Gentlemen:

I Am strongly opposed to permitting cell phone use after take-off and during the flight on board airlines.

I fly six to eight times a year on domestic flights, and also overseas to the UK; twice a year.

It is going to destroy the atmosphere on board. Unlike other venues, a passenger cannot get up from his seat and escape the caller or user. He is trapped in his seat. I was a major legacy airline captain for 35 years (Delta) and have had passenger conflicts occurr. This is a major cause of conflict, potentially.
