

To Whom It May Concern:

I am submitting this filing to express my concerns about the repealing of net neutrality. Although it is something that we have until this point taken for granted in America, practices that would stem from the absence of net neutrality could lead to a vastly divided internet and a hindering of sharing of knowledge. Especially as a university student, I am shocked at the prospect that there could be something like this that would more than ever prevent opportunity and success.

Furthermore, America is supposed to be built on the idea of equal opportunity. For entrepreneurs, businesses and aspiring young people with ideas, this is a huge hit to the idea that they could potentially succeed based on what they have to offer in ingenuity and hard work.

America is already losing some of its best and brightest to other areas of the world because of opportunities that are offered elsewhere such as universal healthcare and cheap higher education; please help ensure with the continuation of net neutrality that America does not continue further along its current downward trend.

Sincerely,
Ashley Law
