Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I have been a subscriber to Sonic's Internet & Home phone services for several years. Sonic's cost is very reasonable, and their tech support excellent.

I used to be connected to DSL, but now under Sonic, I have fiber connection which is very fast.

In an environment where large telcome companies become dominant, there would be less competition, and inevitably prices for these services would be hiked up thereby cutting off competition as smaller providers would not have a level playing field on price distortions

I request that you examine the lopsided benefits the large telecom companies would receive that would cripple companies like Sonic. The U.S. is built on an ethos of fair play & competition. And the consumer should be able to select the best product for a reasonable cost.

Sincerely,

Kosrof Chantikian
