Re: MB Docket No. 17-287, Bridging the Digital Divide for Low-Income Consumers

Dear Ms. Dortch,

Enclosed please find the comments and petition signatures of 4,094 Free Press members telling the Federal Communications Commission to terminate the Lifeline proceeding.

The petition reads:

To FCC Chairman Ajit Pai and Commissioners Mike O’Rielly and Brendan Carr:

By rolling back the Lifeline program, you will be eliminating affordable phone and internet-access options for millions of poor people. Low-income families, the elderly, people with disabilities, people living on tribal lands, veterans, people of color and unhoused people all need Lifeline.

There’s no justification for moving forward with such a cruel and heartless plan. Please terminate the FCC’s Lifeline proceeding.

We urge the FCC to listen to communities and terminate its proceeding on Lifeline.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Best,

Candace Clement
Campaign Director
Free Press/Free Press Action

Peoples medical records are tied to phone numbers now with new technology. Losing your lifeline can cause havoc with medical records
—Jeff Zarazinski, Moline, IL

Lifeline is important to me and my family.
—Angela Livingston, Richland, WA

Don't cut the lifeline that millions of lower income families and elderly folks depend upon for emergencies and everyday life. It is an essential service to many who wouldn't otherwise be able to afford it and it costs nothing in tax subsidies.
—Ms. Carol Ortiz, Montgomery, TX

Please don't roll back on lifeline program please.
—Luna Buns, La Crosse, VA

Quit worshipping the almighty dollar & do something RIGHT for a change!
—Terry L Warkentine, Albuquerque, NM

Stop this now. Stand up for America by not taking rights away!
—Heather McClaskey, Salem, OH

You shouldn't have to be rich to afford the internet.
—Gary Gall, Cambria, CA

If you go forward with this plan, you prove just how much you hate poor people. Being poor is not a crime. It is not evidence of moral failure. It does not need your additional punishment.
—Bruce Hlodnicki, INDIANAPOLIS, IN

All utility rates are going up. Income isn't and you want to get rid of this little subsidy? Same on you.
—JL Ivey, Berea, OH

Please identify your self or I won't answer. Too many robo calls
—Maureen J. Begley, Overgaard, AZ

Is the goal here just to be as cruel as possible? How about some common decency - think of how your grandchildren will think of you.
—Tim Isom, San Francisco, CA

Do no evil. Do not cut Lifeline.
—Diane L. Kopan, chicago, IL

The FCC is a criminal department staffed by criminal Republicans. They must be purged, Stalin-era style, and replaced with personnel who have not sold their miserable souls to placate their corporate masters. Good God, how much lower can the Republicans go? All the way to the ending of our democratic republic, I fear.
—Wayne Carr, Bethlehem, PA

I used to write a newsletter for the International Economic Development Council, and I often heard how much trouble rural areas had attracting jobs because they didn't have good enough telecommunications infrastructure. This budget cut would do them more harm. Don't allow it!
—Kathryn A. Burns, Austin, TX

You're doing this... because the monthly subsidy is just too much of a burden for the massively profitable companies that are trying to get you to take this program down???

—Patrick Bosold, Fairfield, IA

Leave Lifeline Alone it is a vital federal program that helps the poor and marginalized communities connect to telecommunications services.

—Carmen Nichols, Chandler, AZ

Denying basic services to desperate people is immoral. Maintain and improve Lifeline!!

—Thomas Scarpinatto, Portland, OR

Keep Internet available to all US citizens

—Dana Hambelton, Rio Dell, CA

The repercussions of short-sighted actions can be devastating. Don't do it.

—Chad D Johnston, Portland, OR

The Lifeline program is critical to help people move out of poverty. Do NOT take it away from those who need it. Support Americans!

—Gerri Foley, Louisville, CO

These people have more love for money than their fellow humans, and that isn't right.

—Natalia Mieses, Athens, NY

impeach criminal trump now before he does more damage

—Richard Kunkel, wadsworth, OH

This is a terrible idea. The obstacles created for the children to be successful in school alone should prevent it from even being considered.

—Susan Stutz, Cherry Valley, MA

Free internet for all people

—Henry Green, Merrillville, IN

How many ways will the FCC figure out how to harm low income families, as well as rural communities? They just won't stop. I hope this will stop them.

—Ellen Zarter, Bellevue, WA

Why do you propose doing an awful thing like this? To please your corporate overlords?

—Jeanine Center, Ann Arbor, MI

We rival the Medieval times for reviling and punishing the poor for the crime of not having more money in the face of racism. Lifeline is exactly that. This is an issue of free speech.

—Ria Tanz Kubota, El Sobrante, CA

WAKE UP!!

—Edward Drinkwater, malvern, PA

We need to see that Lifeline be saved!

—Robert Miland Taylor, Clearlake, CA

Is this a contest to see which department of government can be the most cruel? Is this who we are? The Home of the Cruel?

—Michael Kemper, San Francisco, CA

I depend on it

—Michael McGee, Montgomery, AL

Everyone, but most particularly children, need internet Access. It is a fundamental learning experience and must be protected!

—Jo Ann McGreevy, Hackensack, NJ

Leave net neutrality alone! Leave it absolutely alone! If you destroy net neutrality, it could spell disaster for everybody! Prices would go absolutely ridiculously high and Beyond! Enough, is enough, is enough! As we said, leave... Net neutrality... Alone, now!

—Christopher C. Gagliardi, Englewood, NJ

Do you care about the future of our country, our children are our most valuable resource please protect their ability to thrive and our country will as well!

—M H, Bellevue, WA

Lifeline is a critically important service for thousands of Americans. Killing this program would not only further restrict low-income families, but also prevent kids from completing paperless school work and lead to increased unemployment rates. The FCC's own studies have concluded that rural broadband access directly effects college enrollment and graduation rates. Ajit Pai and the circus that the FCC has become, cannot get away with killing Lifeline or their atrocious plan to enact Net Neutrality.

—Harrison John, Maryville, TN

Just another example of this administration's cruelty and general meanness. How do you all sleep at night?

—Betsy Smith, Brewster, MA

Have a heart!

—Mj Cittadino, Redondo Beach, CA

This program needs to be preserved. It is essential. Full stop.

—Donald W. Henderson Ph.D., Ithaca, NY

Electronic communication is essential for job seekers, health reasons, and many other things. Lifeline is needed and must not be compromised.

—Jack Bohnhoff, Brooklyn Park, MN

Don't try to enslaving everyone with your corporate slavery, corporate clown.

—Justin Perez, San Diego, CA

It should be strengthened, not cut.

—Richard D Brabham, Richmond, CA

I am a teacher in a low income school. Many of my students use this access to do research for their assignments. Please do not destroy their access to Lifeline. Please terminate the FCC's Lifeline proceeding.

