

I understand the reason for the Wireless Emergency Alerts and I don't mind receiving them. But I turn all of them off that I can because of that tone that is used. If I could change it or have a silent notification I would keep them all on. The tone is very disruptive and can happen at all hrs. I don't need to know about an amber alert when I am sleeping. If a silent notification was available, I would keep all notifications turned on.

Thank you
