Dear Chairman Pai,

As an Illinois consumer fed up with the high bills imposed by pay TV corporations, I urge you to fight a practice that enrages most customers like me: add-on fees.

I demand that you work for policy that requires all pay-TV corporations to be transparent, and include the full cost of their services in the advertised, base price. That means eliminating add-on fees like the "regional sports fee" or "broadcast TV surcharge" that allow companies like AT&T and Comcast to hide their true price tag.

It's only right that customers be clearly shown the actual price they will pay for TV packages, so they can accurately compare the offers of different companies.

You have shown your support for a competitive market. We won't be able to develop a healthy pay TV market if consumers don't have accurate information about their choices.

Thank you.

I demand that you work for policy that requires all pay-TV corporations to be transparent, and include the full cost of their services in the advertised, base price. That means eliminating add-on fees like the "regional sports fee" or "broadcast TV surcharge" that allow companies like AT&T and Comcast to hide their true price tag.

It's only right that customers be clearly shown the actual price they will pay for TV packages, so they can accurately compare the offers of different companies.

You have shown your support for a competitive market. We won't be able to develop a healthy pay TV market if consumers don't have accurate information about their choices.

Thank you.

Attn: Ajit Pai, Chairman

Dear Chairman Pai,

As an Illinois consumer fed up with the high bills imposed by pay TV corporations, I urge you to fight a practice that enrages most customers like me: add-on fees.
