10-115

Dear FCC, Competition Policy Division.

I am writing because my recent bill from Verizon tells me that on or after July 1, 2010, they will discontinue providing service for calling cards.

It is my choice to purchase calling card time rather than buying long distance service from Verizon.

I just called AT&T, and they are not authorized to provide service where I live, so Verizon dominates this area market. If they no longer will honor my calling card, they have a monopoly here.

I ask that you consider voting "no" when it comes to Verizon's request from you to take away my choice for long distance, using my pre-paid calling card.

Sincerely,
