panko	2604 W Estes ave	Chicago	60645	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Helen	Babcock	95 S Pacific	Ventura	93001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
V J	Deutsch	Walnut Street	Boulder	80302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

michael	rohmer	33291 highway 190	Springville	93265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Aimee	Levin	1221 Lattie Lane	Mill Valley	94941	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	McMenamin	105 Leafcup Court	Gaithersburg	20878	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marde	Harrison	3755 S Caudill Rd	Palmer	99645	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Dzubak	69 Elton Avenue	Trenton	8620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Russell	Glenn	PO 1466	Ojai	93024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Phyllis	Kimmell	639 Yoder Street	Johnstown	15901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	-	39697 Castile Ave	Murrieta	92562	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cara	Ammon	4556 N. Beacon #3	Chicago	60640	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ann	Margaret	6816 N Atlantic Ave	Portland	97217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Timothy	Vana	4518 Marcy Street	Omaha	68106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Felicia	Landphier	169 lewis st #6	Elkhorn	53121	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephen	Cessna	7138 Steeplechase Way	Lansing	48917	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Josh	Davis	None	Sacramento	95815	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
claudine wilkin-	Chambers	66 starr street	New Haven	6511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Char	McLoughlin	8118 N Bayshore Dr	Elk Rapids	49629	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DeBorah	Ward	4007 S Drexel	Chicago	60653	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
steve	wardius	1018 w kamps av	Appleton	54914	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

German	Cristoff	70 West 95 Street	New York	10025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mamie	Reid	8757 Elon Trail Jonesboro Ga	Jonesboro	30238	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fernando	Jimenez	4608 e rosecrans ave	Compton	90221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Matt	Brzezinski	21216 Briar ct	Saint Clair Shores	48081	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Fisher	429 Lighthouse Ave Apt 2	Pacific Grove	93950	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
WILLIAM	Homola	33393 Electric Blvd.Apt.F-12	Avon Lake	44012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Forrest	Anderson	7831 north main	Dayton	45415	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kristin	Sullivan	2211 w. mulberry #37	Fort Collins	80521	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe	Veltri	14119 Millco LN	Valley Center	92082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tricia	Toliver	212 18th St, Brooklyn, NY	Brooklyn	11215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ashton	Hamm	5172 Dixie Garden Drive	Shreveport	71105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eileen	Sharp	64 Circle Drive	North Windham	6256	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carrie	Williams	7300 Cedarpost Rd. Apt. JA	LIVERPOOL	13088	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robyn	Barnes	1211K Trillium Circle	Raleigh	27606	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Allison	Murray-Nikkel	9 River Oaks Dr	Greensboro	27409	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Awa Kinì©	Thiam	500 Sherbrooke Street	Compton	90222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kelly	Tucker	3495 nine mile rd	Cincinnati	45255	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
SHARON	LEE	2277 NE BARON	BEND	97701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Amanda	DeWeese	301 hillcrest drive	Lexington	27292	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Singsen	3153 S Adams Ave	Milwaukee	53207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cameron	Gaddy	10429 NW Mayer Ct.	Portland	97229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Parks	4616 Indian Ridge Dr.	PASCO	99301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sarah	Lincoln	556 Quaker st	North Ferrisburgh	5473	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randall	Parks	4616 Indian Ridge Dr.	PASCO	99301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Belle	Rothstein	132 Combs Avenue	Woodmere	11598	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mathew	Wahrman	2601 Grand Isle Circle	Corpus Christi	78414	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hasana	Abdullah	3165 w michigan ave	YPSILANTI	48197	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Misty	Mossa	5407 S 72ND EAST AVE	Tulsa	74145	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wes	Wright	103 Cross Creek Trail	Alexandria	36250	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
sylnia	wright	116 fontaine landing ct	Louisville	40212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jimmie	Myers	2222 CR3000 N	Gifford	61847	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martha	Dickerson	6800 Erinbrook Dr	Concord	28025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kara	Stewart	640 Jackson St	FENNIMORE	53809	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Pell	255 Berkeley Avenue	NEWARK	7107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary E	Heinz	11 Sioux Trail	Denville	7834	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gillian	Sobocinski	44 Teed Street	Huntington Station	11746	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dylan	Casalino	1968 Kimball St	Brooklyn	11234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Hartman	2514 Evans Ave	LOUISVILLE	80027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karolyn	Johnson	1262 Mayfair Court	VINELAND	8360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joseph	Quirk	147 Avenue A	New York	10009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alex	Coleman	633 E6th St 3E	New York	10009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Betsy	Flick	713 Sherwood Rd	NEW CUMBERLAND	17070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alicia	Garza	54 Bowers Ave	Malden	2148	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Riley	Rigsby	150 rice mine rd n apt c105	Tuscaloosa	35406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Quoc	Hoang	3423 flinthill ct	San Jose	95148	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alexander	MacGregor	1094 Route 2	Rumford	4276	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Elshaw	47 Beach Street		60321	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Serina	King	2720 State Street, Unit 23	Hamden	6517	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Nutting	Carroll Dr.	Foxboro	2035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kristi	McCollum	512 Main Street	De Witt	64639	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rachel	Harris	144 Hunolt St.	Santa Cruz	95060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Stickney	30 shell road, mill valley, ca	Mill Valley	94941	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Monica	Harper	3267 hwy 71 Coushatta, LA	Coushatta	71019	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Olson	1116 Montana Avenue	South Milwaukee	53172	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margie	Jenkins	5850 21st St N #11 St Petersburg, Fl	Saint Petersburg	33714	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rosemary	Thompson	4634 Mint Ln	Santa Barbara	93110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Juan M	Zepeda	1030 Maple St	Arroyo Grande	93420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jaxs	Powell	110 Park Ave	Gillespie	62033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pat	Pierce	207 Uteg	CRYSTAL LAKE	60014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Rembert	4918 Briarleigh Chase SW	Mableton	30126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

harry	coman	41 NORMAN HILL ROAD	Woodstock	6281	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	Struckhoff	11111111	Columbia	65203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Annmarie	O'Toole	41 Arborway Drive	BRAINTREE	2184	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rick	Pearson	221 County Road 3082, Lampasas, TX	LAMPASAS	76550	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janice	Rost	HeartAndSoul Matters	Briarcliff Manor	10510	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alejandro	Munoz	2053 NW 78 Ave	Miami	33122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Ziegenfuss	708 nw 6th street	Boca Raton	33486	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Beers	10858 W. Dumbarton Dr.	Littleton	80127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Connie	Sorrell	404 Circle Dr.	Estill Springs	37330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rod	Russell	39 Hummingbird Drive	Roslyn	11576	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Wasley	464 Kaplan Avenue	Hackensack	7601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Miriam	Goldfein	200 Birch Bluff Rd	Excelsior	55331	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Douglas	Michaud	22 Simpson Lane	Assonet	2702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kristin	Anthony	1331 Mossridge Drive	Missouri City	77489	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Wachter	136 stone ridge road	Indiana	15701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lorraine	Hall	20480 Woodbury Drive	Grass Valley	95949	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leslie	Fletcher	5616 La Salle Ct.	New Port Richey	34652	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Ross-Stallings	P.O. Box 2487	Danville	40423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christina	Morales	74-15 35 th Ave	Jackson Heights	11372	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Cruz	1 fake st	Beverly Hills	90210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Meghan	Houston	312 Jefferson Ave	LEHIGH ACRES	33936	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Naylor	7208 Reservation Dr	SPRINGFIELD	22153	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
J. Fred	Thornton	26 Barden Hill Road	Middleboro	2346	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Krueger	3975 North Hualapai Way #267	Las Vegas	89129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Austin	Willacy	3240 King St	Berkeley	94703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Giovanni	Tartaglia	6250 W FLAMINGO RD UNIT 161	Las Vegas	89103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Juanita	Deans	5511 spruce tree	Bethesda	20814	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cheryl	Vosburg	6018 Bonneau Rd	Richmond	23227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
marie	catrino	23 dale dr	Voorhees	8043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jessica	Martinson	1330 School Road	San Juan Bautista	95045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margaret	Snyder	2533 Broadmeade Rd	LOUISVILLE	40205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ron	Headley	561 Reinhard Ave	Columbus	43206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
lauree	karl	7395 whitespire rd #12	Schofield	54476	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Osipoff	8604 County Rd. A	Belleville	53508	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Mehling	2442 Hardin ridge drive	Organ	88052	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Norman	Simmonds	1979 McCrea Rd.	Thousand Oaks	91362	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

carlos	Colorado	822 N Hazard Ave.apt.201	Los Angeles	90063	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Allen	Nagel	4610 E 1022 N	Demotte	46310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joanna	S	Seattle WA	Seattle	98136	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carrie	Tweedie	462 Wing Rd Hermon, Maine	Bangor	4401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Melendez	14041 La Pat St	Westminster	92683	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jimmy	Carrell	10971 SW 85th Terrace	Ocala	34481	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janette	Barnard	3215 Medaris Ln	San Antonio	78258	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	kelly	115 vulcan way	TUCKERTON	8087	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
La Donna	Struckman	Bellevue IA	Bellevue	52031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Moffo	2524 w.manor ave.	YOUNGSTOWN	44514	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bradford	Graves	2656 Fountain ave	South Lake Tahoe	96150	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laurice	Riekki	3741 NW Orilla St.	Poulsbo	98370	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Albanese	9996 E Placita De Las Palmeritas	Tucson	85747	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Smoove	Russell	000000 a st	Charlotte	28216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mika	Stonehawk	2480 Irvine Blvd	TUSTIN	92782	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charlyn	Tyler-Partida	336. Elm Ave	Rahway	7065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Ninde	5408 Lynbrook Pl	Concord	94521	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Rowell	1520 Grassymeade LANE	ALEXANDRIA	22308	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Evelyn	Ramos	4688 Huntington Dr. So. # 111. L.A. Ca	Los Angeles	90032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
lupe	rivas	1511 s. carolina	amarillo	79102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Naomi	Pusch	33 West St	Easthampton	1027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Danielle	Mollet	2010 Margot Circle	Reno	89509	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alex	Silverio	1507 San Tomas Ct.	San Jose	95130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sheila	Henderson	1315 Overlook Street,Richmond, VA	Richmond	23224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Evelyn	Ramos	4688 Huntington Dr. So. # 111. L.A. Ca	Los Angeles	90032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
kevin	sailsbury	2610 24th st.	Lubbock	79410	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	FlattHoma	25417 County Road 51	Greeley	80631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jon	Lemieux	82 Fox St	Menasha	54952	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debbra	Schwartz	4570 Sequoyah Road	Oakland	94605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
J	K.	534 twin oaks	POLK	16342	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rachel	St.Onge	11 Race Ave.	Plainville	6062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Grace	Miller	6706 S. Echo Ridge	Spokane	99224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Campbell	3241 E137th Street	Cleveland	44120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kenneth	Quinn	6828 Honeysuckle Trail	Bradenton	34202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carolyn	Samples	2780 Riverfront Dr	Snellville	30039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brooke	D.	251 Totman St.	Lowell	1854	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Letitia	Minor	209 W RED OAK DR	Memphis	38112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kellie	F		Salem	97302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joy	Gomes	5950 Sampson Blvd	Sacramento	95824	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

S	Simmer	austin	Austin	78751	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mic	Lawskis	7510 Main St SW	Jenison	49428	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pierre	Demassey	55 Fetter Ave	Trenton	8610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christopher	Barbush	1042 Barnsbury Court	Vacaville	95687	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Schaeffer	5602 BOULDER WAY	Wappingers Falls	12590	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bob	Hannigan	1820 NW Hawthorn PL	CORVALLIS	97330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathleen	Caporaso	2 Pomander Walk	Nutley	7110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Miller	712 N Geyer Rd	Saint Louis	63122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Calkins	5831 Drexel Rd	PHILADELPHIA	19131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Julie	Elfin	8206 Bryant Drive	Bethesda	20817	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jodi	Lazar	3200 N. Lake Shore Drive	Chicago	60657	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gayle	Robson	9906 Kingsbridge Dr	Fairfax	22031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stuart	Fox	8201 Hoover Ln	Indianapolis	46260	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Sexton	Westlake, OH	Westlake	44145	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doris	Wengler	2807 Spokane	San Antonio	78222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

