Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

Since around 2001, I've always been on either Comcast Cable or AT&T DSL internet. I've lived in 6 different cities, and upwards of 15 different houses/apartments. I've never had true consistent speeds of over 100Mbps, even though we paid for Comcast's fastest 150Mbps package, until we got Sonic Fiber last year.

It's been a complete life changer having 800-1000Mbps at ALL times. No peak hours, no disconnects, just pure consistent speed at all times. This allows me to work from home more often, along with getting more done while I'm working from home. This has improved the entertainment capabilities in our house, as everyone can quickly stream YouTube, Netflix, etc., with no buffering at all. And all of this came at a LOWER cost than what we were paying for our Comcast Cable internet.
