Re: Applications of T-Mobile US, Inc. and Sprint Corporation, WT Docket No. 18-197

Dear Ms. Dortch:

I am writing today to express my support for the proposed merger of T-Mobile and Sprint. As a businessman and resident of Florida, I see many ways in which this merger will benefit my community and consumers.

Having a fast, 5G network available will improve business competition, as high speeds will increase efficiency and allow companies to use apps and programs that help their performance.

5G will also lead entrepreneurs to create new companies, just as the last big leap forward in wireless technology (4G) did. Technology job growth has contributed significantly to the US economy and has led to some of the names we now hear every day, like Lyft and Snapchat.

Our mobile infrastructure must keep up with the pace of entrepreneurship for this to continue. Other countries are investing heavily in getting to 5G, because they know that securing the infrastructure advantage is key to attracting the companies that will be tomorrow's household names.

The merger of T-Mobile and Sprint is important to competition in another way too. The new T-Mobile will be in a position to compete more effectively with the two dominant wireless carriers—AT&T and Verizon.

For the pro-competition reasons listed above, I support the T-Mobile merger, and I encourage the FCC to take a close look at how this merger will be beneficial to both individuals and businesses as it considers this plan. It has much going for it, and we need to maintain our world leadership in technology—our future economic success depends on it.

Sincerely,