christine	belles	29735 Roan Dr	Warren	48093	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Geta	2519 Adam Lane	Palmdale	93551	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brittany	Van Gordon	4522 Mint dr.	Garland	75043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathleen	Burke	1427 W Carmen Avenue	Chicago	60640	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shelly	OBrien	2331 Thornton Ave		29619	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carole	Hansen	7311 Creekside Dr.	Lansing	48917	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Tauson	1011 Central St. NE	Olympia	98506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Kiely	8055 E. Fairfield Street	Mesa	85207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Cesnik	6703 Raritan Ct.	Indianapolis	46221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marc	Saunders	11219 104th Ave NE	Kirkland	98033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	Naylor	857 Ithaca Dr	Boulder	80305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kazmier	Maslanka	8841 Spectrum Center Blvd #5211	San Diego	92123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Demaio	2621 eustace ave	Deltona	32725	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darlene	Tussing	1156 E Henry st	Tempe	85281	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. This applies to all Tv and wifi services. And to top it off. These companies continue to raise prices in older neighborhoods and refuse to upgrade the equipment. Thus, we cannot get faster or quality service.
Dale	LaCognata	9851 Beam Ridge Dr.	Indianapolis	46256	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ryan	Outly	201 GREEN VISTA DR	Pittsburgh	15237	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bridgette	Ward	9201 Black Slate St.	Las Vegas	89123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Cavanaugh	2621 Rockefeller Lane	REDONDO BEACH	90278	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Benson	104 Deerfield Ct	Swansboro	28584	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Willette	Johnson	4545 dorff	Memphis	38116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sonia	De la Cruz	1439 belfiore way	Windermere	34786	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Angela	Mounce	215 e Lafayette st	Fayetteville	72701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Weber	11800 Easy Street	Austin	78748	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Clough	533 N McKinley Rd	Flushing	48433	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Judith	Bahl	5016 U Street, Washougal, WA	Washougal	98671	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rob	Smart	2 watch hill rd.	Saint Louis	63124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alyssa	Rogo	1035 Celia st	Ironwood	49938	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Scott	Bruins	4747 N MERIDIAN ST	Indianapolis	46208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Clark	2546 Woodland Drive	Charlottesville	22903	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Pranys	6808 Baker Rd Apt C	Athens	45701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mike	Thor	107 Suncrest	Talent	97540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Karaczun	321 Chessbriar Drive	Bethel Park	15102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. You guys should resign you elected positions unless you start working for the average voter. Work for us or lose your well paying jobs.
Chris	Young	501 S Florida Ave	Lakeland	33801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sherri	Mizell	2205 NW 21st Place	Gainesville	32605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charlene	Westley	4228 N Willis Blvd	Portland	97203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Francine	Rubino	505 Hibiscus Ave	Pompano Beach	33062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Darlene	Bell	33501 Hidden Hollow Dr.	Wildomar	92595	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Acutt	22 Cavendish Gardens		RM15 4	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anna	Mosqueda	9370 Oak Avenue	Orangevale	95662	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alana	Searl	Crystal lake	Crystal Lake	60014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathy	Marshall	P.O. Box 132	Dover	72837	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeff	Keeling	1025 Upland Ridge Dr.	Fort Wayne	46825	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Wiseman	1123 S Browne	Spokane	99204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Bomber	11840 SE Brookside Dr.	Portland	97266	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Guy	Lopez	P.O. Box 190381	Anchorage	99519	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jonathan	Liebson	21 Columbia Place, #1F	Brooklyn	11201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Hughey	5358 Rector St.	Toledo	43615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DK	Bolen	5600 59 Way N, St Petersburg, FL	Saint Petersburg	33709	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Dunlap	1587 S. Salida Way Aurora	Aurora	80017	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pam	Campbell	820 Terrill Street	Chippewa Falls	54729	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Reid	Love	7864 Grimsby Circle	Harrisburg	28075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ross	Judd	15555 Sorbonne St., Sylmar, Ca.	Sylmar	91342	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Walz	139 Forest Hill Drive	Asheville	28803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
M.	Steere	8195 Park	Forestville	95436	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jennifer	Goade	170 Guildwood Dr.	Sun Valley	89433	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ELISABETH	LANGENDORF	2408 FAIRWAY OAKS CT	Hampstead	21074	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Benjamin	Leutenberg	4426 Lucille Avenue	Cleveland	44121	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Debbie	Bremner	15837 11th Ave NE	Seattle	98155	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	White	4728 N. Camino Gacela	Tucson	85718	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Reeve	1229 Rhode Island Street	SAN FRANCISCO	94107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jody	DeCarlo	P.O. Box 310	RED LODGE	59068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marc	Rachmuth	2125 Bermuda Dunes Place	Oxnard	93036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Gettmann	16643 NE Hassalo St.	Portland	97230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christopher	Tuch	175 Bobolink	new braunfels	78130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Reibstein	6322 Camino Corto	San Diego	92120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jessica	Rice	799 Seawind Way	Port Hueneme	93041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. I AM SO TIRED OF NOT HAVING A CHOICE IN MY INTERNET SUBSCRIPTION. THIS IS ILLEGAL???? THAT'S WHAT I WAS TAUGHT IN HIGH SCHOOL CIVICS CLASS. WHEN DID THAT CHANGE? WHAT CANT I CHOOSE THE PROVIDER I WANT??

Oliver	Zuvich	1704 Phelan Ln	Redondo Beach	90278	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Brees	9210 Poppy Circle	Westminster	92683	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Tuch	175 Bobolink	new braunfels	78130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mateusz	Antolak	16839 Hobart ave	Tinley Park	60487	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Balcom	7824 Sesame St.	Hudson	34667	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
l	mayberry	9490 tacoma ave apt a	Englewood	34224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rick	Siegert	3132 Oakwood Ave. SE	Albany	97322	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Evelyn	Ramos	4688 Huntington Dr. So. # 111. L.A. Ca	Los Angeles	90032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beth	Chiodo	208 spruce st. a6	Ketchum	83340	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Becky	Haines	1730 Civietown Rd SW		29462	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Suzann	Finch	308 Carolina	BELLINGHAM	98225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Liefer	7546 Sunset ave.	Jenison	49428	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alan	Schenck	1784 Kimberly Drive	SUNNYVALE	94087	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janice	Davis	834 Val Sereno Dr Encinitas, CA	Encinitas	92024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
MARGARET	HASHMI	3704 TREE FARM LANE	BELLINGHAM	98226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marilu	Hernandez	7480 sunny hill ter	Lake Worth	33462	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frances	Raab	Quakertown, PA	Quakertown	18951	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ahlia	Demas Jimenez	1918 Fairway Circle Dr	San Marcos	92078	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michele	Ferrari	15 42 street	Islip	11751	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Gomez	10812 kline st sw lakewood wa 98499	Lakewood	98499	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sam	Tam	159-07 Oak Ave	Flushing	11358	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

maury	schindler	1580 creekside rd	AMELIA	45102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rene	Arreola	608 I St	SANGER	93657	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Micah	Carlin-Goldberg	305 Kuck Lane	Petaluma	94952	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Justin	Woodard	1036 Cox Ave.	Chesapeake	23323	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brad	Snyder	8887 Dallas Lane N.	Osseo	55369	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Lawton	5276 sw 152 avenue	Hollywood	33027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kelvin	Karp	2165 Augsburg St.	Saginaw	48603	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Quick	315 N. 5th. Street	Bloomfield	87413	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sasha	Delgado	6520 Booth st.	Rego Park	11374	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Valerie	Salemi	1040 N Ogden Dr	Los Angeles	90046	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jonathan	Vonasek	1113 East Blvd	Aurora	44202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Phelan	68 Maegan Pl #3	Thousand Oaks	91362	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Emma	Johnson	3602 Duke Homestead Road	Durham	27704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
judy	kadlub	3640 park blvd	San Diego	92103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Coney	Lee	1915 Mathews Ave, Unit 5	REDONDO BEACH	90278	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dianne	Schmitt	2400 Donovan Ave, #17	Bellingham	98225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brandon	Mengele	45055 Klingkammer	Utica	48317	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Carlsone	140 Selby Ln	Livermore	94551	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

heila	Cook	6446 SW tailors Ferry Rd	Portland	97219	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Robison	3820 Pershing	FORT WORTH	76107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jenny	Skoble	16 Mirada Road	Half Moon Bay	94019	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nicki	Featherby	9500 NW 28th St	Vancouver	98665	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alvin	Kutil	5513 County Road Cv unit b	Madison	53704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Sattler	W136S6827 Hale Park Dr	Muskego	53150	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

mary	looper	17 east yates road north	Memphis	38120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Derick	Dong	13700 Avon Allen Rd	Mount Vernon	98273	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Jones	1737 West Stardust Dr Taylorsville Utah	Salt Lake City	84129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melanie	Marshall	3932 259th AVE SE	Issaquah	98029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ellen	Peer	8711 SW 185 Ter	Miami	33157	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elaine	Fischer	2514 Sharmar Rd.	Roanoke	24018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dennis	Skurjo	Grassy Hill Road	Orange	6477	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	West	3547 Linden Ave	Las Cruces	88005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lindy	Sweetser	9 Dream Court Namvour		45600	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Leonard	313 Maple St	Chapel Hill	37034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dean	Fischer	956 Harden Drive	Pittsburgh	15229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maria	Ochoa	1714 E. Miles Street	Tucson	85719	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Arrie	Hammel	1107 20th Street Upper	Niagara Falls	14301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Derek	Blackshire	Po Box 49291	Jacksonville	32240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marcia	Galka	2 Washington Place, Troy NY	Troy	12180	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marcia	Galka	2 Washington Place, Troy NY	Troy	12180	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeffrey	Lee	1223 York St NE Apt 6-A	Aiken	29801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	Fitzgerald	14527south Siltstone road	Herriman	84096	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shannon	Doyle	4 Baglee Ave Rt 44	Pittsfield	1201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Gimmy	73 East Ave., Westfield, NY	Westfield	14787	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patty	Jackson	1718 NW 143RD AVE	Portland	97229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Victor	Martinez	1277 Shakespeare Avenue	Bronx	10452	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tessie	Humble	Paul-Lincke-Ufer 25A		10999	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Galy	2808 Boxwood Place	Colorado Springs	80920	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Roberta	D'Orazio	3911 Park Blvd #1507	San Diego	92103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe Dan	Golden	1423 Magazine St.	New Orleans	70119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Derek	Duszynski	426 S Sepulveda Blvd	Los Angeles	90049	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Aliz	Vanila	Hal ter	San Francisco	94114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Klein	3 Indian River Ave	TITUSVILLE	32796	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Huxley	Gay	1838 Anderson Ave Apt 4	Manhattan	66502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Leonard	313 Maple St	Chapel Hill	37034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lance	Waggoner	1150 Fergus Dr	Beavercreek	45430	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kecia	Pitt	67 POND RD, APT 2R	Yonkers	10701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeff	Flowers	7355 Shadeland Sta. Wy. #125, Indianapolis, IN	Indianapolis	46256	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Schuster	2004 11th St NW	WASHINGTON	20001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marcelle	Bartlett	303 N. Rock Crusher Rd. Crystal river, Fl.	Crystal River	34429	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dorothy	Henderson	2701 Grayland Avenue	Richmond	23220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisema	Lekhooana	11 Leyds Street -		10730	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Westheimer	310 Southfield Ln	PETERBOROUGH	3458	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Humane	Officer	-	New York	10001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Humane	Officer	-	New York	10001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
RANDAL	MASSARO	14599 CEREZO ROAD	Victorville	92392	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandy	Prybylek	20851 Fuller Avenue	Euclid	44123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kris	Olson	110 E Center St Ste 2100	Madison	57042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sascha	Becker	SaargemÌ_nder StraÌÙe 201	KANSAS CITY	66119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

brian	sullivan	87 hogan dr	Mashpee	2649	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terry	Golz	324 Tulsa Ave	Carpentersville	60110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
david	hirsch	2275 So Bascom ave	Campbell	95008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Teresa	Hamilton	606 S Mine La Motte	FREDERICKTOWN	63645	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Reteska	246 Hazelwood Avenue	Pittsburgh	15202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jane	Regan	90 Lexington Avenue	Cambridge	2138	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Baumann	476 Forest st.	Kearny	7032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harold	Pullin	1600 Clifton Rd	Atlanta	30333	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Shadbera	673 springtown rd	Tillson	12486	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dennis	Shadbera	201 crescent pl	Yonkers	10704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Shadbera	673 springtown rd	Tillson	12486	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis	Shadbera	673 springtown rd	Tillson	12486	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stacy	Wirth	41 Cherry Park Ct.	Oshkosh	54902	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Wolney	558 Pony Ave	Battle Creek	49014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Monica	Boucher-Romano	249 Middlesex Road	Columbia	29210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Wilkinson	6451 Bayside South Drive	Indianapolis	46250	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pamela	Miller	721 1/2 Myrth Avenue	Essex	21221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ed	del russo	501 west cedar ave.	Oaklyn	8107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gertis	Thompson	2819 Sonora Dr.	Memphis	38115	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
steve	putrich	2513 huntleigh rd	Springfield	62704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Grant	2662 E. Washington St.	Iowa City	52245	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Quandt	6326 E Shea	Scottsdale	85254	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Todd	Snyder	328 Leadley Ave.	East Peoria	61611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
c	hadj	101 channel dr Pt Washington	Port Washington	11050	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Thompson	301 Givens Lane Lot 166	Blacksburg	24060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Filak	1051 Wilbert Rd	Lakewood	44107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	Pniewski	182 greenacres	Clarkrange	38553	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sandra	Toomey	4313 Elm	LYONS	60534	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vicky	B	1273 Hogansville Rd	LAGRANGE	30241	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
mark	Felton	6820 west flagler street apt 103	Miami	33144	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

brenda	green	3678 Hayes Street, N.E. Apt. 201	Washington	20019	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Adam	Zaremberg	70 Dahill Rd Apt 4E	Brooklyn	11218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marshall	Hall	1889 Delowe Place SW	Atlanta	30311	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marge	Thorne	12324 Anarania Drive Jacksonville Florida	Jacksonville	32220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Rogers	1215 Boardwalk St	Arlington	76011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
kathy	Rosado	2011 Plantation Palms Dr.	Brandon	33511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Ponsetto Jr, Esq	347 Holland Rd	Flushing	48433	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ruby	Singleton Blakeney	49 Robinson St	Sumter	29150	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
pablo	castro jimenez	1101 new york ave nw	Washington	20005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cases	Lluì_s	bruc 147	Clementon	8021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lily	Kazantzi	ap16		18537	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lily	Kazantzi	ap16		18537	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

regina	olbrich	550 Brandon Rd.	Norristown	19403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
elwood	clark	10rd6361	Kirtland	87417	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julie	Wilson	650 W. Adrian St	Blissfield	49228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

