Re: In the Matter of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

Sorry, I do not have a large amount of money to pay lobbyists to further legislation for my own self-interest. All I have are facts.

I get my ADSL internet access from a small broadband carrier over unbundled copper wire. Even in a large marketplace like San Francisco, I have chosen Sonic.net, a small competitive broadband service over large companies like AT&T. I do not subscribe to cable TV and am not interested in doing so to have access to a bundled internet package. My business is located in an industrial area, and cable broadband is not an option because it is not a residential area served by cable providers.

Repealing consumer protections is not a way to create a more competitive environment, but if I paid you a lot of money I am sure you would change your mind.

Sincerely,

Nathan Gruenwald
