

To the FCC,

Net Neutrality ensures reliable access to many aspects of the internet, which I use daily for both educational, economic, and government related services.

Net neutrality could have serious repercussions for companies based in the United States that utilize the web for their business platform. Companies like Netflix and Amazon. This would also have serious repercussions for small businesses that expand their outreach via the internet in order to supplement the demand of health care to employees and brick and mortar stores.

Please, do not push for this reform.

Thank you,
Cody W