H.P.	Denenberg	712 s warnock	Philadelphia	19147	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Johannn	Pichardo	710 Ridge Rd Lyndhurst, NJ	Lyndhurst	7071	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Franklin	Torreno	1205 Smith St	Providence	2908	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Adam	Hovav	7209 willowdale ave	Baltimore	21206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joanne	Benton	2626 Babcock	San Antonio	78229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fred	Dimmick	14 Valencia Drive	Manchester Township	8759	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marina	Condurelis	2100 95th Ave South	Boca Raton	33428	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Murdy	543 Greenwood St	Barnesville	30204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Adrienne	Wint	268 Corona Avenue	Long Beach	90803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

margot	tomsen	106 garritt st.	Hanover	47243	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patti	Bradshaw	57 Main St.	Amesbury	1913	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Kerman	P.O. Box 733	Hazel Park	48030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Arthur	Losee	36 Stowe Ave	Babylon	11702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jole	lheureux	22860 26 mile road	Macomb	48042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jole	lheureux	22860 26 mile road	Macomb	48042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Olga	Rose-Jones	11236-4303	Brooklyn	11236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Zilles	716 Fairchild St.	Iowa City	52245	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eli	SOmeck	463 7th avenue	BROOKLYN	11215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Nuelsen	248 Huntington St.	New Haven	6511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chezna	Warner	8625 Del Vista Dr	Saint Louis	63126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margarita	Wilde	7300 Reames Rd	Charlotte	28216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephanie	Murphy	13115 Josephine Street	Omaha	68138	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kayla	Deleon	211 Broadmoor St	Borger	79007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doug	Blair	9000 York Lane	Melbourne	32904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Doug	Blair	9000 York Lane	Melbourne	32904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Pelletier	46 MAIN ST.	North Reading	1864	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Carrington	240 M Street, SW E714, Washington, DC	Washington	20024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Hickey	31 , Kaymar Dr.	Buffalo	14228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	Lyness	204 Intervale Rd	Mountain Lakes	7046	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christine	Landon	3506 222nd St. SW.	Mountlake Terrace	98043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	Wellsand	158 Shadywood Ave	Lathrop	95330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
adrian	landon	73 Sackett st.	Brooklyn	11231	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ruchir	Vora	522 Dogwood Dr.	CHAPEL HILL	27516	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Don	Gentry	15373 Isabella Ct.	Corpus Christi	78418	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathy	Stromberg	41372 Little Clara Dr	Deer River	56636	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Neil	Patel	Marine Ave	Gardena	90247	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leslie	Donaldson	2828 Neale Street	Richmond	23223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carmen	Hendershot	55 West 13th Street	New York	10011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alycia	Ward	600 Miller Avenue	Columbus	43205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Darin	Sullivan	295 Calle Esperanza Santa Barbara, Ca	Santa Barbara	93105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Prellwitz	712 Courtview Drive	Greensburg	15601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joy	Beadleston	1570 South First Ave #13	Iowa City	52240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joy	Beadleston	1570 South First Ave #13	Iowa City	52240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debra	Ware	342 W00drow St	Fort Walton Beach	32547	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joy	Beadleston	1570 South First Ave #13	Iowa City	52240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Holly	Marihugh	271 Scott Avenue	Winnetka	60093	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Quentin	Stafford	619 american way	LAKELAND	33815	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joy	Beadleston	1570 South First Ave #13	Iowa City	52240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Randall	Zobel	4 Main Street	Mystic	6355	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Harris	POB 602	FLOYD	24091	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Meghan	Combs	60 Thayer St	New York	10040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dustin	Schneider	7175 Dark Horse dr.	Colorado Springs	80919	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jan and Michael	Dennison	1315 Carriage drive	Richmond	77406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Beebe	98 Circular Street	Saratoga Springs	12866	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jenna	Williams-Bader	MacArthur Blvd	Washington	20016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Seidler	31220 Avenida Valdez	Cathedral City	92234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sara	Moen	1003 SE 32nd Ave.	PORTLAND	97214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Katherine	Tildes	89 Prell Circle	Brewster	2631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lois	Sayers	230 WHITE OAK DRIVE, New Kensington PA	New Kensington	15068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cynthia	Eyer	5708 Turner Glen Drive	Raleigh	27603	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Sharinus	416 Glensprings Drive	Fletcher	28732	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
DEBBIE	BOCHERT	10763 Loren Ln	Denver	80233	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Tingle	1949 Meadowbrook Road	Jackson	39211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Devorah	Moss	1959 NE Pacific St	Seattle	98195	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JENNIFER	MORRIS	1511 S GEORGE MASON DR	Arlington	22204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Siegfried	Ward	25521 N Lincoln Ave, SPC 43, Hemet, CA	Hemet	92544	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diana	Henderson	20 E Liberty Street	Staunton	24401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Canfield	165 Sw Cabana Point Cir	Stuart	34994	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
JENNIFER	MORRIS	1511 S GEORGE MASON DR	Arlington	22204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

ashley	ireland	943 7th st	sparks	89431	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carl	Chieffo	4491 Spring Blvd.	Eugene	97405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna	Sims	2275 Farifax Street	Denver	80207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anna	Shelton	102 Parker Rd	Oak Ridge	37830	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
CHARLOTTE	GRIECO	1402 S. Route#9	Cape May Court House	8210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
GAYLE	GRAZIANO	455 RIVER OAKS DR.	Hayesville	28904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kris	Walton	5166 N. Coloma Rd.	Coloma	49038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laurie	Miller	8224 Brandon Drive	Millersville	21108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenneth	Ellsperman	18 barn drive	New Bloomfield	17068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joseph	Lyons	Seattle, WA	Seattle	98119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Maertz	255 Garden Hill	San Antonio	78260	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Whichard	555 FREEMAN RD. #125	Central Point	97502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Burda Jr	2454 Remington Dr	Naperville	60565	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rebecca	Pollinzi	1113 Red River	Carrollton	75007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brandy	Long	445 Seabolt Rd. Sw	Adairsville	30103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Scott	Roberge	631 NH Route 26	Colebrook	3576	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kary	Blisko	22808 Renford St.	Novi	48375	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeffrey	Gaskins	9511)cala Street	Silver Spring	20901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anne	Granados	1307 4th street	Greeley	80631	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tanya	Newkirk	3938 Hawthorne Dr.	Jackson	39206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Monica	McFeeters	544 Sth 2nd Street	Baldwyn	38824	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mariana	Ornelas	526 Freiling	San Antonio	78213	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Wendt	410 North Civic Drive 108, Walnut Creek, CA	Walnut Creek	94596	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	Ague-Kennedy	813 Runningwood Circle	Mountain View	94040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Luis	Goyzueta	2655 fieldview dr	Macungie	18062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ivette	Andujar	1934 University Avenue - #12	Bronx	10453	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christina	Crosby	2240 Seminole	Melbourne	32904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kristoffer	Saylor	10115 Trumpet Vine Court	Manassas	20110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
d h	ludwig	1524 banklick	Covington	41011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Cronk	9 Galley Way, Ltl. Egg Harbor, N.J.	Tuckerton	8087	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sarah	Fichter	4607 Connecticut Ave NW	Washington	20008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
HERMELINDA	ZAPAROLLI	26 Ocean ave	San Francisco	94112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maria	Flengas	433 Autumn Green Lane		23330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

M	Piza	534 East 83rd Street	New York	10028	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	Boguske	11808 93 Ln Ne #302	Kirkland	98034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephanie	Beaty	2114 Starmont Road	Louisville	40207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Trevor	Robinson	1201 Bentwood Rd	Austin	78722	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Macaire	Grambauer	1635 N. Whipple	CHICAGO	60647	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Macaire	Grambauer	1635 N. Whipple	CHICAGO	60647	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dan	Gallo	10 Indian Rock Lane	Greenwich	6830	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
L	Remington	PO Box 1586	DeLand	32721	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
carol	thon	1702 Beacon Hill Rd.	Downingtown	19335	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	kalinchok	25 james st	Kelayres	18231	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Don	Hayler	539 Ortega St.	San Francisco	94122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carmen	Shepard	Reliance	Rochester	14621	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lou	Illes	450 E Waterside Dr	CHICAGO	60601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lester	Brown	53060 CLARION DR	Macomb	48042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sean	Stebner	523 Graham Ave.	BROOKLYN	11222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lizbeth	Marano	Franklin Street	NEW YORK	10013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	McGilvra	3807 SE Clinton Street	PORTLAND	97202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
enric	santamarta	patraco 32		8292	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Justine	Fitzsimmons	88 Shelley Dr	Nashua	3062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Palandati	15226 Rio Nido Rd	Guerneville	95446	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Tychinin	15226 Rio Nido Rd	Guerneville	95446	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

ann	lavin	88 17th ave #309	San Mateo	94402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jenny	Dinas	312 Ward Road	Washougal	98671	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Drees	86 Hayes Rd, Madbury, NH	Madbury	3823	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Claire	Bastien	St Paul, MN	Saint Paul	55104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Shirreffs	1920 Wiregrass Ct	Orlando	32826	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gabrielle	Arguelles	12 Gordon Terrace	Newton	2458	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Amanda	Johnson	1915 Cardinal Way	Hebron	41048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Collins	200 Gibson RD	Louisville	40207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dana	Radell	7236 SW 114TH PL	Miami	33173	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Corbett	petersen	906 stewart st	Eureka	95503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	Reimann	2236 east Crescent Drive, Missoula , Mt	Missoula	59803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katherine	Gorell	4614 SE Madison	Portland	97215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michelle	Fjalltoft	16 Westwood Lane	Irvington	10533	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Payje	McGonigle	2129 Brushville road	Susquehanna	18847	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. I PAY FOR CABLE AND GET RERUNS AND CHANNELS THAT I DO NOT WANT! THE SERVICE IS HORRID YET THESE GREEDY PIGS WANT MORE MONEY? I DO NOT WATCH CRAZY CHRISTIANS OR THE YANKEES CHANNEL OR RACING OR BOXING OR FOX NOISE! WHY DO I HAVE TO PAY FOR THESE CHANNELS AND THEN PAY MORE FOR THEM JUST SO THEY CAN STAY ON AIR????
J. Michael "Mike"	Henderson	12979 Rancho Penasquitos Blvd., San Diego, CA	SAN DIEGO	92129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alan	Petner	7 Waynesboro	Irvine	92620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	Naron	676 Browns Mountain rd	Scaly Mountain	28775	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	LaCour	4023 28TH AVE	Temple Hills	20748	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marc	Stoner	3223 Lake Glenn Drive, Eugene, OR	Eugene	97408	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	Malec	20 Sharon Drive	Tonawanda	14150	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	Beauregard	37 Anawan St	Brockton	2302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Adriana	Cecco	P.O. Box 228	Topsfield	1983	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Caryn	Wagner-McPherson	57 South Meadow Lane	GLEN CARBON	62034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Hoffman	33 Kelldon Drive	Felton	95018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

savannah	lauritzen	1575 lake tapps drive	Auburn	98092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Moriki	40445 CARMELITA CIRCLE	Temecula	92591	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Schuller	3942 Ledgewood Drive	Cincinnati	45229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leesa	Stevens	4650 Red Rock Loop Rd.	Sedona	86336	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stuart	Carson	2239 Clubhouse Dr.	Prescott	86301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerry	Reed	131 Westmoor Ave	Daly City	94015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Judith	Wiesner	17751 Wall Circle	Saint Petersburg	33708	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vance	Vaughan	1721 Hopkins St, Berkeley CA	Berkeley	94707	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rob	Bortolin	330 Penn St	El Segundo	90245	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Meredith	Asher	2245 W. Shakespeare Ave	Chicago	60647	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Blythe	14405 E. Royal Falcon Peak Place	Vail	85641	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. glenn	hudson	pob 483, castle rock	Castle Rock	98611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ingrid	Boot	Tichelkuilen	Virginia Beach	23456	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elisabeth	Genaux	17420 Andreanoff Dr	Juneau	99801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Radnay	85 6th Ave. Brooklyn, NY	Brooklyn	11217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jim	van Zee	268 NE 42nd St	Seattle	98105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vagner	Benedito	1391 Winona Av	Morgantown	26505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
emily	goodfader	25 bowdoin st	Arlington	2474	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Audrey	Jordan	763 Taft Drive, #14M	Arlington	76011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Liz	Baty	P.O. Box 367, E. Dennis, MA	East Dennis	2641	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dana Lee	Buckingham	9904 Florence Heights Blvd	Omaha	68112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jenice	Jackson	316 Stepney St	Inglewood	90302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Competition keeps prices down not everyone can afford cable all of the fees charged.
Maureen	Welsh	461 Leverington Avenue	Philadelphia	19128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maureen	Welsh	461 Leverington Avenue	Philadelphia	19128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

nicole	bos	2201 N. Ursula St.	Aurora	80045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edward	Scott	101 W 5th St	Frederick	21701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Hoffman	4331 Overland Parkway; Toledo ohio	Toledo	43612	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Ingagliato	2103 Cambridge Park Ct	Silver Spring	20902	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Debby	Wimer	5518 Broadway St.	Indianapolis	46220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gregory	Thomas	251 West Broadway	Eugene	97401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Crisr	343 Charing cross	Pacifica	94044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephanie	E.	New York, NY	New York	10065	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jaclyn	Speights	3073 County Road 42	AKRON	35441	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lynda	Benavides	3409 Dublin Trl.	Mesquite	75149	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Fuller	529 W 224th ST	Carson	90745	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Kantola	1780 Mortimer Drive	BOISE	83712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diane	Hain	130 Slade Ave Apt 206	Pikesville	21208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. My own personal experience shows just how ridiculous the whole scam is. I recently moved somewhere that does not allow satellite dishes, forcing me to switch from DirecTV to Comcast. DirecTV had been charging me a monthly fee to rent boxes from them, but when it came time to end their service they wouldn't take their boxes back! They told me the boxes were obsolete and I should dispose of them. But if I had kept their service they would have cheerfully kept billing me monthly for equipment they considered worthless! What a rip off - one you can and shou
Virginia	Roman-Keating	29 Misty Morning Drive	Hilton Head Island	29926	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

