47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I switched to a different provider, because I got tired of being stuck with only the providers that got you tied up to a contract that had choices that I did not like.

they used to change prices after your contract was over being must of the time 50% more than your previous contract.

Also the speeds on internet that they had were manipulated to the point that your service was very slow.

I had different services in the past being dsl one of them and the fastest at the time unfortunately AT&T changed that and it wasn't an option anymore for that reason there has to be more competition, in that way, we the clients have more services to chose from and better prices
