Re: In the Matter of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I live in the California Bay Area and even at the center of the internet world there is a lack of serious broadband competition. Right now I get the best speeds for the lowest price from a small independent internet provider called Sonic. Internet options here are a joke and this provider is the only good thing going. You would think there would be a ton of options in a big modern American city, that is simply not the case. You folks are thinking of dismantling parts of the 1996 Telecommunications Act, something that would basically take my internet away and further reduce the pathetic number of choices I have. Please don't do that. The internet is an important thing these days and we need many more GOOD choices.
