Dear Ms. Dortch:

We are writing in support of the Motion Requesting to Hold Proceeding in Abeyance filed by Public Knowledge and Common Cause (collectively, the “Petitioners”) in the above-captioned proceeding on June 28, 2018. The motion argues that the Federal Communications Commission (“FCC” or the “Commission”) cannot appropriately evaluate Sinclair Broadcast Group, Inc.’s (“Sinclair”) acquisition of Tribune Media Company (“Tribune”) while the UHF discount is under review by the United States Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit. The Petitioners make well-founded arguments that the court’s consideration of the UHF discount has significant procedural and substantive bearing on whether Sinclair can consummate its transaction as currently presented.

As previously addressed by multiple parties in this proceeding, the UHF discount is a technically-obsolete rule that would allow Sinclair to acquire a national audience reach far in excess of the congressionally-mandated 39% cap. Specifically, Sinclair’s most recent divestiture plan relies on the UHF discount to reduce its post-transaction reach from 58.77% to 37.39%, only 1.61% below the cap. If the Commission’s reinstatement of the UHF discount is vacated by the D.C. Circuit, Sinclair would have to make significant divestitures – greater than four times the currently-proposed divestitures – to comply with ownership limit.\textsuperscript{5} As the Petitioners explain, it would be very difficult procedurally to undo Sinclair’s transaction if it is consummated prior to the court’s ruling on the UHF discount.\textsuperscript{6}

Moving forward with this proceeding prior to the court’s decision also opens the door for the newly-formed company to impose long-lasting public interest harms. As the record overwhelmingly demonstrates, Sinclair would use its newfound bargaining power in retransmission consent negotiations to force distributors as well as consumers to pay higher prices for its content.\textsuperscript{7} A post-transaction Sinclair would also crowd out carriage opportunities for independent and diverse programming,\textsuperscript{8} and reduce broadcast localism diversity in local markets.\textsuperscript{9}

While we continue to maintain that the transaction should be denied in its entirety, for the foregoing reasons, we respectfully request the Commission grant the Petitioners’ motion and take no further action in this proceeding until the D.C. Circuit has completed its review of the UHF discount.

Respectfully submitted,
