

This is shameful. Business interests do not regulate the transmission of information in a democracy. The people will prevail over tyranny.