

Noam Naveh
3986 24th st # 5
San Francisco CA 94114

Sep 5th 2018

Via ECFS
Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I've lived for years in the heart of innovation, the silicon valley, and as unlikely as it sounds, was paying exorbitant rates to a monopoly on broadband internet. Comcast knew very well that it was a monopoly and they took full advantage of that, including horrible customer service, the whole package. So here comes a competitor: Small, pro-community, innovative, delivers as promised, no-nonsense, much faster, and - you guessed it - MUCH CHEAPER. In the name of what, exactly, do you think to stifle this? Do you really think that in the long term it's going to work? Don't you know that the people end up revolting when their government makes revolting decisions against them? Stop sucking up to big business and open your eyes to reality.

Noam Naveh