Subject: Millard School District Letter of Support Response

Wireless Division of the FCC,

The Millard School District is a rural school district located in west-central Utah. Many students in our school district live in areas far from schools and spend time in their homes and on their school buses without the advantage of connectivity. We have reviewed the and are highly supportive of the Utah Education and Telehealth Network (UETN) response to the FCC proposed changes the Educational Broadband Service (EBS) spectrum.

As was indicated in the response, the EBS white space that is available in many of the rural areas of Utah can extend the school network allowing the high need students access to educational resources while at home and within our school buses. The digital divide and homework gap is real here in Utah, UETN working with the Local Education Agencies (LEAs) to acquire EBS will make a tremendous difference in students' life and help extend broadband access to areas that likely remain unattractive to private investment.

An EBS based broadband network owned and operated by educational providers is paramount to overcoming the Digital Divide within the State.

We ask that you please consider the UETN comments and their response regarding how EBS can be effectively allocated and utilized for education equity and enhancement for our students.

Sincerely,

David V. Styler, Superintendent
Millard School District
