

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

I strongly oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services. As an IT person who sells phones to companies, I know that there is already a major lack of competition. Each company has carved a niche clearly different from the other, except Sprint. Combining it with T-Mobile would totally wall off all areas of the cell phone market thereby, obviously, eliminating any hope of competition. This would lead to lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I am a T-Mobile customer since they came to my L.A. Market years ago. I've gloried in the fact that I had no complaints and excellent service and coverage all these years -- all these years !!!! while no one I ever knew or heard was satisfied with their service.

NOW -- T-MOBILE-- YOU ARE GOING TO THROW THAT AWAY???? THE GREED IN THIS COUNTRY WILL END UP ENDING OUR DEMOCRACY FOR CERTAIN, AND PROBABLY THE PLANET AND THEREFORE THE HUMAN RACE.

GREED OVER EVERYTHING IS BEYOND DANGEROUS.

HOW DISGUSTING. HOW DISGUSTING. UNBELIEVABLE.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Stop the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint. The past few decades have seen far too many mergers resulting in too-large corporations that are undermining competition and democracy.

Block this merger and start breaking up the monopolistic giant corporations that are destroying competition in the US and in the world. We need corporations that cater to customers, not Wall Street.

We need competition to keep prices competitive. Having a mega telecommunication corporation will not keep prices competitive for the average consumer. I like having choices for phone service. Please protect these choices in phone service for all Americans.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

Our family of four active voters (and T-Mobile customers) is strongly opposed to the proposed merger between T-Mobile and Sprint.

This merger would reduce the already small number of providers, creating less competition and fewer choices for consumers -- as well as higher prices.

The health of our society and our democracy depends on having access to a variety of robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services, and it is troubling to note that low-income Americans who rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may be disproportionately affected by the merger, finding themselves displaced from wireless access.

We urge the FCC to block this merger and support a healthy marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Hi,

Every time I read of another mega merger I am disgusted by the direction our democracy is headed—down the tubes. The greed of corporate America knows no business undos!

Sprint and T-Mobile should NOT be allowed to merge. If anything, they should be broken up into regional corporations.

Do not let this merger happen!

T-Mobile / Sprint Merger is bad for democracy - say no

I am writing to ask you to oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint. It will further concentrate power and market control in an industry where competition is already lacking. Democracy requires citizens to have access to affordable means of communication and information: today this mean good quality and affordbale wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

Please - if you care about democracy, and not just corporate profits, vote to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Please reject the T-Mobile-Sprint merger. Internet users like myself would not benefit from this merger which would allow the big internet corporations to control what I view and the speed at which I receive data. Our future in a world where money and race can have such an influence on how one's life unfolds depends on a fair internet. Mergers and huge corporations do not promise a fair internet nor this necessary equality of service to all.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint. When enforced, the Sherman Anti-Trust Act has helped this country greatly by inhibiting monopolies and oligopolies alike. Both hike prices for Americans with no concomitant increase in service or quality. Why let any industry get a stranglehold on American life?

Access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services is vital. Several years ago, the U.S. was only 16th among industrialized nations in the speed of our broadband, while our prices for it were higher than others countries'.

We can't trust digital companies to give us the best service, at the lowest prices, on their own.

A T-Mobile / Sprint merger would would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers.

Notably, low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

When people have no wireless access, it can easily cost lives. It's already done so in Puerto Rico.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Sincerely,

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I am a person with disabilities on a low income fixed income, living in rural Vermont. I am writing to urge the FCC not to approve the proposed merger between T-Mobile and Sprint.

Broadband and wireless have become essential to our ability to communicate, do business and gather information. It is also increasingly taken for granted by business and government -- by society -- that individuals have such access.

I have been a T-Mobile customer. I chose their service because T-mobile offered cell phone coverage at an affordable price. I am concerned that with a merger there will be fewer such options.

Without healthy competition in the markets for these now-essential services, prices will rise, access will be impeded and marginalized populations may end up without access to affordable wireless and broadband -- and consequently have limited opportunity to effectively participate in the national discourse. This is fundamentally anti-democratic. It would also exacerbate social isolation, undermine continuing education and impede access to emergency response. For many people with disabilities, broadband and wireless services are a lifeline.

Please support competition and do not approve consolidation that may leave many of us behind.

Thank you for considering my concerns.

Sincerely,

Laura Ziegler

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint. Our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market with higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Sincerely,

Not to mention that I am a Sprint customer who won't use T-Mobile because of their horrible customer service and a whole host of other horrible business practices. Sprint uses an eco-friendly American staffed company being taken over by a company that would rather pay someone in India for help than another American, boot to mention they're far most wasteful than Sprint. Plus Sprint hasn't been throttling data since we lost Net Neutrality, T-Mobile has. This merger is bad for Sprint customers, bad for the economy, and bad for democracy. NO to the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger

The merger between T-Mobile and Sprint is yet another attempt by already-too-large corporations to reduce competition and take away from the consumer all the "choice" possibilities they spend so much time and PR money braying about.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market, essentially attacking the structure of market economics, and eventually, inevitably, lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

Without competition, the "magical" free market is no longer free, and can't regulate itself in the way acolytes of "capitalism" claim obviates the necessity for governmental regulatory intervention, and leaves no protection for the consumer.