—Kathy Doran, Sebastopol, CA

with access for all citizens there is no 911---there is no connection to the world----or seeing what the government is doing in the People's name. SHAME on YOU, FCC.

—G Casey, altadena, CA

Don't promote or condone a plutocracy in America that neglects and discriminates against those who are not the elite upper-crust. Remember "we the People"!

—Martin Wolf, Colorado Spgs, CO

Shame on you!

—Susan Detato, Brownington, VT

Lifeline is a lifeline. Please do not jeopardize all the good it does. We're already dealing with the possible lack of net neutrality and now you add this to your what-can-we-do-to-hurt-the-most-people list. Way to go, uncaring authorities!

—Susan Donaldson, Boulder, CO

You reduce your welfare and jail costs by educating your children!

—Ethel Renner, Fall City, WA

This is the hallmark of a degenerate leadership. Don't blame the condition of the world or the economy. This one falls squarely on our leaders.

—Cox Carolyn, Everett, WA

Please stop being evil.

—Debra A. Hoffman, Eden Prairie, MN

My roommate and I relied on the Lifeline program when we were in college, because we earned so little money at our respective part-time jobs (and, of course, we had to pay tuition). This program is literally a lifesaver for many people who otherwise would not be able to pay for their telecommunications services, and it should be retained at all cost!

—Wendy Lohman, Los Angeles, CA

When you only allow the rich to learn, your country will fail.

—Linda Gillaspay, Reno, NV

There was a time in my life when I needed the Lifeline service or I would not have had access to telecommunications. I can't imagine why there is any need to eliminate this program, and I'm 100% against that. We NEED the Lifeline program for people in need. Please don't get rid of it.

—Laura Zielke, Kernersville, NC

Lifeline telephone service is (and has been for years) a basic element in keeping lower income families and individuals capable on maintaining relatively safe and secure lives in a turbulent troubling world. Everything possible should be done to keep the service affordable and readily available to those who have or may need it in the future. Taking away even the smallest part of that eligibility is a sin by every moral code.

—Timothy J. Funk, Salt Lake City, UT

Did you forget STUDENTS?? Most of my 3rd grade grandson's schoolwork MUST be done on a computer. Must. Anymore, that is what school looks like at nearly every level. You aren't online, well tough Twinkies, kiddo, you are SCREWED. ROYALLY!!! I'm in NO WAY belittling the effect of that loss to the other groups--far from it! But I know first hand the devastation it would cause to school children!

—Robbi Chisholm, Wyandotte, MI

This is the country we live in, nothing will change. How "cruel and vicious to do something like this for the most vulnerable and poor."

—Elissa A Donlan, Dorchester, MA

Why don't you talk about capitalism? Americans will take the sun and charge you for it. They will take the water and charge you for it. They will take the wind and charge you for it. EVERYTHING IS FOR SALE AND THIS IS BACKED BY THE GOVERNMENT. If you can make a nickel go for it. Never mind how many people you throw into the abyss without sun, light, water, air. Or Internet. They have contempt for poor people (whom they have created in the first place), and it is the "right thing to do"- to make money by taking the last bite of food from their mouths and then demonize them for being hungry. Education should be free, medical care should be free, the Internet should be free- but hold on, this is America, the land of opportunity. MAKE MONEY OFF THE POOR. If they can't afford it- screw 'em

—Forrest Hopping, Fresno, CA

Why would you want to do this? Have you asked yourself? Does it accomplish anything good for anybody?

—Gloria Berger, san diego, CA

Jesus Christ, I hate, loathe, despise, and detest every goddamned fucking republican on this earth. They do not belong in a decent society and should live on a deserted island somewhere. Or behind bars in a maximum-security prison, where most of them deserve to be anyway.

—Judy Genandt, Dundee, IL

How low can you go, you scumbags? You have no right to revel in our misery.

—Elaine Farris, Lucerne Valley, CA

I am here to tell the FCC to not rollabck the Lifeline because this will hurt poor people, people of color, veterans and people with disabilities and we need to protect it at all cost so I'm here to tell FCC chairman ajit pai and even commissioner Michael o'reily and Brandon carr to reject and don't rollback the lifeland because every American needs the lifeline for low income families.

—Emilio Castro, fresno, CA

Lifeline is essential not just for low income kids but also adults with special needs and those without. DO NOT TAKE THIS AWAY FROM THEM. SOME LIVE IN HIGH CRIME AREAS AND GETTING TO A LIBRARY IS LIKE A DEATH SENTENCE !

—Kim Hall, Mokena, IL

Yes. We're watching what you're doing, and we have long memories. if the lifeline program is jeopardized, your jobs will also be on the line. PLEASE don't take LIFELINE away!.

—L Lasdon, ravenna, OH

Just do the CORRECT thing!!!!!!!!

—Stephen&Joan Parks, Bailey, CO

You are fucking sick for trying to take this away you combination fascist Nazi anti-human weirdos!

—Holly Hughes, Pittston, PA

The telecom Corporations are plenty wealthy to support Lifeline.

—Tom Voorhees, clioton, WA

These Rep just can't stop screwing the poor people.

—Christy cypret, Crane, MO

I am a low income senior who needs Lifeline access to survive.

—Diane Vincent, Seattle, WA

Lifeline is a great program that allows lower income people (both families and seniors) to have a phone for emergencies and for relatives to check up on them. Do not take this service away!

—Ms. Rose M Riker, Sioux City, IA

Please do not take away this Lifeline!

—Stephanie Shine, Ponderosa, NM

Tall about RIGGING the SYSTEM!!!

—J H, Port Angeles, WA

The Universal Service Fund that funds Lifeline is well funded, make the most use of these funds by helping the people who need these services, it's idiotic to take them away.

—Tim A, Arvada, CO

Lifeline is absolutely essential for many people - preserve it don't cut it off!

—Sandy Parbury, concord, CA

Lifeline is a necessity for low income people to be safe and connected for medical reasons.

—Nancy Lynn, Emeryville, CA

To Stop Connecting people, business and a LIFE LINE is a Cold Heartless Act

—J C, ,

Your proposed action strikes me as low, bigoted against the poor and unfortunate and is wholly not supportable as just.

—Rex Wahl, Los Lunas, NM

I'm a low income senior and I am so grateful for Lifeline. Please preserve this program.

—Maryanne Roberts, Lincoln, VT

STOP THIS OUTRAGE.

—Amy Harlib, New York, NY

These people are nothing but corruption personified!

—S Jordan, deerfield beach, FL

Pai is not God. The vast majority of the American public want the past FCC rulings to be reinstated.

—Bill Crymble, Cattlecreek, CO

My 100 year old mother NEEDS this service

—Anne-Marie Young, Charlotte, NC

Income level should not determine who has access to vital services.

—Trent Adrian, Tampa, FL

This Not Right! It is also Not The American Way!

