Dear Commissioners:

I write to plead with you to maintain the status of net neutrality. Adjustments to consider this issue under another section of the law could negatively impact small businesses like my own. These small businesses, dependent upon a reliable, fast internet, often grow, sometimes to become major players in our respective industries.

Larger entities appear to be doing well under the current scheme and should not be granted the luxury of enhanced internet services, whose effect would be to further their dominance stifling completion beyond the natural economic forces currently brought to bear.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Tim Sharp
