

Dwight Chung
632 18th Ave
San Francisco CA 94121

Sep 4th 2018

Via ECFS
Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

As a software engineer, having access to fast reliable internet access is a must to stay competitive in the market. Therefore, when I moved into my new apartment, I was saddened to hear that I only had one option for choosing an internet provider (Comcast) that provided subpar internet speeds (150Mbps).

Luckily for me, in a couple weeks after moving in, I was fortuitous enough to learn that another broadband provider (Sonic) was servicing my area that provided internet speeds up to 5x faster (1000Mbps) for a cheaper price! I couldn't be happier since slow throttled internet access wouldn't be a situation I needed to consider in doing my work, both professionally and personally.

Competition may be unpleasant for businesses but ultimately benefits the consumers and fosters innovation. I love the fact that I have a choice in choosing between multiple broadband providers and not being locked down to a single entity. Please don't kill off Bridge 2 Broadband as consumers like me, living in a metropolis such as San Francisco, would suffer without Sonic.

Thank you.

Dwight Chung