—Dr. Bob R Walling, Livingston, TX

Quit stealing our internet

—Tammy Davis, LOS ANGELES, CA

Save Lifeline!

—Mary Jane DelMastro, Penfield, NY

Internet access at an affordable price is a social justice issue! It's not possible to function in today's society without it. SAVE LIFELINE!

—Evan Jane Jane Kriss, Sausalito, CA

There's no justification for moving forward with such a cruel and heartless plan

—Gwen Willows, Richmond, CA

Leave the fair playing field alone!

—Steven Rogat, Pittsboro, NC

I urge you to abandon this proposal because, if my family and I weren't kicked off of our internet, our phone usage would be a different story. That said, I'm pretty sure that many families would not be able to say that. I mean, how many people have someone who works in the Telecom industry? How many people live in rural areas or are even low income? Furthermore, the Internet has become such an integral part of our lives. Not only is a valuable tool for communication (how else would I speak with someone in the EU?), you need to get anywhere in life. Perhaps all this and the fact that new generations may get their chance to use this should be considered.

—Lauren Tucker, Tallahassee, FL

This is a terrible idea!

—Theresa owens, eureka, CA

Kicking animals is no longer good enough for the Rapeuglycans. they want to isolate the vulnerable.

—Lawrence Jimenez, Los Angeles, CA

No one should be locked out of 'societal evolution'... we grow together.

—Ira Goldman, Boynton Beach, FL

I need an ambulance when I fall and break my leg, (four times so far). I need my Lifeline phone to call for help. Please keep this valuable program.

—Robin Parker, Westminster, MD

The FCC is supposed to serve America, not corporations

—Ms. Susan Cummings, Baytown, TX

I would like to fire FCC Chairman Ajit Pai and Commissioners Brendan Carr and Mike O'Rielly for not doing their "intended " job, which is to work for the American People. Working at the FCC does not entitle you to enrich yourselves at the expense of human life, which is what cutting LIFELINE would do to vulnerable Americans. Our anger towards criminals like you who prey on the defenseless (nobody wants you to do this except your buddies) is much more powerful than all the money you enrich yourselves with.

—Nancy Gutierrez, palm desert, CA

America was founded on the education of the people, now a days access to phone and internet is becoming a necessity. You can not even apply for a job if you can not get online. Kill this program and you will cause greater unemployment and kids will not be able to get access to an education that will lead them to do better than their parents, which ultimately is the American Dream.

—Richard J. Sweeney, Lowell, MA

Even financially disadvantaged and physically disadvantaged people need the internet. Don't take Lifeline away from them!!

—Aggie Monfette, Royal Oak, MI

Your sworn duty is to act in the best interest of all Americans, not just a few corporations.

—Pamela LaRue, Long Beach, CA

We already pay ISP's for Lifeline in subsidies/fees. We also pay telecomms for telephone service in rural areas with fees on our bills. This is called bridging the divide. There shouldn't be a divide in access or service anywhere in this country- for any invention of the last century. There is NO reason to remove or stop such an important service as lifeline. The Internet IS A UTILITY and everyone should be able to access it in this day and age- if not for free, for an affordable price. If the ISP's/Telecomms do not want to do the responsibility or jobs they are paid for (build the infrastructure), OK, let's make it government controlled! Then, NO PROFIT for any company and Internet for all at fair and controlled prices! That is the ticket the FCC is pushing us toward with this proposal. Once again, Ajit Pai shows his corporate colours and loyalty to private for-profit enterprise at our expense- as opposed to working for the people who pay your salaries with our taxes-that applies to you too, O'Reilly and Carr! Your proposal is NOT ACCEPTABLE.

—Stacy R, New York, NY

THIS INTERNET BELONGS TO THOSE OF US WHO PAID FOR IT- ALL OF IT FROM WWII ONWARD. THE RUSE OF "CAPITALISM" AND OPEN COMPETITION IS A LIE, A LIE. WE PAID FOR IT. CONGRESS PROTECTS US, THISVPRESENT FCC WORKS ONLY FOR PRIVATE INTERESTS AGAINST THE VERY OATH HE SWORE.

—Nancy Currah, Casper WY, WY

You would take phone service from low-income families? Should the president run on taking from yhr poor giving to the rich? Stop it!

—Richard Creswell, Lakewood, CO

How can you "bridge the digital divide" if you cut off the financial bridge?! It proves that it is your plan to marginalize the poor so the rich can get richer. South Korea connects everyone and fosters opportunity for ALL of its citizens. Our system is failing because of the people who run it: Pai, Carr & O'Reilly. Disgusting!

—G E Crusius, Santa Clarita, CA

So many families are struggling to make ends meet today. They need access to the Lifeline Program so they can search for a job and following through on interviews.

—Ingrid M. Cook, Joseph, OR

It's all about the money...paid to the bureaucrats we're paying to serve us and protect us from crooked, parasitic corporados.

—T Jeffries, Bend, OR

This will indeed have a dire impact on the elderly and disabled, so many of whom are currently unable to make ends meet. The Social Security squeeze has been much more severe than any Middle-Class squeeze with cuts to the Food Stamps program and yearly adjustments only occasionally keep up with inflation.

—Amy Irene Anderson, Kingston, NY

Phone and internet service is no longer a luxury, but is totally essential to human life and a way to keep in touch with Doctors, lessons for students and family. Lifeline is essential to this country and must be continued.

—Fern Cohen, Monroe Township, NJ

To those individuals at the FCC. We as a Nation are NOT ok with the dismantling of the LifeLine program. There is no justification for this act. We want equal support for all people in the United States. If you continue on this path you will only be representing yourselves and not the people of the United States.

—Kimberly Ware, Las Vegas, NV

My 92-year-old mother relies on the Lifeline plan to afford a landline phone. If she had to pay full rate, she'd have less money for food.

At a time when I was a single mother, had little money and a very difficult time paying my rent, Lifeline was truly a lifesaver.

—Johanna Abate, San Francisco, CA

Why? I can't even conceive of why you would want to take this away from people who so desperately need it! Which of these groups are worthy of your concern? Are you willing to throw them "under the bus" because there are other groups you feel are unworthy? veterans Native Americans poor people single moms unhoused people people of color elderly people victims of natural disasters people with disabilities LEAVE THE LIFELINE PROGRAM ALONE!

—Kelly McMahan, Alameda, NM

please vote your conscience, put yourself in their position.

—wladyslaw (Walt) bandachowicz, monroeville, NJ

What words are there remaining to show the cruelty of a government administrator who would roll back such an important program that helps so many? How do these inhuman employees - who are supposed to serve the people - sleep at night?

—Lynne Holden, Eugene, OR

I'm accustomed to seeing a fee added to my phone bill to support the Lifeline program, and I consider it a privilege. Please do the humane thing, and allow this program to continue.

