

I am fully aware that this FCC bureau is deliberately making it difficult to leave comments and complaints. I've seen John Oliver's comments on Last Week.

I am one of millions who understand that are being violated by this FCC in the lifting of net neutrality laws.

We are not stupid. This is being done by Republicans on the FCC to unravel access to websites and destroy the constitutional rights of Americans to first amendment rights. This is unconstitutional and un-American. It may eventually be illegal.

The FCC members who vote to take away free access to internet websites will be held accountable for the theft of American's first amendment rights.

Sincerely,
Lynn Ehrlicher
