Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I used to live in a location with essentially ONE high speed internet option (Comcast). They're terrible, to put it lightly.

Speeds are constantly throttled, drops are common, prices are at a monopoly level, and customer service is nil to none.

Competition is GOOD in the broadband domain. How is this even a question?

I've since moved to a location where I was able to switch to Sonic Fiber (which I did ASAP, obviously, with their cheaper prices and far faster speeds, customer service, and values) and now everything is much more hunky dory.

Let's keep the broadband competition up and running, eh?
