Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I am a 20 something year old who has grown up with fairly free internet access for a pretty good portion of my life. It's already hard enough as it is to find a reliable internet provider let alone one that actually cares about the consumer. I am worried the way that the FCC is unaware of the that if the lock down broadband competition happens, it will allow providers like AT&T and Comcast to charge what ever they fell like and treat their customers how ever they feel.

I have had AT&T in the past and it can take them weeks to almost a month to repair simple issues. This is one of the biggest reason why smaller providers need to exist in my eyes. Bigger companies are not equipped to care anymore.