—Margret Schreck, Sun City West, AZ

I'm trying to imagine why on earth the FCC would be rolling back this important program to this degree. America is the wealthiest nation on the planet - surely we can afford to help our neediest citizens access telecommunications service. By all means, the FCC should tighten regulation of this benefit and insure that only eligible people are enrolled. Is that really so difficult vs. virtually eliminating it?

These telecommunication services are literally a LIFELINE for so many. Do not cut them off!
—Stephanie D Jackel, Vista, CA

Your proposal and goal to eliminate the Lifeline program is selfish, cruel and heartless. There is no justification to eliminate Lifeline. It is important that it exists for those of us who possess a disability, have health problems and other Americans. The day could come when you would need it. If you take it away, what would you do if you were placed in that situation? This is worse than the goal of doing away with the free and open internet or net neutrality which I will continue to fight you on along with as many disabled people and organizations in America as I have access to. Leave Lifeline alone. It's an important, necessary service for those who need it.
—Lawrence Stoler, Stamford, CT

You snot-nosed little rich-bitches think anybody below an arbitrarily-chosen pay grade doesn't deserve a damn thing, even if their taxes (which they pay and you parasites don't) already covered it. Well, YOU'RE WRONG AGAIN. And we're here to prove it to you.

We would like the FCC to serve the American nation enabling all people (including the disabled, elderly, poor and rural inhabitants) to access vital services, stay informed, communicate, compete, and function in the 21st century. The Lifeline program is off limits. No nation can stand proud if it does not support the sector of the population that depends on Lifeline to fully survive! DO THE RIGHT THING.

—Sally Arscott, Los Angeles, CA

What a terrible thing to do to the less fortunate and their children. We have plenty of money for war and a border wall but not enough for poor people to have a phone and or internet access. Really? The tax scam gave enough to Apple and other corporations to fund this for years.

—Harold Johnsen, Hammond, IN

Denying the children in fiscally disadvantaged homes access to the Internet will only insure yet another generation of low achievers who will depend on our government to make ends meet. Will access to the Internet insure that they'll become successful? Of course not. But, just as inadequate access to books has kept past (and present) generations from being qualified for better careers, at this point in history, it's the Internet that will make or break the life achievements of today's youth. Do not take away access to the Internet to children of low income families. Doing so now only compounds our social problems in the future.

—Mike Dorcey, Emporia, KS

I am disabled and rely on lifeline.

—T L, Salinas, CA

Definitely the FCC is doing a disservice to America by trying to dismantle Lifeline, especially since a number of state and federal agencies require on line communication with their clients. Get real, you pimp for big business, we will remove you and your kind through political action.

—Michael Six, Bartlesville, OK

I understand that you can not understand how important Lifeline is because you have never been poor. If you have been poor, and still support eliminating this vital program, then shame on you. You must not believe in God or Jesus, as your actions are disgusting and in no way represent what Jesus would advocate for. I know you will pay for this in some way, whether it be in this life or the next.

—Allison Zborowski, Austin, TX

When millionaires are getting tax breaks, you want to cut off lifeline for needy people? What kind of greedy idiots are you??

—Betty W Anderson, Bowling Green, KY

Ending Lifeline would be tantamount to turning the lights off for millions.

—Brian Schill, Spring Branch, TX

It is vital for kids to have internet access today. Much of their school work is online nowadays.

—Margaret Gooding, Rialto, CA

As a disabled senior citizen Lifeline has helped me be able to afford telephone service. This is so important!!!

—Wendy Engel, Novato, CA

If anything, the program needs to be expanded and updated.

—David Roy, Maryville, IL

I use lifeline. I need it. I will go back to not using a phone, if lifeline goes away.

—Mr. iam ilanrab, Laguna Woods, CA

The leaders of all US government agencies are corrupt to the core, all bought and paid for by the pig class.

—Gill Fahrenwald, Olympia, WA

Lifeline supports interconnectedness in poor communities. This is an essential part of our lives now. Stop this nonsense of pulling the plug on this important program.

—Deborah Klaus, Albuquerque, NM

Don't lock out those who have financial issues and cannot afford the ridiculous prices some of us pay to get internet access.

—Howard Shapiro, Las Vegas, NV

I have worked most of my life in the inner city, these children never know if they will wake up in the morning. This is a lifeline for them. Do not destroy their only hope.

—Ann C McGill, Brunswick, OH

The internet is now an essential public utility.

—Elise MacDonald, Nashua, NH

Pretty hard to get a job without a phone

—Gordon Gottbeut, Nekoosa, WI

Greed over people. Melt your Golden Calf down if you need more profits.

—Kyle Kleckner, Berkley, MI

Leave Lifeline alone!-- so it can continue to serve its purpose.

Good program we can afford

—David G Bridgeman, Keizer, OR internet access is a necessity for participation in society and education of our children.

—Andrew Pavelchek, Poway, CA

We need to get rid of a s pie

—Jay D Lefkowitz, Van Nuys, CA

It seems Trump's appointees care nothing for the poor or low income people and the programs they depend on. No reality whatsoever.

—Barbara J. Schrader, Galena, MO

This action is so unfair to the poor! I urge keeping the Lifeline program!!!

—Marilyn Stinson, Longmont, CO

What the hell is the matter with you 'so called' people?? Do you get your kicks by seeing people suffer or what?? There is a special place in hell for 'so called' people like you. Enjoy your stay when you get there...

I'm a former Lifeline subscriber. It's imperative that this be available to low-income people.

—Leslie Sweeney, Bellingham, WA

The internet is an educational lifeline for MANY home-schooled children. Don't destroy their education for political reasons.

—Richard F. Mcgrain Jr., Charlottesville, VA

This is such a mean government...gives tax credits to the 1%ers but tries to take away the internet to the poor...WTF?

—Tlaloc Tokuda, kailua kona, HI

Lifeline saves lives! It must be fully funded!! Do not even think of doing away with it!

—Sandy Neese, Pegram, TN

I CARE

—David Landskron, Winter Haven, FL

Have you actually ever been to some of the places that are only barely served by telephone companies? It's not only poor people in cities who are affected - rural America is, too! Stop this Lifeline madness.

—Henry Ickes, Newton, NJ

I'm a disabled senior who needs a landline & Fios internet at an affordable rate. $90/month eats into my food/Rx etc. as I try to pay off 1 inpatient hospital bill & a larger inpatient rehab bill. This is not acceptable. State of the Art net is an Economic, Public Health, National Defense & Public Safety Emergency. We must follow the EU & realize that it's a necessary Public Utility along with Clean Water, Clean Air & Arable Soil. Thank you very kindly for your time and attention. Yours truly, Mr. Brett Greisen

—Mr. Brett A Greisen, NY, NY

Trump regime not doing enough to compound the struggle of low-income folks already?

