Re: GN Docket 11-65

Dear Chairman Genachowski,

When it comes to equal access to technological advancements, there is usually some disparity between those who really need access and those who actually get it. For too long, minority communities and underserved areas of Shreveport have been left out as advancements such as wireless broadband have swept the nation. After T-Mobile and AT&T merge, however, wireless broadband will be accessible for nearly all Americans. For that reason, we approve of this merger and hope you do the same.

Minority communities are often the biggest users of mobile broadband but the most limited in terms of access in the home. This inequality can be easily eliminated by the new and improved AT&T/T-Mobile. By improving their network and spreading wireless broadband to all parts of Shreveport, different communities will finally be on an equal playing field. Fortunately, AT&T's advanced 4G LTE network is one of the fastest in existence and will be rolled out to 97% of the country at zero cost to the hardworking American tax-payer.

Minority communities and other underprivileged Americans need and deserve this merger. Please do not postpone the proliferation of this impressive network of wireless broadband. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Shreveport NAACP