gina	bernstein	0-29 Hamlin Ct	Fair Lawn	7410	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jammie	Esker Schaer	697 S Spring Rd	Elmhurst	60126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Haj	Ross	1919 Mistywood Lane, Denton, TX	Denton	76209	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vivian	Wong	116 21st Ave E	Seattle	98112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michele	Frost	227 W. 27th St, Rm. C139	New York	10001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gayle	Pfaucht	10232 Helendale Ave., Tujunga, CA	Tujunga	91042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gayle	Pfaucht	10232 Helendale Ave., Tujunga, CA	Tujunga	91042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julia	Dawkins	918 Jasmine St.	North Fort Myers	33903	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Justin	Tolentino	4627 East Cincinnati Ave	Las Vegas	89104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Smith	446 S Hamilton st.	Watertown	13601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Adine	Hamlin	2794 Mill Avenue	Brooklyn	11234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laurie	Kuntz	11850 W Alfred St	BOISE	83713	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margaret	Fischer	3606 Old North Road	Irving	75060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peggy	Alt	P.O. Box 322	PHILMONT	12565	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Antonia	Mosca	24 Williams Way	Sellersville	18960	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	Silas	6605 Comet Cir.	Springfield	22150	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Tillotson	Poppy Drive	Mc Lean	22101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Whetstone	812 Vermont Street Apt B	Oakland	94610	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Linda	Matychak	31 Briarcliff Place, Huntington , NY	Huntington	11743	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Couture	1626 king st	ENFIELD	6082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Fischoff	2954 N Campbell Ave	Tucson	85719	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Paradis	8 Mast Rd.	BIDDEFORD	4005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Meenan	344 W. Orange St	Lancaster	17603	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Adrian	R	133 street pl	Santa Ana	92701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sheri	hill	2212	Santa Maria	93458	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julie	Offield	121 Cline Dr	Madison	35757	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Francis	ide dr summers	Tuscaloosa	35404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jon	Drucker	5021 Baltimore Ave	Philadelphia	19143	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Giles	Kiser	2800 SW Jackson St	Blue Springs	64015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Schechter	6647 N. Richmond Street	Chicago	60645	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shannon	Prozinski	100 banta road	Long Prairie	56347	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Luis	Rodriguez	211 SE 19th Ter	Cape Coral	33990	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	lowenthal	167 W. 71 St. New York NY	New York	10023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Frederick	Howe	10 Daly Avenue	WAYNE	7470	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Liam	Maloney	130 S Queen Street #5	Lancaster	17603	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vicki	San Souci	3197 S Sonoma St		86005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tim	Jennings	Main Street, Kansas City, MO	Kansas City	64118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
K. C.	McCarthy	4615 Maleza Place Tarzana, CA	Tarzana	91356	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Hennessey	10212 S. 45th St.	Phoenix	85044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brieuc	BaslÌ©	Amiens		80000	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Bardfield	3755 via poinciana lake worth florida	Lake Worth	33467	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Paradis	8 Mast Rd.	BIDDEFORD	4005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bradley	Dillon	215 Remington Ct	Chalfont	18914	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Shanks	1259 Division st # 3	NAPA	94559	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Jenkins	84 N 3rd Ave	Beech Grove	46107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pamela	Brocious	340 E. 93rd St #14M	NEW YORK	10128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donna L	Matern	1284 Piedmont Avenue NE	Atlanta	30309	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mae	Sterrett	157 Kendal Drive	KENNETT SQUARE	19348	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Matthew	Healy	170 Urick Lane	Monroeville	15146	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Larry	Tucker	Whitmire SC	Whitmire	29178	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Liam	Maloney	130 S Queen Street #5	Lancaster	17603	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Candy	Henson	222 Crawford Dr	Martin	38237	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
rick	canning	548 s randall rd	AURORA	60506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rodrigo	Damian	PO Box 143431	Coral Gables	33114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Juke	Larrico	1900 Celestial Ct.	Reno	89523	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Merz	1025 Cabris Ln	Roseville	95747	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joì£o	Santos	14 Fischer Graduate Residences 1C	Notre Dame	46556	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Resciniti	26 greenhill rd	Parsippany	7054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matt	S	2010 n 3rd AVE e	NEWTON	50208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janice	Banks	14 Maple St.	CENTER BARNSTEAD	3225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Wayne	Mcmorris	908plainview	SEYMOUR	76380	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melinda	Tharan	5701 E Glenn St, #69	Tucson	85712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Isa	Gatollari	345 Prospect Ave	Hackensack	7601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Sweetland	570 Chapman Drive	CAMPBELL	95008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Van Straalen	512 Walnut St.	Petaluma	94952	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Fragulia	912 W 20th St	MERCED	95340	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

jeanne	Hochstatter	2525s.shore dr.24B	Milwaukee	53207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Meadows	meadows	Glen Allen	23060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beth	Hillenbrand	22409 N. 74th Ave	Glendale	85310	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Matthew	Bellinger	19 Mechanic St	Baldwinsville	13027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melissa	Moorer	487 Hambley Blvd., #4	Pikeville	41501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Petach	10893 Canyon Vista Dr	Cupertino	95014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Greg	Brown	5151 Collins Ave. #719	Miami Beach	33140	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Douglas	Benedict	2211 21st Street	SANTA MONICA	90405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James J. & Marie C.	Wilson	8514 W. Buckhorn Trail	PEORIA	85383	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephanie	Green	111 nomans pl	Clifton	7011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diane	Hopkins	1357 Carpers Farm Way	Vienna	22182	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Faith	DeWaay	1028 S. Dakota	Butte	59701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Catherine	Tuxbury	4758 State Route 104	Oswego	13126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Hinz	1427 park ave	Baltimore	21217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Larry	Stoodley	1661 Moonraker Dr.	RUSKIN	33570	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Amanda	Tenney	1033 Willard Ave	Glendale	91201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Louella	Green	2512 Woodmere	Harvey	70058	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
disgruntled	American	651 Washington	Woodbury	8096	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeffrey	Nelson	930 Lee Ln	Concord	94518	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joan	Spiegel	507 Ripley Road	Waterbury Center	5677	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harry	Levinson	140 Winch St	Framingham	1701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Hernandez	2060 NE Miami Gardens Drive	MIAMI	33179	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carole	Bugge	172 east 4th #3i NYC	New York	10009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terri	Scott	116 McGovran Road	Charleston	25314	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Palmer	Anderson	PO Box 931	Park Rapids	56470	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Arntson	707 S Cloverdale ST	Seattle	98108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
shane	vandecar	343 lillian ct	whitmore lake	48189	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cornelia	Teed	6258 Argyle St	Ferndale	98248	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brendan	McCollam	6300 N Glenwood Ave #2	Chicago	60660	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Royce	Chan	1407 Calle Oriente #3	Milpitas	95035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patrick	Anderson	941 N 45th Dr	Show Low	85901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marie	Ballmann	801 S. 8th St., Atchison, KS	Atchison	66002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rosemary	Simmons	241 Forest Hills St.	JAMAICA PLAIN	2130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Douglas	Luther	4723 WHITMAN CIR NE	Salem	97305	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Flier	5729 Maudina Ave	Nashville	37209	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Derek	Moss	1234 No Street	Anderson	96007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jessica	Mucci	4108 Marathon Street, Apt. 102	Los Angeles	90029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Froehlich	211 S Bonanza St	PALMER	99645	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	Brink	17973 SE 106th Terr	Summerfield	34491	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Urvashi	Nagrani	2023 Oak Street	San Francisco	94117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Rich	6352 North Barcelona Lane Unit 110	Tucson	85704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
S.	Praus	6620 NE 6th Ave. #10	Portland	97211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gary	Smith	479 Commanche Ln	Stratford	6614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Van Brink	701 Edgecombe Dr	Milford	45150	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brad	Hirvela	2120 Fairway AV So	Saint Petersburg	33712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Luuk	van HuåÕÌ¢t	27 Tenth Street	New York	10011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Evans	9003 SW 157th PL	VASHON	98070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Robins	566 S 1800 E	Kaysville	84037	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Walter	Cowham	140 Reservoir Road	QUINCY	2170	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Bercegeay	18526 SW Mandy Ct	Beaverton	97007	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
disgruntled	American	651 Washington	Woodbury	8096	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Martin	Wolff	5321 Indianhead Ave.	Rockford	61108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe	Farrar	125 Avalon Pines Dr	Coram	11727	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Norris	468 W. Water	Santa Fe	87501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Judith	Smith	2712 Grande Vista Ave	OAKLAND	94601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terence	O'Connell	Chicago, Illinois	Chicago	60615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
D	W	11624 116th st	Hawthorne	90250	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Scott	Sando	4077 Egypt Hollow Rd	RUSSELL	16345	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Denise	Tennen	2905 Monterey Ave	Minneapolis	55416	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
chris	hagen	7201 Gloria Dr. apt 18	SACRAMENTO	95831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sean	Hagstrom	151 N Center St	REDLANDS	92373	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ryan	Morgan	2804 Birmingham Briar Dr Crowley Tx	Crowley	76036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joseph	Manley	74 Weyants LN	Newburgh	12550	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Timothy	Kline	101 N. Robinson, 13th floor, OKC, OK.	Oklahoma City	73101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ashley	Ribblett	12943 Clifton Blvd	Lakewood	44107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harold	Robinson	110 Winston Drive	TALLADEGA	35160	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cathy	Nieman	312 Ivy Hill Road	WEAVERVILLE	28787	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
pamela	johnson	7201 Gloria Dr Apt18	Sacramento	95831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Dufrene	339 reedy creek ct	lexington	27295	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

KeViN	MeInHaRdT	3912 Crosby Drive	SAINT LOUIS	63123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melissa	Butler	2608 Bowwater Lane	Antioch	37013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Sanger	226 Kaiolohia Place	Honolulu	96825	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Joyner	705 Helen Avenue	Chesapeake	23322	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Delaney	1001 Leah Avenue, San Marcos, TX	San Marcos	78666	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Mitchell	55 Bank St	Sussex	7461	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bayard	Anderson	10510 W Bernt Rd	Hammett	83627	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
MR.LYNN WARD	Lacy	1145 64 ave so	SAINT PETERSBURG	33705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jill	Mossor	542 Division Street	Tarpon Springs	34689	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gary	Harris	612 Janette Ave. SW	Roanoke	24016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Srikanth	Raghunathan	7303 Florence Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA	Pittsburgh	15218	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Salena	Baker	2827 SE Colt Dr	PORTLAND	97202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vincent	Lasak	3947 Michael St.	Muskegon	49444	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tom	McDermott	635 Britton Road	ROCHESTER	14616	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alan	Shinn	2429 McGraw Ave	Berkeley	94703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephen	Moses	736 Echo Park Terrace #5	Los Angeles	90026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Frost	8501 W. 90th Terrace	Overland Park	66212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stefano	Monti	25 Atherton St	Somerville	2143	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Andersen	2330 Springridge Dr., Ann Arbor, MI	Ann Arbor	48103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ryan	Ligon	2531 Oakland Ave	Saint Louis	63143	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alejandro	Cimadoro	18 Craig Lane	Waltham	2451	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Graciela	Barajas	1713 Grove Street	San Diego	92102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
mark	johnson	141 E 3rd Street #8E	NEW YORK	10009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shelley	gold	1608 s. rosemary st.	Denver	80231	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joseph	Hardin	12110 Alpine Way	Goshen	40026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jared	Miller	2031 Dracena Dr	LOS ANGELES	90027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Greg	Nikas	69 Lime Street	Newburyport	1950	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Thomas	5900 Hathaway Lane	Chapel Hill	27514	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Jones	507 Cayuga Heights Rd	Ithaca	14850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beverly	Williams	1377 Morrow Rd Apt 12	Medford	97504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marilyn	Mueller	6041 Coventry Circle	ALPHARETTA	30004	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Sunde	2319 Francis St	Saint Joseph	64501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Audrey Koch	Feathers	44 Willowbrook Rd. #109	Queensbury	12804	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Ebel	21 Jensen Ave	Chelmsford	1824	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Wiest	22701 Hamlin St	West Hills	91307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dennis A	Walker	724 Bay Rd	Amherst	1002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

carmen	anastase	287 shore rd	Kents Hill	4349	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Yasser	Hussein	5722 Torrey Pines Avenue	Westerville	43082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Hubbell	3751 Elmhurst	Toledo	43613	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

R	Dillon	116 Lincoln Pl.	BROOKLYN	11217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeanneadele	Pallen	17 Weyburn Way	FAIRPORT	14450	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
R. Kevin	Lane	16359 Spangler Rd.	Plainfield	60586	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	O'LEARY	College Park	College Park	20740	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Therese	Hartmann	312 W. Matilija Street	Ojai	93023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Therese	Hartmann	312 W. Matilija Street	Ojai	93023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Meg+Siddheshwari+Sullivan	Sullivan	1223+61st+Street,+Oakland+CA	Emeryville	94608-2	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sonia	Perez	5008 East Parade Street	Tampa	33617	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Durst	470 Tucker St. Ashland, Or.	Ashland	97520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donna	Duran	17168 Ballinger st. NORTHRIDGE	Northridge	91325	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alexa	Landayan	716 N Madison Ave	Los Angeles	90029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rowland	Smith	7 Goldenrod Lane	WEST GROVE	19390	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rehana	Huq	200 Comstock Road	Ithaca	14850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
PaMeLa	MeInHaRdT	3912 Crosby Drive	SAINT LOUIS	63123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Holder	2914 Aftonshire Way	AUSTIN	78748	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Shirley	Deay	17 Sippewissett Rd	Falmouth	2540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Zirfas	1206 Lasalle	COLORADO SPRINGS	80907	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roseann	Wright	252 W. 20th Street	New York	10011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lynette	Johnson	665 W 2175 N	Layton	84041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randel	Ball	1306 Beechwood Dr.	Ann Arbor	48103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janet	Graham	5054 La Ramada Dr.	Santa Barbara	93111	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Larch	1368 Loving Road	Gordonsville	22942	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Louis	Linder	21	Briarcliff Manor	10510	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	nelson	315 W 6th St Apt 8	The Dalles	97058	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Duckson	1300 W Menlo Ave spc 167	Hemet	92543	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sophie	Saracina	3707 22nd St. NW	Canton	44708	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	Perez	176 VALMAR TER	San Francisco	94112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Matt	Borsa	100 Dunton Road	Fitzwilliam	3447	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tracy	Brophy	2201 NW Maple Glen Rd Bentonville, AR	Bentonville	72712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Kingston	25861 Marguerite Pkwy #201	MISSION VIEJO	92692	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carla	Gray	18495 2nd Ave.	Sonoma	95476	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Raymond	Acevedo	6 third ave	Huntington Station	11746	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lawrence	Crowley	441 Pheasant Run	LOUISVILLE	80027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ian	Mastrngelo	429 Vincent Street	Cedar Hill	75104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Noonan	30482 Mirandela Ln	LAGUNA NIGUEL	92677	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	chapman	1000 western ave Brattleboro vt	Brattleboro	5301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joan	Borame	145 Colusa Ave	EL CERRITO	94530	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Arnold	Levi	PO Box 201	SANTA BARBARA	93102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Meinhardt	3912 Crosby Dr.	Saint Louis	63123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

