

To: Federal Communications Commission
From: Susan Jennings

October 2, 2019

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT REQUEST

To Whom It May Concern:

This is an official request under The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) that you not change the Over-the-Air Reception Device (OTARD) rule as RF microwave radiation exacerbates my condition. I attest and affirm that I am diagnosed with Multiple Sclerosis, which involves concentrations of metals in the body. When there is more microwave radiation in the atmosphere, such as is would be the case with antennas on private homes, my body is more conductive, as a result of the metals concentration. Therefore, my body is more reactive to microwave radiation.

Proposed changes to OTARD would allow wireless companies to install their RF microwave radiation antennas on private homes and apartment buildings with the permission of the building owner or tenant, circumventing the ability of local authorities to exert any control whatsoever over the deployment of antennas in communities across the country, which would include Pennsylvania, where I live.

Right now I'm living in a home situation that is relatively free of microwave radiation. For example, we have no WiFi and we use no microwave oven.

If I were exposed to microwave radiation, I'd have both difficulty sleeping and fatigue, brain fog and inability to keep up with the daily chores my family members need me to do, because of their medical conditions. Furthermore, microwave radiation, if transmitted ubiquitously, would prevent me from participating in society.

I ask under ADA that you not change the OTARD rule to ensure that everyone across the US, including myself and my family, will be safe and healthy.

Please confirm your intent to comply with this ADA request.

Signed October 2, 2019,

Susan Jennings
oilsofgrace@hotmail.com