I am writing to express my opposition to RM-11828, as proposed by ARRL to expand operator privileges to Technician Class licensees to parts of 75/80, 40, and 15 meters.

Currently, amateurs must prove competence by passing the appropriate exam to operate these frequencies, which are currently limited to higher class licenses who have earned this privilege by passing the appropriate exam.

I do not believe this move will attract more newcomers to Amateur Radio, nor provide an improved incentive for entry-level licensees to increase their technical skills.

Thank you for your reading of my opinion, and for your consideration of my viewpoint