—Paul Franzmann, Walla Walla, WA

Stop the marginalization of the lower and middle income individuals/families at the behest of corporate greed, corrupt politicians, and the deeply padded pocketed "1%ers".

—Ms. J Cohen, beachwood, OH

This is totally unfair!!!! STOP the INJUSTICES!!!!!!!

—Guadalupe Yanez, El Paso, TX

Stop attacking those things that help people.

—Douglas W. Meyer, Guilford, CT

FCC: Leave Lifeline Alone. Terminate the Lifeline proceeding and abandon this cruel proposal.

—Sandra W. Bader, Harshaw, WI

Stop the ASSAULT on the most vulnerable people in OUR AMERICA!! Please terminate the FCC'S LIFELINE proceedings!!

—Melissa VerDuin VerDuin, Grand Rapids, MI

Equal & fair access of the internet is essential in this day & age for job applications, applying for unemployment benefits & finding other resources.

—Kay Nelson, Whitehall, WI

I used to have the Lifeline program a long time ago. I enjoyed having it and it would be a shame to see it be eliminated.

—Nile Frascchetti, Frazier Park, CA

Work in the public interest like you're supposed to, not for corporate interests.

—Alexander Clayton, Denver, CO

This administration consistently chooses corporate profit over the good of the citizens - DO NOT cut off what is a literal lifeline for many disadvantaged people.

—Eric Jacobs, Boise, ID

This helps a lot of low income and elderly people !

—Dennis e. Adkins, parma, OH

This is nothing but a cruel, arbitrary action to punish a broad swath of Americans suspected of not being onboard with the Republican ideological program.

—Jim Steitz, Gatlinburg, TN

This is a no-brainer !

—Don McKelvey, Euclid, OH

Why are programs that benefit the poor and underserved always the one's to be cut? Leave the Lifeline Program as it is.

—Carol Hagele, Aurora, CO

Lifeline customers still pay a small amount for their service to emergency calls and the service is very limited and slowed down.

—Edward Dijeau, Union City, CA

We the people, hereby demand that Lifeline remain open and active that millions of hard-working Americans depend on...

—Darby Stone, Harvest, AL

Well are you ready to continue to take more Civil Rights away from We the People? Are you willing to push our country in a dictatorship? Hell the way tRump is going, he is already pushing our country into another Russia. China or North Korea. So go ahead a yank Lifeline out of We the People and leave only for the elite wealthy and corporations. After all O,Rielly and Carr, you are both sidekicks to the dictator in office now.

—Kelly Arellanes, Bryant, AR

How can you do this?

—Eileen McGee, Eureka, CA

This is just disgusting. Stop attacking the poor!

—Maryann Ann Smale, Steuben, ME

This assistance program is of modest cost to the budget but helps low-income people access essential communication services. Keep it intact.

—Seth Paronick, Miami, FL

The Lifeline program not only benefits the people who depend on it for access, but also the many small businesses and even corporations that rely on Internet access to reach their customers. Hurting people and businesses does not help America in any way.

—Larry Lawton, Aberdeen, WA

Leave Lifeline alone -low income families and children need this utility

—Rhea Osland, Laurel, IA

This program is vital for many people and children. It's disgusting to me that removing access is even being discussed.

—Arrie Hammel, Niagara Falls, NY

Everyone needs an internet connection regardless of income or address.

—Pat Floersch, Overland Park, KS

The FCC sadly & wrongly took over-the-air TV away from the poor, 1st by 'D-TV', & then by selling some frequencies to 'big monopolistic' telecom. Time to help the poor, instead.

—Carl Littmann, Wyncote, PA

I was a social worker for seven years and witnessed the benefit the Lifeline program provided for many of my clients. It is a godsend.

EVERYONE needs internet access!

—Candace Hartzog, Summerville, SC

DUH!!!

—Mr. Marcel Liberge, MURPHY, OR

I don't want this to happen

—Jacob Harrington, Oswego, NY

trump's government, along with the FCC, CLEARLY means for the poor to stay poor, undereducated, and stuck there. EVERY decision made by trump, his cabinet, and the execrable Mitch McConnell is about making themselves richer at the expense of every other citizen. They are all completely lacking in a conscience, concern for the public good, and basic honesty. Ajit Pai is of the same ilk only, with direct ties to ISPs, that smack of a genuine conflict of interest. There is no SUPPORTABLE reason to dismantle Lifeline, Pai, Carr, and O'Reilly are working at the behest of the ISPs because Lifeline isn't as profitable as they would like. These three men do NOT work for the public good and I would like to see them investigated for their ties and actions that distinctly favor the big ISPs and cost consumers in costs, freedom of speech, privacy, and affordable access. I'm sick of the rampant corruption of this administration

—Jackie Critser, Wilsonville, OR

Disgusting that the FCC Commissioners would even consider eliminating the lifeline program for people unable to afford phone and internet access. Represent the needs of all the American people, give low income people a chance to improve their economic situation.

—Nancy Pratt, Concord, CA

Ajit Pai = Goerbels

—Matthew S Melin, San Diego, CA

Benjamin Scott

—Benjamin Scott, Chicago, IL

Rolling back the Lifeline program is such a mean thing to do. Why would you deliberately hurt people who need help the most?

—Michael Adler, Seattle, WA

Dear FCC: what are you THINKING?!!!!!! Don't we want to include EVERYONE in order to have the best possible country? Where are your brains?

—Kevin H. Connaghan, Mission, KS

Absolutely sickening...FCC is to protect people not corporate profits.

—Cynthia L Seidel, Littleton, CO

This plan is unjust. Stop the greed, please.

—David Lax, Fort Collins, CO

Really? Take away Lifeline? Shame on you.

—Shawn Troxell, New Braunfels, TX

Lifeline is a vital social program! Show some humanity and leave Lifeline and all the people that depend on it alone.

—Jeff Ball, Sacramento, CA

Having access to the internet is no longer a luxury in today's world. It is even necessary if someone is looking for a better job.

—Phil Shephard, Round Rock, TX

Internet access doesn't make people lazy. It gives them information about healthcare that Republicans are trying to hide, access to the CDC website to prevent the ridiculous anti-vax movement from poisoning people's minds against something that has saved perhaps millions of lives, information on job opportunities, information on their elected officials, a vehicle to get their work in front of a world-wide audience whether that work be written word or a work of art, and yes, sometimes a respite from life's difficulties.

When Dems have the majority we will restore the various Departments so they do their proper job, I'm sure they would investigate that RAT...Ajit "CORRUPT" Pai.
—Jordan Kratz, Portland, ME

Stop hurting those who are most vulnerable and deserve the same rights and access that those more fortunate enjoy!
—Nicci howell, New York, NY

The only alternative to rolling back the Lifeline program is guaranteeing a livable basic income. Absent such a system, the lifeline program ought to stay in place and be strengthened.

—Marinus Broekman, Fair Lawn, NJ

You need to be on the right side of history.

