Re: Connect America Fund, WC Docket No. 10-90; Request for Confidential Treatment

Dear Ms. Dortch,

Last month, AT&T Services, Inc. (AT&T) submitted the underlying data for the per minute and per hour latency testing it performed of its broadband subscribers.<sup>1</sup> This testing demonstrated that there was no material difference in the results from testing latency once per minute, which is extraordinarily burdensome, versus testing once per hour. In that filing, AT&T indicated that it was willing to conduct additional testing on a larger sample size of subscribers. Staff subsequently asked AT&T to do just that and to test subscribers obtaining broadband via several technologies.

Below please find the summary results of AT&T's additional per minute and per hour latency testing. AT&T tested almost 100 subscribers in its Connect America Fund Phase II-eligible areas that obtain broadband service via wireline and fixed wireless technologies. AT&T's latest testing once again demonstrates that there is no material difference in the results and the burdensome per minute latency testing is thus unnecessary.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>1</sup> See Letter from Cathy Carpino, AT&T, to Marlene Dortch, FCC, WC Docket No. 10-90 (filed April 12, 2019). See also Letter from ITTA, USTelecom, WISPA, to Marlene Dortch, FCC, WC Docket No. 10-90, at 2 (filed April 10, 2019) (providing the summary results of AT&T's latency testing).

<sup>2</sup> As was the case with AT&T's prior per minute latency testing, for a short period of time – between 18:45 and 19:01 – one of AT&T's testing servers timed out. While AT&T's subscribers' performance was unaffected by this issue, AT&T was unable to capture latency measurements during this period of time. AT&T continues to investigate the root cause of this testing server issue but it has no reason to believe its subscribers' latency measurements were any different during these few minutes than during the rest of the six-hour testing period.

Request for Confidential Treatment under 47 C.F.R. § 0.459

Attached to this request for confidential treatment are the per minute and per hour latency test results by customer that AT&T performed earlier this month. Commission staff requested that AT&T perform additional latency testing and identify the technology it uses to provide broadband to each subscriber.

Pursuant to the Commission's Confidential Information Order,<sup>1</sup> and in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)<sup>2</sup> and the Commission's Rules related to public information and inspection of records,<sup>3</sup> AT&T requests confidential treatment for all of customer-specific information contained in the attached data.

Statement pursuant to 47 C.F.R. § 0.459(b)

(1) Identification of the specific information for which confidential treatment is sought.

The customer-identifying information being submitted in response Commission staff's request is confidential commercial information under Exemption 4 of the FOIA, 47 U.S.C. § 552(b)(4). Accordingly, pursuant to Commission Rule 0.459(a), AT&T requests that such information not be made routinely available for public inspection. The information covered by this request is each customer's billing account number.

(2) Identification of the Commission proceedings in which the information was submitted or a description of the circumstances giving rise to the submission.

The Commission is currently considering various petitions for reconsideration and applications for review of a Bureau-level order establishing various performance testing requirements applicable to Connect America Fund (CAF) recipients. One of the items under reconsideration is the Bureaus' decision to require CAF recipients to perform latency testing once per minute, whereas CAF recipients are required to perform broadband speed testing once per hour. USTelecom, ITTA, and WISPA have argued, among other things, that once per minute latency testing is unnecessary and the Commission should harmonize the latency testing requirement with the once per hour speed testing. AT&T agrees and notes that its testing showed that there is no difference in the results between once per minute and once per hour latency testing.

(3) Explanation of the degree to which the information is commercial or financial, or contains a trade secret or is privileged.

(5) Explanation of how disclosure of the information could result in substantial competitive harm.

Exemption 4 requires a federal agency to withhold from public disclosure confidential or privileged commercial and financial information of a person unless there is an overriding public interest requiring disclosure, and the Commission has a longstanding policy of protecting the confidential commercial information of its regulatees under FOIA Exemption 4.

Two lines of cases have evolved for determining whether agency records fall within Exemption 4. Under Critical Mass, commercial information that is voluntarily submitted to the Commission must be withheld from public disclosure if such information is not customarily disclosed to the public by the submitter.<sup>4</sup> For materials not subject to Critical Mass, National Parks establishes a two part test for determining if information qualifies for withholding under Exemption 4.<sup>5</sup> The first prong asks whether disclosing the information would impair the government's ability to obtain necessary information in the future. The second prong asks whether the competitive position of the person from whom the information was obtained would be impaired or substantially harmed. If the information meets the requirements of either prong, it is exempted from disclosure under Exemption 4. Whether under Critical Mass or National Parks, the information provided by AT&T falls within Exemption 4.

The customer-identifying information being provided to the Commission is not customarily released to the public, is maintained on a confidential basis, and is not ordinarily disclosed to third parties. Disclosure would subject AT&T to substantial competitive harm.

AT&T's customer-specific information represents confidential commercial information that should not be released under the FOIA. Competitors could use the confidential information to assist in targeting their service offerings and enhancing their competitive positions, to the detriment of the competitive position of AT&T. See, e.g., GC Micro Corp. v. Defense Logistics Agency, 33 F.3d 1109 (9th Cir. 1994).

