

This filing is not needed or useful, but contrary to the purpose of Amateur Radio. Amateur radio is not in need of additional FCC rules. The self-policing aspect of this service is adequate. I am opposed to any measure which will impede our ability to send timely messages in the event of an emergency, and our ability to continue to experiment to improve communications. This is a bad idea and I encourage the FCC not to rule in favor of this filing.

I have been a licensed amateur since 2/13/1957 with a station license K8EAC.