George	Gibbs	2803 Stone Mill Place	Dayton	45434	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Perkins	13226 42nd Ave NE	SEATTLE	98125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Cable companies rip off consumers in a variety of ways, and it would be great to fix at least this one way. Thank you!!
Scott	Martin	1432 Oliver Ave	San Diego	92109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christopher	Marlon	4195 1/4 Leimert Bl.	Los Angeles	90008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ken	Karan	2907 SID	San Diego	92106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Burcak	Yazar	21Mayhew Court, Denmark Hill		SE5 8HG	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

E	Sumpter	407 Yeardley ave	Lynchburg	24501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Aaron	Huston	1071 Prairie Ave	Naperville	60540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Connie	Stine	3178 South 28th St.	Milwaukee	53215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Geoff	Bennett	315 SE 58th Avenue	Ocala	34480	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christiann a	Nelson	11 Sterling Pl	Brooklyn	11217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
stacey	m	1100 delaney ave	Orlando	32806	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carole	Mannino	31 Highland Ave	Derry	3038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christina	Wong	447 12th Ave	San Francisco	94118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Guy	Perkins	6155 Plumas, # 247	RENO	89519	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Breny	252 B Faller Drive	NEW MILFORD	7646	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mikhail	Khilkov	3920 Bel Air Ave NW	Canton	44718	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	DeGregorie	80 Wosster St	New York	10012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Suzanne	O'Sullivan	1304 Waterford Dr	LITTLE ELM	75068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dick	Evans	7234 Dr Martin Luther King Jr St N	SAINT PETERSBURG	33702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bob	Steininger	Phoenixville, PA	Phoenixville	19460	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Vogt	3701 Clay Products Dr.	Anchorage	99517	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
janet	forman	351 west 24 street	New York	10011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rosary	Grande	102 Maplehurst Rd	ROCHESTER	14617	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steven	Chasen	3114 17TH ST	Santa Monica	90405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cindy	Clark	PO Box 9156	Fresno	93790	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shannon	Rogers	4915 Pine Spring Rd	De Forest	53532	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dan	Frye	18803 Thorn Crest Ct	Canyon Country	91351	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alva	Williams	62816 Shifting Sands Trail	Joshua Tree	92252	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lauretta	Gordon	1629 Imperial Cup Dr	Las Vegas	89117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Gray	4471A Opana Pl	Haiku	96708	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Francisco	Egipciaco	Calle 16 # HH9	Sabana Grande	637	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lisa	Sanetra	6025 Saint Felix Ave.	RIDGEWOOD	11385	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Trescone	2226 Elliott Ave	Seattle	98121	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vernon	Brechin	255 S Rengstorff Ave, Apt 49; Mountain View, CA	Mountain View	94040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Peterson	nyfb 7700	Walnut Creek	94595	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

sharon	Scott	609 N Vercler Rd	Spokane	99216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Billy	Breuer	5 Gold Circle	MALVERNE	11565	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
N.	B.	POB	OAKLAND	94602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mostyn	Thayer	2372 SE Grand Drive	PORT SAINT LUCIE	34952	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brooke	Quinlan	14801 Carnation Dr.	Tampa	33613	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Crotty	1467 Cherry Creek Lane	Ballwin	63021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Joslin	4926 Lewis Ave	Otter Lake	48464	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Dolan	21103 Cross Creek Drive	Santa Clarita	91350	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Allen	Sumpter	126 East 38th Street	New York	10016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gwen	Foehner	411 Federal St.	Milton	19968	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cathy	Matusoff	11903 Caraway Cove	San Antonio	78213	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Goltz	10137 Canopy Tree Court	Orlando	32836	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Wong	12 Myrtle St.	West Newton	2465	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Suzanne	Fischer	260-17 Langston Ave	Glen Oaks	11004	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joshua	Button	111 Bailey Drive	PITTSFIELD	3263	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

NANCY	O	wynwyd	Newark	19711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. LOWER THE PRICE OF CABLE. TOTALLY OUT OF CONTROL.
Sergey	Makarenko	509 NW 21st circle	Battle Ground	98604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nola	Zito & Family	221 Martin Drive	Syosset	11791	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Heather	Beauchamp	71456 bates rd	KIMBOLTON	43749	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joy	Kenney	225 Goodward Road	Richmond	23236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
judy	schilling	7109 burgundy drive	LONGMONT	80503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	McKeever	4106 41st Ave S	MINNEAPOLIS	55406	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matt	Borsa	100 Dunton Road	Fitzwilliam	3447	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dylan	Barr	1505 Gentilly Blvd.	New Orleans	70119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jennifer	Yamamoto	2416 PACIFIC AVE	Manhattan Beach	90266	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tim	Torrence	1219 29th St	Rock Island	61201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
tod	price	4080 Twin Falls Dr.	Reno	89511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mairlyn	Lee	1613 Lamar St	FLORENCE	35630	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Colligan	710 Apple Valley Drive	Red Lion	17356	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Gersman	16505 Meridian AVE N	Seattle	98133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

alain	pire	fulton street, 129	SAN FRANCISCO	94102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dianna	Linden	1220 California Ave. #16	Santa Monica	90403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Christian	1300 East Main Street #209	Hillsboro	97123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Vanessa	Gunter	43 Ardmore Rd.	Worcester	1609	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeanne	Larson	W5471 Little Chicago Road	Phillips	54555	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Beel	15251 S.50th St	Phoenix	85044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John AND Jean	Fleming	21364 Hytrail Circle Lakeville MN	LAKEVILLE	55044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
b	f	49 washburn park	Rochester	14620	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendie	Ruano	1208 El Solyo Avenue Campbell	Campbell	95008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sue	Parker	3378 NW 2nd Bunker Ave.		342696-	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lower prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William G	Gonzalez	200 Dashew Dr Apt A15	Suffern	10901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Pelham	150 E 7th St #C7	New York	10009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dave	Baron	3837 S. Atchison Way	Aurora	80014	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jill	Timm	10 Cove Ave S Suite 11	Wenatchee	98801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Ruhl	70 Cedar Bluff DR Apt 4	Lake Saint Louis	63367	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

donna	fryar	176 amesbury st	Dracut	1826	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Degner	210 West Grant St. #207	MINNEAPOLIS	55403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ingrid	VanTuinen	3001 Veazey Terrace NW	Washington	20008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Russell	2218 W Carlisle Ave	Spokane	99205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ellen	Segal	4434 Auckland Ave	NORTH HOLLYWOOD	91602	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mara	Wolfgang	541 West Ellet Street	PHILADELPHIA	19119	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Fran	Howse	13320 SW ALLEN BLVD	Beaverton	97005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bonnie	Rabin	9546 N PLACITA ROCA DE BRONCE	Tucson	85704	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kate	mcLane	764 E Whitten St	Chandler	85225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lisa	Iannucci	76 Franklin Avenue	Ocean Grove	7756	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Cramer	678 Longview Drive	ANTIOCH	60002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wilfredo	Cintron	1280 Dandelion Dr	Deltona	32725	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jay	Underwood	34 eden street	Chelsea	2150	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Singleton	6015 N Jefferson St	Kansas City	64118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Miller	P.O. Box 5032	York	17405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Vignoli	910 Main St #1H	Melrose	2176	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Luna	4075 Willows St. Shasta Lake CA	Shasta Lake	96019	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dot	Dusek	Pob 3189	Winter Park	80482	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephen	Perry	street	Honor	49640	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Janis	Lappin	9618 Brandybuck	Charlotte	28269	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Racinowski	2101 ANDERSON DR SE	GRAND RAPIDS	49506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

dennis	shea	1001 emerson st. apt.912	Evanston	60201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marin	Quezada	4848n sheridan rd	CHICAGO	60640	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jt	Hyland	port orange fl	Port Orange	32127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Raymond	47707 Anna Court	Utica	48315	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Teamann	11591 w.windsor ave	Avondale	85392	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nicholas	Kuligoski	31343 Mound Road	Warren	48092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Isaac	Salazar	1815 S Ridgeley Dr	Los Angeles	90019	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
J	Ellis	614 De La Vista	Santa Barbara	93103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeriene	Walberg	21160 SE Claremont Court	Bend	97702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sally	SPELBRING	453 ANSLEYBROOK DR.	Lawrenceville	30044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
S	Spencer	2212 sw 4	Gresham	97080	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendy	Curtis	88 Inwood Ave.	Montclair	7043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marilyn	Levine	325 Sylvan Ave	MOUNTAIN VIEW	94041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pauly	Vachal	9209 NE 202nd Ave	Vancouver	98682	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Rowe	2970 N. Sheridan Rd. #1425	Chicago	60657	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dawn	Foster	21 Las Brisas Loop	PLACITAS	87043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Mattingly	4012 JEFFERSON STREET HYATTSVILLE, MD	Hyattsville	20781	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Briggs	24307 N 28th St	Phoenix	85024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

G	Reed	97 Nicholas Ct	Cotati	94931	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Norma	Vavolizza	2724 Schurz Ave.	Bronx	10465	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Ackerman	1232 Leisure Lane	Walnut Creek	94595	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Angela	Sargenti	8 Blackberry Ct.	Lodi	95242	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	Ridgeway	842 N Sumner Ave	SCRANTON	18504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christine	Zecca	5 Marion Ave, Sausalito CA	Sausalito	94965	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Durdines	118 W Mohawk Ave	Tampa	33604	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edward	Costello	620 E Channel Rd	Santa Monica	90402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Partington	1643 Ashbury Place	Eagan	55122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

KANDYCE	FISHER	208 Jeffrey Lane	Northampton	18067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randa	Quale	141 East Drive	DAYTON	45458	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alix	Keast	214 Riverside Drive	NEW YORK	10025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donald	Charest	1271 N David Dr	NOGALES	85621	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harry	Harrison	11 Craven lane	White Plains	10605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Sarra	8620 NW 13th St Lot 195	GAINESVILLE	32653	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Helfrick	2721 Wessex Drive	Dundee	60118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Beverly	Rolfsmeyer	4350 Freeland Ave. #1	Philadelphia	19128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mike	Normile	11850 edgewater dr	Lakewood	44107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Freeborn	119 Amblewood Way	State College	16803	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Breslin	6 shrewsbury court , perry hall, md	Perry Hall	21128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Politzer	2131 Kew Drive	Los Angeles	90046	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ginny	Nichols	225 Avery Ln. Los Gatos,CA 95032	Los Gatos	95032	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Costa	Chitouras	10 Packard Ave.	Somerville	2144	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charles	Happel	2034 Allison Ave.	INDIANAPOLIS	46224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Chirgwin	3918 N Park Ave	INDIANAPOLIS	46205	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nathan	Roll	4324 N Kerby Ave	Portland	97217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ardeth	Weed	520 Hemlock Way, #4	Edmonds	98020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rick	Rendon	2013 S. Camilla	Tucson	85713	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Douglas	Firestone	9 Hazelton Dr.	White Plains	10605	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald	Leisman	800 South Highway Drive	Fenton	63026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gemma	Astley	971 Garden Oak Ct	Lawrenceville	30043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ray	Knauss	26513 Rockhurst Ln.	Rancho Palos Verdes	90275	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
janet	maker	925 Malcolm Avenue	Los Angeles	90024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

tony	G	5300 Holmes Run Parkway	Alexandria	22304	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Lynch	PO Box 1247	Petersburg	99833	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	Jelinek	1404 clark st	JANESVILLE	53545	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Foley	27 4th Street	SAYREVILLE	8872	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Peter	Slota	Oak St.	Webster	1570	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Boring	849 C Almar Ave #131	Santa Cruz	95060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Louis	Desautels	28 DIX ST	Dorchester	2122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bianca	Molgora	3976 Folsom St.	San Francisco	94110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
janet	maker	925 Malcolm Avenue	Los Angeles	90024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Malone	26 Savin Hill Ave., #3, Dorchester, MA	Dorchester	2125	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Glynn	10518 LK STEILACOOM DR SW, LAKEWOOD WA	Lakewood	98498	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Kilgore	510 Capitol Way N	Olympia	98501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Beth	Redwine	1210 Devou Woods	Covington	41011	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Russell	Blount	3 WSV	New York	10012	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charmis	Dane	1900 reservoir rd	Little Rock	72227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Vayda	4 Donna Marie Way	Southampton	1073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Harris	612 Janette Ave. SW	Roanoke	24016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	O'Leary	1251 Sanchez Street	San Francisco	94114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Doris	Rhine	6530 W Irving Park Road	CHICAGO	60634	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Russell	Abercrombie	Abercrombie	Bakersfield	93309	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leonard	Nicholson	11085 kenya Place	PORTER RANCH	91326	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gloria & Bob	Ziller	PO Box 419	O Brien	97534	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lynda	Barber	7751 e Bowie rd	Scottsdale	85258	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Consumers deserve to have full information to make choices and not be forced to overpay for unneeded services. The cost of service should have some relation to its price. In semi-monopoly situations prices should be regulated to control abuses.
Joe	Klemmer	4979 Karen Rd	Woodbridge	22193	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. After all, this the very antithesis of everything our economy is based on.