Commission precedent has clearly found that customer-specific information is competitively sensitive and withholdable under Exemption 4.<sup>6</sup> Specifically, the Commission has recognized that competitive harm can result from the disclosure of confidential business information that gives competitors insight into a company's customer identities. See Pan

<sup>6</sup> See, e.g., Pacific Bell Telephone Company Petition for Pricing Flexibility for Special Access and Dedicated Transport Services, CCB/CPD No. 00-23, DA 00-2618 (2000) (supporting confidentiality for collocation data); Local Exchange Carrier's Rates, Terms and Conditions for Expanded Interconnection Through Virtual Collocation for Special Access and Switched Transport; Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, 13 FCC Rcd 13615 (1998) (keeping administrative operating expenses confidential because it would provide insight into business strategies); AT&T/McCaw Merger Applications, 9 FCC Rcd 2610 (1994) (keeping confidential accounting records showing account balance information); NAACP Legal Defense Fund on Request for Inspection of Records, 45 RR 2d 1705 (1979) (keeping confidential records that contained employee salary information); Mercury PCS II, LLC (Request for Inspection of Records); Omnipoint Corporation (Request for Confidential Treatment of Documents), FCC 00-241 (2000) (keeping confidential marketing plans and strategy information).

American Satellite Corporation, FOIA Control Nos. 85-219, 86-38, 86-41 (1986).<sup>7</sup> The protective procedures established by the Commission and other governmental agencies recognize the need to keep such information confidential to the maximum extent possible. The Commission has provided the assurances that it is “sensitive to ensuring that the fulfillment of its regulatory responsibilities does not result in the unnecessary disclosure of information that might put its regulatees at a competitive disadvantage.”<sup>8</sup>

The foregoing information plainly pertains to AT&T’s commercial and financial interests. It is, therefore, sensitive competitive information.

(4) Explanation of the degree to which the information concerns a service that is subject to competition.

The information being provided to the Commission involves Internet access service provided by AT&T in competition with other carriers. Internet access service is highly competitive, and AT&T’s services are subject to significant competition throughout the country. The presence of such competition and the likelihood of competitive injury threatened by release of the customer-specific information provided to the Commission by AT&T should compel the Commission to withhold the information from public disclosure. CNA Financial Corp. v. Donovan, 830 F.2d 1132, 1152 (D.C. Cir. 1987); Frazee v. U.S. Forest Service, 97 F.3d 367, 371 (9th Cir. 1996); Gulf & Western Indus. v. U.S., 615 F.2d 527, 530 (D.C. Cir. 1979).

(6) Identification of any measures taken by the submitting party to prevent unauthorized disclosure.

The information being produced is treated on a strictly confidential basis and, pursuant to AT&T internal operating standards, practices, and procedures, would not ordinarily be disclosed to third parties.

(7) Identification of whether the information is available to the public and the extent of any previous disclosure of the information to third parties.

The information at issue is treated on a strictly confidential basis and would not ordinarily be disclosed to third parties.

(8) Justification of the period during which the submitting party asserts that material should not be available for public disclosure.

<sup>7</sup> Further, the Commission has ruled that not only should such data be protected, but also that information must be protected through which the competitively sensitive information can be determined. Allnet Communications Services, Inc. Freedom of Information Act Request, FOIA Control No. 92-149, Memorandum Opinion and Order, at 3 (1993). The Commission’s decision was upheld in a memorandum opinion of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit, which affirmed a U.S. District Court decision protecting the information. Allnet Communications Services, Inc. v. FCC, Case No. 92-5351 (memorandum opinion issued May 27, 1994, D.C. Cir.).

The produced material should be withheld from public disclosure as long as the data in question would provide a basis for competitors to gain insight into AT&T's operations and derive competitive benefits therefrom. AT&T cannot determine when this information would become "stale" for such a purpose. Thus, the material should be kept confidential indefinitely.

- (9) Any other information that the party seeking confidential treatment believes may be useful in assessing whether its request for confidentiality should be granted.

Under applicable Commission and Court rulings, the subject material must be kept free from public disclosure. Exemption 4 of the Freedom of Information Act shields information which is (1) commercial or financial in nature; (2) obtained from a person outside government; and (3) privileged or confidential. See Washington Post Co. v. U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, 690 F. 2d 252 (D.C. Cir. 1982). The subject material clearly satisfies the first two elements of that test. With respect to the third element of that test, information is considered to be "confidential" if disclosure is likely to (1) impair the government's ability to obtain necessary information in the future, or (2) harm substantially the competitive position of the person from which the information was obtained. National Parks, 498 F. 2d at 770. For the reasons stated above, disclosure of the subject material would plainly satisfy that part of the test. Indeed, the Commission has recognized that competitive harm can result from the disclosure of confidential business information that gives competitors insight into a company's customer identities, which is precisely the kind of information at issue here. See Pan American Satellite Corporation, FOIA Control Nos. 85-219, 86-38, 86-41, (May 2, 1986).<sup>9</sup>