This is obviously the point; then the only next move is regulatory capture, which how YOU came to arrive at your current position.

The last nail in the coffin of true "capitalism" buries "the market" and makes consumers slaves to corporate dictat.

If you still, in any real sense, believe in "Capitalism" and market-

based economic systems, the only rational decision is to block this merger and maintain a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

The only alternative would be for you to finally DO YOUR JOB, and we all know that's not going to happen.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

These behemoths running the communications industry will parasitically drain the consumer from those choices that are the consumers' natural right.

Please criminalise any action they take that in any way adversely affects the Customers right to a free-of-charge choice of service where Government lays down minimum standards of communications services that accord only with the very highest of standards that are of the best and highest quality (in all parameters) available on an automatic and ongoing 3 monthly series of tests by Government & Scientific & Industry Accepted Standards of Quality.

Please Reject this and all similarly related proposals.

They are designed to "screw the Customer to the utmost level by offering substandard service but with lower price tariffs whilst maximising profit to an unprecedented level of bare-faced greed.

Truly, the unacceptable face of Capitalism.

If this proposal 'goes through' there are many among us who will spend the rest of their lives in identifying those who DO support these (& similar) proposals, so that the public at large will know just which politicians are among the likeliest of those lucky recipients who will most certainly have benefitted (legally and otherwise) from 'backhanders' or whatever such 'considerations' are called these days.

NO T-Mobile/Sprint Merger!

There's been an unprecedented level of telecom consolidation in the past few years – and now T-Mobile & Sprint are pushing a $26 billion merger that would combine the third and fourth largest wireless carriers in the country. That'd mean less competition, higher prices, and fewer options for wireless customers -- particularly for low-income and other marginalized communities that rely on affordable wireless service.

Our democracy depends on all Americans having the tools they need to communicate with each other and fully participate in a 21st century society.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

This idea of allowing Sprint & T Mobile to merge is not a good one. The Telecom market is already too concentrated and especially so in recent history. The prices will go sky- high. They have already gone up in a manner of waiting a few years first. Then wham! Some customers move to another carrier, most just pay the price. And the next group does the same thing...

The flaw in merging is the debt, $26 million here. A few people get rich, then the layoffs start, then the prices start to rise.

Please do not approve this. It just coats jobs and rarely if ever improves service-the most experienced workers may be the ones laid off, if their salaries are commensurate with their talents.

Scott Kane

Decreased competition means higher prices and less customer service/focus. Please serve the public above corporate profits. Super-sizing companies often results in downsizing the greater good.

Low-income Americans, a significant T-Mobile customer base, rely on you to maintain their affordable wireless access.

May your decision stand out as NOT being driven by the singular profit motive but rather the big-picture impact. First serve the public.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Simply put, our economy and way of life are protected by and built upon the concept of free enterprise. Free enterprise is only possible if there is competition among many producers, distributors and users of a commodity.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market which would undermine the very basis of the economic model we tout to the world. In addition, it would lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I am commenting in opposition to the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because it violates both the letter and spirit of our country's anti-trust laws.

This merger would create a corporate behemoth that would have undue control over the wireless communications marketplace that would severely reduce competition. This would inevitably lead to higher prices and worse service for wireless customers. Low-income Americans, such as myself, who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our economy functions best when we have multiple competing companies offering wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Just like Amazon's growth into a mega corporation has resulted in having their fingers in vast areas of consumer markets, pushing out competition, allowing them control of pricing, lowering employment and creating low wage hostile environments for employees, (i.e. Wholefoods), the same will happen if this merger is allowed.

I am extremely concerned about the push toward mergers. We learned in the 1920's and 1930's that monopolies were a bad idea, making it too easy for companies to focus on increasing their income at the expense of reduced service and quality and increased prices for the consumer. It also made the economy less stable.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Sincerely,

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Stop the T-Mobile / Sprint Merger!

I oppose the merger between T-Mobile and Sprint because our democracy functions best when we have access to robust and affordable wireless voice and broadband services.

A T-Mobile/Sprint merger would reduce competition in the wireless market and lead to higher prices for wireless customers. Low-income Americans who disproportionately rely on T-Mobile and Sprint for more affordable services may also find themselves displaced from wireless access.

I urge you to block this merger and support a marketplace that offers competitive and affordable services for all Americans.

Sincerely,
