Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I realize that you are run by Ajit, a corrupt individual who's in the pocket of the big telecoms - who pushed against the will of the citizens of the US to destroy net neutrality, but I hope that this email is read by someone who is not under his thumb.

It's critical that we maintain innovation by enabling multiple competitive options for broadband access. America is a great country, yet we lag the world in terms of internet connectivity speeds. We need competition to enable more options and faster speeds. Furthermore, competition will help keep prices low, enable more access to more individuals, and provide better local customer service. I love being able to call my DSL provider and have someone who speaks english naively who lives in California answer the phone and treat me with respect and intelligence - rather than someone in India answering the phone with little skill or knowledge and just wasting my time.

I love my small ISP and use them both for my office and my home. Don't make them go out of business due to massive corruption that's taking place now.

Thanks,

Reza Naima