Doug	Alleman	500 Zinnia Ave.	Metairie	70001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lauren	Bond	320 W. 38th ST	New York	10018	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gerald	Bose	771 Clems Run	Glassboro	8028	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Beebe	1134 Gateshead Drive	Naperville	60564	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gretchen	Hilderbrand	1100 8th Street NE	Washington	20002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katherine	Dander	2 hawthorne place	Boston	2114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Kerschbaum	11251 Arcola Trail N.	Stillwater	55082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Armando	Toral	6148 Lanning Lane	Las Vegas	89108	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
T	Suzuki	2036 Easy Ave	Long Beach	90810	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elizabeth	Davy	688 Summer Creek	Oconomowoc	53066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rick	Wilkinson	California	Cathedral City	92234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andy	Miller	4813 hassan cir	Dayton	45432	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anne	Gayler	148 Prospect Road	Monroe	10950	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Neill	3633 Lewis Ave	Long Beach	90807	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Stewart	3532 Cheshire Square. Apt. D	Sarasota	34237	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Susan	Brown	122 Arbor Drive	Eugene	97404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katherine	Flores	175 S 13th Street	Coos Bay	97420	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Keough	4598 Donegal Way	Antioch	94531	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Abigail	Howes	105 Bayview Ave., Berkley, MA	Berkley	2779	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ross	Sargent	3514 Country Grove Dr	Madison	53719	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ron	palma	9116 s. norwood	Tulsa	74137	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cedric	Everson	3378 River Heights Crossing SE	Marietta	30067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alice	Levy	889 Broadway	New York	10003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roger	Beard	579 Baca Lane	Taos	87571	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

pamela	guyon	4885 east river rd.	WEST HENRIETTA	14586	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Saro	Gumusyan	152 E. 118th St. Apt. 5E	New York	10035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Bruder	11114 N Eagle Lake Blvd	Osseo	55369	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sharon	Karson	3630 N. Carefree Circle	COLORADO SPRINGS	80917	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Martellaro	8210 Caenen Lake Rd.	Lenexa	66215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kimberly	Gladding	196 Rolling Green Drive	Amherst	1002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Moore	2126 S. Josephine St.	Denver	80210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Megan	LaBrecque	3949 Los Feliz Blvd, Apt 517	Los Angeles	90027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert C.	Mattison	1201 Wagon Train Drive,S.E. Albuquerque, NM	Albuquerque	87123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bryant	Belli	1415barefoot cir	Sebastian	32976	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Lee	983 E 7TH ST	Chico	95928	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dianne	Rowe	P. O. Box 475046	San Francisco	94147	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Zatorski	5200 N.Sheridan Rd.	Chicago	60640	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Touleyrou	27822 El Capitan Dr	Warren	48092	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendy	McMillan	67 west pkwy	ROCHESTER	14616	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stephan	Medcalf	816 NW 11th St Apt 601	Miami	33136	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lawrence	East	316 Richlands Ave Apt. 5	Jacksonville	28540	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeb	Morris	1156 Noche Buena St.	Seaside	93955	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Simon	215 East 80th Street	New York	10075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Johanna	Shifflette	1767 Llewellyn Drive	Fort Myers	33901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Md	Musa	2101 Fremont Ave	PLACENTIA	92870	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Loomba	24 Pleasant Ridge Road	VALHALLA	10595	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Mirand	181 Boxelder Ln	Buffalo	14228	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hillary	Colby	1479 Sedona Ave	AURORA	60504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Keith	Greene	9246 Cazador St	Las Vegas	89123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katherine	Dander	2 hawthorne place	Boston	2114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Raffety	3526 N Halsted St Apt 4	CHICAGO	60657	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bernhard	Mueller	5737 ALLOTT AVE	Van Nuys	91401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Hummel	226 6th St	LAKE VIEW	51450	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Doc	Pierce	6175 Rose Valley Road	OJAI	93023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peter	Tesoro	10850 71st Avenue	FOREST HILLS	11375	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
gretchen	clark	14034 marquesas way	Marina del Rey	90292	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
janet	lyman	75 mechanic st.	Amherst	1002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lawrence	Turk	POB 203	HENDERSONVILLE	28793	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dale	Boroviak	18525 Miller Drive	Lansing	60438	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Julie	Medbery	1313 Owens St. N., Stillwater, MN	Stillwater	55082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

J	Schomaker	5950 Linworth Rd.	Columbus	43085	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Russell	26000 SE Stark	Gresham	97030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Bentley	9502 Ridgely Ave	Baltimore	21234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Matthew	Brown	4346 W Hunters Ridge Ln, Greenwood, IN	Greenwood	46143	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Evan	S.	Edmonton		T5G 2R1	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Klindera	107 Princeton Drive SE	Albuquerque	87106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sara	Astorga	198 San Milano dr	Goleta	93117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Libbey	2015 park street	ATLANTIC BEACH	11509	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Watkins	482 Riley Avenue	Columbus	43085	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Wolf	823 Bennett Ave. Apt. 2	Glenwood Springs	81601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ron	Meier	7 cherry Ct	Appleton	54915	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Fahlman	9224 Sandy Lake Circle	Gaithersburg	20879	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Christine	Popovich	252 circle drive	State College	16801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	Chapin	1412 Mill Ave Apt D	Bellingham	98225	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gordon	McIntire	12516 Windover Turn	BOWIE	20715	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kim	Hutchinson	3420 Kings Highway	BROOKLYN	11234	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Irene	Murphy	12 Perry St. #16	North Grafton	1536	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Richard	Blakemore	5650 Buckskin Rd	Mariposa	95338	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Edward	Valentine	794 Boylston St #3	Chestnut Hill	2467	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kelly & Jack	Maarhuis	600 N Howard Lot 11	Tekoa	99033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elk	Hoppenbrouwers	152 Allison Way	East Haven	6512	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michele	Lashomb	4 Cherry St. Potsdam, NY	Potsdam	13676	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Clewett	3099 Kirklevington Drive	Lexington	40517	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	Emry	PO Box 11184	Englewood	80151	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbar	Paley	425 e 58	New York	10022	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Timothy	Post	1108 NE Independence Ave., Lee's Summit, MO	Lees Summit	64086	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ruth	Shaw	1987 Ryan Ave W	Saint Paul	55113	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Douglas	Brown	2475 6th ave. w.,	Burlington	5402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joshua	Blackfoot	2103 N Erie	Toledo	43611	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Wilgus	PO Box 812	Rural Retreat	24368	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Lytthans	302 S. Vista Del Canon	Anaheim	92807	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	Park	9830 Amanita Ave	Tujunga	91042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Leonard	Nicholson	11085 kenya Place	PORTER RANCH	91326	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bruce	Johnson	4730 Snyder Ave #5	CARSON CITY	89701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maria	Hurt	P O Box 1205	Enka	28728	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harriet	Cohen	E. 30th Street	NEW YORK	10016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Deborah	Pavek	121 Oakdale Ave	Dedham	2026	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nicole	Landseadel	7522 topay lane	Port Richey	34668	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tina	Nicolosi	10 Grace St	Methuen	1844	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Nezka	Pfeifer	303 Lakewood Manor	Scranton	18505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Groneman	1814 N. 78th Terr	KANSAS CITY	66112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Massa	4415 Claremont Ave.	Sarasota	34231	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Richard	Chace	1 na	Princeton	1541	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Howard	510 Wagner St	Almena	67622	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wayne	Faris	2134 So. 49th St	Omaha	68106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

George	Phillips	124 Fidelity St., Apt 36	Carrboro	27510	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jack	Brasch	2185 Street Road	Warrington	18976	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Wilson	1660 Norwood Ave	Itasca	60143	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kathleen	Hall	2034 N. OLd Stage Rd	MOUNT SHASTA	96067	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hayley	Mills-Lott	4714 NW 411TH circle Woodland WA	Woodland	98674	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Littorno	18450 N Hiway 88 Spc 76	Lockeford	95237	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Maureen	Bond	11661 Surfbird Cir	Jacksonville	32256	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jolene	Yates	932 Interlaken Dr.	Lodi	95242	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Courtney	O	4817 Corwin	Riverside	92503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Cecile	Danehy	East Providence	RUMFORD	2916	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Hunter	Richardson	3314 Renwood Blvd., #202	Louisville	40214	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nola	Zito & Family	221 Martin Drive	Syosset	11791	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Garth	Rockcastle	4328 Farragut St	Hyattsville	20781	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
simone	boudriot	9925 alene dr.	Tujunga	91042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Page	6973 Premonition Dr	Melbourne	32940	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Colleen	Wolff	24550 McClellands Lane	SPIRIT LAKE	51360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Warner	PO box 221	Lagunitas	94938	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jose	Santos	Alt de VB CalleD C-20	Vega Baja	693	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	rosen	5980 se 30th st	Mercer Island	98040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Claudia	Wolfe	895 E. Zia Rd. #B	Santa Fe	87505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Riley	20 canton rd	quincy	2171	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeffrey	Ross	3495 W. Hayward Pl.	Denver	80211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Lommel	10093 Arnold Drive	Dexter	48130	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
LIZ	WALLACE	47121 SE 131ST PL	North Bend	98045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carol	Boyer	5 Sycamore Court	Enola	17025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Walkley	4330 D St	EUREKA	95503	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karen	Stingle	358 W 4th	EUGENE	97401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Carey	111 Buffalo Ridge Ct	Placitas	87043	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barbara	Holowczak	7937 W Fletcher St	Elmwood Park	60707	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathleen	Heinz	2820 Ferry St	Eugene	97405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lisa	Goodrich	2098 23rd St	Boulder	80302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Aaron	Gravvat	6857 Gloria Drive	Sacramento	95831	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rose	Vivros	722 Seamaster	Houston	77062	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Candis	Harbison	120 East 2nd Place	Panama City	32401	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Krassimira	Tzvetkova	54 Barron Road		B312ER	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marie	Anthony	2721 Midtown Ct #313	Palo Alto	94303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Francis	Scalzi	2839 Freedom Height, Colorado Springs, C0	Colorado Springs	80904	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Haskins	4248 Copeland Avenue	SAN DIEGO	92105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bryan	Kelley	5029 Serrania Ave	Woodland Hills	91364	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

George	Bond	2417 Milan St	New Orleans	70115	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Adam	Vrbanic	1710 Ave H	BROOKLYN	11230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Totin	seattle wa	Seattle	98136	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Mithra	496 S. Evergreen Drive	Ventura	93003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. If you compare a Charter Cable box to a Tivo DVR, the difference is night and day; the commercial device (Tivo) is years ahead in design and functionality. Opening up this venue to more players will make a huge difference to making quality electronics available to the consumer.Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	FERGUSON	105 Inverness Road	Seattle	98103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jawara	Pittman	2025 Peachtree Rd NE	Atlanta	30309	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dianna	Linden	1220 California Ave. #16	Santa Monica	90403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Douglas	Miller	617 N Woodlawn Ave	Saint Louis	63122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pam	sigler	5347 NW 20thpl			American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dwayne	Munar	84-270 Jade Street	Waianae	96792	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Freeman	1508 Francisco St Berkeley	Berkeley	94703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sue	Garrett	PO Box 6	CLEARLAKE OAKS	95423	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary Lois	Hilton	204 Condo Court.	Lebanon	45036	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bruce	Klosner	8780 Currie	Northville	48168	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Barry	Werber	1345 Hawthorne St	PITTSBURGH	15201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ethan	Eisenberg	401 INterlocken Blvd	Broomfield	80021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Beavers	4431 N Troy #2	Chicago	60625	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Barragan	577 nw 19st	Homestead	33030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barry	Elkes	901 A waukegan Rd	Deerfield	60015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Karl	Koessel	PO Box 257	Blue Lake	95525	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Mock	Hirsch Ter.	Fremont	94536	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tarla	Walton	122 Lilly Rd NE APT108	OLYMPIA	98506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anna	Shenk	77 Walnut St, Somerville,MA	Somerville	2143	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
K	Beatty	Bloomfield, CT	Bloomfield	6002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jonathan	Ashton	1929A 111th Pl SW	Everett	98204	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
fritzi	redgrave	2545 N Geronimo Ave	Tucson	85705	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Resetarits	103 Douglas Dr.	Oxford	38655	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Scott	Rosenthal	4568 Rte. 14, Apt. #5, Irasburg, VT	Irasburg	5845	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Fenwick	PO Box 37	Ashland	97520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bcpizzo	Pizzo	317 Meadow Glen Dr.	Bear	19701	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jeremiah	Patrick	410 15th Ave N	Hopkins	55343	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Walter	Stauss	101 Tolak Road	Aptos	95003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joyce	Garrison	57 Garfield Rd.	West Hartford	6107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Roxane	Clark-Murphy	800 Kiowa St	Pahrump	89048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Clifford	Weiss	12 Exeter Rd	Hightstown	8520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Nadel	160 w. 97 st. NYC	New York	10025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donna	Davis	726 Dean St.	Woodstock	60098	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melissa	Henriksen	200 Rollingwood Dr	Boulder Creek	95006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Calnan	POB 181	Corrales	87048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ernest	Montoro	7724 Broadview Rd.	CLEVELAND	44134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Frey	11191 SW 17th Manor	Davie	33324	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Corriene	Kos	2107 E Ave N. E.	Cedar Rapids	52402	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Leslie	Smoot	2667 Quarter Lane	Owens Cross Roads	35763	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Strode	3611 Coats Drive	Salt Lake City	84129	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Schmandt	9764 Truax Rd	VASSAR	48768	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bart	Munyan	3350 Westside Dr. NW	Cleveland	37312	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. It is easy to see that the monopoly of cable/internet service is very bad for the product. It is also un-constitutional. Charter and Xfiniti both rarely meet advertised performance, or reliability and do not hold their word on any advertisements for that matter, the customer service is horrible, and no one ever seems to know what is going on.
Heather	Mack	39 Groff Dr	Ephrata	17522	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sara	Schuchert	5208 Stanton Ave	PITTSBURGH	15201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Carl & Christine	Annarummo	4588 Ross Lanier Lane	Kissimmee	34758	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Tulloch	14031 w bruns	MANHATTAN	60442	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	NERGER	P.O. BOX 17	Naalehu	96772	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jim	Korioth	3373 Jericho Rd. S	BARNUM	55707	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mark	Goldfield	292 Park PL Brooklyn NY	Brooklyn	11238	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kay	Novak	4941 SW Hollyhock Circle C	Corvallis	97333	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

joanna	Economakos	3258 new york ave costa Mesa ca,	Costa Mesa	92626	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Losee	2 Ford Ln.	DANBURY	6811	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gessika	Rovario-Cole	92 English Muffin Way	Berkeley Springs	25411	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Diana	Rojek	5 Tamarac Rd	Oxford	13830	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Samuel	Durkin	5048 Lakeview Cir	FAIRFIELD	94534	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	Nixon	8701 Tanglewood Dr	McKinney	75070	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jerry	Miller	vancouver,wa.	Vancouver	98683	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Geoffrey & Linda	Symcox	1565 Palisades Drive, Pacific Palisades, CA	Pacific Palisades	90272	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brandon	Perras	502 River Ave	Providence	2908	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ken	O"Neill	2336 Elizabeth Circle	GASTONIA	28054	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alex	Berger	515 22nd Ave, #301	Seattle	98122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Hollie	452 Chamberlain Dr.	Ballwin	63021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	McClure	51 Jellison Cove Road	Hancock	4640	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Burke	300 Falmouth Rd 8E	Mashpee	2649	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fernando	Betancourt	6 Park Terrace	Hartford	6106	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pat	Okerlund	332 Bartell Drive	Chesapeake	23322	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Matthew	Hoffman	5309 Clearwater rd	BAXTER	56425	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Haskins	4248 Copeland Avenue	SAN DIEGO	92105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Scott	Jennings	2519 Palmer Ave	New Orleans	70118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandra	Beebe	Box 94	Bullville	10915	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martin	Riley	23788 La Posta Court	Corona	92883	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Henry	Mobley	2208 Baylake Road	VIRGINIA BEACH	23455	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill	McCarthy	751 N. los Felices Circle W. # M 105, Palm Springs, CA	Palm Springs	92262	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
patryk	Soika	204 e hamilton ave #5	State College	16801	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

