

Re: Proceeding 17-108

Maintaining Net Neutrality is important to sustain an open and competitive Internet business environment with equal access to all providers and users.

The removal of FCC Net Neutrality rules will encourage anti-competitive behavior among internet service providers and limit choices to consumers.

The repeal of Net Neutrality will NOT encourage widespread investment in Internet services especially by smaller Internet providers.