Dear Ms. Dortch,

On April 18, 2018, Scott Bergmann and Kara Graves of CTIA met with Will Adams of the Office of Commissioner Brendan Carr to discuss the above-captioned proceedings. During the meeting, CTIA highlighted the importance of modernized siting policies at the federal, state, and local levels and their key role in helping to ensure the U.S. is 5G-ready. CTIA stressed that timely action is essential to creating capacity for today's 4G LTE networks and supporting the nation's next-generation technologies and services. Consistent with our comments in these proceedings, CTIA urged the Commission to ensure the wireless industry has reasonable access to public rights-of-way and publicly owned assets by establishing clear timelines for the entire local review process, with enforceable deemed-granted remedies; clarifying actions that prohibit or have the effect of prohibiting wireless service; and ensuring that fees charged by state and local governments are cost-based, non-discriminatory, and transparent.<sup>1</sup>