DAVID	SHANEN	205 PINEHURST AVE. apt 4H	New York	10033	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Rowlas	2328 West Farwell Avenue #1	CHICAGO	60645	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Gates	Golden Hill Ave	Haverhill	1830	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Murphy	630 Iona Lane Roseville, Mn	Saint Paul	55113	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Wells	2397 NW Kings Blvd 161	Corvallis	97330	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shelli	Simon	Sarasota, fl	Sarasota	34232	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Laurie	Black	3333 Wallingford AV N	Seattle	98103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tobe	Martin	P.O.Box 61265	Reno	89506	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Jones	2516 Hopkins Street	Houston	77006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Rush	6900 almond ave #54	orangevalw	95662	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pat	Jones	7033 Chesley Search Way	Alexandria	22315	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anne	Erikson	1496 Cookeville Rd	Corinth	5039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ruth	Hardinger	20 N Moore St	New York	10013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martha	Goldin	701 4th Ave	San Francisco	94118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Maia	de Raat	105 Julian Ave	San Francisco	94103	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Emily	Aldredge	154 East 2nd Street #3B	New York	10009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Reasenberg	16 Garfield St, Lexington MA	Lexington	2421	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Youn	1515 Ward Ave.	HONOLULU	96822	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Karen	Young	790-7th Ave.,#103	San Francisco	94118	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Fred	Baker	1411 East Price Road	Midland	48642	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Louis	Boykin	5718 NW 68 Ave	FORT LAUDERDALE	33321	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Spencer	Campbell	815 Terraza Dr SE	Albuquerque	87123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dane	Bowen	8740 Blair Rd	CHARLOTTE	28227	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randy	Thomas	304 Dover Dr.	RICHARDSON	75080	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

PATRICK	RANDOW	15 ROSE LANE	Burlington	8016	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sam	Mead	708 Medina Drive	Columbia	65202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Baker	10321 Zuni St Apt E101	Denver	80260	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Churchill	269 Alta St.,Ashland, OR	Ashland	97520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	Harper	1257 Highland Drive	OAK HARBOR	98277	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rachel	Wolf	403 Emeline Ave	SANTA CRUZ	95060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brian	Reelfs	5224 Denny Ave. # 202	NORTH HOLLYWOOD	91601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Amanda	Huber	10 Willow Ridge Lane	Lancaster	14086	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Andrew	Reilly	7900 Hyatt Prairie Rd	Ashland	97520	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

James	Zachman	5533 Cresthaven	Toledo	43614	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christie	Cherry	430 Walton Ferry Rd. #103	Hendersonville	37075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
tomn	e	a house on a st	Apple Valley	92307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lee	Hutchings	400 Burnett St., #101	Wichita Falls	76301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
peter	rondina	219 Dwight St	New Haven	6511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
AJ	Anderson	207 S BREVARD	Cocoa Beach	32931	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jennifer	Bolton	8102 S 59th St	FRANKLIN	53132	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Xavier	Guzman	124 mermaid Lane	Bronx	10473	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary	Doolen	713 Meadow Ln.	Los Alamos	87544	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jon	Hudson	pobx 710	Yellow Springs	45387	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paul	Adams	12422 Trail Oaks Dr.	Oklahoma City	73120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melissa	VerDuin	1119 Cora NW	Grand Rapids	49504	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sam	Shima	4965 Whimsical Dr.	Colorado Springs	80917	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Knoll	920 W. Stephenson Ave.	Harrison	72601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrick	O'Rourke	2410 Kansas Ave	Santa Monica	90404	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ernesto	Perez	1820 Queen Palm dr.	Apopka	32712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Terry	Green	3880 Priest Lake Dr. #34	Nashville	37217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jerrold	Blitefield	58 Beach Street	Warren	2885	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rusty	davis	205 gross ave	Delta	17314	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elliot	Carson	350 College Ave	Angwin	94508	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Keefe	10 Scotland Ave	SALEM	3079	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Vickstrom	11 Ashberry St	PLYMOUTH	2360	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vincent	Armerino	1901 Matthews Avenue	Bronx	10462	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Darrell	West	1818 Allendale Pl	HYATTSVILLE	20785	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michael	Simler	96 Forrest	Fairfax	94930	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Pete	Byle	41454 Warren rd #1	Canton	48187	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Georgia	Kahn	2 Balra Dr	Novato	94947	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Raymond	Ward	300 Mahone St	Durham	27713	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Granoff	663 Ellis Rd	Havertown	19083	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Spencer	Adams	3707 clarington ave	Los Angeles	90034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Bornfriend	3466 Julio Ave	San Jose	95124	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Silvers	947 Hwy 9 South	Mill Spring	28756	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gabriel	Marchevsky	6259 Avebury Ct.	Morrow	45152	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Hosea	175 Dover Road NW	CARTERSVILLE	30120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christina	Riseman	1122 W. Enclave Cir.	Louisville	80027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Avrunin	53 Dennis Drive	Amherst	1002	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Patricia	Flynn-Williams	P. O. Box 30227	Midland	79712	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Barr	4444 SE Oatfield Hill Rd	Portland	97267	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Curtis	Rowe	3352 Malone Dr	Lexington	40513	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sherry	Toelle	10 E. 13th, Atlantic, IA	Atlantic	50022	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Diana	Gordon	31 Franklin ave	Oswego	13126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jason	Morris	407 Bull Run Road	Brownsville	15417	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Terri	Ginsberg	80 CPW	NEW YORK	10023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glen	Lemley	4320 Banner Dr	Houston	77013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shannon	Rossiter	47 Middlefield Drive	SAN FRANCISCO	94132	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Barbara	Finkelman	7194 Paint Brush Trail	Boulder	80301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
K	Tyler	8300 Cherryglaze ave	Las Vegas	89145	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeff	Davis	104 Cornwall Road, Rehoboth Beach, Delaware	Rehoboth Beach	19971	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

George	Simmons	1015 S Dakota St	GREEN RIVER	82935	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jack	Corbett	376 Waldo Av SE	Salem	97302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Capobianco	101 Keystone CT	BETHEL PARK	15102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Rosalyn	Noaks	5210 Pitcairn Road	Dayton	45424	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendy	Burgess	630 Cedar St.	Park Ridge	60068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
h	claire	fairfield, ia	Fairfield	52556	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

William	Jones	2516 Hopkins Street	Houston	77006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mathew	Waring	1449 Sussex Drive	Pompano Beach	33068	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Alexander	1207 Paquin st. Columbia Mo.	Columbia	65201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Douglas	Kister	456 Blair Mill Rd	Hatboro	19040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Virginia	Anderson	310 Sunshine Dr	Coconut Creek	33066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Louise	Krus	962 Catfish Lake Drive	Eagle River	54521	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kurt	Bendixen	3826-13TH ST.	Des Moines	50313	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ashley	Carter	116 Tom Stamper Road	Frenchburg	40322	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Donald & Diane	Lahti	1684 Scottsdale Rd	BEAUMONT	92223	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Margaret	Cawley	708 E Encanto Drive	Tempe	85281	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Al	Becker	523 E 14 St apt 5E	New York	10009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wayne	Milligan	9106 Hogarth Ct	Louisville	40222	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Steve	Keen	1144 Bob o link Rd	Highland Park	60035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ann	Brady	1238 Thomas Ave	Saint Paul	55104	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roger	schmidt	2025 taft	MADISON	53713	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Theda	Zaretsky	4922 Beverly Blvd.	LOS ANGELES	90004	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ivan	Pfeifer	10001 Coors Bypass NW Apt 2317	Albuquerque	87114	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bill and Laurel	Howatt	125 Pleasantdale Rd	Rutland	1543	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Chris	Wolfe	532 NW Everett St #320	Portland	97209	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gregory	Jackson	6011 El Mio Dr	Los Angeles	90042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gerald And Phyllis	Patterson	4208 glasgow way	Anacortes	98221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Denise	Comiskey	McKinleyville	McKinleyville	95519	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Kusic	139 Bertha Street	Pittsburgh	15211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marion	Olson	349 Old County Road	WELLS	4090	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lola	Bice	630 E 12th Ave	Denver	80203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dana	Haywood	2707 W 14th Pl	Apache Junction	85120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michelle	Vilmar	310 Convent Avenue	NEW YORK	10031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peter	Monahon	3705 S George Mason Dr 605-S	Falls Church	22041	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Mayer	150 West End Ave. NYC	New York	10023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ralph	Glick	Florence Ky	Florence	41042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mary	Wakeman-Linn	2950 Bixby Lane	Boulder	80303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box. Because as things currently stand, I have no incentive to get cable, ever, and I don't think the cable companies want consumers avoiding them entirely.
Michael	Shapiro	Coral Gables, FL	Miami	33134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
G	Johnson	805 Walnut Avenue	Charlotte	28208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mario	Favacchia	1711 W MOYAMENSING AVE	Philadelphia	19145	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Vicki & Rod	Kastlie	4472 MUIR AVE.	San Diego	92107	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	Somers	1499 Potrero Ave.,San Francisco, CA	San Francisco	94110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Michelle	Gobely	1581 Wheelock Lane Unit 202	Saint Paul	55117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Troy	Huff	4665 PROVIDENCE LN	Turlock	95382	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Larry	Mauss	817 Lakeview Drive	LA CROSSE	54603	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bonnie Margay	Burke	PO Box 601493	SAN DIEGO	92160	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Fisher	4407 S. Silver Spur Ave.	BOISE	83709	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Gondell	P.O. Box 172	Woodacre	94973	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Caleb	Courtney	354 Andrew Drive	Weaver	36277	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jimmy	Torrez	759	Albuquerque	87120	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
jimmy	percy	60 muirwood village drive	DELAWARE	43015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tom	Rowe	PO Box 191065	Sacramento	95819	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeffrey	Ward	300 W. 145th Street #5Q	New York	10039	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joanne	Sherman	5923 140th st nw	STANWOOD	98292	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Adam	Ertel	211 DUPONT ST	Philadelphia	19127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sandi	Gray	408 T ST SE; Tumwater, WA	Olympia	98501	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bo	Bergstrom	30 Village Rd	SILVER CITY	88061	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Paul	Jozef	1401 E Alice Ave	Phoenix	85020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Catherine L.	Winsor	1955 Kirby Road	MC LEAN	22101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marilyn	Mann	135 River Run	Georgetown	40324	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Melissa	Galarza	370 Barbey	Brooklyn	11207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Alex	Vollmer	26 Narragansett Cove	San Rafael	94901	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Roberta	Marley	1130 Hermosa Avenue	Lancaster	17601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

C.	F.	Potrero	San Francisco	94110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
rita	o keeffe	11 powder hill rd	Waccabuc	10597	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steve	Rybicki	24 Fitzpatrick Rd	Grafton	1519	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dona	LaSchiava	4511 W. Rockwood Drive Tucson, AZ	Tucson	85741	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Randy	Brien	2604, N Rampart St	New Orleans	70117	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
D'Arcy	Goodrich	13454 Fowler Ave	OMAHA	68164	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Benjamin	Wimmer	5480 S. Cornell Ave. Apt. 323 Chicago, IL	Chicago	60615	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Amy	Plummer	25 Hillside Ave, 3F	New York	10040	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Revord	4616 Trail Crest Circle	Austin	78735	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Laurie	Fontana	100 Park Green Dr	LAKE ORION	48362	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeffrey	Koppel	4350 Mangrum Ct	Hollywood	33021	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
L	Nadworny	pob 91116	Albuquerque	87199	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

J	Kelly	15120 STarr Rd SE	Olalla	98359	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kimberly	Tegarden	85 Mill St	Newport	2840	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rachal	Morgan	600 15th SE ST	Bondurant	50035	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jack	Frymire	5877 Laurel Ridge Way	Bellingham	98226	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
pamela	zambriski	4325 S. Louisiana Ave.	Milwaukee	53221	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glen	Webb	4700 Centennial Ln, 4700 Centennial Lane	Ellicott City	21042	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jose	CARRIZALES	15732 S VIA CORTILE WAY	Yuma	85365	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Judith	Simon	1017 W. Rose Cir.	Los Altos	94024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Douglas	3145A Makamae Pl.	Kihei	96753	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

David	Duncan	4941 Patrae st.	Los Angeles	90066	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Strickwerda	105 Riviera Drive, Chelan, WA	Chelan	98816	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marshall	Anderson	4334 Pinehurst Ct.	CROWN POINT	46307	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Laura	Warner	691 Penn Ave NE #2	Atlanta	30308	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Melinda	Richards	1177 MacPherson Drive	West Chester	19380	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Wert	650 Kailana St	WAILUKU	96793	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Noelle	Hurley	18190 NW Cornell Road, Apt	Beaverton	97006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Warnick	Brooklyn	Brooklyn	11229	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Susan	Gibson	310 Berry Street	Jefferson City	65109	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jessica	McCormick	10444 sunstream lane	BOCA RATON	33428	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marcia	Petersen	909 16th Avenue No	South Saint Paul	55075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Chalker	4824 black rock road	Hampstead	21074	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Don	Robinson	54-C Park Ave, Rockledge, PA	Jenkintown	19046	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joyce	Collins	485 Bonita Dr		38209	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
patricia	stamm	1370 penny ln.	WEST BRANCH	48661	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

