

I support making 611 the three digit number for suicide prevention. People are used to using "11" numbers for calls and while 211 is also a "11" number, it is already being used by a lot of services that are not compatible with suicide hotlines.