Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I am writing to tell you why I switched from AT&T to Sonic for my ISP and phone service.

Quite simply, AT&T's DSL service was not as consistent, as fast and as affordable as Sonic's.

I am enjoying download speeds more than twice what I got on AT&T's best days. I recently re-downloaded a game that would have usually taken almost an hour in less than 10 minutes!

The lag spikes that used make streaming through Netflix and Hulu an often frustrating experience have vanished. My online browsing is great. Pages load super fast!

Our VOIP phone service has also become SO much clearer sounding and reliable.

All this for $20 less a month than what AT&T charged, plus Sonic's website is SO much simpler & easier to navigate, and the very few e-mails and phone calls I've placed to Sonic's tech support have been answered and solved with much greater expediency.

Finally, and most importantly, Sonic supports Net Neutrality.

You should know that those of us who support Net Neutrality harbor a deep distrust and resentment of Ajit Pai, who in our eyes is only serving the public interest in terms of providing rich fodder for memes and other forms of social media mockery.

He is NOT an honest person. We know liars when we hear them, and he's not even very good at it!

Instead of letting him continue to lie through his teeth and shilling for the silent partners with deep pockets, why not just fire him so he can become a spokesman for Reese's Pieces?

They're the only thing he seems to truly love.