C	Hoppe	Bluebird	Harpers Ferry	25425	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Von Schulze	3609 Fairview Drive #1	Antioch	94509	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Scott	Spencer	558 Hermitage St.	Philadelphia	19128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Kuehler	p.o. box 136	Silverthorne	80498	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patricia	Foschi	538 GARCIA ST	SANTA FE	87505	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Paula	McCutcheon	1528 Sherbrook Dr	Clermont	34711	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Dominic	Valiente	2210A Union St.	San Diego	92101	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Helen	Babcock	95 S Pacific	Ventura	93001	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Krumski	50 Lynwood Ave Wheeling, WV	Wheeling	26003	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Elizabeth	Daniels	305 W. Lindo Ave	Chico	95926	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jean	Bargeron	24 Treehouse Cir apt 1	Easthampton	1027	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Morgan	108 oak Ave se	Montgomery	56069	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Ryan	Davis	250 N. 1st St.	Burbank	91502	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kathryn	Lee	1222 S. Columbine Street	Denver	80210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Sanberg	837 S. Harvard Ave.	VILLA PARK	60181	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Monica	Firely	1236 13th St	Sarasota	34236	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Larry	C.	8632 Riverdale	Dearborn Heights	48127	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Patrice	Edinboro	280 Milford Street, Brooklyn, NY	Brooklyn	11208	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

F. Robert	Wesley	212 Hill Road	ITHACA	14850	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Herman	Simms	6591 Firwood St.	DETROIT	48210	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kaaren	Behrle	2395 NW Fork Road	Stuart	34994	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Justin	Norwood	177 E Cleveland Ave	Spokane	99207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Charlotte	Skuse	1885 E Perkinsville Rd	Chino Valley	86323	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brooks	Lockwood	624 W 139th Street, Apt 5C	New York	10031	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

George	kolitsopoulis	3265 bruckner blvd	Bronx	10461	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jorge A	Portillo	115 Blanken Avenue	San Francisco	94134	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Muzzatti	35 Pineapple St.	Brooklyn	11201	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

K.	Nilsen	Racoon Ln Ben Lomond	Ben Lomond	95005	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kym	Waugh	521 Logan St	Denver	80203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nora	Polk	6405 SE 62nd Ave	PORTLAND	97206	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lucien	Sigal	2942 W 5th St Apt 6P	Brooklyn	11224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Fiedler	5188 Judson Dr	BENSALEM	19020	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gary M	Kmiecik	T5584 N Troy St	WAUSAU	54403	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Terning	2903 Solito St.	Davis	95616	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ted	Gregorek	1703 N Talbott St	INDIANAPOLIS	46202	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Christian	1300 East Main Street #209	Hillsboro	97123	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tom	Ciocia	5883 Briar Hill Drive	Solon	44139	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Devin	Comiskey	122 Wolfpit Rd	Wilton	6897	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Holly	Utz	1124 Dulaney Gate Circle	COCKEYSVILLE	21030	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Laura	Cole	273 Old Camby Rd.	Verbank	12585	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carol	Rose	405 treble cove road, north biomedical	North Billerica	1862	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bonnie	Grossman	44 Jade Court #8	Novato	94945	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Tamara	Cohen	362 Lincoln Place Apt. B8	Brooklyn	11238	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Kara	17 Kari Blvd	Poughkeepsie	12601	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robert	Powell	147 Cherokee Road	Pontiac	48341	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

John	Lewis	1028 Belleforte Ave	Oak Park	60302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Steven	Sugarman	PO Box 923	MALIBU	90265	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Nakayama	4201 W. Sunset Blvd., #209, Los Angeles, CA	Los Angeles	90029	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joan	Luft	2885 Sanford Ave. SW #25503	Grandville	49418	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Stephen	Weber	58 Coronado Drive	ROCHESTER	14617	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Tracy	723 River Rd	BUCKSPORT	4416	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Judith	Mears	1013 Royal Oak Blvd	Leesburg	34748	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kenneth	Michlin	Bentley	WEST BLOOMFIELD	48322	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jordan	Lewis	15 NE 151st Ave	PORTLAND	97230	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Joe	Sain	8301 mission	Santee	92071	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Amanda	Pittman	1016 Country Club Road	Arkadelphia	71923	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
michael	spafford	1708 west wayne street	Lima	45805	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sherry	Covington	1777 E 555TH ROAD	Brighton	65617	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Carolyn	Poinelli	36 Prince St Boston	Boston	2113	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nick	Trubilla	1102 Schmidt lane	North Brunswick	8902	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Fernando	Morales	514 E Church St		8912	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Johanna	Rohde	1210 W Lexington St	Chicago	60607	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
David	Jensen	313 E 1st ave so	Cavalier	58220	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Albert	Lokofsky	21 Crestwood Dr	Trenton	8690	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nils	Bruzelius	1973 Main Road, Westport Point, MA	Westport Point	2791	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Seramba	5732 Brightington Court	KERNERSVILLE	27284	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Peter	Hay	11867 SW 12th Place	Fort Lauderdale	33325	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Robin	Riddell	919 59th St S	Saint Petersburg	33707	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Laura	Jones-Bedel	4734 E. Mountain View Dr.	San Diego	92116	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Salvatore	Mete	2650 Waterford Lane	Lake in the Hills	60156	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marvin	Watson	16317 glynn rd clev. hts. ohio	Cleveland	44112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Malcolm	Green	4009 columbus road	Granville	43023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Yvonne	Johnson	20409 Arrington Rd	UTICA	43080	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Linda	Coleman	2764 Burlington Blvd	Dallas	75211	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
George	Janis	3425 NE 23rd Abe	Portland	97212	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

S	E	Charlotte	Charlotte	28216	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Tucker	507 Welch	Houston	77006	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Brian	Henning	2200 Dixon Drive	MINNEAPOLIS	55431	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Gerald W	Meier	5601 Burke RD.	Madison	53718	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ed	Burke	15 Kilravock Drive	LITCHFIELD	6759	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Gordon	Wagner	14955 Avenida Venusto	San Diego	92128	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Kevin	Walsh	155 Bishop Lane	MADISON	6443	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nathan	Carrico	701 W Sycamore	Fayetteville	72703	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dorothy	Newhouse	9 egret lane	Aliso Viejo	92656	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Janet	Palmer	136 Castle Heights	BOONE	28607	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jodi	Ingram	2052 Berkley Ave.	Roanoke	24015	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Marline	Hunt	palmdale, ca	Palmdale	93551	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Donald	Beirdneau	857 N 5th Street	San Jose	95112	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rich	Ottenstroer	2166 Vauxhall Road	UNION	7083	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Katherine	Barnhart	9701 Barwell Terrace Bklyn NY 11209	Brooklyn	11209	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Wayne	Hillard	4723 225th Ave SE	Sammamish	98075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sumir	Patel	1128 Farmhouse Lane	Quakertown	18951	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thomas	warner	201 wildwood court	Loveland	45140	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Brian	Gottejman	3964 Howard Ave	Los Alamitos	90720	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Margaret	Childres	4876 W. Twin Buttes Loop	Douglas	85607	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Daniel	Roberts	000 Ave A	New York	10009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Arturo	Alvarez	9405 nw 41 st	Miami	33178	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Aleks	Kosowicz	12876 N. Balsam Road	Hayward	54843	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	Ryan	304 Camino Bosque	Boulder	80302	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Thomas	Lawson	36 Hermosa Ave. Long Beach, CA 90802	Long Beach	90802	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cheryl	Carter	12005 NE 8th Avenue	Miami	33161	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Madeline	Rhum	140 8 ave apt 6m	Brooklyn	11215	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

CAROL	SIMMONS	4515 Colden Street	Flushing	11355	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Rachel	Pickens	3505 club pl	Duluth	30096	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Bernadine	Young	620 Upper Grassy Branch Ext	Asheville	28805	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Weber	160 Sherman Ave	CEDAR GROVE	7009	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Aaron	Gayken	310 W. 21st St. #9	SIOUX FALLS	57105	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Derek and Jean	Morse	5075 Rose Rock Lane	Reno	89511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charles	Kunkle	923 W. water St.	Coal Township	17866	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jennifer	Lowell	1150 G Harold Martin Dr	Pompano Beach	33060	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Edwin	Gonzalez	104 19 118th Street	South Richmond Hill	11419	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mehta	Hemant	3731 73rd st	Jackson Heights	11372	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
barb	m	meno. falls, wi	Menomonee Falls	53051	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Eric	Horwitz	21871 Apache Dr	Lake Forest	92630	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Charline	Ratcliff	1630 N Main Street, 307	WALNUT CREEK	94596	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Lee	Wolf	4548 Marple Street	Philadelphia	19136	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Christopher	Holcombe	2992 B Street	San Diego	92102	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Pedro	Hernandez	1513 Tidewater Drive	Monroe	71203	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Shannon	Savino	1220 Ottawa	Royal Oak	48073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Kaylen	14778 Sivertson Rd	Bainbridge Island	98110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Albert	Garcia-Romeu	2 S. Potomac St.	BALTIMORE	21224	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Weigert	185 Union Ave. #32	CAMPBELL	95008	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Elizabeth	Ramsey	1626 Colusa Ave.	DAVIS	95616	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Francie	Portnoy	5413 Pigeon Cove Drive	Greensboro	27410	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Malcolm	Litowitz	P.O. Box 165	Techny	60082	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Cathy	Conrad	120 Winding Way Drive	Hendersonville	37075	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Lupe	Torre	1099 Clay St.	WINTER PARK	32789	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
De	Bourmont	2 Barge Court	Montville	7045	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Tyrone	Moon	3304 N Elm St	Greensboro	27405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Stacy	Robbin	8 Furlong Dr	Millstone Township	8535	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Glenn	Rinker	1051 peaceful lane	HATFIELD	19440	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Corey	Laners	2758 GENIL	Mission Viejo	92691	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Clarksen	834 Christiana St.	Green Bay	54303	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jesse	Boeckerman n	102 Charles Ridge Road	Asheville	28805	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Sharon	Baker	Box 181	Palmer Lake	80133	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Andrew	Paleias	5180 NW 77 CT	Pompano Beach	33073	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Thom	Courtney	20 College Ave	GORHAM	4038	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jenny	Goodnough	1973 Pierce Street	Eugene	97405	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Anthony	Gutierrez	34w951 Stanton Dr Apt E	Saint Charles	60174	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
ken	sommerhalter	942 hyson road	Jackson	8527	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Mary	O'Keefe	103 Culbreth Road, Apt 314	Chapel Hill	27516	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Phil	Klein	454 Sierra Trl	CORALVILLE	52241	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jeff	Mccombs	622 Via Umbroso	SAN CLEMENTE	92672	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Chris	Cilia	POB 3$			American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bruce	Desiderio	7 Tennis Court	Glen Head	11545	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Michael	DeSarbe	19308 Quiet Trail	KEOSAUQUA	52565	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jill	Godmilow	135 Hudson Street, New York NY	New York	10013	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Annamarta	Dostourian	1970 san pablo ave #16	BERKELEY	94702	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Martin	LeMaire	31676 Mill Creek Court	Lewes	19958	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
James	Hall	10700 N. La Reserve Dr. Apt.11205	Tucson	85737	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Robert	Crivinar	163 Mangels	SAN FRANCISCO	94131	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
William	Crowell	3369 Mission Ln	Plover	54467	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dave	Shirley	197 Walnut Hill Rd.	North Yarmouth	4097	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Jordan	Winehouse	5 Middlethorne Rise		LS17 8SI	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Frank	Kroger	1504 E ALDER ST	SEATTLE	98122	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wm	Lemorande	7295 N River Rd	MILWAUKEE	53217	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bruce	Littlefield	PO box 218	Brooks	4921	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Anthony	Towler	1330 Ranier Blvd, Canton, MI 48187	Canton	48187	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Dan	Joiner	545 West 111th ST	New York	10025	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Norman	Baker	3789 Lost Mountain Road	Sequim	98382	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Kevin	Smith	624 DEER ST	Dunkirk	14048	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Deborah	Ellman	3802 SW Olga St	Seattle	98126	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Sara	Rabbani	10747 Wilshire Blvd. #1005	Los Angeles	90024	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Malcolm	Green	4009 columbus road	Granville	43023	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Al	Dannenbrink	PO Box 1586	EVERGREEN	80437	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Quida	Jacobs	1220 Marseille	Miami Beach	33141	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Joe	Detaranto	1301 Franklin Ln	ROCKAWAY	7866	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
willie	gay	1394 waycross road	CINCINNATI	45240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Odessa	Foster	3609 43rd Avenue North	Birmingham	35207	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Jesse	Cole	P.O. Box 1067	Afton	83110	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
fr	berger	13900 Masonic	Warren	48088	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Alex	Sheafe	347 Rimrock Road	Westlake Village	91361	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Garry	D'Brant	10 Cedar Swamp Rd Suite 3	Glen Cove	11542	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Les	Rees	309 E. Ambassador Dr.	Tempe	85281	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Marshall	Hoke	3150 Iris Avenue apartment 204	Boulder	80301	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
John	Markham	519 S Jefferson St	Princeton	42445	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Wendie	Dockstader	601 Walnut Street	Iowa City	52240	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Bill	Kellogg	129218 NE 136th St.`	KIRKLAND	98034	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Nancy	Crimmins	16500 SE 1st St #120	VANCOUVER	98684	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Harrison	Marshall	504 Greenwood Circle	Cary	27511	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.

Mark	Barrett	3606 NE 67th Terrace	SILVER SPRINGS	34488	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Douglas	Phillips	2745 Rosenhearty Drive	Henderson	89044	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.
Ronald	De Lair	3679 S. Desert Echo Rd.	TUCSON	85735	American consumers pay an average of $231 per year to rent a set top box from the cable monopolies. This hurts competition, limits consumer choice, and lifts up cable profits. Consumers should have the power to choose their own device. Competition will lowers prices and increase access to new streaming content and diverse voices. Cable companies shouldn't be able to block what consumers see on their TV. We urge the FCC and Congress to Unlock The Box.