Accompanying Statement explaining CPNI procedures

STATEMENT Of
ALBION TELEPHONE COMPANY
dba ATC COMMUNICATIONS

ATC Communication has established operating procedures that ensure compliance with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) regulations regarding the protection of Customer Proprietary Network Information (CPNI).

ATC Communications has implemented a system whereby customers' directive regarding their CPNI can be determined prior to its release or use. Occasionally, when incidental discussions involving a customer's CPNI are conducted over a telephone line (rather by mail), the identity of the customer is verified by either account security passwords or by callback at their telephone number of record.

ATC Communications continually educates and trains its employees regarding the appropriate treatment of CPNI. Employees receive yearly training on CPNI polies and its importance. This year, the training was provided by a reputable consulting firm utilizing a video training, followed by a quiz to ensure comprehension. ATC Communications has established disciplinary procedures should an employee violate the CPNI procedures established by ATC Communication.

We take CPNI seriously and it is our corporate culture to protect CPNI.

Singed

Rich Redman, Vice President