—Jeanhee Chung, Mamaroneck, NY

The Life Line program is no longer an option as most interactions with the outside world require telecommunication and they no longer offer any other method of access.

SHE DESPERATELY NEEDS THE "LIFE LINE" BENEFIT.....!!!!!! EVERY DOLLAR IS VITAL TO HER COMFORT,HEALTH & WELL BEING...!!!! YOU PEOPLE IN CHARGE OF THESE POLICIES HAVE NO CLUE TO WHAT YOUR IGNORANT MOVE TO ELIMINATE THIS SMALL BENEFIT WILL MEAN „HOW IT WILL ADD MORE DISTRESS TO THE ELDERLY,THE POOR...!!!! THIS ADMINISTRATION IS ONLY INTERESTED IN $$$$ FOR THE WEALTHY ,WALL STREET, BIG DONORS=CORPS. WITH NO REGARD FOR THE LESS FORTUNATE...!!!!!! DO NOT ELIMINATE THIS BENEFITIF YOU HAVE ANY CONCERN FOR THOSE WHO DESPERATELY NEED LIFE LINE , YOU WILL SAVE IT ...!!!!!! WHERE IS YOUR HUMANITY,EMPATHY...???!!!! DO THE RIGHT THING...!!!!!!

—JOHN PRYBYLSKI, Buffalo, NY

FUCKING TRAITORS...

—Brian Inzer, Owens Cross Roads, AL

The FCC better drop their plans to dismantle Lifeline or I'm throwing them in prison.

—Howard Medeiros, Morgan Hill, CA

This government's cruelty seems to have no limits! Lifeline is exactly what the name says: a life-saving resource, in both literal & more subtle ways. In today's digitally connected world, EVERYONE needs access to the Internet: for job searches; medical information; banking; for school work. And, most importantly, for a life threatening emergency. A list of reasons could be even longer. I ask the FCC: where is your compassion? Where is your common sense? Shutting down this program is akin to electricity being denied to low-income people. We are not living in the 19th Century!

—Joanne Oleksiak, Cherry Hill, NJ

To consider the destruction of this program suggests you have no heart !

—Cindy Morse, New Orleans, LA

So children can compete as long as their parents can afford it. What a disgusting principle.

—Benita J. Campbell, Burgettstown, PA

The FCC is quickly becoming a cruel, as well as ignorant agency. Where's the leadership?

—Eric West, Port Orange, FL

In fact, Lifeline needs to be broadened. The only way I can get online is at the library. I'd love to have home internet, but can't afford it. I've tried to sign up with Lifeline and gotten absolutely No Where.

—Christine Jeffords, Olyphant, PA

Just Republicans being Republicans!

—Jacqui Bishop, Burnsville, NC

Are we a democracy or is the FCC the spearhead of Fascism? We the people? OR We the few? Do we help our fellow person? OR Leave them to destitution? Capitalization run amuck? Or Justice and Liberty for all? We all need a helping hand at times and some more than others.

—Parker D Berg, Tijeras, NM

These days the Internet is as essential to life as land-line telephones were 30 years ago. I don't understand why you would be so willfully ignorant and malicious as to roll back the Lifeline program. Keep it!

—Rebecca Klemme Eliceiri, St. Louis, MO

Lifeline is essential to making communication accessible and affordable to people. communication is a human right that trumps the FCC's lazy attempts to "eliminate fraud." there are other ways to negotiate that. keep lifeline alive!

—Priscila Hernandez, Austin, TX

The Internet needs to be fair for everyone.

—Tom MacDonald, Minneapolis, MN

At 74, I just got a $20 a month Social Security, my rent went up $25. Last year I got $15 increase, but my bills went up so I was $30 a month worse off than the year before. Verizon raised my phone bill, now they won't even allow me to make calls to ANY cell phone unless I pay them $10 a month more plus 25 cents a minute for each call, and all those taxes and fees. Now you want to take away the measly $10 a month lifeline pays on my Verizon bill?? WHAT AM I SUPPOSED TO DO?? I've cut every single thing I possibly can, sat here in the dark all winter, so there's nothing else to cut? Cut off my phone altogether?? Just die?? As it is I only call agencies or business customer service with 1-800 numbers. I can't even call my legislators because I can't make long distance calls. Are you fat cats really so horribly greedy that you have to take EVERYTHING away from the poor, the elderly, the disabled?? Maybe some of your cronies should look into legalizing assisted suicide on demand. They could probably find a way to profit from it. Soy lent Green, anyone?

—Jamia Kelly, Provincetown, MA, MA

Leave LIFELINE alone. Just one more thing to take away from people in need.

—Eugenia A. Patterson, Poulsbo, WA

Correct: Internet is a necessary utility today.

—Lynne Kane, Chapel Hill, NC

Poor people need phones in order to find work. Denying them phones makes it even harder to escape poverty. Please think about what you are doing.

—Robin Ward, Hagerstown, MD

What is wrong with you people??? Is it now everything has to be for a buck??

—Charles McGivern, Pompano, FL

FCC Chairman Ajit Pai and Commissioners Brendan Carr and Mike O'Rielly want to dismantle Lifeline, a proposed rollback that would rob millions of poor people of affordable phone and internet access and disproportionately impact people of color, seniors, veterans and people with disabilities.

—Diane Ballentine, Cypress, TX

We just keep taking away things from those who never had much to begin with; this is just calculated cruelty..

—Elizabeth Mac Kelvie, Appleton, WI

OF COURSE you want to keep ordinary citizens ignorant and disconnected so you can control them. Concerned citizens will be informed and know what is going on in spite of that. My opinions of you are not fit to print.

—Barbara Fry, Alton, IL

#BanVotingMachines

—Michael L. Smith, Newbury Park, CA

Please don't take Lifeline from me and others that so desperately need it.

—Jeanne Shaw, Denver, CO

We the taxpayers of the U.S. WANT the FCC to serve our needs, and that includes the Lifeline program!

—Charlene Woodcock, Berkeley, CA

Low income folks often have FEWER means of communication than people who are better off. Lifeline MUST be kept in place

—Karl Meller, minneapolis, MN

Digital access is one key to economic success and the lifeline program is a worthy investment that easily pays for itself in increased economic activity.

—Mr. Dan Paul, garden grove, CA

This is an invaluable thing for folks in my senior community . They don't deserve to be penalized because of their poverty.

—SALLY Merryman, Cadiz, OH

What the hell is wrong with you folks at the FCC? Stop trying to be terrible people.

—Jeremy Graten, Phoenixville, PA

This is another example of this administration's attempt to demonize being marginalized!

—Laura Esparza, SAN ANTONIO, TX

Last thing these asshats want is for the people to have information...all they want is propaganda...

