

I am strongly in support of Net Neutrality, and I DO NOT approve of rolling back the regulation on Title II. The general public should have equal access to the internet without the insidious and veiled manipulations of large corporations to withhold or control aspects of dissemination toward the gain of favored companies. FCC Chairman Ajit Pai is working transparently in defense of internet provider companies and their lobbyists. Net Neutrality reflects constitutional freedoms, and the US Government should be in favor of protecting these freedoms for all people.
