three to four digits should proceed as agreed to by the industry at ICCF (Industry Carriers Compatibility Forum). The record confirms our initial Comments that the industry plan has been carefully thought out and will benefit customers; no viable alternative has been identified; significant costs and resources have already been sunk or committed; advance notice has been spread throughout the industry; and interruption of the industry's progress could jeopardize availability of CICs ordering, billing and administrative support systems. And fourth, it will probably be difficult for customer premises equipment requiring programming for automatic dialing to accommodate both 10XXX and 101XXXX for an extended period.

In conclusion, the NYNEX Telephone Companies request the Commission to permit the continued implementation of FGD CIC expansion to four digits in accordance with the industry's agreed-upon plan.

Respectfully submitted,

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company
and
New York Telephone Company
