

My name is Edward Hurley, a retired tax accountant with severe hearing disability.

I use InnoCaption several times a day – it is my life-line to the hearing world and my life would be functionally almost impossible without it.

I use it socially, to communicate with friends, whom I can't understand via voice. It is essential in working daily, multiple issues with doctors, outside services like repair people and general help. I can never understand their voices well enough to tell what they are saying, but InnoCaption allows me to almost perfectly interact with them and carry on my daily life.

In summary, InnoCaption is essential to my carrying on an active social and self-sufficient life. I urge you to give them every support you can in helping me out.
