Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

This country was founded on the principles of freedom and equal opportunity. For my whole life I have advocated for a free market, one in which giant companies are kept in check by smaller ones, to ensure that Americans are getting the best products and services for their money. The end goal of course, is to support and maintain a healthy and stable economy, where we are not slaves to foreign powers. Today, the very concept of freedom is under attack, by ruthless telecom companies who cut corners and blatantly disregard the constitution to fatten their pockets.

These giant telecom companies offer worse service for a higher price. And when smaller companies like Sonic disrupt the market through innovation, their response is often not to improve the quality of their own service or offer it for a more competitive price, but to force their competitors out of the marketplace altogether through lobbying and unfair business tactics.

The result? A weakened economy where the people are slaves to the vessels of the first amendment, and the country itself is a slave to foreign powers that themselves understand the necessity of competition.

Like the Roosevelts crusade against plutocracy, you have an opportunity to stand on the right side of history and make up for your ruling against Net Neutrality.

I hope you stand with your fellow Americans in support of a playing field where everyone has an equal chance.

Sincerely,

Christopher Woo
