

This comment supports RM-11831. Amateur radio communications of all types need to be kept open. Secret transmissions allow abuse of a low-policed communication system. Encryption would lead to loss of the ability to maintain control which would further erode use of amateur radio bands. Encryption would lead to multiple types of improper uses of the amateur spectrum.