

Net Neutrality not only protects consumers and the free market of ideas that the internet is... but also the open marketplace to prevent a stagnation and a level playing field for new businesses. Brian Araujo