The company provides exclusively broadband (backhaul) services to large enterprises and, primarily, to other carriers. This statement summarizes the procedures that the company has implemented to safeguard the CPNI of its respective customers.

USE OF CPNI

InterCarrier values its customers' privacy and takes measures to ensure that it protects CPNI. It is InterCarrier's policy to protect the confidentiality of its customers' information. InterCarrier does have CPNI, including quantity, technical configuration, type, location and use of telecommunications services provided by the Company. However, this information is only made available to customers in person pursuant to procedures described herein. InterCarrier does not use, disclose, or permit access to its customers' CPNI except as such use, disclosure, or access is permitted under Section 222 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Commission's implementing rules.

As necessary, InterCarrier may use CPNI for the permissible purposes enumerated in the Act and the Commission's rules, including, but not limited to, initiating, rendering, billing, and collecting for telecommunications services. The company also may use CPNI to protect its rights or property.

InterCarrier does not use CPNI to market products and services to customers outside of the category of service to which the customer already subscribes. InterCarrier also does not share CPNI with any affiliates or third parties for marketing purposes. If, in the future, InterCarrier seeks to use CPNI for these purposes, then it will provide the appropriate notice to customers and will maintain a list of customer preferences. InterCarrier also will maintain a record of any marketing campaign in accordance with the Commission's rules.

PROTECTION OF CPNI

As set forth below, InterCarrier has put into place processes to safeguard its customers' CPNI from improper use or disclosure by employees; and to discover and protect against attempts by third parties to gain unauthorized access to customer CPNI. Requests for information must be sent in writing by the authorized party of record for the customer. InterCarrier responds back in writing, to the authorized customer representative at the primary address of record.

The company trains its employees regarding its procedures for protecting CPNI on an ongoing basis and monitors the interactions of its employees with customers to ensure that procedures are being followed. InterCarrier has an express disciplinary process in place for violation of the company's CPNI policies.

DISCLOSURE OF CPNI OVER THE PHONE

InterCarrier has a process in place for verifying its customers' identity during an in-bound call. InterCarrier does not release call detail information during an in-bound call. InterCarrier does not disclose CPNI over the telephone in response to a customer-initiated telephone inquiry. If it elects to do so in the future, it will follow the applicable rules set forth in 47 CFR Subpart U, including the implementation of authentication procedures that do not require the use of readily available biographical information or account information and customer notification of account changes.

In some instances, involving a business customer with a dedicated account representative, the Company has agreements that address authentication procedures for disclosing CPNI that may differ from those described above.

DISCLOSURE OF CPNI ONLINE

InterCarrier does not disclose CPNI online at this time. Should it choose to do so in the future, it will institute authentication procedures to safeguard the disclosure of CPNI online.
