

The idea of net neutrality is that all internet traffic should be free to run at equal speeds. Corporations looking to undo this are doing themselves no favors by continuing such an existential threat to the future of humanity. The constant need to control and commercialize every aspect of our lives for the profit of the very few is making a very strong generational case for permanent regulations enforced by the government in the form of a constitutional amendment.

Enough is enough. Be satisfied with the profits being made or face a generation looking to nationalize every aspect of our lives through government control.