—April Harris, Pleasant Hill, CA

THIS IS AN ESSENTIAL ESSENTIAL UTILITY- STOP HURTING THE INDIGENT

—Jk Anderson, bisbee, AZ

lifeline is essential as done now, it enables many poor people to have service at all. maintain as it is now and no cut back to this needed program ! if we have money for endless wars and also corporate welfare then we have money for this !

—Roberto Manz, ny, NY

I would not have a cellphone without lifeline.

—Diane Kokowski, Pittsburgh, PA

Lifeline helped me out at a difficult time. If any FCC commissioners had ever needed it, they wouldn't consider this idiotic inhumane proposal. Quit being corporate whores and serve the people!

—William D Johnson, New York, NY

How hard is it to ensure everyone equal access to the greatest collection of human experience and knowledge ever amassed? We can subsidize corn and coal, but not people? Not knowledge?

—Allan Thorne, Tukwila, WA

Thank you for seeing that citizens have free access to the FCC Lifeline.

—MaryJo Matheny, Indianapolis, IN

Lifeline is a vital tool for the poor, disabled, elderly, homeless, and others. Do not take this vital tool away!

—Lila Harris, Hubbard, OR

Only a corrupt heartless organization could enact this proposal.

—Frank Ackerman, Walnut Creek, CA

This is a very important program.

—Ronald H Skees, Jeffersonville, KY

Why leave low income people in a communication desert

—James eichman, milwaukee, WI

Admit you are murdering people, And you piece of shit. how would you like it if your family at this moment was dead

—Alene Bishop, Clarkston, WA

President Reagan initiated this program for good reason. Please keep it fully in place and fully funded.

—Ms. Barbara Richardson, SALT LAKE CITY, UT

This move to eliminate the Lifeline program is unconscionable.

—Patricia Abbott, West Palm Beach, FL

Connection to the Internet must be neutral and equally available to everyone, at the same speed and accessibility.

—Elizabeth WardDonahue, Midland, MI

If my friend loses Lifeline, we will not be able to do the volunteer work that we do together. Lifeline is not for just one person.

—Sherron Collins, Spring Lake, MI

Internet is equal for everyone

—Dylan De Jesus, Orlando, FL

Ajit Pai's actions are partisan and special-interest influenced. Time to start serving the country and not private interest donors to the GOP.

—Valerie Ann Nemeth, ENCINITAS, CA

We need net neutrality and the Lifeline program. We do not need another stupid and cruel rule.

—John D. Eder, Provincetown, MA

Ordinary people deserve better than the FCC.

—Allen Wheeland, Portland, OR

The Lifeline program is too important to be abandoned.

—John D. Santamaria, Stoneham, MA

It appears that some members of the commission would like to direct those with telecommunication services on Lifeline to for profit companies. What were you promised to effect this change to 7 million citizens ? or is it just implied.....

—Joseph Podrasky, Plymouth, MI

We need to do everything we can to make sure ALL children have access to the tools to learn and be all they can dream.

—Angela J Leslie, Antioch, TN

I NEEEEEEED Lifeline. . .A telephone is an absolute necessity for this 80-year old! And, every penny I receive via Lifeline is used for food and the Necessities for Life!

—Brian D Flaherty, Wilseyville, CA

end the Lifeline program? you are heartless sons-of-bitches if you do that.

—Michael-Leonard Creditor, San Diego, CA

Knowledge is the foundation of global competitiveness, productivity and a higher standard of living. A $9.25 subsidy to Lifeline recipients is one of the best, if not the best, investment available to the United States. Lifeline costs per taxpayer are a rounding error compared to the billions spent on Israel's ethnic cleansing of Palestine and the Saudi starvation of Yemen. Both of which have a negative global impact on humanity.

—Stanley Tomkiel, Mount Laurel, NJ

Since when did it become acceptable to put people with disabilities, poor people, veterans, indigenous and other low-income people in on-going dire straights??? It is unacceptable to keep THE PEOPLE repressed!! I'm disappointed with our government constantly putting basic things ALWAYS on the chopping block!! I can't express my views any more clearer than I have. STOP THE CORPORATE WELFARE for the rich and corporations AND MAKE THE CORPORATION PAY THEIR INCOME TAXES AND WE'LL HAVE ENOUGH TO GIVE TO THE VULNERABLE AMONG US!! ajit pai, if you can't step out of your luxury digs to see how others live and those who have no chance of rising above their poverty, then step aside and let someone with a heart and soul take your place!!!

—Leonard L Lindgren, ELGIN, IL

Rolling back LifeLine service is cruel & unacceptable. My 94 yo mother-in-law depends on her LifeLine service to stay in touch with her family (grandchildren) & community. I have tried to get her to use a cel phone, unsuccessfully - it is beyond her comprehension to use. Do not abandon our elderly, do not eliminate Life Line.

—David Keeler, Westminster, CA

This is essential!

—J'Ulene LaQue, Minneapolis, MN

Please do the right thing here!

—Nancy L Neskauskas, Santa Fe, NM

As we are attempting to fight to restore net neutrality, we don't need more problems on top of problems, we need to stop him now.

—Ryne Hammer, Kissimmee, FL

Leave Lifeline alone! The internet is essential to low income families whose children need the service for completing school work. The elderly and disabled need internet service for scheduling medical appointments and paying bills.

—Marilyn Penland, Wheaton, IL

I support Lifeline and think whoever thought it up is brilliant. Lifeline serves a wide range of people in many different and difficult situations. Do not take away a program that many depend upon. I think it's terrible that elimination of Lifeline is even being considered. How cruel.

—Ms. Carolyn Taylor, Loveland, CO

You should be promoting access to communication services, not denying it.

—Dorothy A Bruce, Tucson, AZ

Our children need access to the internet and also TV for the children's programs that helps them to have a head start in learning.

—Rachel Campbell, Charlotte, NC

Of the People For the People By the People REMEMBER who you are working for!!

—Scott and Cathleen Weston, Post Falls, ID

We need to get rid of Trump and his horrible pic for his admin. like Pai who is just horrible for our country. We need people who actually care about this country and all the people.

—Jolene McKee, Federal Way, WA

We need to change these positions in government from appointments to letting the people vote for the best person for the office. For someone who has the people's best interest.

—Christy Redden, Garland, TX

This is INSANE! 99% of humans (and some of their pets) demand net neutrality. The powers that be are blatantly declaring dictatorship over this vital publicly funded tool of a democratic intelligent society. THIS IS A CRIME that has to be dealt with.

—Don Pew, Girard, OH

I personally know a woman on disability that could in no way could pay for mobile phone .

—Francis Hensler, Slippery Rock, PA

In the 21st century access to telecommunications is necessary for full participation in society.

—Annelise Bazar, San Jose, CA

Why take away this utility. You will hurt the poor and oppressed. Give them a leg up not down. Stop the war on the poor.

—Lisa Hammermeister, Granada Hills, CA

All Americans should have basic internet access regardless of what they can pay.

