It is thanks to the internet that so many jobs have been created. It is thanks to net neutrality that my business has grown and prospered as well as given jobs to hundreds of people in my community. Removing net neutrality would destroy my business and in turn destroy the jobs that people need.