

Mr. Ajit Pai

I read that your effort to spam the comment pages backfired on you. Did you really think that faking all those emails was not going to attract notice? It would be decent of you to remove all the fake notices from people who did not send them from the FCC web page, but that would be expecting a bit too much integrity, wouldn't it?