—Charlene Breedlove, Chicago, IL

This is preponderous cruelty!

—J Noble, Fitchburg, WI

The cruelty of this administration is appalling.

—Charmaine Todd, Del Mar, CA

The mobile phone number included IS, in fact, a Lifeline phone number.

—Skyler Gerini, Craig, CO

The proposed Lifeline action is especially harmful to those already facing enormous challenges in their lives, in many cases through no fault of their own. It is morally wrong and legally suspect to make the proposed change, and I urge you to reject it.

—Jeff Granger, Chicago, IL

As a recently retired psychologist who worked in a nursing home for the last 10 years, I can attest that the Lifeline program was literally a lifeline for seniors in nursing homes for whom the savings of a lifetime (including the value of their homes) were lost when their health needs necessitated long-term care and they had no choice but to apply for Medicaid and have their income reduced to $50 a month. Telephone access to family and friends was available only because of Lifeline services.

—Edith Frank, Bronx, NY

People in this country across the board already pay exorbitant telecommunications prices so that greedy private companies can get even wealthier at the expense of those who need your help the most. The FCC's job is to serve the American people as a whole, not the wealthy few. There is no justification to end or limit the lifeline program. It is unconscionable to do so. End these cruel dealings now.

—Landra Tankha, San Francisco, CA

Am chronically disabled, elderly senior, this is MY Lifeline!

—Shang-Mei Lee, Berkeley, CA

Our Government has always proven to be compassionate, please do not change this!

—chimey Lee, Berkeley, CA

How cruel can you get? Lifeline is invaluable for many elderly and disabled citizens. It must remain.

—Alice trexler, arlington, MA

Federal agencies should care about and take care of all citizens (not corporations) in our country, our territories, and overseas!

—Robert Van Kolken, Grand Rapids, MI

stop punishing poor elderly people with your UGLY fascist politics!

—Donna J Davis, Buda, TX

Wish we could get rid of Ajit Pai like he gets rid of the programs for the people. Hopefully he'll be caught up in his collusion with the cable, telco's and broadcasters and get some good old jailtime like he deserves.

—Mark Shipley, Buckhannon, WV

All we get from Trump is to take away from the poor and give to the ultra rich.

—Michael Hedgecock, Midway City, CA

Lifeline was the only reason that my brother and I had internet access through high school and without we both would have been at a distinct disadvantage in our studies, and that was some years ago, before what seems like every class has an online component.

—Michael Kelly, Albuquerque, NM

Why would you even think about terminating this program?? SHAME SHAME

—Diane Kean, Madison, WI

I believe it is a responsibility of government officials representing tax payers to provide for the income challenged by providing necessary services...

—Otossa Scott, Culver, IN

outrageous

—Bill Russell, Atlanta, GA

In an age of information such as this limiting someones ability to grow and learn and even limits opportunity for them to help find ways out of there situation that they found themselves in/can't control you wouldn't turn off. And education aside the internet should be treated as a utility to ensure even the basic level of education and world knowledge is accessible.

—Robert Lee Ewing III, Glen Burnie, MD

Internet is extremely important, especially with so many schools going one to one. Charter, Public, Private, they all are. Please consider this. So many children need the internet to complete assignments, and basically by doing this y'all are taking away their chance at having some kind of future.

—Jacob Weitzel, Valparaiso, IN

James 1:27 "Pure and undefiled religion in the sight of our God and Father is this: to visit orphans and widows in their distress, and to keep oneself unstained by the world." Matthew 25:41-46 "Then He will also say to those on His left, 'Depart from Me, accursed ones, into the eternal fire which has been prepared for the devil and his angels; for I was hungry, and you gave Me nothing to eat; I was thirsty, and you gave Me nothing to drink; I was a stranger, and you did not invite Me in; naked, and you did not clothe Me; sick, and in prison, and you did not visit Me.' Then they themselves also will answer, 'Lord, when did we see You hungry, or thirsty, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not take care of You?' Then He will answer them, 'Truly I say to you, to the extent that you did not do it to one of the least of these, you did not do it to Me.' These will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life."

—Ryan Brege, Caledonia, MI

Internet access is more essential than ever to surviving and thriving in today's society. Please don't make that more difficult for low-income citizens.

—Grayson Cravens, Fort Worth, TX

SUPPORT THE COMMON GOOD.

—Kay Warren, Espanola, NM

The lifeline program is the only way I can keep in touch with my nephews in the military; it's enabled me to keep a consistent number & provide me with a phone I could otherwise not afford. It enabled me to find a job & will help me market my novel. Without this program, I fear I will fall into greater poverty & isolation. If governments were really concerned about depression & suicide, they wouldn't take our last links to one another away (I don't go out anymore because of gun violence & opioid addicts hitting my car--twice now, while parked. I literally cannot afford to go out and meet people unless it's the local food bank.)

—Devin Baker, Veneta, OR

This cruel proposal is wrong...staying informed, job hunting and education are important for all.

—Frank Hazard, Sparta, NC

Seriously, Fuck You. I need my phone!

—Felice Eliscu, Tucson, AZ

Hala

—Rafat hamour, Guaynabo, PR

Hey! Some people need this and it's what $12.98 a month? If the wealthy were taxed properly this is no issue. Stop hating the marginalized with your Patriarchal Structural Oppression!

—Beck Trammell, Crowley, TX

This issue is so very critical to the poor and low income families.

—Brad Buckner, Littleton, CO

You will no longer be in the position, we are more than you and will have you removed, then file suit against you to fix it so you live on less than poverty level.

—Rob Kulp, Ware, MA

The FCC, the Attorney General and Attorney Mike O'Rielly need to cease trying to rollback the Lifeline service that permits phones and internet service to those who are of low-income.

—Bp Thomas H. Hooker Jr., Garland, TX

Hello this is very important the lifeline please don't take this away and abandon the proposal please.

—Marcos Lemus, Port Saint Lucie, FL

Communication and connection to the world is a basic american right

—Rik MYERS, Ashland, MA

This is a badly needed service. In a world where more is given away to the rich, we need to balance with the needs of less fortunate. What goes around, comes around.

—Richard Gunter, Buford, GA

Terminate the FCC occupiers. Bring in humans.

—Gene Webb, Bodfish, CA

The Internet is as important to a child's education as the books he learns from.

—Robert Mutascio, Venice, CA

As someone who lives in Appalachia, I know people who would be affected by this action. First the FCC pushes to deregulate telecom services then they are trying to kick off poor people from the subsidy that is the only way they can partake of the mandatory in all but name access to digital life services which have no other means of access. It's shameful!

—James Donato, Asheville, NC

Unconscionable!

—Mike Lynch, Pensacola, FL

It is unconscionable to repeal this or any rule without creating something better put immediately in its place.

—Michelle Suffian, Portland, OR
