Re: Cell phone use on planes

Dear Sir:

I am strongly opposed to any phone use on planes. If you want to have phone booths, fine. The last thing I want to do is listen to someone else's conversation. I have enough excitement in my own life. Recently, while at the car repair shop, the lady next to me started talking on her cell phone. I started to read out loud to drown out her voice. She finally got the hint and went outside.

Yes, you are inviting "plane rage"!!

Sincerely,
Sarah F. Bowen
